1990 MEDIA GUIDE

Academic All Stars

Four starters off Clemson's 10-2 club of 1989 were chosen to the Academic All-ACC team, a record for Tiger on-field starters selected to the Academic team. Wesley McFadden graduated in May with a 3.0 in marketing. He is currently attempting to become a member of the Denver Broncos. The other three members are returning starters. Bruce Bratton is a starting offensive tackle with a 3.5 in engineering. Lining up next to Bratton at tight end is Stacy Fields, who has a 3.2 in engineering. Arlington Nunn is a starter on defense at strong safety who has a 3.14 mark in marketing.

Academic Learning Center

Ground was broken last winter on Clemson's Academic Learning Center. The $2.5 facility will be 29,000 square feet and devoted entirely to the academic advising program for Clemson athletes. There will be 25 tutoring rooms, two large rooms filled with computers and other state of the art hardware and software. The facility, located near the center of campus, will open in early 1991.

On the Cover: Clemson's returning senior All-ACC players and new coach Ken Hatfield are featured on this year's cover. Doug Brewster (top left) was All-ACC last year as an inside linebacker. Vance Hammond (top, middle) was also All-ACC at defensive tackle. John Johnson (#12) was a second-team All-ACC outside linebacker, while #67 Stacy Long was a first-team offensive tackle All-American according to the Sporting News. Eric Harmon (bottom, left) was an All-ACC guard and the native of New Jersey already has the Clemson record for most starts by an offensive guard. Ken Hatfield took over as Clemson's 22nd head coach on January 21, 1990.

Press Information

The Bob Bradley Pressbox holds 104 writers in its main level.

If you're assigned to cover a game in Clemson's Memorial Stadium this fall, the following hints will be helpful:

ENTRANCE TO STADIUM/PRESS BOX

Enter through Gate 13 which is located on the press box (South) side of the field at the southeast corner. If you need to pick up tickets at our press will-call gate, they will be at Gate 13. Come through Gate 13, and go straight ahead to the elevator which will take you to the press box.

PRESS BOX

There are two levels to Clemson's press box, located in the center of the club level of the South stands. The first level contains the photo deck, a dark room, the outside PA, stadium operations & security, along with booths for field telephones, radio networks, and athletic officials for Clemson. The second level is for the print media, with seating accommodations for 104 members of the working press. This level houses Clemson's famous buffet, and the work room.

WORKING CREDENTIALS

We'll appreciate getting these as early as you know your assignment. Requests for working press and photo passes are honored from SPORTS EDITORS of DAILY newspapers and RADIO & TV SPORTS DIRECTORS ONLY. Make request directly to Tim Bourret. There is not room for individual radio stations in the press box, only the two networks of the participating schools. Spouses, dates, non-workers, and anyone 16 years of age or younger, are not permitted in the press box.

TELECOPIER AND ELECTRONIC SERVICES

Our press box is equipped with eight outside phone lines for your electronic equipment, at no charge to your paper. We will have two Fax machines at the game, which can be used on a first-come, first-serve basis, and we also have press box assistants who are available to send your copy as necessary. THERE IS NO CHARGE FOR THESE SERVICES.

It is the responsibility of each paper to make prior arrangements for season-long or individual game phone installations, which gives the paper first priority on that phone. Electrical and phone jacks are at each seat. Call (803) 780-2800 to install a phone at your seat.

There are also three other phones which are reserved for radio voice reports for an hour after the game's conclusion.

LOCKER ROOM INTERVIEWS

The team dressing rooms are located beneath the west end zone stands, to your left from the press box. The two SIDs will escort writers wishing postgame interviews to this area with about three minutes showing on the scoreboard clock. The Clemson dressing room is closed to all media, but Coach Ken Hatfield will be in his interview room and players chosen by media members will be in their interview area for postgame comments following a short team meeting.

1990 ACC FOOTBALL WEEKLY SATELLITE FEED

The Atlantic Coast Conference Office will offer a one-hour satellite highlight feed of conference games and interviews of players and coaches on a weekly basis. The feed will take place on 12 consecutive Tuesdays beginning on August 28th and running through November 13th. The feed will run from 10:00 am - 11:00 am (Eastern) and can be picked up on Westar 5, 9D (channel 17, on Audio 6.2 & 6.8). If you have any further questions please contact Tom Mickle (919) 854-8787 at the ACC Office in Greensboro, NC.

1990 ACC FOOTBALL WEEKLY TELECONFERENCE

The Atlantic Coast Conference offers a weekly teleconference with the school's head coaches on each Wednesday throughout the football season. The teleconferences are scheduled to run from August 29th through November 14th between 11:00 am and 12:20 pm. Listed below are the times for each head coach:

Glossary

John Heisman's last call as Clemson's coach was conservative, but effective (see Championship of the South).

Address

If you are mailing something to the Clemson SID office, address it to Tim Bourret, Sports Information Director, PO Box 632, Clemson, SC 29633. The federal express address (they don't like PO Boxes) is 100 Perimeter Road, Clemson, SC 29633. The address of Clemson Memorial Stadium is Williamston Road, Clemson, SC 29633.

All-Star Candidates

Clemson has more returning All-ACC players than any other team in ACC history. Eight players return who were first-team all-conference, while two others are back who were second-team All-ACC. Additionally, three returning starters (Stacy Fields, Arlington Nunn, Bruce Bratton) from 1989 were Academic All-ACC.

At the head of the class stand Stacy Long and Chris Gardocki. Long was a first-team All-American according to The Sporting News and a third-team AP All-American last year. He is a consensus pick in the preseason of 1990 and has been named the top offensive lineman in the nation by Don Heinrich's College Football Magazine and the top offensive tackle by The Sporting News. He is a worthy Outland Trophy and Lombardi Award Candidate.

Gardocki was a third-team All-America place kicker by AP and an honorable mention All-America punter by UPI in 1989. He is just a junior and has a legitimate shot at being the first All-American (1st, 2nd or third team) at both positions in the same season. He became the second player ever (Steve Little, Arkansas, 1977) to rank in the top 10 in the nation in punting and field goals in the same season when he ranked sixth in field goals and 10th in punting in 1989.

Doug Brewster, Levon Kirkland and Vance Hammond are also All-America candidates according to many preseason publications. Brewster is a second-team choice according to Sporting News and Don Heinrich's, while Kirkland is a third-team choice according to The Sporting News. Hammond is a second-team preseason All-American according to Don Heinrich. Don't forget Eric Harmon, the most experienced guard in Clemson history, who was a second-team preseason All-American by Gameplan last year and was an All-ACC choice in 1989. Lindy's Football annual named Harmon the third best senior guard in America for 1990.

Other returning All-ACC choices include offensive guard Jeb Flesch, outside linebacker John Johnson, free safety Robert O'Neal and cornerback Dexter Davis. O'Neal is just a sophomore in 1990, but don't let that hold you back. He had eight interceptions as a reserve last year, an all-time Clemson record.

Attendance

Clemson ranked seventh in the nation in average football attendance last year with an average of 78,927, the second highest figure in Clemson history. It marked the seventh straight year that Clemson ranked in the top 10 in attendance. Here is a year-by-year rundown of top 10 finishes.

Year	Games	Total	Average	Rank
1983	7	521,898	74,557	10th
1984	6	467,670	77,945	7th
1985	6	446,656	76,736	6th
1986	5	393,500	78,700	6th
1987	8	602,526	75,316	10th
1988	6	490,502	81,750	5th

Barometric Pressure

Football is a sport that is played in all kinds of weather, it is the postman of sports so to speak. But there are some conditions that have taxed that policy over the years. That was the case on October 12, 1963, a date that ranks in the Clemson Farmers almanac Hall of Fame. The contest with Georgia began in beautiful weather, but by the end of the first quarter the temperature was dropping quickly from 89 degrees to 57 degrees in just an hour. During halftime the skies burst and not only did it rain, it hailed, golfball size hail. The fans headed for cover and the game was delayed an hour while maintenance men scraped the hail off the field. The contest ended in a 7-7 tie as neither team could move the ball very well in the second half due to the slick surface.

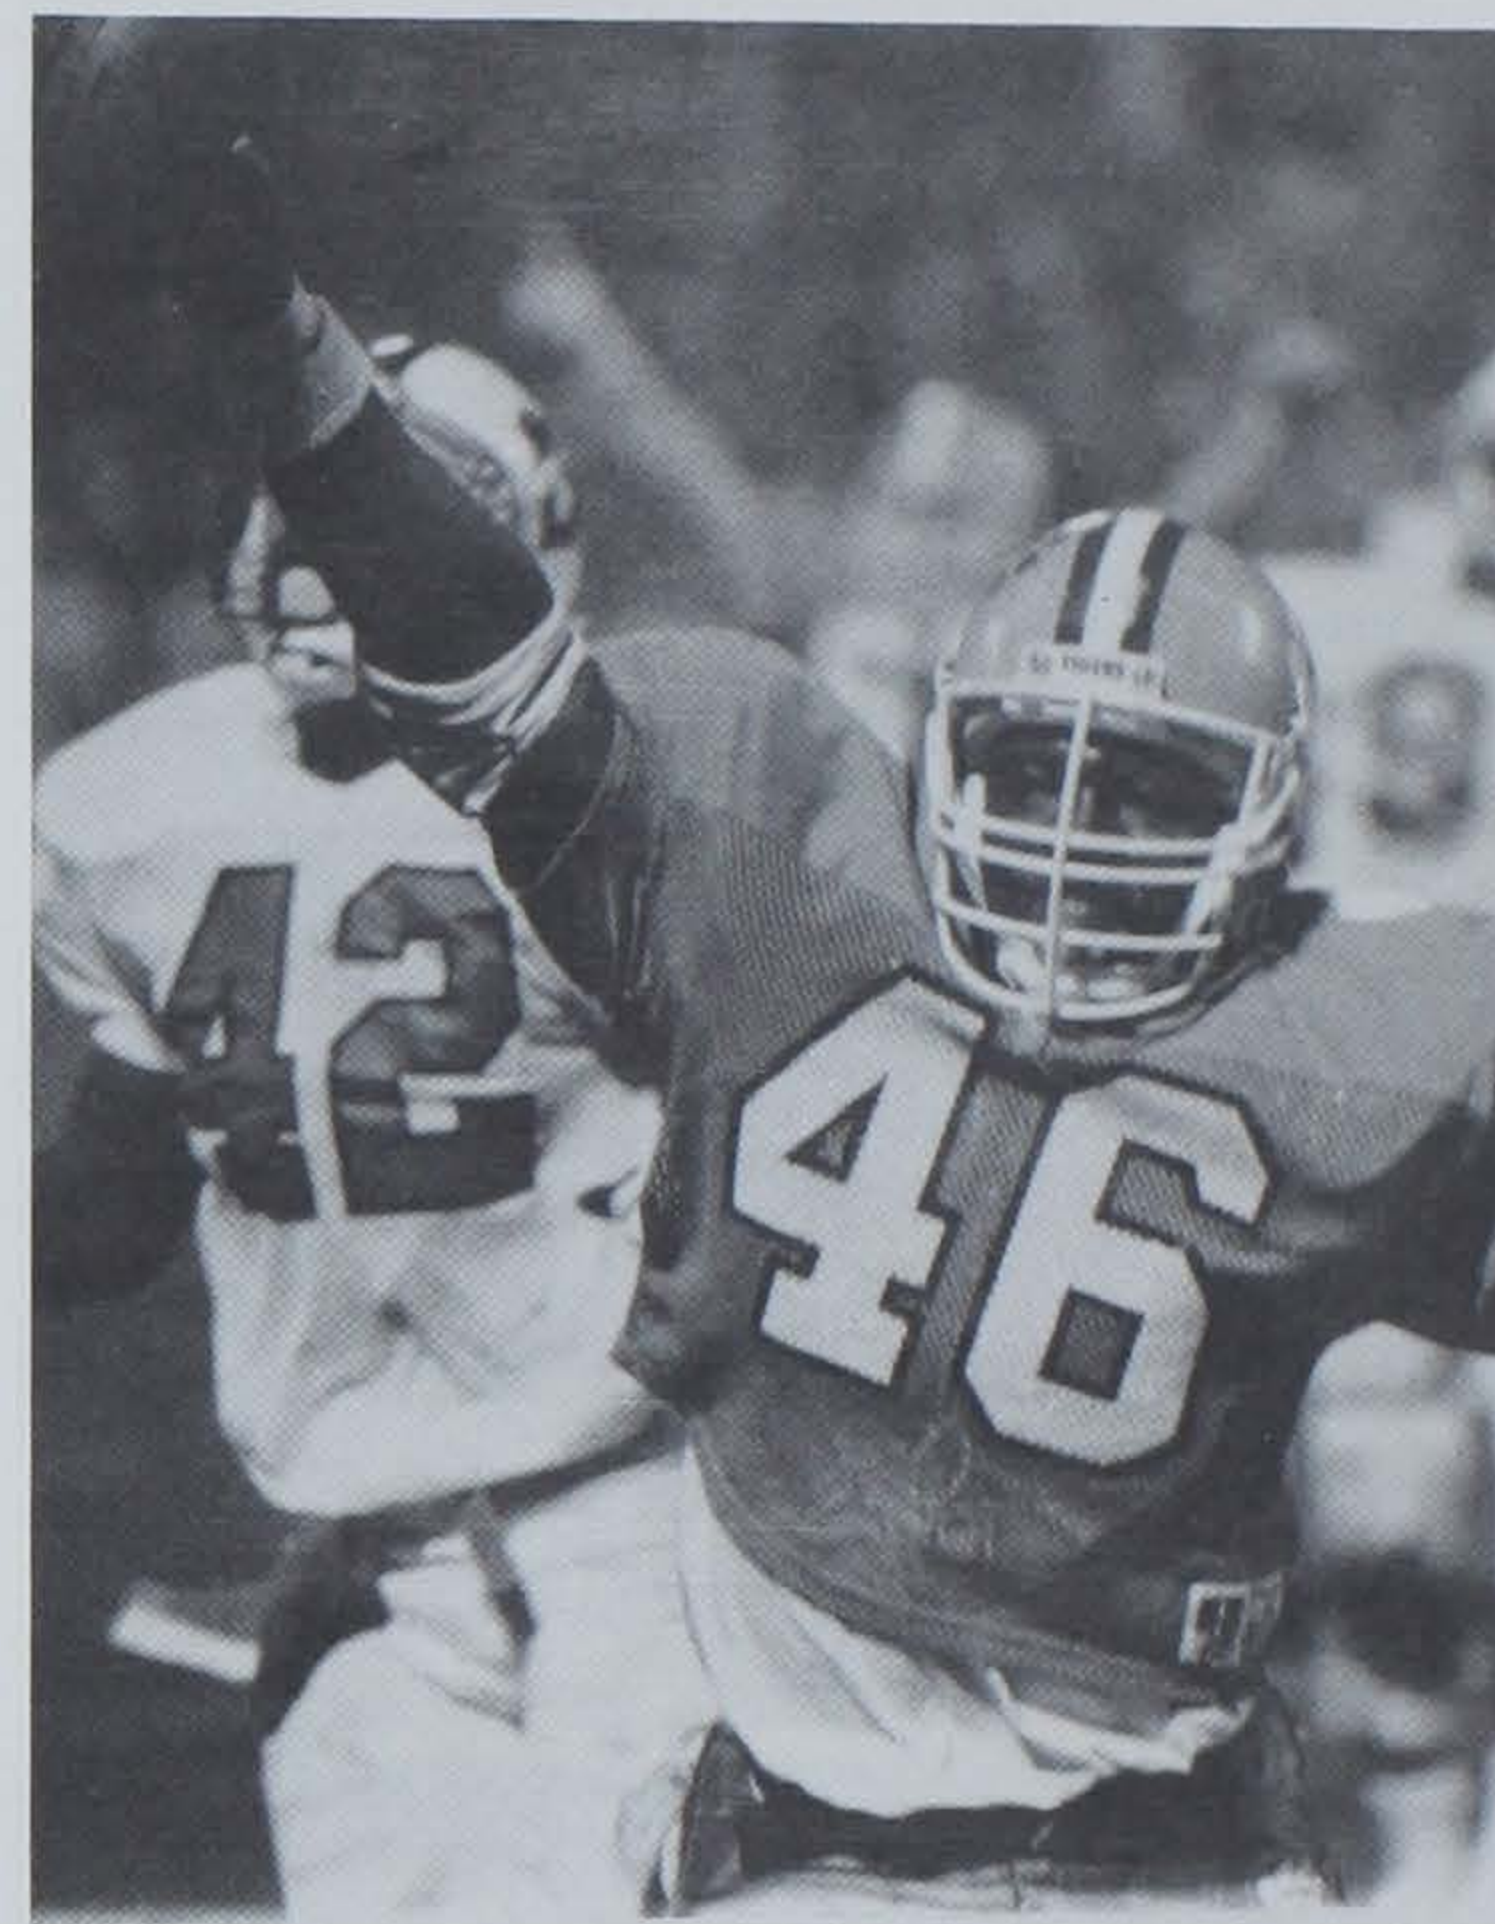

Baseball

This is the profession currently pursued by three football lettermen on Clemson's 1986 team. Bill Spiers was the punter for the 1986 Tigers, but he is now the starting shortstop with the Milwaukee Brewers. He was a first-team All-American at Clemson in 1987 and was then the 13th pick of the Major League draft.

Ray Williams, the career kickoff return leader in Clemson history, is now in the Seattle Mariners' organization. He also played in the NFL with Cleveland in 1987. Rusty Charpia, now in the Dodger organization, was a reserve defensive back on the 1986 team and lettered in both football and baseball for three years. He was All-ACC in baseball in 1987 and was the Clemson MVP for the Textile Bowl football game with N.C. State in Raleigh in 1988.

Barrel Racing

While Ken Hatfield is a top coach in the college ranks, his wife is an outstanding performer in the professional ranks. No, not with an NFL franchise but as a professional barrel racer on the rodeo circuit. This is not a weekend extra curricular activity, Sandy Hatfield is in her sixth year on the circuit and she competes at least twice a week between April and September.

Stacy Fields has a chance to become a three-time academic All-ACC selection.

Mrs. Hatfield began riding during her childhood on her family's farm near Kennett, Missouri. She had her own horse by the age of 11. This is not a sport for the meek and mild. In her career she has accumulated more injuries than her husband did in his football career at Arkansas. She broke two ribs in 1987, and has also suffered a broken ankle, two broken legs and a shattered knee cap.

Oh yes, Clemson's outside linebackers really like her horse which has the moniker Blitz.

Bowman Field

Located in the middle of campus in front of Tillman Hall, Bowman Field holds the distinction of being the only facility past or present that was the home of Clemson football, basketball and baseball at one time or another. Clemson played outdoor basketball games in 1911-13, football on the site between 1898 and 1914 and baseball between 1910-1925. It is not named after team orthopedic surgeon Dr. Larry Bowman.

Bowl Games

The Tigers have played in 16 bowls and own 10 wins against six defeats. Clemson has been to a bowl five years in a row, and no other Tigers have ever had a streak this long previously. Clemson has won a school record four bowls in a row. Here is a list of Clemson's previous bowl appearances.

Cody, who never lost to the Gamecocks, won a chicken eating contest with a Georgia coach by 11 chickens.

Bowl, Pro

The 1990 NFL all-star game in Hawaii saw three former Tigers perform. Johnny Rembert of the New England Patriots was in his second straight all-star game, while Michael Dean Perry of Cleveland and David Treadwell of the Denver Broncos were in their first pro bowl.

Calhoun, John

This Senator from the state of South Carolina

proposed a bill in the house in 1955 making it a state law that Clemson and South Carolina had to meet in football once a year.

Carolina Killer

Although Josh Cody is not spoken in the same breath with Frank Howard when it comes to great Clemson coaches of the past, he will live in the hearts of Clemson fans forever. Cody, who guided the Tigers from the sidelines between 1927 and 1930, is the only coach in Clemson history who has been around more than one year who never lost a football game to South Carolina. Cody was 4-0 against Clemson's chief rival and the Tigers outscored the Gamecocks during that time 93-21. Cody had an outstanding record and is certainly deserving of Clemson Hall of Fame consideration. He had a 13-0-1 record in home games and had a 72 percent winning mark, fourth best in Clemson history.

Cody was a champion eater also. In 1928 he was challenged to an eating contest with Georgia coach Herman Stegeman. Cody, who weighed 260 pounds, outstripped Stegeman by an astounding 11 chickens. "He wanted a decisive victory," said Fred Russell, an observer.

Championship of the South

In what amounted to its first bowl game, Clemson faced Cumberland College in Montgomery, AL on November 26, 1903. It was billed as the championship of the South and this game, unlike the Super Bowl, lived up to its billing.

Cumberland, 10 pounds bigger per man than Clemson, jumped out to an 11-0 lead in the first half of the game played at a neutral site. Clemson battled back to score five points, but trailed 11-5 with just a couple of minutes left. Clemson punted, but Cumberland fumbled on the punt return. After a couple of plays, Clemson had just one play left from the Cumberland 35. It was getting near 5:00 PM, the predetermined time to end the game, regardless of the time left on the game clock.

Cumberland was expecting a trick play, but John Heisman, on his last play as Clemson coach, called a straight handoff to halfback Fritz Furtick. The freshman scampered 35 yards for the touchdown to make the score 11-10 (five points for a TD in those days.). Jock Hanvey, a senior playing in his last game, then booted the extra point to tie the count on the last play of the game. You could not go for a two point conversion until 1957.

After the game both captains met to determine who would receive the game ball, the true prize in those days of college football. Both unselfish captains wanted to give it to the other team. After 10 minutes they settled on a compromise ... Patrick Sweeney. Sweeney had been the police officer guarding the sideline and the entrance gate to the field. "He had done a splendid job and deserve the gameball," said a newspaper account.

Colors

Burnt orange and Northwest purple officially, but you see a lot of white and blue. The Clemson orange is PMS 165 and the blue used on the trim of the stadium is Reflex Blue PMS 541. Clemson used to have gold as a color, but the uniforms faded after a long football season, so Jess Neely changed to a more colorfast orange.

Conference

Clemson is a member of the Atlantic Coast Conference. The Tigers were charter members in 1953. Prior to that, Clemson was in the Southern Conference from 1921 to 1952. Clemson was in the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association before that, and has been a charter member of every conference with which it has been affiliated.

Conference Championships

Clemson has more ACC titles than any other school, as the Tigers won or shared the ACC title in 1956, 1958, 1959, 1965, 1966, 1967, 1978, 1981, 1982, 1986, 1987, and 1988. Clemson won the Southern Conference in 1940 and 1948.

Crowd Noise

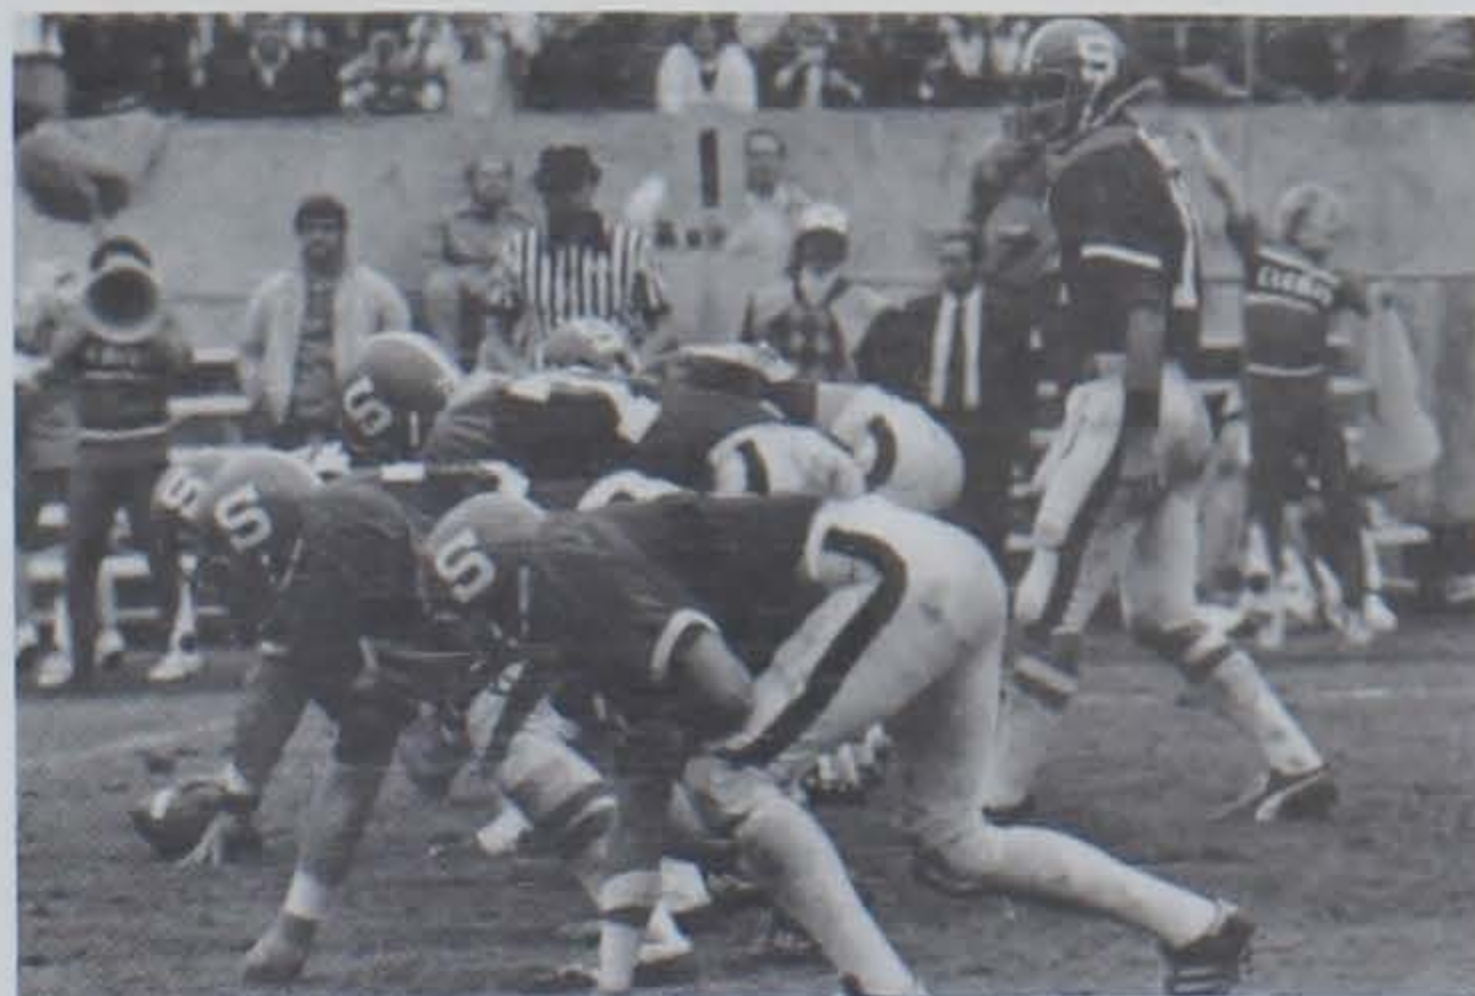

Clemson fanatics are legendary for sure, but one of their most incredible spirit accomplishments took place on the road in 1978. Clemson was meeting N.C. State in an important mid-season ACC encounter and over 5,000 Tiger fans made the trek to Raleigh.

The Tigers were all seated together in one corner of the field and started raising a raucus on a key down for Johnny Evans and the N.C. State offense. The noise level reached such great decibels that State's team could not hear the signals. Evans had to step away from center and time was called. That's right — Clemson fans prevented the opposition from hearing the signals in its own ballpark.

How does the NCAA crowd noise rule apply in this situation!

Davis, Dale

No, Dale Davis has not decided to be the Mike Eppley of the 1990s. But wouldn't it be great to have him in the lineup at tight end or even to block a few field goal attempts? At 6-10 with a 32-inch vertical jump, how could a kicker boot it over his outstretched arms. What a target for DeChane Cameron on pass patterns. A quarterback would have to throw it out of the stadium to overthrow Davis.

We basically put Dale in the glossary because we feel he is an All-America candidate in basketball this year, and he needs all the attention he can get. Clemson has never had a first-team All-American in basketball, but Dale is as worthy a candidate as any in the country. He has more rebounds than any other active player in Division I entering the 1990-91 season. His aggressive, outstanding work-ethic and unselfish attitude helped Clemson to its first ACC regular season title last year.

Death Valley

Name synonymous with Clemson Memorial Stadium. The Stadium was dubbed this affectionate title by the late Lonnie McMillian, a former coach at Presbyterian. He used to take his teams to play at Clemson, and they rarely scored, never mind gained a victory. Once he told the writers he was going to play Clemson up at Death Valley. It stuck somewhat, but when Frank Howard start calling it that in the fifties, the term really caught on.

Emergency Phone

In case of emergency at Clemson Memorial Stadium, call (803) 656-2999. The Clemson University police number is (803) 656-2222.

Engineering

Memorial Stadium almost changed sites in the 1950s. Coach Howard had a place picked out by the present horticulture gardens. Why the move? When man-made Lake Hartwell was built engineers failed to realize something was going to be needed to hold the water back from rushing to the stadium. Just when Coach Howard was planning another stadium, an engineer came up with the idea that a dyke could solve the problem. Otherwise the water would rise to the 29th row of the stadium, which was built over a ravine. The project cost about 2 million dollars, but in comparison to the moving expenses and the loss of tradition, it was a worthwhile investment.

Dale Davis would present a tall target for DeChane Cameron.

Enrollment

Clemson is the fourth smallest school in the ACC when it comes to student numbers (only Wake Forest, Georgia Tech and Duke are smaller). The enrollment figure currently in 16,072 and that counts everyone: undergrads, graduates, dogs, cats, and non-Clemson fans from Columbia.

Esso Club

When you want to cover a Clemson football weekend and capture the true flavor of the entire proceedings you have to make a pit stop at the Esso Club. If this sounds like a combination bar and gas station, well, you're right. Clemson fans for many years have frequented this famous weekend watering hole. It is a favorite establishment for Brent Musberger and Sports Illustrated's Curry Kirkpatrick.

Faculty Representative

Dr. B.J. Skelton is the faculty rep for Clemson, a position he took over in 1983. His office phone number is (803) 656-2282.

Field Goals

Field goals have taken off like the Dow Jones Industrial Average in the last 12 years at Clemson, especially in the decade of the 1980s. In the most recent decade Clemson booted 181-243 field goals, or an average of 18 field goals per year. Current kicker Chris Gardocki contributed to that with 19 field goals as a freshman and 22 as a sophomore, the most field goals in back-to-back seasons in Clemson history.

A comparison to yesteryear puts the impact of the field goal in perspective. When Jack Miller kicked a field goal for Clemson in the 1949 Gator Bowl to beat Missouri, 24-23, it was the only field goal by a Clemson player all year. Clemson went the next seven seasons without kicking a field goal. In 1962 Clemson was tied for third in the nation in field goals with seven ... that's right for the entire year. The entire nation made only 64 field goals in 1957. Now leagues make more than that in a season.

Food

Some of the finest Southern cuisine is available at Clemson football games, but you get only one trip through the line so make the most of it. Try to get there before Associate SID Sam Blackman, or if former student assistant David McGrew is back for game. They have both earned degrees in the art of piling food on one plate. The menu features fried chicken, sliced roast beef, ham and turkey, lettuce, tomato, various cheeses, chili and hotdogs. And don't forget the world-famous butterscotch brownies, but don't ask for the recipe — it's a secret.

Gardocki, Chris

Clemson's most valuable player might be placekicker Chris Gardocki. This athlete would have been a Heisman Trophy candidate back in the days of one-platoon football because he was also a high school quarterback and defensive back in addition to his kicking expertise. Last season Gardocki became the first ACC player to be named all-conference as the punter and placekicker and he led the league in both field goals and punting.

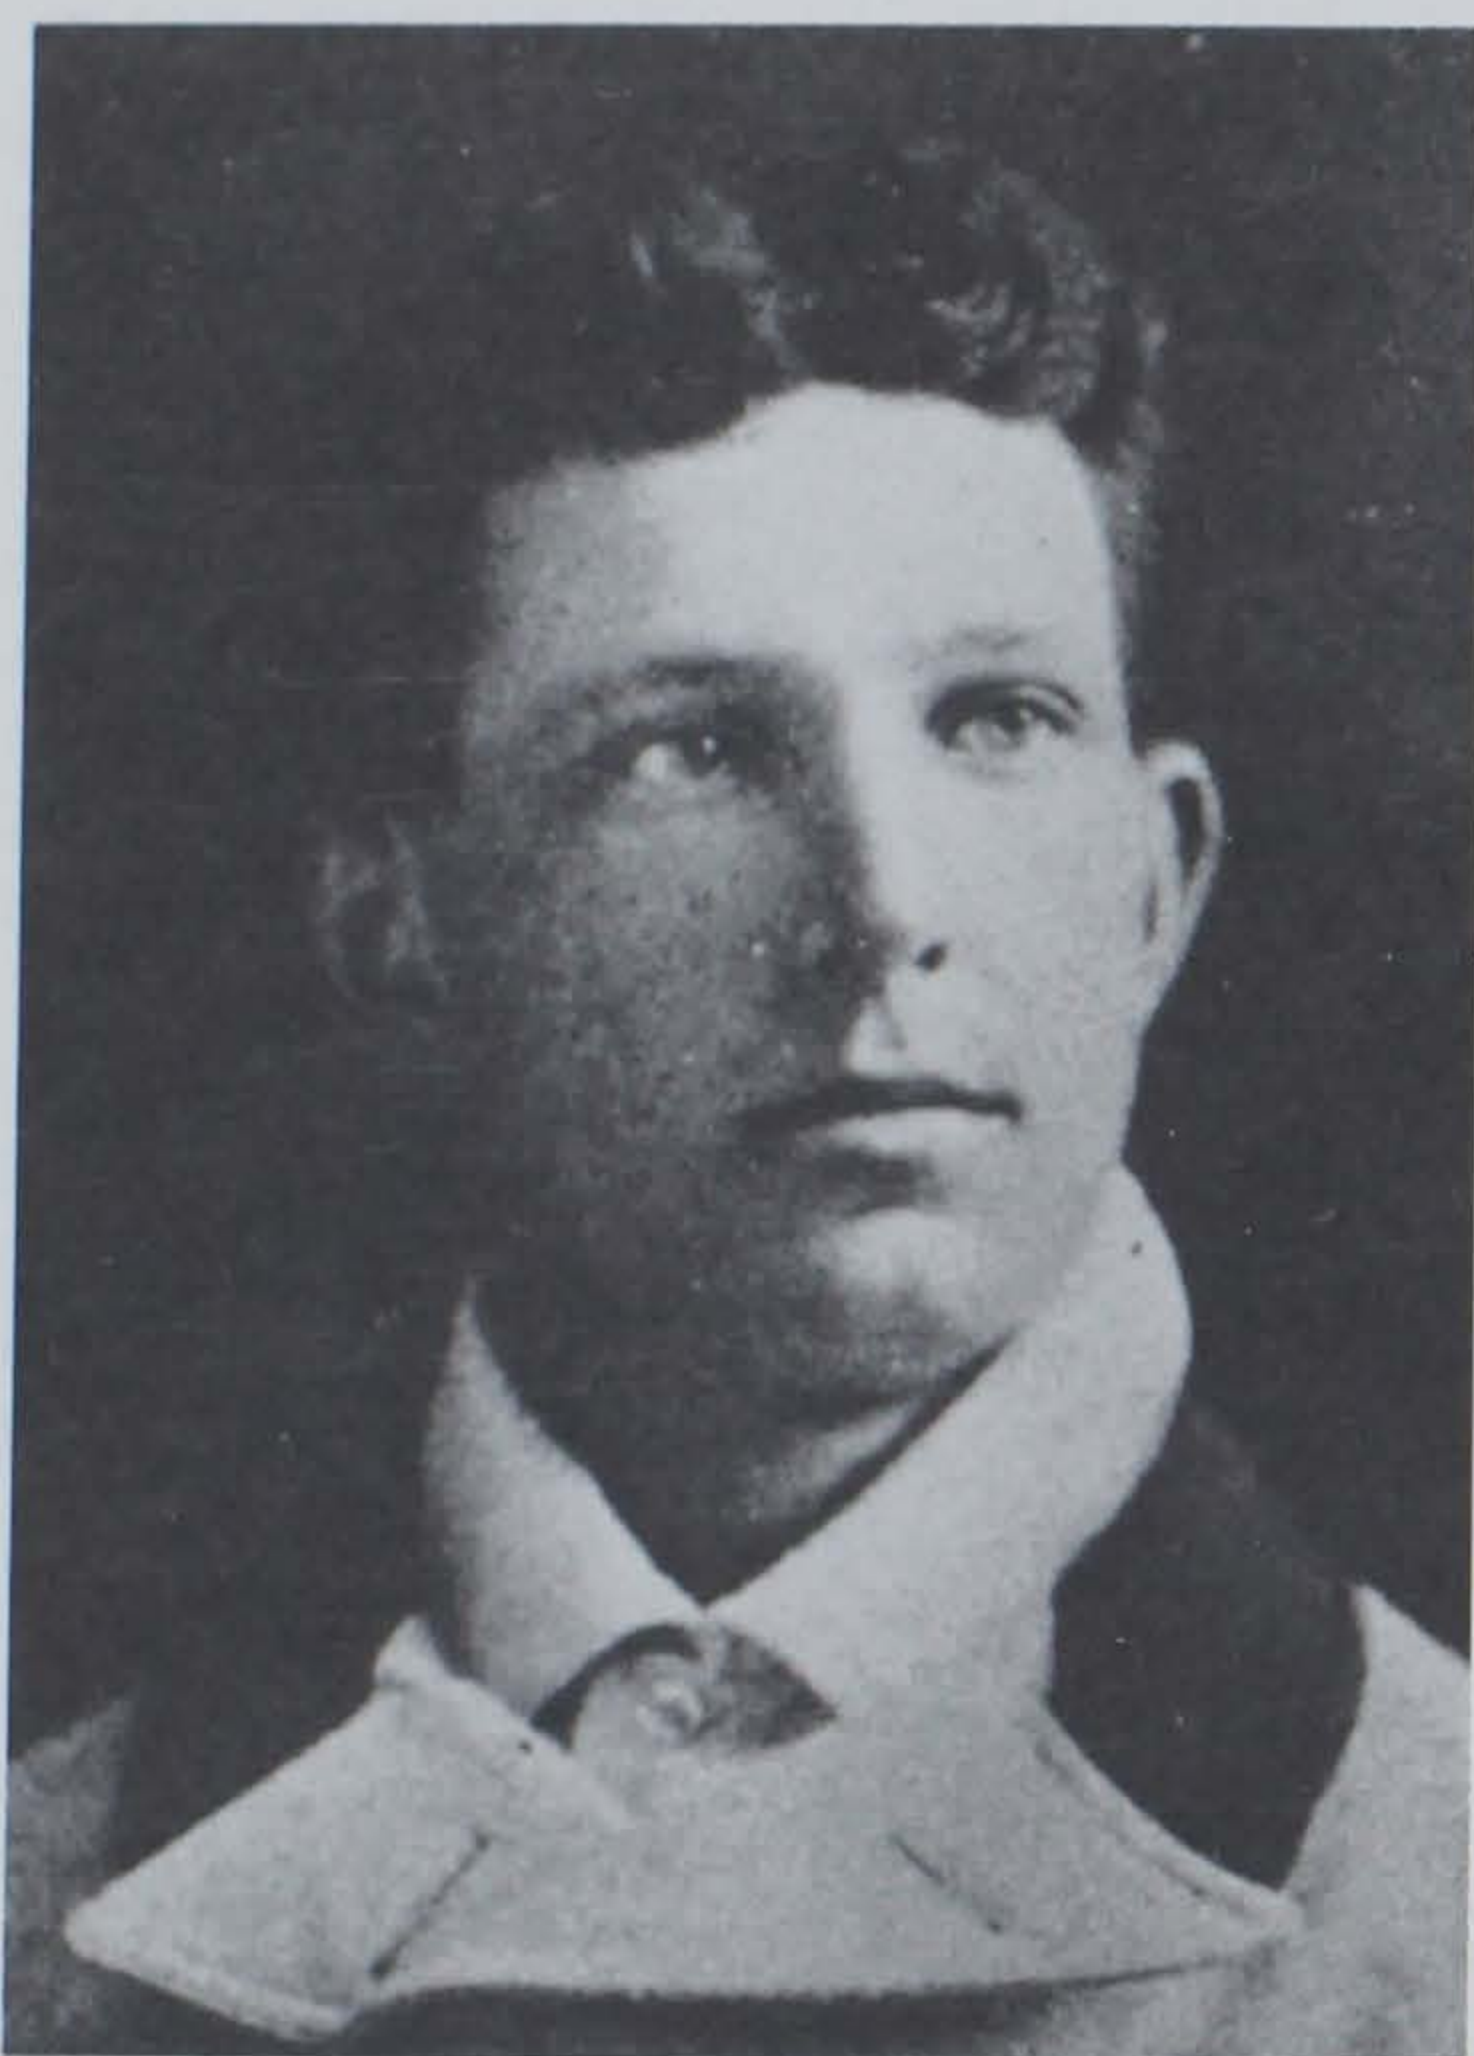

He might have gained his most notoriety, however, when he was named in a Sports Illustrated article by Paul Zimmerman. The magazine's top pro football author selected his All-Pro team for the mid-1990s and Gardocki was listed as the punter/kicker. Clemson already has a good contingent of kickers in the NFL. Donald Igwebuike of the Tampa Bay Bucs has never missed a field goal attempt inside 35 yards in his pro career. David Treadwell of the Denver Broncos was chosen to the Pro Bowl last year, while Dale Hatcher, now with the Green Bay Packers, was All-Pro in 1985 with the Rams, his rookie season.

Goalposts

NCAA regulations stipulate the pipe must be 4" in diameter, must have posts that are 20' or more in height and 23'4" apart. There is a movement afoot (sorry bad pun) to move the width to 18-6, the pro distance. This year it will remain at 23-4. The crossbar is 10' high. The Clemson student body tore down the goalposts in the end zone with the grass bank after Clemson's emotional 52-27 win over Maryland in 1983, the only time the goalposts have come down at Clemson.

Georgia

The Peach State has produced countless Clemson standouts in recent years and 1990 is no exception. In fact, six of Clemson's 10 returning All-ACC players are from the state of Georgia (and they are fired up about Georgia coming to Death Valley Oct. 6). That figure includes two returning All-Americans. The group consists of Jeb Flesch, an All-ACC guard from Morrow, GA; Stacy Long, All-America tackle from Griffin, GA; Chris Gardocki, All-America

Frank Shaughnessy set a Notre Dame record that will never be broken, then became Clemson's head football coach three years later.

placekicker and All-ACC punter from Stone Mountain, GA; Doug Brewster, All-ACC linebacker from Athens, GA; John Johnson, All-ACC outside linebacker from LaGrange, GA; Robert O'Neal, All-ACC safety from Clarkston, GA.

Heisman, John

Yes, the same guy they named the trophy after used to coach at Clemson. You have to go back to the 1900-03 era to find him, but he brought Clemson its first unbeaten season in 1900, a 6-0 ledger. Heisman coached at Clemson for four seasons making an astronomical $1800 a year. In 1904 Georgia Tech offered him $2250 and he was gone to Atlanta. Clemson should have scraped up the extra money to keep him. With John Heisman as head coach Clemson beat Georgia Tech 73-0 in 1903, but two years later, with Heisman at Georgia Tech, the Yellow Jackets downed the Tigers, 17-10. Coaching does make a difference.

Hoover, Doc

With Bob Bradley's retirement, Fred Hoover moved up to number-two on the list of Clemson employees with the most consecutive years of service to the athletic department. Baseball Coach Bill Wilhelm is the only one ahead of Hoover. The longtime trainer and assistant athletic director has been with Clemson since 1958 and like Bradley, has never missed a football game. Fred's streak is at 340 entering this season.

Inflation I

A ticket to the Clemson-South Carolina game in 1896 cost 25 cents. Two thousand people attended the game. This year's ticket is $18.

Inflation II

When Clemson first built Memorial Stadium

in 1942 the construction cost of the 20,000 seat stadium computed to $7.20 a seat. When Clemson added 15,000 seats with an upper deck over the north stands in 1983 the average cost was $866 a seat.

Interview Policy

Interviews during the week for Clemson players or coaches should be arranged through Assistant SID Annabelle Vaughan. Call us with your request and we will get the player to call you collect. Sorry, no home numbers of players will be distributed because too many media have a tendency to call for midnight interviews.

James, Charlie

One of the great comeback stories at Clemson last year concerned running back Charlie James. The native of Mississippi suffered a stable neck fracture on the first kickoff return of the Georgia Tech contest. He walked off the field, but X-rays revealed a fractured neck. He wore a halo brace, similar to the one worn by Ohio State basketball guard Jay Burson in 1989, for three months.

James sat out the rest of the football season and the indoor track season, but was back for the outdoor track season. He not only competed, but he made All-ACC as a part of Clemson's championship 4 x 100 meter relay team. His future football status is still up in the air, but it is good to see Charlie running again.

June 6

This is good day for coaches, at least at Clemson. One of the most unusual facts about the Clemson coaching staff is that three of the members have the same birthday, June 6. Ken Hatfield was born June 6, 1943; offensive coordinator Larry Van Der Heyden was born on June 6, 1939 and running backs coach Larry Brinson was born June 6, 1954. All three were excellent athletes by the way, maybe there is something to that horoscope stuff. Hatfield is still 12th in NCAA history in career punt return average. Van Der Heyden was inducted into the Iowa State Hall of Fame and was all-conference in football and basketball. Brinson played in two Super Bowls with the Dallas Cowboys and was in the NFL for five seasons.

Legend I

Frank Howard is known as Legend I around Clemson and he has the hat to prove it. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame during ceremonies at the Waldorf Astoria in New York City on December 5, 1989. Howard is still a person in demand for the banquet circuit.

Howard won 165 games at Clemson, including a still conference record tying 96 victories as an ACC coach 1953-69. He led Clemson to six bowl games, won eight conference titles and had six final AP Top 20 rankings.

He still comes to work every day in the Clemson Athletic Department. His office number in the Jervy Athletic Center is (803) 656-2100. Give him a call for some great quotes, information on Clemson football history, or to take out and advertisement in Kickoff.

Legend II

SID at Clemson between 1955-89 football season, Bob Bradley has officially retired from his SID slot. He has seen 380 consecutive Clemson football games and has scored 95 percent of the ACC basketball tournament games since the tourney was formed. He has been President of CoSIDA, has been in the Hall of Fame forever, and is a former Recipient of the Arch Ward Award as CoSIDA Man-of-the-Year.

In November of 1988 the pressbox at Memorial Stadium was named The Bob Bradley Pressbox. At his retirement banquet in the summer of 1989 he was presented with an automobile by the Athletic Department (complete with bow at midfield at Memorial Stadium) and the financing for a pontoon boat from his former student workers, the ACC Sportswriters Association, SIDs from around the country and the ACC office.

He still puts in quite a few hours for us and actually scored more baseball games in his first year of retirement than he did in his last year on the job.

Lights

We've got them, but we don't play night games. Yes, there are lights at Clemson Memorial Stadium, but the investment was made strictly for television games. Clemson fans come from all over and they like the 1:00 P.M. start because they can come and go the same day. So, you won't see any night games at Clemson unless television gets involved. They were in use for the first time in 1985 for the entire Maryland game, a contest that had a 2:30 p.m. start due to TV.

Lost & Found

At Memorial Stadium, if you can't find it go to the Gate 1 information booth. Hopefully someone else did and it will be there.

Magic Number

What is the number that all Clemson football players fight for in preseason jersey distribution? The magic number of Clemson football is 85 because it has had the most All-ACC Tigers wear that number.

Four different Clemson players have earned All-ACC honors over the years while wearing 85, one more than the numbers 18, 69 and 78 have had. The Tigers who have worn number-85 to stardom are Ronnie Ducworth (DE, 1967-68), John McMakin (TE, 1971), Bennie Cunningham (TE, 1974-75) and Mark Drag (MG, 1988).

Medical Facilities

Available during football games under Section J on the South Side, under Section T on the North Side and Section E under South Top Deck of the stadium. There also is one under the North Top Deck.

Notre Dame

In addition to the author of this glossary being a Notre Dame grad, there are other common denominators between the school with the Golden Dome and the school with the Tiger Paws. Two players on this year's Clemson team have relatives who play for Notre Dame.

Clemson's Rob Bodine started all 12 games at middle guard for Clemson in 1989 and led the down linemen in tackles. Jerry Bodine is Rob's cousin and is a second-team defensive back for the 1990 Fighting Irish. Thad Ridgley is a third-team tight end for Clemson who red-shirted last year. His brother is Troy Ridgley, a second-team interior defensive lineman for Notre Dame, who had nine tackles in a starting role in Notre Dame's Orange Bowl win over Colorado last year.

Frank Shaugnessy is a common denominator between the two schools. Shaugnessy was Notre Dame's captain in 1904 and still holds the Irish record for the longest fumble return, 107 yards (110-yard field was used in those days) vs. Kansas in 1904. In 1907 Shaugnessy became Clemson's head football coach. He led the Tigers to a 4-4 record, but did beat Georgia Tech and John Heisman in Atlanta 6-5 that year.

Notre Dame and Clemson have met on the gridiron twice and ironically, the road team won both games. Both teams have a reputation for gaining victory in their home stadiums. Notre Dame won at Clemson 21-17 in 1977 on the way to a National Championship, while Clemson won at Notre Dame two years later, 16-10 behind three Obed Ariri field goals.

Orange & White

Publication founded by former Clemson Assistant SID Al Adams that is in its 13th season of issue. Al is no longer with the paper, but it is still going strong. To contact the publisher, Phil Batson, call (803) 654-6553. It is now the official publication of IPTAY.

Orange Pants

Special garb worn by Clemson Tigers in big games. Clemson has a 16-2 record in orange pants since they were first worn for the 1980 South Carolina game. The only teams to beat Clemson in orange pants are South Carolina (22-21 in 1984), and Florida State, by a 24-21 count in 1988. Clemson's average margin of victory is 15 points per game when wearing the pants.

Penn's Thin Natural Leaf

Type of chewing tobacco Frank Howard chewed in the forties. When they were pouring the concrete for the stadium in 1942 Howard put a plug in each corner of the stadium, giving it his form of an artistic signature.

Policemen

All-ACC defensive tackle Vance Hammond has been coming to Clemson football games for many years. The native of Spartanburg used to follow his father to Tigertown early on Saturday mornings. You see, Vance's father is a highway patrolman. He has helped direct traffic into Death Valley for years. He spends much of his time during the game on the sideline, helping keep intruders off the Clemson bench area. He also keeps his eye on number-90, his son Vance, who has a good chance at a pro football career.

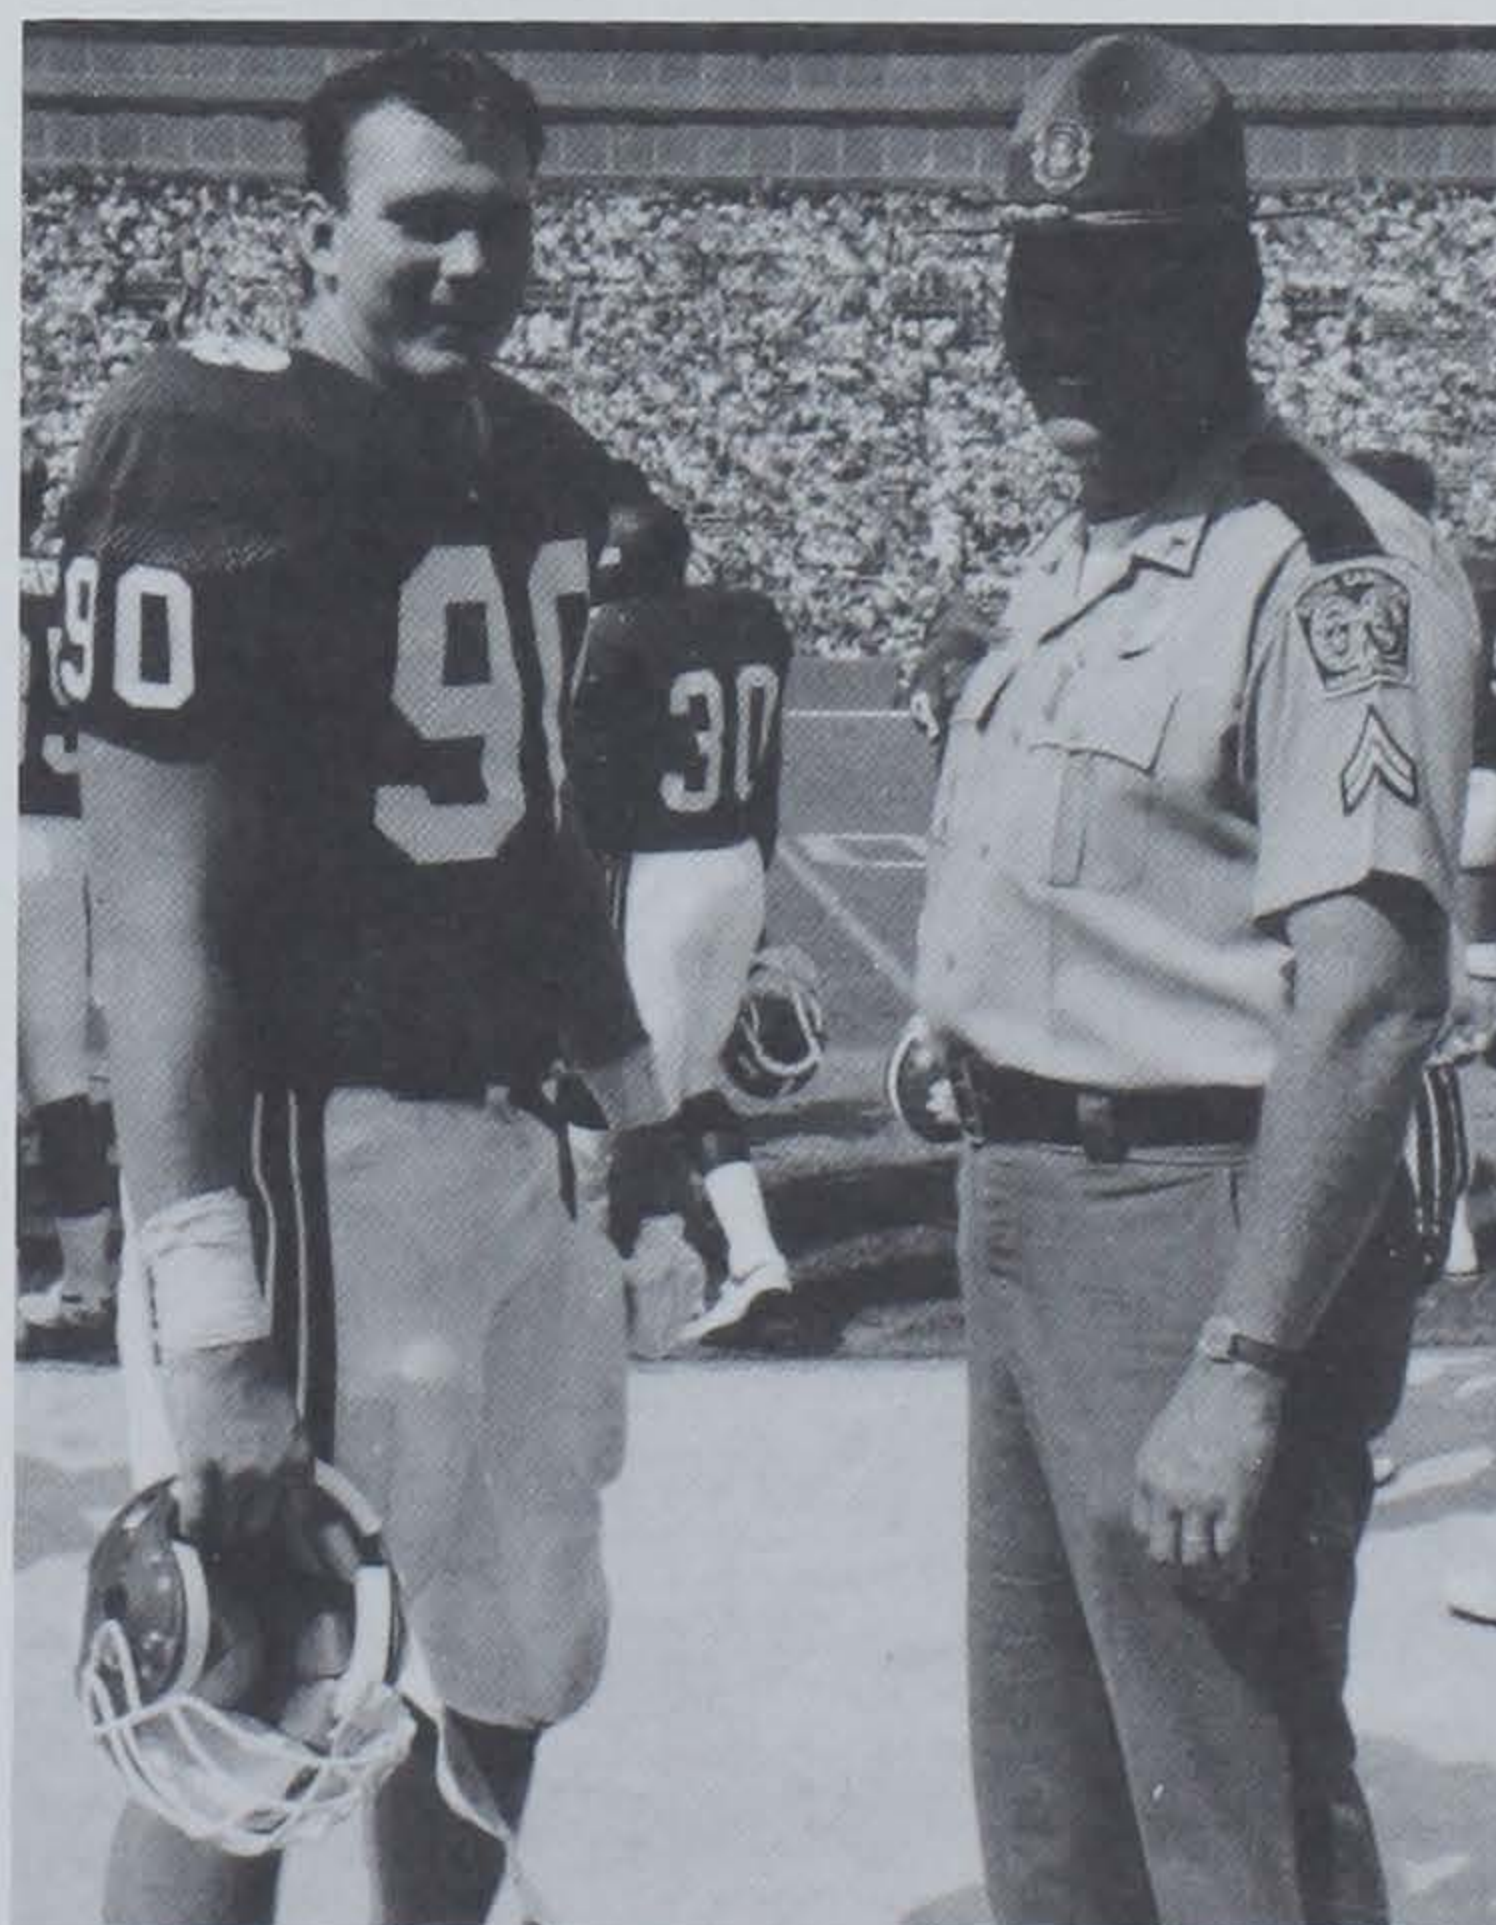

The term policeman is also used to describe former Clemson tight end Jerome Williams. The 1989 senior letterman is now a policeman with the city of Clemson.

Phillips, Jim

"Voice of the Tigers" in his 23rd year providing commentary on Clemson football. Phillips won the Brian Piccolo Award of broadcasting in 1982 when he gave the play-by-play account of the Western Carolina game only five days after back surgery. He recreated most of that game while standing up with a walker. He keeps an incredible schedule, as he is the voice of over 140 Greenville Braves baseball games and Clemson basketball.

Press Passes

These can become scarce for big games. For all photo, press, TV, parking and men's room passes contact Tim Bourret. His number is (803) 656-2114. Please make your requests at least two weeks in advance. Wives and children of media are not allowed in the press box.

Hammond's father has been on the sidelines for all of Vance's life.

Preventive Maintenance

Clemson spent over one million dollars this past summer on a preventive maintenance program at Clemson Memorial Stadium. Nearly 50 years of weather, games and fans had led to a few cracks on the surface. There was no structural damage, but a general water proofing was needed.

Every seat off the press box side was removed and under the stands was treated. Next spring the project will continue on the other side of the stadium. Nothing was done to either upper deck, which are no more than just 12-years-old.

Publications

To obtain more copies of this press guide and any other brochure produced by the Clemson SID office, send a note to Donna Strickland, P.O. Box 632, Clemson, SC 29633. This year's football guide is $10 by mail.

Retired Numbers

There have been two numbers retired in Clemson football history, #4 and #66. The number-four is in honor of Steve Fuller, a first-team Academic All-American in 1978 and a third-team on-the-field All-American the same year. He was also a two-time ACC Player-of-the-Year and won a Super Bowl Championship ring with the Chicago Bears.

The number-66 is in honor of Banks McFadden, Clemson's first All-American in 1939. He guided Clemson to the Cotton Bowl that year and generally put Clemson on the football map. He was the third pick of the 1940 NFL draft. He also had his #23 retired in basketball at Clemson and was also an All-American in that sport. He is the only football player in Clemson history to be inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame.

Riggs Field

Currently the home of Clemson's national championship soccer program (1984 and 1987), but it was the home of Clemson football prior to Memorial Stadium. The field is named after Walter Merritt Riggs, Clemson's first football coach. He coached Clemson in 1896 and 1899. He had an 8-5 record for those two seasons, but ironically, he never coached a game at Clemson. All his 13 contests were played on the road.

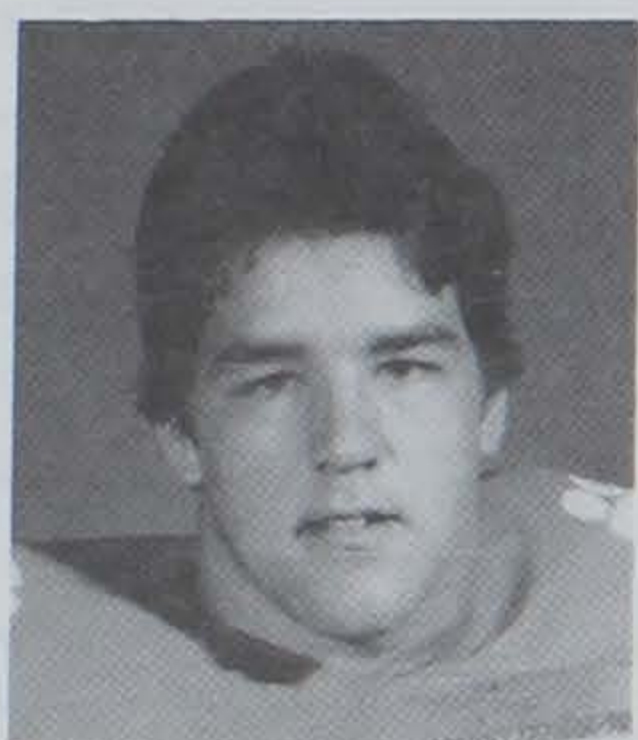

Rings

A total of 14 former Clemson players have picked up 20 Super Bowl rings over the years including recent addition Terrence Flagler of the San Francisco 49ers. Flagler, Dwight Clark, Bennie Cunningham, Jim Stuckey, Jeff Bostic and Charlie Waters are the former Tigers with two Super Bowl championship rings.

Rock, Howard's

When the Clemson team gathers to Run Down the Hill (see Running Down the Hill) the players rub Howard's Rock because of the mystical powers it is supposed to give Clemson players. The rock is mounted on a pedestal at the top of the hill and was given to Coach Frank Howard by a friend (S.C. Jones '19) who picked it up in Death Valley, CA. The Rock was first placed on the pedestal at the top of the hill on September 24, 1966, a game Clemson won 40-35 over Virginia. The team started rubbing the rock for the first game of 1967, a 23-6 win over Wake Forest on September 23, 1967.

Running Down the Hill

One of the most exciting 25 seconds (about 35 seconds when Clemson dresses 100 players for homecoming) in college football from a color and pageantry standpoint. After Clemson's last warmup the team retreats to the home dressing room located under the West Stands. At about 12:50 (for normal 1:00 P.M. game), the team boards two buses and drives around the periphery of the stadium to the east side of the field. After everyone is properly collected, the cannon sounds, Tiger Rag is played and Clemson charges down the hill and onto the field. It is one of the most celebrated entrances in sport. The Tigers have done it for every game since 1942, except for 1970, 1971, and four games of the 1972 season. In all, the Tigers have run down the hill 211 times heading into 1990.

How in the world did the tradition of running down the hill start? There is no long involved explanation, it used to be the quickest way to get to the field. When the stadium was built in 1942 the football lockerrooms were in Fike Fieldhouse. When the players were finished getting dressed they used to walk out the front door and walk down the street to "The Hill". Coach Howard continued the tradition when lockerrooms were finally built inside the stadium because Clemson fans used to get so fired up when they gathered at the top of the hill. That's when the buses came into use to speed the trip from the lockerroom to the other side of the stadium. Clemson now has a record of 152-53-6, a .730 winning percentage when they run down the hill. Clemson is 6-9 (40 percent) when it doesn't use the hill as its entrance. Coach Hatfield is not planning to change the tradition with stats like that.

Satellite Feed

Last year Clemson distributed its football press conferences on satellite for the first time ever. This is a same-day transmission that is edited to 30 minutes in length. The feed consists of 17 minutes of interviews with Ken Hatfield, four minutes of highlights and seven minutes of interviews with players concerning the coming week's opponent. The media response was outstanding, even some writers who had home dishes at far reaching locations of the Carolinas watched the feed and wrote a story off of it.

This year's feed will take place between 3:00 PM to 3:30 PM every Tuesday during the football season on Westar 4, channel 13. The first transmission will be the Tuesday prior to the Long Beach State game (August 28th). There will be two exceptions to the schedule. On October 16 the feed will take place from 2:00 PM to 2:30 PM on Westar 4, channel 13 and on October 23 from 3:30 to 4:00 PM on Westar 4, channel 19.

Section GG

This is the green grass section of the hill, which is located in the East Stands. (See Running Down the Hill.)

Skyboxes

The prime location to watch a Clemson football game. Memorial Stadium is one of just a handful of on-campus college stadiums to have private executive suites. Clemson has more executive suites than any other on-campus stadium in America (108 total, with 74 available for sale to individuals and corporations) and the average cost, including an average of 22 tickets, is $18,000 a year.

The suite is completely furnished with 22 theatre seats, has a stereo system, kitchenette, closed circuit TV, maid service, meals, program and is completely temperature controlled. Fans have their choice of piping in crowd noise, the PA system or the Clemson radio network. Clemson raised $1.2 million from its executive suites in 1988, the top total in the nation.

Spirit Blitz

This is fast becoming a Clemson tradition. Seven years ago the student body released 363,729 balloons prior to the Maryland game to establish a mark in the Guinness Book of Records for a balloon launch. In 1984 the entire stadium held up flash cards during pregame and halftime ceremonies. Now, we are not talking these little card sections Southern Cal has in the L.A. Coliseum. This was five cards in every seat in the stadium, over 350,000 cards in all, spelling out themes that have to do with Clemson football. In 1986 Clemson unveiled an 80-yard Tiger Paw Flag and passed out 80,000 orange pom-poms,

Interest in Clemson football has become global, leading administrators to disseminate a satellite transmission of the weekly football press conference.

James Trapp was a valuable reserve defensive back in 1989. He won All-America honors in both indoor and outdoor track and won the ACC MVP award in the outdoor meet held at Clemson. His 10.12 in 100 is topped at the ACC level only by Renaldo Nehemiah.

while in 1988 it was 80,000 megaphones for South Carolina. Last year's Spirit Blitz Day was Oct. 7 when Virginia was greeted with 80,000 kazoos. Spirit Blitz '90 is the Georgia game on October 6.

Sumter, SC

This is the home of some excellent Clemson athletes over the years. Current All-ACC cornerback Dexter Davis is a native of Sumter, SC, a town that is a little less than halfway between Columbia and Myrtle Beach. Davis played for Sumter High School, whose nickname is the Gamecocks of all things. Wonder if he burned his high school jersey when he signed with Clemson?

Sumter is also the home of Clemson's greatest defensive back in history, Terry Kinard. He was recently named to USA Today's All-Decade team of college football and is still in pro football with the Houston Oilers.

The most famous former Clemson athlete from Sumter might be Shawn Weatherly. In 1977 and 1978 she lettered with the Clemson women's fencing team. That did not bring her much notoriety (although she did have a 12-5 career record). In 1980 she did win the Miss Universe Pageant in Biloxi, Mississippi and thus became the most famous women's fencer in Clemson history.

Survey of Interest

A couple of years ago, students in Dr. James London's economic class conducted a survey of Clemson fans at Tiger football games. The survey began two hours before each game and concluded 30 minutes before kickoff. It was done to assess the economic impact of Clemson football on the South Carolina upstate region.

Here are some of the findings:

- The average party size was 6.04.
- 87.8% came in groups of 10 or under.
- 75.4% came from South Carolina, including 15.8% from the Greenville area.
- 7.9% came from Georgia. 6.5% came from North Carolina.

- 81.1% drove to the game in a car.
- 78.3% either attended or had a relative who attended Clemson or the opposing school.
- Approximately 10.4% stayed in upstate hotels. Of this 10.4%, 31.4% stayed in a Clemson hotel, 28.5% stayed in a Greenville hotel, and 25.6% stayed in an Anderson hotel.
- 80.5% had no other form of entertainment, besides the football game.
- The average group spent $10.47 on entertainment activities, $13.59 on shopping (souvenirs, etc. ...), and $37.26 on food for a total of $61.32.
- The average person spent $1.78 on entertainment activities, $2.25 on shopping (souvenirs, etc. ...), and $6.17 on food for a total of $10.15.

Telephone Installations

To order phone lines for a broadcast or a telephone by your seat in the press box call Southern Bell in Columbia at (803) 780-2800.

Tigerama

World's largest pep rally, this is one of the best examples of Clemson spirit. The Friday night before Homecoming about 40,000 people come to Memorial Stadium for a combination pep rally, beauty pageant, fireworks display and skit presentation. This is not to be confused with Barnyard Burn, which is something special for South Carolina home games. It involves a bon-fire that torches a chicken coop. It is held the Friday night prior to the South Carolina game and takes place in the parking lot outside the stadium.

Track Stars

The Clemson football team made a large contribution to Clemson's track efforts last year. Bob Pollock's Tigers took both the indoor and outdoor ACC track championships in 1990 and four members of the Tiger grid squad had a big say in the matter.

Reserve defensive back James Trapp had the largest impact as the first-year freshman was an All-American in both indoor and outdoor track. He was the MVP of the ACC meet outdoors as he won both the 100 and the 200 meters in record times. He ran a 10.12 in the 100 meters, second fastest in ACC meet history behind Renaldo Nehemiah of Maryland (and the San Francisco 49ers), who had a 10.10 in 1979.

Larry Ryans was another reserve defensive back who was an All-American in track. Ryans finished ninth in the NAAs in the 110 high hurdles, but his time was good enough for All-America honors. Wide receiver Doug Thomas was All-ACC in indoor and outdoor track, while Charlie James (who will not play football this year) was All-ACC outdoors. The four athletes combined to capture the ACC outdoor title in the 4X100 meter run.

Trick Plays

Clemson had great success with halfback, or wide receiver passes in the decade of the eighties. Last year Terry Allen threw a 66-yard TD pass to Gary Cooper to break open a close game at Virginia Tech. Reggie Lawrence had a 42-yard completion at South Carolina to put the game out of reach.

In the decade of the 1980s Clemson completed 13-23 halfback/wide receiver passes for 435 yards, five touchdowns and just one interception. This is a completion percentage of 56.5 and an efficiency rating of 278.44.

Two-on-the-Fifty

Most often heard request by Clemson Ticket Manager Van Hilderbrand. He has a few more tickets to juggle than most people in his position due to the double deck on both sides, but they will be hard to come by due to these high preseason rankings Clemson has attained. His number is (803) 656-2118.

Weather

Will Call

Located at Gate 13 at Clemson Memorial Stadium, Tim Bourret usually drops the passes off by 11:00 A.M. for a 1:00 P.M. game.

Clemson Football Outlook

Defense, offensive line, and special teams hope to lead Clemson to ACC record fourth straight double-figure victory season.

On the surface it appears Clemson football is undergoing a metamorphosis. For the first time in 11 years, the Tigers enter a fall season with a new head coach. Ken Hatfield took over the program that has had four straight bowl victories and AP Top 20 finishes when he was named Danny Ford's successor on January 21. He is just the third Clemson head coach who was not promoted from a Clemson assistant coaching position since 1940.

There are also six new assistant coaches (including new coordinators on both sides of the ball), new players slated to man nine of the starting positions (including all the wide receiver and backfield slots), and a new schedule that does not include Florida State or Virginia Tech for the first time in three years.

But, in reality, many of the characteristics that have brought Clemson to national prominence in the last decade are still omnipresent. The stadium still holds over 84,000 people and features "the Hill", which Clemson uses as its rousing stadium entrance six Saturdays every fall. They haven't moved "Howard's Rock" either. And traditional rival Georgia returns to the schedule to renew one of the most dramatic confrontations in college sports.

Many of the players, especially on defense, that have led Clemson to three straight 10-2 seasons, are also back. Forty-nine lettermen and 15 starters return as this year's senior contingent attempts to break its immediate predecessor's ACC record for wins by a class (38). A nine-win season will eclipse the mark set by the class of '89, which ran up a 38-8-2 record the last four seasons, including a 4-0 bowl ledger and three ACC titles.

While the Clemson coach has a different name, his overall strategies won't stray far from classic Clemson football. Ken Hatfield teams have featured outstanding rushing attacks that use timely passing with a minimal number of mistakes. His defenses have always been balanced, aggressive units that force mistakes. The similarities are many statistically, including the fact that Hatfield's Arkansas teams won 38 games the last four years, the same number Clemson earned between 1986 and 1989.

"We have the same hard-nose approach that Clemson has had for many years," said Hatfield, who is one of just four mentors to coach Division I teams in bowl games each of the last eight years. "We strive to have teams characterized by great rushing attacks, controlling the clock when you need to, and rock solid defenses. We want to be balanced and throw the ball effectively."

Overall, Hatfield is not expecting as major a transition as he had when he went from Air Force to Arkansas. "When we made that move there were a lot of changes, especially offensively. I like the triple option game and Arkansas had gone to a predominantly pass-oriented offense Lou Holtz's last few years. But, we will use much the same style offensively and defensively that has been used at Clemson in recent years."

"It has been a good adjustment as we have learned about the players' personalities and they have learned about their coach's personalities. The players have worked hard and it was a good spring in that regard. They have tried to improve and we have tried to get the right people in the right position. It is so important for us to have our best 11 all on the field at the same time. Our strengths are certainly going to be on defense. We had two great units all spring that played hard and played well."

Clemson does have a veteran team at most positions. The Tiger coaching staff will be preoccupied with developing young talent at wide receiver, quarterback and running back slots this fall, but they will have a veteran offensive line to lead those who will be toting the football.

The offensive line returns three players who were All-ACC and another starter who earned Academic All-ACC honors. The leader is first-team All-America tackle Stacy Long, who was named the top offensive tackle in the nation by The Sporting News preseason issue, and the Top Offensive Lineman in the nation by Don Heinrich's preseason publication.

Defensively, Clemson returns eight starters from a unit that finished fifth in the nation in rushing, total and scoring defenses. There are at least two returning lettermen at every defensive position and only one defensive slot is void of a player without some starting experience. And that one position could be held by a reserve who tied for the ACC lead in quarterback sacks.

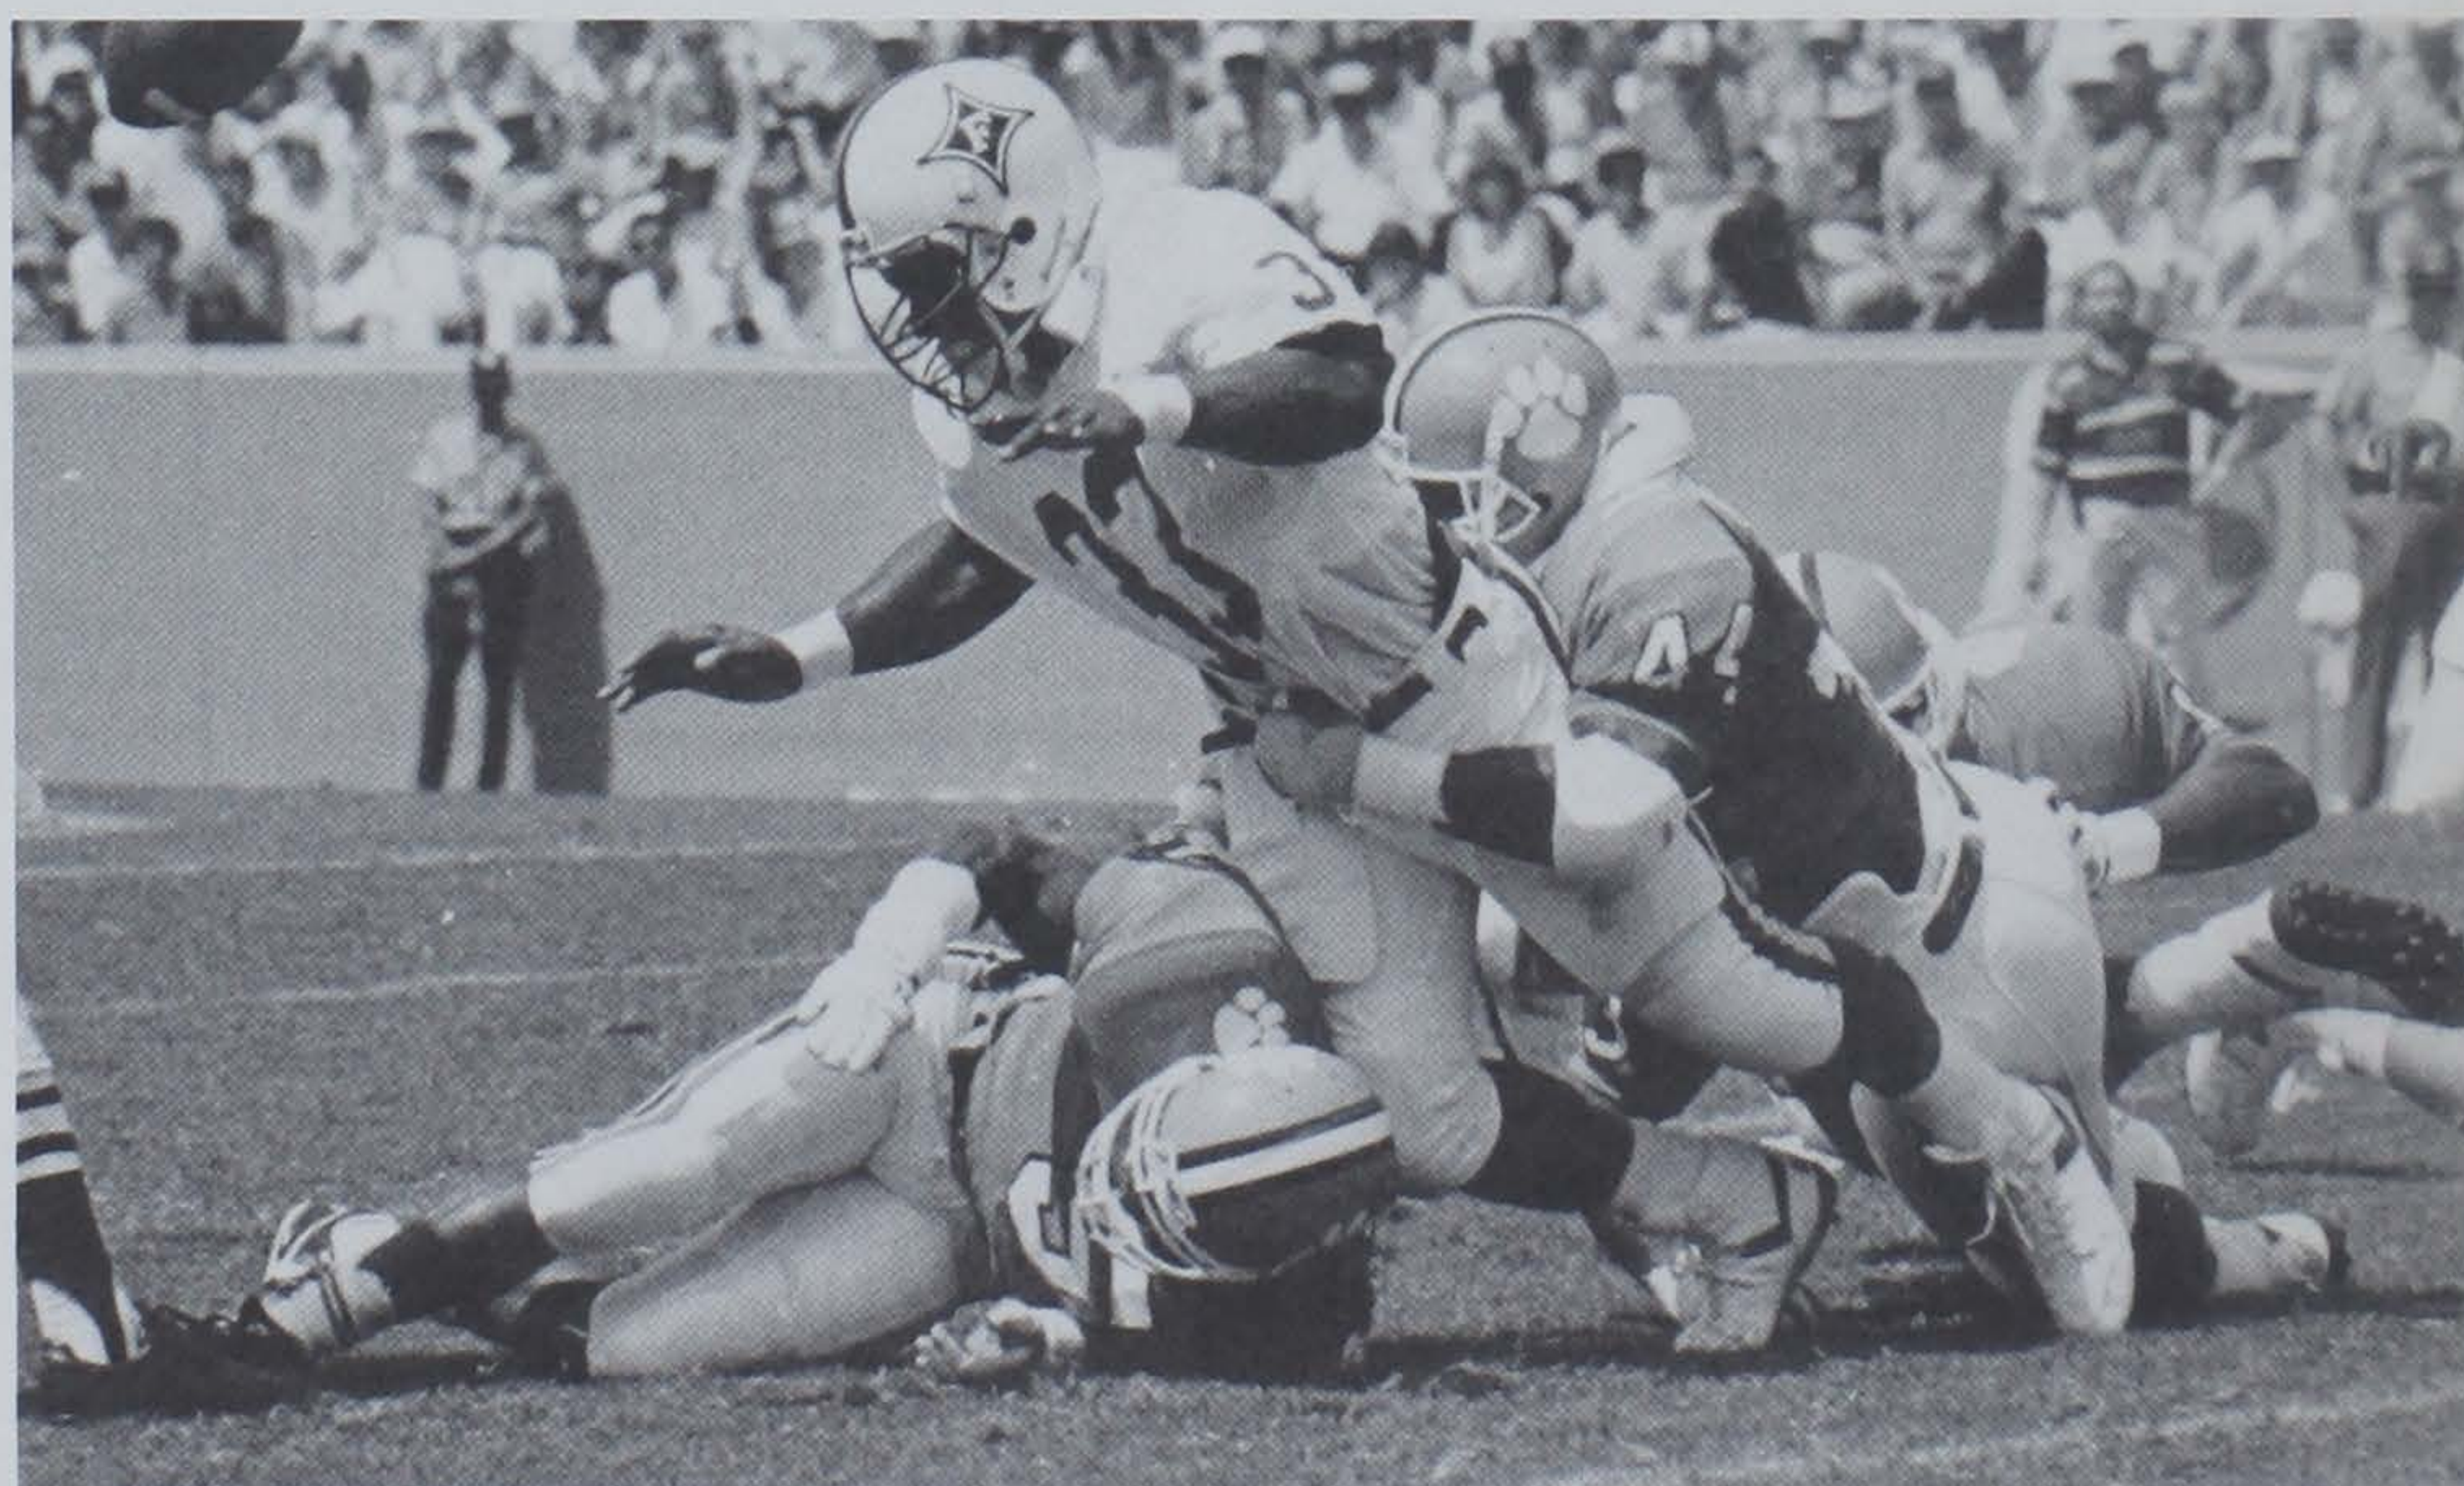

Vance Hammond (DT), Doug Brewster (ILB), Levon Kirkland (OLB), Dexter Davis (CB) and Robert O'Neal (FS) are all returning first-team All-ACC choices.

Overall, Clemson enters the season with a void in the offensive backfield and receiver slots, but the team returns 10 players who were first or second-team all-conference in 1989. No team in ACC history has ever had 10 returning all-conference honorees. If the ball-toters can find the holes, it could be another banner beginning to the nineties for the fifth winningest team in the decade of the eighties.

Offense (22 Returning Lettermen, 6 Returning Starters)

One area of expertise documented in Ken Hatfield's resume at Arkansas was rushing offense, something that certainly is congruent with Clemson means to gaining success. Last year Clemson averaged 234 yards a game on the ground, the seventh time in the last eight years the Tigers ranked in the nation's top 20 in that area. Ken Hatfield-coached Arkansas and Air Force teams have ranked in the top 20 in the nation in rushing each of the last eight years.

Hatfield will be able to test the theory that you win games in the trenches. Clemson has lost each of its top four rushers from last year, players who combined for 2208 yards, or 78 percent of Clemson's rushing real estate last year. Clemson certainly will miss leading rusher Joe Henderson (178-848, 7 TDs), number-two career rushing leader Terry Allen (124-613, 10 TDs in 1989) and starting fullback and offensive captain Wesley McFadden (112-452, 6 TDs). Reggie Lawrence could be the incumbent at tailback.

Hatfield-coached teams have always viewed turnover ratio as an important stat, and it has also been a "buzz" word for Clemson teams in recent seasons. Clemson was second in the nation in turnover ratio in 1989 when it forced 38 opponent miscues, and committed just 15.

Tony Kennedy is the top returning rusher with just 184 yards. But, he performed at an All-ACC level the last two games of the season.

The senior had 140 yards in 36 attempts last year and scored a pair of TDs while serving as the third-team tailback most of the year.

But a pair of youngsters also figure to compete for the starting tailback slot, perhaps the most prestigious position in Clemson football. Freshman Rodney Blunt saw considerable action in the season opener against Furman, but broke a wrist and was lost for the season. Blunt was Clemson's top rusher in spring scrimmages with 309 yards. He had 9-62 with a TD in a strong Orange-White game performance and is the first-team tailback heading into fall practice. Rudy Harris was a high school star two years ago and could challenge for a starting berth. He was a first-team USA Today All-American.

Larry Ryans, who lettered as a defensive back last year, was in the thick of things at tailback. He was an All-American hurdler at Clemson in 1989 and showed promise in limited work last spring on the gridiron in between hurdles.

McFadden suffered a knee injury against North Carolina on November 3, one that was viewed with great regret at the time. While everyone hated to see the injury to Clemson's team leader, it did allow a pair of underclassmen to gain considerable experience at fullback. Now, in Tony Kennedy and Howard Hall, Clemson does have returning fullbacks with experience and confidence.

The pair of 230-pounders combined to gain 248 yards in just 40 attempts last year, a 6.2 average. Kennedy is actually Clemson's leading returning rusher with 184 yards on 30 attempts. He had 67 yards in just nine rushes against South Carolina in his most memorable performance and scored a pair of touchdowns. He added 57 yards in just nine rushes in the Gator Bowl win over West Virginia. He registered 27 knockdown blocks in his last four games, leading one to believe he is ready to follow in the robust blocking footsteps of Tracy Johnson and Wesley McFadden. Hall had 10 carries for 64 yards and had one score in 1989.

"To build a championship team, we will need to shore up a solid rushing attack and right now we don't have the depth we would like to have," said Hatfield. "Rodney Blunt did a great job in the spring with Reggie Lawrence missing time because of an injury. We are pretty short-handed at tailback right now. We've signed two high school guys, Ronald Williams and Derrick Witherspoon, who will certainly be examined closely coming in as freshmen. Larry Ryans had a very good scrimmage on March 28th and could be a factor, and Rudy Harris should be a prime contender. Tony Kennedy and Howard Hall both did a real fine job all spring, and I have been really pleased with their effort."

For the second straight year Clemson will be looking for a new starting quarterback. If Hatfield can find someone as competent as Chris Morocco, he will have a very successful season. In his only season as the starting QB, Morocco completed a Clemson single season record 59 percent of his passes and had a passing efficiency rating of 141.7. He had just two interceptions in 134 attempts and also ran for 295 yards, fourth best on the team.

The cupboard is not bare, however, as 1989 backup signal caller DeChane Cameron had some gaudy stats of his own. The native of LaGrange, GA connected on 32 of 48 passes for 435 yards. His 66.7 percent completion percentage would have been a Clemson record had he had enough attempts to exceed the minimum number required, and his 9.1 yards per attempt figure was better than Morocco's 8.4. His efficiency rating also would have been fifth in the ACC with more attempts. Richard Moncrief red-shirted last season, but impressed Clemson coaches last year in his practice sessions, especially in his imitation of West Virginia's Major Harris when Clemson was preparing for its 27-7 win in the Gator Bowl.

"Our quarterbacks have come a long way in a short time. DeChane Cameron and Richard Moncrief both had good springs and both showed great improvement. They should both be ready to play and play well in the first ball game. At this point, DeChane has the edge because of the experience factor, but we are planning to play both of the quarterbacks.

"I try to always get two quarterbacks ready to play with the first-team because one can get knocked out at any time. We have tried to work both of them with the first-team. It won't be a matter of one of them playing when the other is not playing well, it's a matter of having both of them ready to play with the first-team at any time. I plan to play both of the quarterbacks early in the year. You always try to find the situation that we have, where we have more than one quality quarterback."

The wide receiver position is the most wide open race on the Clemson roster. Clemson lost its top three receivers from last year, including Rodney Fletcher and Gary Cooper, who combined to grab 64 of Clemson's 117 receptions.

Doug Thomas, also an All-ACC track star at Clemson, is the top returning wide out off his eight catches for 105 yards. Robbie Spector is also a senior with considerable experience, but red-shirt freshman Terry Smith and sophomore Stacy Lewis will also challenge for a starting slot. Smith had four catches for 100 yards in the Spring Game and resembled a season veteran. The native of Clemson also has experience as a return man.

"We would always like to have five or six wide receivers ready to play and I think last spring showed us that we have a group of guys who will be able to play well. Terry Smith had a good spring and turned my head with some of the things he did. Doug Thomas demonstrated that he can run good routes and catch the ball in the short time he was out there between track seasons, and I think he will be a big factor for us next year. Robbie Spector was brilliant at times and inconsistent at times, but he can run, catch the ball and make big plays if he has to. Jason Davis has shown improvement at receiver and so has Stacy Lewis."

Stacy Long could be the top offensive lineman in the land. At least, that is the opinion of two preseason publications.

The most experienced and talented area of the Clemson offense is the offensive line. Ken Hatfield was happy to learn he has a first-team All-American, a first-team All-ACC player, a second-team All-ACC player and a pair of academic All-ACC players returning as starters for the 1990 season. Young running backs could look awful shifty behind a talented starting offensive line that averages 271 pounds.

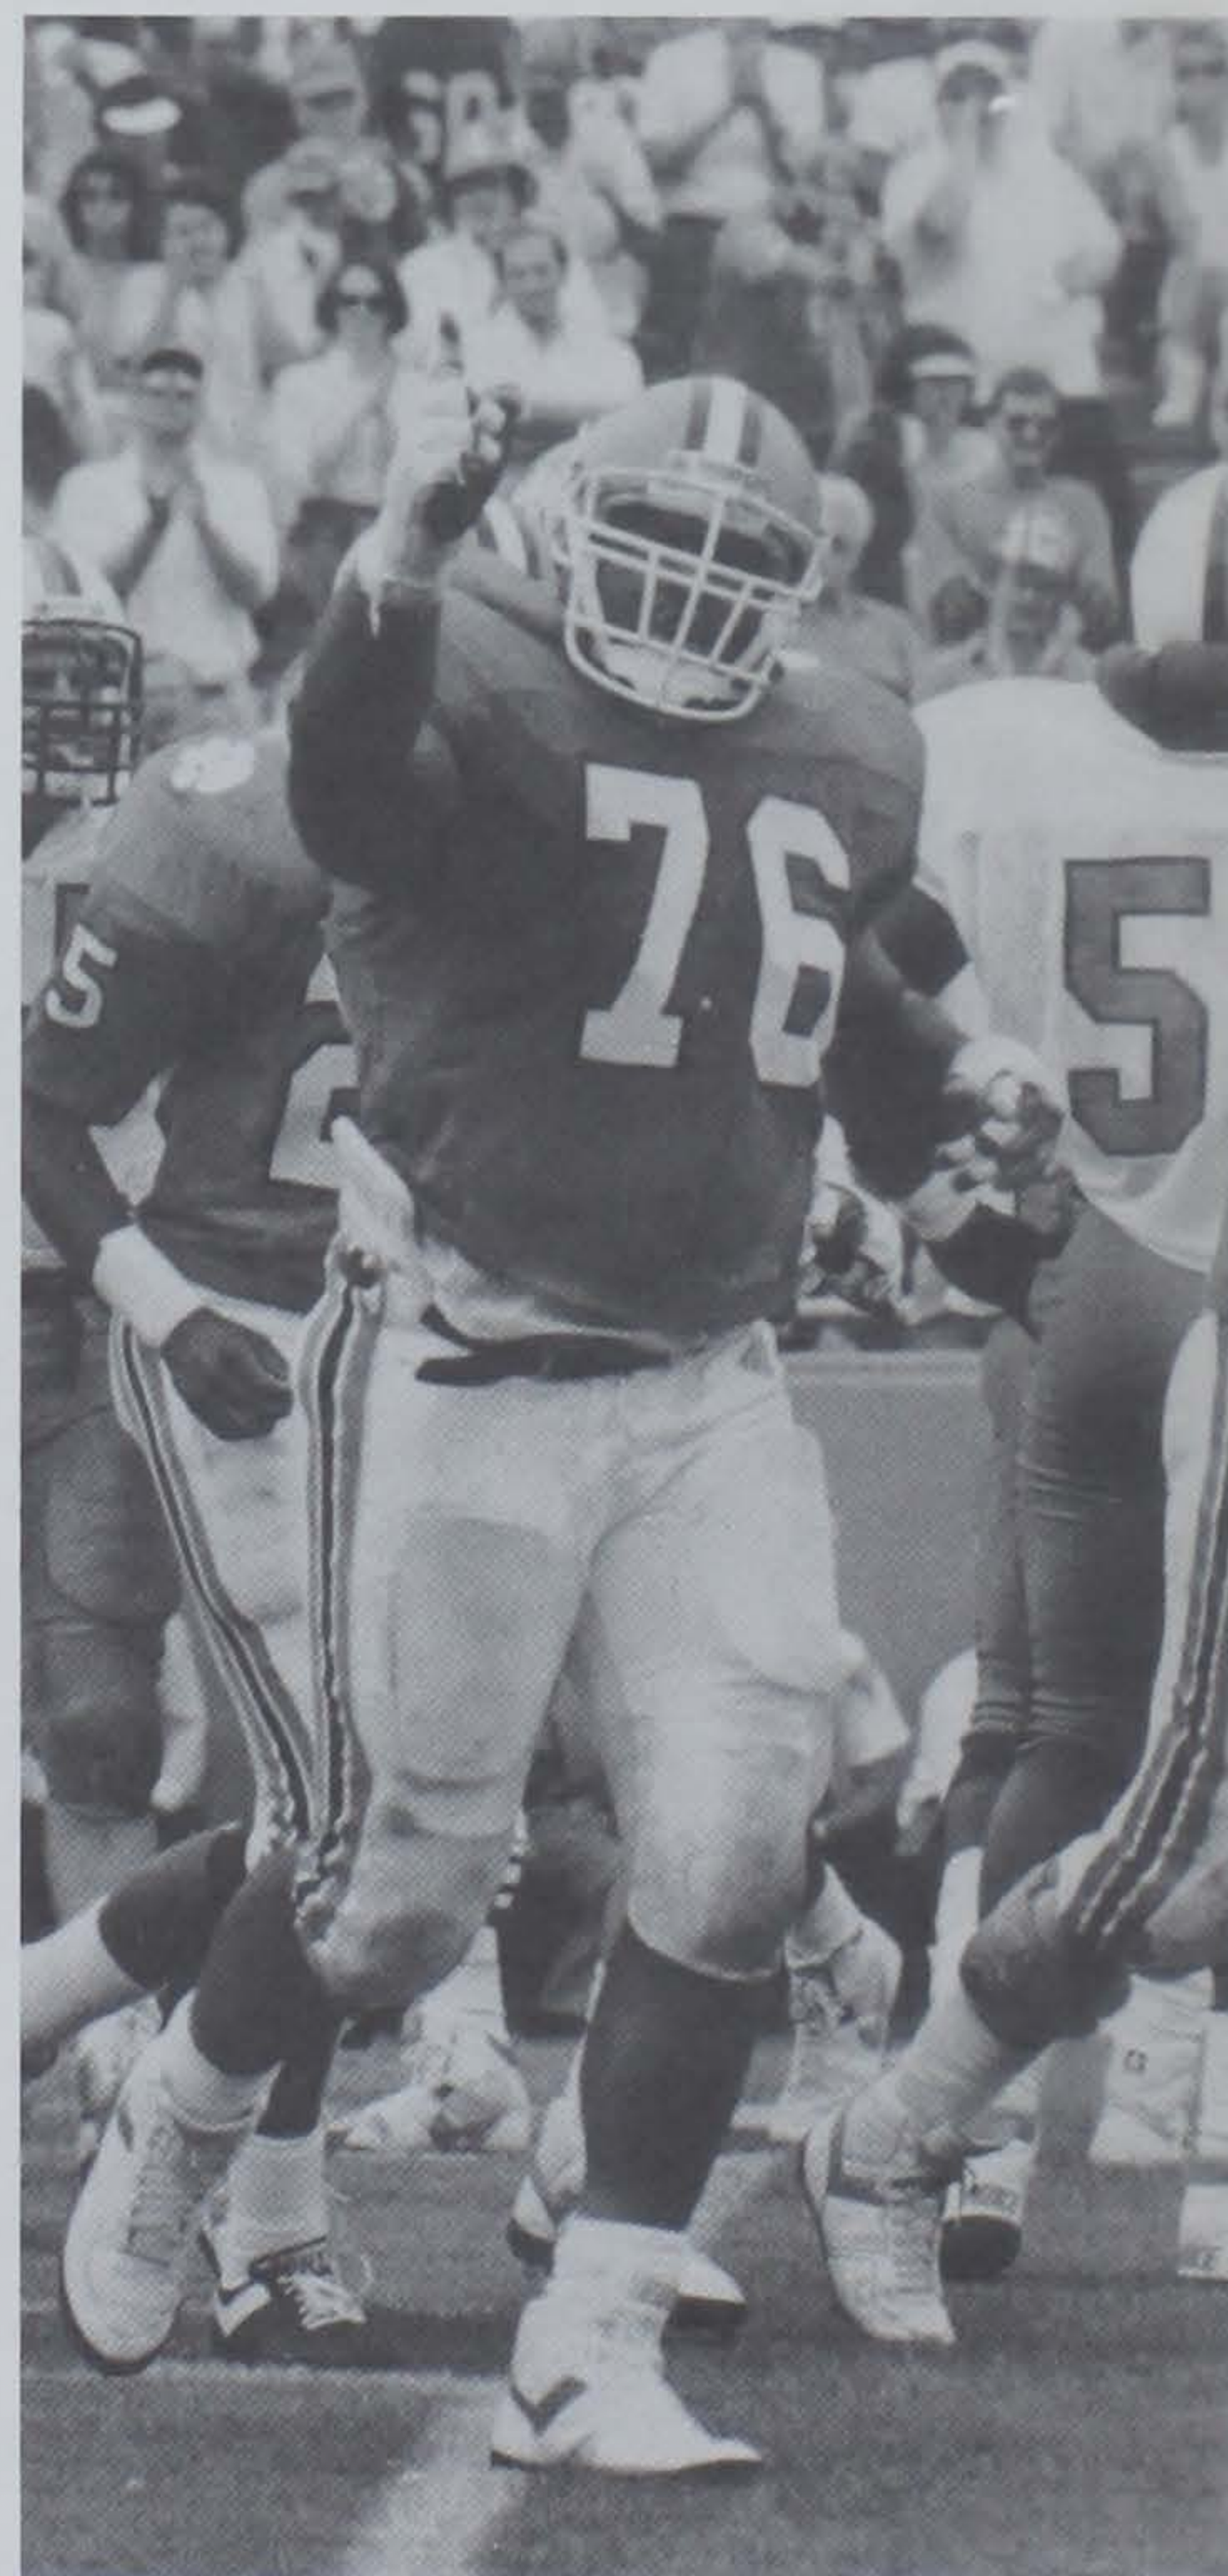

Stacy Long was a first-team All-American according to the Sporting News and a third-team choice by AP as a junior. He set a Clemson record for knockdown blocks by a tackle (66) and was named ACC Offensive Lineman of the Week three of the last four games of the season. He was the recipient of that honor more than any other ACC player last year and he is an Outland Trophy and Lombardi Award candidate for this season.

The Sporting News and Don Heinrich's preseason book list him as the best in the college game at offensive tackle and four other publications call him a first-team All-American. Long came from nowhere last year for his outstanding games against Odell Hagins of Florida State and Ray Agnew of N.C. State, a pair of first round draft picks last April.

Eric Harmon and Jeb Flesch return as the starting guards for the third year in a row. Harmon has 35 career starts heading into his senior year and is already the Clemson career leader in appearances at the opening bell by a Clemson offensive guard. The first-team All-ACC player had 86 knockdown blocks to lead the offensive linemen last year. Flesch, a second-team All-ACC performer last year, had 85 knockdown blocks to rank second to Harmon. He has 21 career starts entering his junior season.

The left side of the Clemson offensive line might be the most intelligent in college football. Left tackle Bruce Bratton has a 3.5 GPA in engineering and was a first-team Academic All-ACC choice, while Stacy Fields has a 3.2 average in engineering and has been a stalwart on the Academic All-ACC team the last two years.

They are both very successful on the field also. Fields is the top returning receiver from the tight end position off 12 catches for 101 yards and a touchdown last year. Bratton had 40 knockdown blocks and started 11 of the 12 games a year ago. Many youngsters could also be factors at guard and tackle. Chris Ogle has a 3.5 GPA as a reserve guard. Kelvin Hankins finished strong last season and the 1987 USA Today High School All-American could be a factor. Dave Puckett demonstrated his talent with seven knockdowns in his only career start versus Wake Forest last year.

The only offensive line position without a returning starter is center, where Mike Brown figures to replace All-ACC center Hank Phillips. Brown worked in all but three games last year and the converted tight end will get a lot of work this spring. He is highly regarded and was named a second-team preseason All-ACC pick by The Sporting News. Curtis Whitley a second-teamer in 1988 who sat out last year due to a suspension, will give Brown a run for his money.

"Mike Brown did a pretty good job at center in the spring," continued Hatfield. "We need some depth there because that position is certainly important to us. We should have Curtis Whitley back in the fall and that will add some depth. Stacy Long, Bruce Bratton, Jeb Flesch and Eric Harmon all played well last spring, as we knew they could. We have also had help from our backup people and have developed some good young players. We need Les Hall to really continue to improve. We moved Stacy Seegars Kelvin Hankins is a young man we haven't heard much about, but he has really made some progress and I think has a great chance to be a really good lineman. I've really been impressed with him."

Defense (9 Returning Starters, 27 Returning Lettermen)

The defense will be the strength of the Clemson football team. That is nothing new when you examine the national defensive stats over the last few years. Clemson ranked in the top five in the nation in scoring, rushing and total defense last year and its abandoned play was a reason Clemson ranked second in the nation in turnover margin each of the last two seasons.

Every Clemson position has at least two returning lettermen and eight slots of the starting 11 on defense have a player returning with multiple letters. Hatfield must replace three starters (DT Otis Moore, LB Vince Taylor, FS James Lott), but there are very capable players with star potential anxious to move in.

Waiting in the wings to take over Moore's defensive tackle position is Chester McGlockton, who tied for the league lead in sacks with seven and was tied for sixth in tackles for loss with 10, or Al Richard, a 270-pound sophomore who had a fine spring. Taylor's replacement should be Ed McDaniel, the starter at the conclusion of last season who missed much of 1989 with a neck problem. He was Clemson's top tackler in 1988 as a freshman with 104 stops.

Finally, James Lott's replacement will be Robert O'Neal, who made All-ACC as a first-year freshman. The native of Clarkston, GA led the ACC and set a Clemson record for interceptions with eight.

Thus, Clemson has a player returning with starter-quality numbers at every position.

"We have eight starters (not including punter) back on the defense and 10 who started in the bowl game. We also have some good backup help returning. I really feel that we have great depth on our defensive team. We rotated a lot between the first and second team defense all spring. They play well, they play hard and they've got a lot of pride. They don't want people to score or make big plays. They are exciting ... as exciting a bunch as I've ever been around."

Vance Hammond will be the leader of the down linemen. The 1989 All-ACC performer started all 12 games for Clemson's balanced defense last year, and at 285 pounds he is one of the prime reasons Clemson opponents gained just 96.6 yards per game on the ground last year. He is a second team preseason All-America choice by Don Heinrich's magazine. He accumulated 57 tackles in 1989 including eight in the win over 12th ranked N.C. State.

Rob Bodine will team with McGlockton, Al Richard or Tyrone Simpson to fill out the interior linemen. The walk-on middle guard actually had more stops than any Clemson defensive lineman last year (60), and he also picked up seven tackles for loss and a pair of sacks. He might have been Clemson's most consistent lineman.

Danny Sizer, David Davis and Simpson are all experienced backups who could start for many schools. They average 275 pounds and give reason for a liberal substitution policy to keep Clemson defenders fresh. Simpson is a preseason second-team All-ACC choice by The Sporting News.

"The defensive line was very impressive the entire spring, starting with Rob Bodine and David Davis at nose guard. They played extremely well. Vance Hammond has done a great job and I have really been impressed with a young player, Tyrone Simpson. He has shown me that he has the ability to make a difference. Chester McGlockton has a lot of ability and needs to play hard for us to win. But the player that I have really been impressed with is Al Richard. He worked hard and made some big, big plays. He has done a tremendous job and deserves to be a starter. Brentson Buckner plays hard and really has a spurt to the ball. He and the other young players need to show some consistency and play well every play."

The Clemson group of outside linebackers rekindle memories of the LA Rams Fearsome Foursome of the 1960s. Levon Kirkland, Ashley Sheppard, John Johnson and Wayne Simmons might be the best unit of OLBs in the college game. They all combine 4.55 or better speed with strength to strike terror in enemy quarterbacks. Many prognosticators agree with this assessment and The Sporting News named Clemson's linebacking corps (inside and outside) as the best in the nation.

Kirkland was the MVP of the Gator Bowl when he had nine tackles and a pair of tackles for loss. He was second on the Clemson team in tackles last year with 77 and he was second on the club in tackles for loss with nine. He showed his speed against Virginia Tech last year when he sped 47 yards for a touchdown with an interception.

Right behind Kirkland's tackle total was John

Johnson. The senior from LaGrange, GA had 68 tackles last year and is one of the top 20 tacklers in Clemson history. Simmons started just one game, but tied for the team lead in tackles for loss with 10 and was third in sacks with 5.5. He will always be remembered for his 73-yard interception return for a touchdown at Florida State in Clemson's 11-point win. Sheppard had more individual tackles on special teams than any other Clemson player and he contributed 25 tackles for the season. He was named one of the Top 10 special teams tacklers in the nation by The Sporting News.

The group combined for 229 tackles, 21 tackles behind the line and 14 of Clemson's 26 quarterback sacks last season. The good news is that the only senior of the group is Johnson. Arthur Bussie has not played in a regular Clemson game, but he also is outstanding as he showed in the Orange-White Game where he was the top defensive player with three tackles for loss and six tackles.

"The outside linebacker spot this year is the strongest position I have coached in quite some time. There is so much talent and strength and quickness there. Levon Kirkland and John Johnson have done a great job and have lived up to their reputations. Ashley Sheppard has done really well and worked hard. He has shown that he is ready to step in and play. Wayne Simmons has played great and intercepted the ball a few times. Arthur Bussie has come along so fast, and has done some things to turn my head. At these two positions, the top four could play at anytime for us and play well. They can make the big plays and they will make big plays. We will have a rotation system here because they all need to play and they are all capable of making the big play."

The inside linebackers are led by the leading tackler from Clemson's 10-2 1989 team and the leading tackler from the 10-2 1988 squad. Doug Brewster (205) and Ed McDaniel (225) are not the prototypical bruisers on the inside, but they combine quickness and intelligence to reach their goals.

Brewster was a first-team All-ACC player by AP and UPI last year when he led Clemson in tackles with 100. The active linebacker also had nine PBUs and an interception and is a second-team preseason All-American. He already ranks in the Top 15 in Clemson history in career tackles. McDaniel had 104 stops as a freshman in 1988, but a neck injury forced him to the bench for many plays in the first half of the 1989 season. But, he started at the end of the season and he was a major reason Clemson opponents averaged just six points and 240 yards a game over the last five contests of the year.

Kenzil Jackson led everyone in tackles last spring and his playing time will increase. Chuck O'Brien, who sat out 1989 due to disciplinary reasons, and Shane Scott, whose brother was an All-ACC player at Clemson, also should see considerable action.

"We are really deep at inside linebacker also. Doug Brewster and Ed McDaniel are both quick, they're both tough, they go to the football and they have just done a great job. With those two starting for us, the inside linebackers are going to be a great group. Kenzil Jackson has been impressive at inside lineacker too. I really like the things he has done. It's good to have Chuck O'Brien back too, he has worked hard and is making sure he earns some playing time. Darren Calhoun is another name that will come up a lot in the future. He really made an impression on the coaches last spring with his effort and skills."

McDaniel had 44 tackles over the last six games. His return to health was a prime reason Clemson yielded just 30 points over the last five games.

The secondary features the return of a pair of All-ACC performers and three returning starters overall. Robert O'Neal was the ACC Rookie-of-the-Year according to the Sporting News last year when he had 53 tackles and nine passes broken up. His most impressive data however concerned the interception area. In his first season he picked off eight enemy passes to lead Clemson, the ACC and rank 10th in the nation. It also broke a 38-year-old Clemson record for interceptions.

Dexter Davis was a first-team all-conference choice (UPI) for his 55 tackles and 13 passes deflected. He also had three pass interceptions and has the reputation of a hard hitter.

While O'Neal will be at the free safety slot, Arlington Nunn is penciled in for the start at strong safety. The Academic All-ACC choice had 50 tackles and eight pass deflections last year as a starter in seven games.

Jerome Henderson is the underrated member of the secondary. A starter in all 12 games, he came on strong at the end of last season to lead the club in passes broken up with 14. Tony Mauney, Tyron Mouzon, James Trapp, and Eric Geter are also outstanding athletes who are returning lettermen in the secondary. Trapp is an All-America sprinter in indoor and outdoor track and was MVP of the ACC meet. He has run the 100 meters in 10.12.

"The first teamers played very well together: Dexter Davis, Arlington Nunn, Robert O'Neal, and Jerome Henderson, I have been pleased with their play. They know where everybody fits and they make good decisions. The new guys have come in and done a good job. Eric Geter played well and Tony Mauney had a good spring also. Even James Trapp, in the short time he was out there between track seasons, did a good job at safety. We are looking at Larry Ryans at running back. He has so much speed, we need to get him on the field if we possibly can and with so many good, talented players in the secondary, sometimes we have to move guys around to make sure they are in the best spot for them and for the team."

Kicking Game

Clemson is a one-man army when it comes to the kicking game. Chris Gardocki's career is only half over, but he has already done more than most accomplish in an entire career. He was ranked in the top 10 in the nation in field goals and punting last year, just the second player in NCAA history to do it in both areas in the same year. He paced the ACC in both areas and was first-team all-conference in placekicking and punting, a first in ACC history. For the record, the native of Stone Mountain, GA averaged 43 yards a punt and was 22-29 in terms of field goals. Six times last year he averaged over 40 yards a punt and had multiple field goals in the same game. He was a third-team All-America placekicker by AP and honorable mention All-America punter each of the last two years by UPI.

Clemson has outstanding special teams. In fact, the Sporting News rated the group second in the nation. Mitch Belton blocked three punts to set a Clemson single season mark, while Ashley Sheppard is one of the top tacklers in the country on kickoff coverage.

"With Chris Gardocki coming back, we don't have to worry about our kicking game dropping off any. All of the kickers have come out and worked hard and some of them look like they will be able to help us out. Chris Gardocki had a good spring kicking and punting the ball and I think he will continue to improve."

*Note: Plays do not count special team plays.

Henderson led the Tigers in PBUs with 14. He might be the most underrated player on the 1990 Clemson team.

Gardocki became just the second player in NCAA history to finish in the Top 10 in punting and field goals.

Head Coach Ken Hatfield

Ken Hatfield has won 77 percent of his games over the last seven years.

Facing challenges head on, that might be Ken Hatfield's most significant asset. It has helped him in all walks of life, but especially when it comes to football.

As a player, he helped Arkansas face every challenge in 1964. The Razorbacks had an 11-0 season and won the national title. As an assistant coach at Tennessee and Florida he moulded countless players into top-notch athletes that competed for Southeastern Conference titles, played in seven bowl games in a 10-year period, and ranked in the final top 20 five times.

As a head coach he took a dormant Air Force program to a number-13 national ranking and a pair of bowl wins. He continued to meet the challenges at Arkansas, his alma mater, guiding the Razorbacks to back-to-back Southwest Conference titles, something that had not been done at Arkansas since Hatfield was a player.

And now he faces another challenge at Clemson. His charge is to continue Clemson's contemporary excellence (only Nebraska and Miami had fewer losses in the decade of the eighties). If his track record for meeting challenges is any indication, Clemson football is in good hands entering the 1990s.

That track record has included eight straight trips to post-season bowls, including major bowl appearances in three of the last four years. Hatfield is one of just four active Division I coaches to take a team to a bowl each of the last eight years. He is in noteworthy company as the other members of that exclusive club are Tom Osborne (Nebraska), Pat Dye (Auburn) and Bobby Bowden (Florida State).

Hatfield has an overall record of 82-48-2 (.629), but he has won 77 percent of his games over the last seven seasons (65-19-1). At Arkansas he posted a record of 55-17-1 over six seasons, a .760 winning percentage. That percentage is second best in Southwest Conference history as only Darrell Royal (Texas 1957-76) had a better percentage. Hatfield's SWC winning percentage was higher than 11 former SWC coaches who are in the College Football Hall of Fame, including Bear Bryant, Frank Broyles, Jess Nelly and John Heisman.

The native of Helena, Arkansas played in two bowl games with the Razorbacks, coached in seven post-season games as an assistant and has been the head coach in eight bowls. Five times he has coached a team to a top 15 final ranking in the AP poll, and he played on two other top 15 teams.

Hatfield-coached clubs have excelled offensively and defensively, but they have been particularly successful in rushing offense and defense. Each of his last eight teams have finished in the top 20 nationally in rushing offense, including five top 10 finishes. His 1983 Air Force team was second in the nation in rushing.

Two of his last four Arkansas teams finished in the top three in the country in turnover margin, including his 1988 team that was first in the nation (Clemson was second that same year). Defensively, his clubs have finished in the top 15 in the nation in rushing defense five of the last six years.

The 46-year-old Hatfield has coached in three major conferences and with independent schools, giving him a diverse background in the finer points of the game. It is one reason he was named the third best teaching coach in college football by Inside Sports Magazine last summer.

Hatfield began his coaching career immediately after graduation. In the fall of 1965 he served as an assistant coach at Helena-West Helena High School in Arkansas. In 1966 he moved to West Point, where he served as freshman coach for two seasons. His 1967 club posted a 9-0 record.

After the two-year stint at Army, he served as an assistant coach at Tennessee for three years (1968-70). The Volunteers went to post-season bowls all three seasons (including two major bowls), won a conference title and ranked in the final top 20 of the AP poll all three seasons, including a number-four rating in 1970.

In 1971 Hatfield began a seven-year stint at the University of Florida, four seasons as a defensive backfield coach and three as an offensive backfield mentor. Florida played in four bowl games during his career in Gainesville and two more teams finished in the AP top 20, including the 1974 team that played Nebraska in the Sugar Bowl.

In 1978 Hatfield became offensive coordinator at the Air Force Academy under current New York Giants Head Coach Bill Parcells. A year later Parcells was wooed to the Big Apple and Hatfield became the Falcons' head coach. The Air Force program had not had a winning season since 1973. But by his fourth season Hatfield had an eight-game winner, led Air Force to its first-ever victory over Notre Dame, and had taken the Falcons to a post-season bowl for the first time since 1971.

Hatfield is one of four active Division I coaches to take a team to a bowl game eight straight seasons.

In 1983 Hatfield was named national Coach of the Year by the Football Coaches Association (Bobby Dodd Award) after leading Air Force to a 10-2 season that included wins over Notre Dame, Navy and a bowl victory over Mississippi. It was the Academy's first win ever over Notre Dame in South Bend.

In 1984 Hatfield succeeded Lou Holtz at Arkansas. He took his alma mater to 55 wins in six seasons, six bowl appearances and four top 15 rankings. His 1985 club finished with a 10-2 mark and number-12 national ranking, the Razorbacks' first Top 20 finish since 1982. Four times the Razorbacks rallied from fourth quarter deficits to gain victory.

The 1986 campaign was another year of success with highlight victories over a nationally ranked Texas A&M Club and the Razorbacks' first win in 20 years at Texas. Arkansas advanced to the Orange Bowl and finished 15th in the final AP poll.

Arkansas won the 1988 and 1989 Southwest Conference Championship and the Razorbacks never finished lower than second in his six years in Fayetteville. He was named Southwest Conference Coach-of-the-Year in 1988 as he took the Razorbacks to the league title and a 10-0 start. Miami (FL) defeated Arkansas 18-16 in the Orange Bowl to stop the streak. Seven players off the 1988 club (all recruited by Hatfield) were drafted by the NFL, an Arkansas single draft record.

After last season's 10-2 ledger and second straight SWC championship, Hatfield was named Southwest Conference Coach-of-the-Decade by the Houston Post. Included in the victories was a triumph over a top 15 Houston team and Heisman Trophy winner Andre Ware.

Hatfield has also had success off the field. A recent release by the CFA cited his 1989 Arkansas class for excellence in terms of graduation rate (over a 75 percent rate), one of the top 10 figures in the nation.

"Football is part of a young man's education, he learns about himself by playing football," states Hatfield. "It gives him a perspective of how to handle defeat as well as victory. Our success at Clemson will be reflected in the lives of our players after they leave Clemson University. We want to help make them the best people they can be. We want to maximize their potential. That is our challenge."

These statements were certainly watch-words for Hatfield as a player and these experiences have helped him in his relationship with his players. Hatfield played for three years at Arkansas (1962-64) and he was a starter on the National Championship team of 1964. A defensive back by trade, he earned his fame as the nation's top punt returner in 1963 and 1964. He also finished as the runner-up as a sophomore and is still the only college football player to finish in the top two in the nation in punt returns three straight seasons.

Hatfield still ranks 12th in NCAA history in career punt return average. He was a starter on Arkansas' 1964 National Championship team.

His most memorable play took place against Texas in 1964 when he raced 81 yards with a punt return for a touchdown in Arkansas' thrilling 14-13 victory. It was the key victory in the Razorbacks' championship season. Altogether, Hatfield scored five TDs via punt returns in his career, including an Arkansas record 95-yard return against Tulsa in 1963.

An accounting major who earned his diploma in the spring of 1965, Hatfield was an Academic All-American in 1964 and was the recipient of the Swartz Award, presently annually to the top student-athlete at Arkansas. The 1964 All-SWC selection was inducted into the Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame in 1989.

Other Assistant Coaches

Two of Clemson's graduate assistants were starters on the 1986 and 1987 ACC Championship Clemson teams.

JAMES EARLE

James Earle, a former Clemson linebacker, will enter his first year as a graduate assistant with the Tigers.

Earle, a native of Easley, SC, led the Tigers in tackles his senior season (1987) with 79. That year he had seven tackles for losses of 14 yards. He also had one sack and six PBUs while starting all 12 games for the 10-2 Tigers.

During his senior season, Earle was a mid-season pick as #6 outside linebacker in the country by the Sporting News. He was also an honorable mention All-ACC selection by the Associated Press. He was a starter on two ACC championship teams and was a 12th round pick of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

During his high school career, Earle, 24, was a quarterback for Easley High School where he led Easley to the finals of the Upstate playoffs in 1983. He passed for 1,388 yards and 10 touchdowns as a senior. He also averaged 20 points per game in basketball. Earle graduated from Clemson with a degree in secondary education in 1989.

BARNEY FARRAR

Barney Farrar is in his first year as Clemson's volunteer assistant coach, but he is no stranger to the Tiger program. In his current position, Farrar's responsibilities will be on-field coaching, recruiting, and the supervision of the football dormitory.

In 1987 and 1988, he served as a graduate assistant football coach, working with defensive backs, outside linebackers, and the defensive line.

For the past two years, Farrar has been a graduate assistant coach in the Tigers' strength training room.

Farrar began his college career at Northeast Junior College and was a two-year football letterwinner in 1979 and 1980. In 1980 Northeast was ranked fifth in the final junior college poll. During his career he also ran track, participating in the mile relay and the 800 meter run.

In 1981 and 1982, Farrar played defensive back at Delta State for former Clemson Head Football Coach Red Parker. A two-year letterwinner at Delta State, Farrar was the team captain in 1982.

After his playing days, he served as a graduate assistant coach at Delta State (1983-1985) before coming to Clemson.

Farrar earned a B.S. degree in education from Delta State and later earned a master's degree in Physical Education. At Clemson he is working on his second master's degree in Guidance and Counseling.

Farrar, 30, is married to the former Caroline Hinton and they have one son, Clint (1).

JOHN PHILLIPS

John Phillips, a former Tiger great in 1984-87, will be in his first season with Clemson as a graduate assistant coach.

Phillips, a two-time All-American for the Tigers, was a first-team All-ACC selection his junior and senior seasons. He was a recipient of the Jacobs Blocking Trophy for the State of South Carolina for two years. He also received the award for the ACC.

During his senior season, he set the Clemson record with 18 knockdown blocks against Virginia Tech on September 12, 1987. The offensive guard also did not allow the man he was assigned, to sack the quarterback in 1987.

The native of Spruce Pine, NC played in the Japan Bowl and the East-West game.

Phillips, 24, is a 1989 Clemson graduate in sociology.

SEAN ROCHELLE

Sean Rochelle comes to the Clemson staff after spending a year at Arkansas. Rochelle, a native of Elkins, AK, was the 1988 co-Offensive Player-of-the-Year in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference.

Rochelle was an all-state quarterback at Elkins before graduating in 1985. He then played four years at Arkansas-Monticello, where he was a two-time all-conference quarterback. He produced 4,089 yards in total offense, fourth highest total in school history.

In 1988, he led UAM to a 10-2 record that included a number seven ranking in the final NAIA Division I poll and guided the Boll Weevils to their first-ever spot in the NAIA playoffs. He rushed for 789 yards and 16 touchdowns and passed for 1,235 yards.

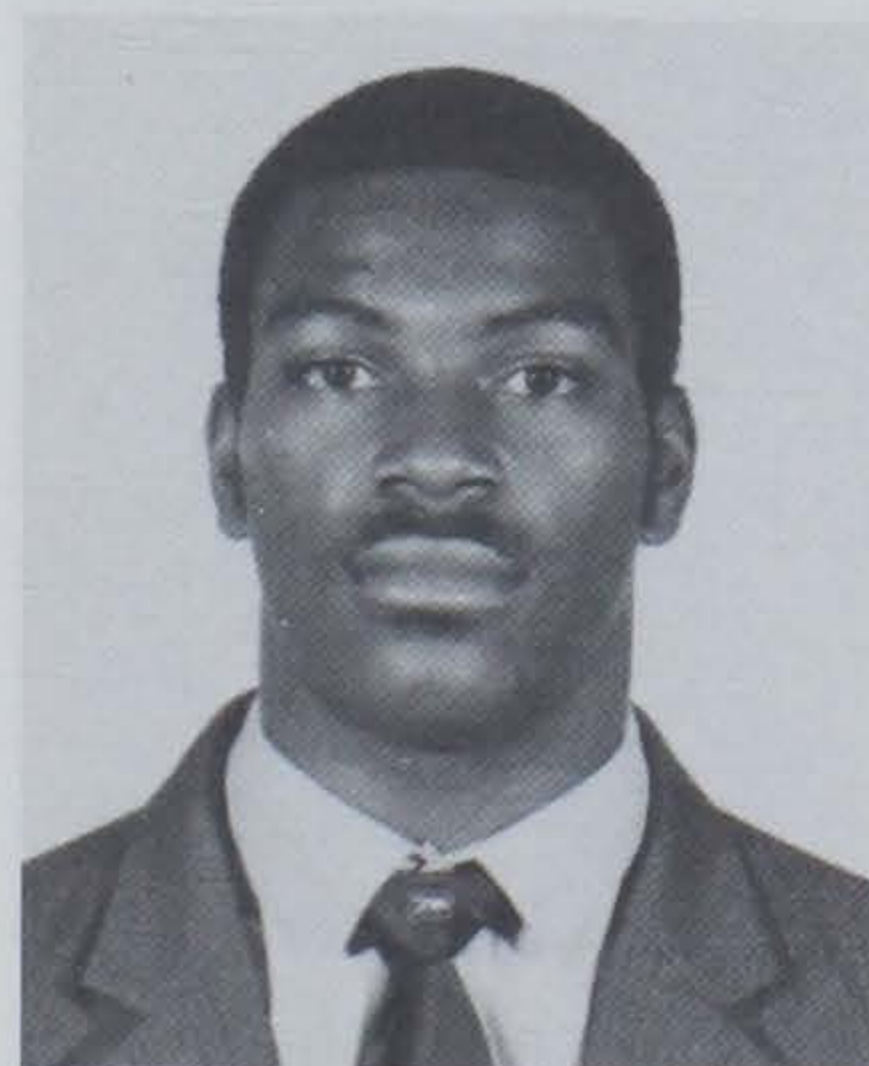

PETER SHINNICK

Peter Shinnick, a graduate assistant coach last year at Arkansas, is in his initial campaign as a member of the graduate assistant corps of the Clemson staff.

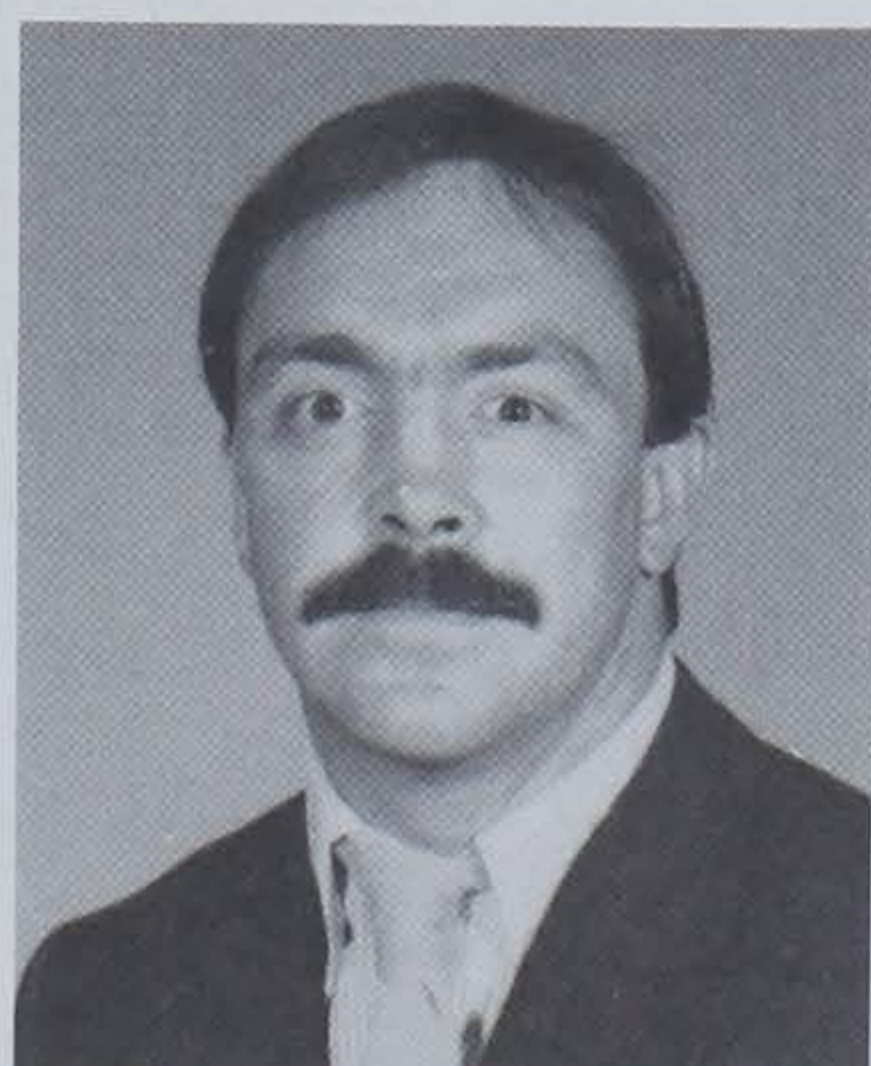

Shinnick was a two-year letterman at Colorado, where he played offensive guard and snapped for punts and placements. He played on teams that went to the Freedom and Bluebonnet Bowl games.

He played three years as an offensive tackle and defensive tackle at Columbia Hickman High School in Missouri before enrolling at Colorado. He graduated from high school in 1983.

Shinnick, 25, earned his degree in Marketing from Colorado in 1988 and immediately began his coaching career at Richmond as a graduate assistant.

Dr. Max Lennon University President

Max Lennon is the 11th president of Clemson University.

In the four years Max Lennon has been president of Clemson, the university has become one of the nation's top 100 research universities (according to the National Science Foundation), launched its largest fund-raising campaign ever, and entered its second century. But no single event during his administration may have been more important than this year's emphasis on strategic planning.

At Lennon's directive, during the past year Clemson faculty, staff and administrators have developed a blueprint for Clemson's future. As a result, Clemson enters the 1990s better prepared than ever to serve the state's needs as South Carolina's land-grant university.

The strategic plan calls for increased emphasis on undergraduate education, the environment, advanced materials and biotechnology — areas Lennon considers critical to the state's future.

"There is an urgent need to develop a campus consensus about university priorities, and that's been the goal of our academic strategic planning process," Lennon said. "This year-long, faculty-driven process has defined four areas where we should devote greater resources, because they are areas in which we are convinced we can be a leader."

Evidence of the potential for leadership in the 1990s already is emerging, particularly in environmental sciences, to be the focus of a $10 million research initiative launched by the university in 1990. Lennon also sees potential for national leadership in innovative public-service programs, such as those in agriculture, engineering and other disciplines that enabled Clemson to help South Carolinians recover from the devastation of Hurricane Hugo.

"Our goal is to become the model among land-grant universities by providing education with relevance," he said.

"As a land grant college, we have an obligation in rural development and to help eliminate the pockets of poverty and illiteracy that remain in this state. Education is the answer, and we have an obligation to make education accessible to all people."

Lennon came to Clemson from The Ohio State University, where he had been executive dean for agriculture, home economics and natural resources. Lennon was also on the Ohio State Faculty Senate and was co-chairman of the Governor's commission on agriculture.

Previously, he had served as dean of the College of Agriculture, and as director of the Agricultural Experiment Station at the University of Missouri, and as associate dean and director of research in the College of Agricultural Sciences at Texas Tech University.

Lennon is a native of Columbus County, N.C., and earned his bachelor's degree and doctorate from N.C. State University. He began his teaching career at N.C. State.

The Clemson president has been active in a number of civic and professional groups, ranging from his local Rotary Club and the South Carolina Research Authority to the Kellogg Foundation's EARTH Board, which aims to improve third world agriculture.

In the fall of 1987, Lennon was named to the board of trustees of the Farm Foundation, a national organization devoted to improving research and education to benefit rural areas. He will serve a four-year term as the university representative on the board, which also includes farmers, legislators and executives of leading agricultural industries.

Lennon was appointed in 1988 to the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Policy Advisory Committee for Science and Education Research Grants Program by Secretary of Agriculture Richard E. Lyng, and was a keynote speaker at the AgBiotech 88 international conference in Washington.

Last year Lennon also was appointed to chair a committee of top administrators and federal officials from 11 universities across the nation to work with congress on legislation relating to foreign assistance and international development. The committee is a project of the National Association of State Universities and land-grant colleges.

Lennon is married to Ruth Carter Lennon and they have two children, Daniel Ray (28) and Robin (25).

Dr. Max Lennon made outstanding contributions at N.C. State, Texas Tech, Missouri and Ohio State before becoming Clemson's president in 1986.

Clemson Administrators

Seven Clemson Administrators have been with the department over a decade.

Bobby Robinson Athletic Director

The Clemson athletic program has been on the rise in just about all forms of athletics in recent years. Bobby Robinson is the leader of the department as its athletic director and his commitment to success in competition, academics and facilities has been the key to this level of distinction.

Last year Clemson was one of only two schools in the nation (the only other being Illinois) to have teams participate in a bowl game (1989 Mazda Gator Bowl), the NCAA Basketball Tournament (advanced to the Sweet Sixteen in the East Regional), and the NCAA Baseball Tournament (Central Region). Clemson produced 82 first-team All-ACC athletes, 20 All-Americans, captured three ACC Tournament Championships, and won two regular-season ACC Championships, including its first ever in men's basketball. Nine teams finished in the final Top 25 of their respective sports.

Under the direction of Robinson, the athletic department continues to support the university. Over $1 million has been contributed to the athletic academic scholarship fund; and band travel equipment and uniforms are funded by athletic dollars. An educational enhancement fund has been coordinated through the efforts of the athletic department and the Athletic Council.

Robinson graduated from Furman with a B.S. degree in business and political science in 1968. He was the president of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity chapter at Furman.

Robinson came to Clemson in 1970, not in athletics, but in the housing office. After three years, he moved across campus to serve as an administrative assistant in the athletic department.

After serving the athletic department in various capacities, he became business manager in 1975. Two years later he was named assistant athletic director, and in 1980 he became associate AD. He held that title for five years, and his area of responsibility moved to primarily football and basketball. The native of Columbia became Athletic Director in March of 1985.

While serving his administrative duties, Robinson found time to coach the Clemson golf team between 1975 and 1983. During his time as the head coach, Clemson won its first ACC title in golf and three times the Tigers participated in the NCAA tournament. In 1983, his final season as the head coach, he guided Clemson to a number-five finish. Robinson just completed a term as a member of the NCAA golf committee, and as a member of the CFA Board of Directors.

Dwight Rainey Senior Associate A.D.

Dwight Rainey has many responsibilities as the athletic department's Senior Associate Athletic Director.

As the number-two man in the department, Rainey's job involves overseeing scheduling and other administrative duties of the football and men's basketball programs.

Since Clemson places much emphasis on a well-rounded sports program, Rainey is also in charge of all 16 of Clemson's non-revenue sports and their day-to-day operations. In addition, Rainey oversees strength training and equipment room activities.

Rainey has done an outstanding job since he took the responsibility as an athletic administrator, keeping Clemson teams competitive not only regionally, but also nationally.

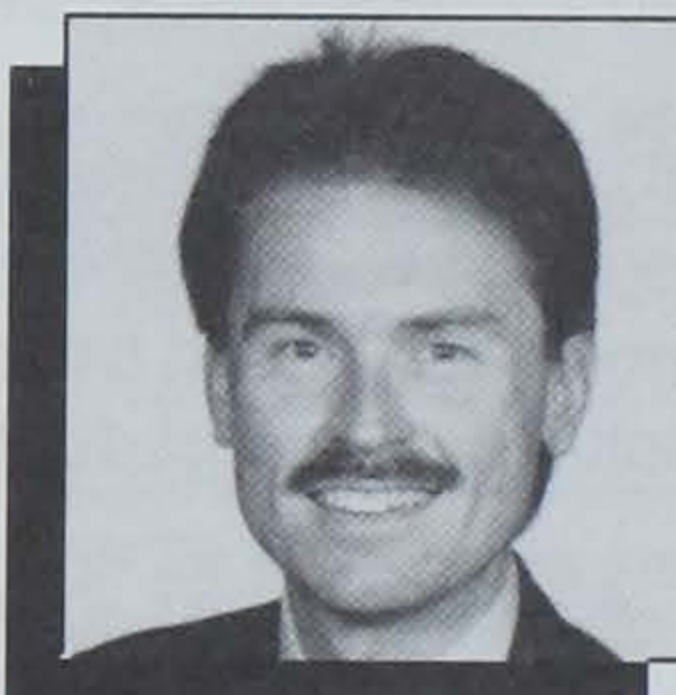

In his seven years of overseeing Clemson's 18-sports program, Clemson has been in the top 25 in the nation in the Knoxville Journal All-Sports Poll six times.

In 1986-87 both the men's and women's programs were in the Top 20, a first in Clemson athletics. In 1987-88 and in 1988-89 both rated in the Top 30. Two of the last four years Clemson has won seven ACC team championships, which ties the league record. In 1988-89 Clemson had nine teams that finished in their respective sports Top 20, the third year in a row Clemson had at least nine. Clemson was ranked sixth in men's sports by the national poll in 1988-89 after a number-eight finish in 1987-88.

Rainey came to Clemson's administration from the basketball office, where he served as Bill Foster's top assistant for 13 years, five at UNCC and eight at Clemson. With the basketball program Rainey was responsible for recruiting, scheduling, on-the-floor instruction and administrative tasks.

Rainey was the first assistant hired by Bill Foster upon his appointment at Clemson. He spent nearly a third of his life working with Foster as a player or a coach, as he played for Foster at Shorter College in Georgia and also coached under Foster at UNC-Charlotte.

Rainey has a fine business background as he earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in business administration from Shorter College in 1967 and a Master's degree from UNC-Charlotte in 1972. Between 1967 and August of 1970 he worked with a division of the Chrysler Corporation in Atlanta, GA.

Len Gough Associate Athletic Director

Len Gough is currently in his sixth year as associate athletic director for public relations. Bringing to the position a talent for adaptability and versatility that stems from his lengthy affiliation with the Clemson athletic department, the 1974 Clemson graduate began working as a football manager as an undergraduate and has continued to progress through the ranks.

Following his graduation, Gough became assistant equipment manager, and, in August of 1976, he took on the responsibilities of head equipment supervisor. In this capacity, he was in charge of the purchase, maintenance, and issue of a $1.5 million inventory. He also coordinated football and basketball trips, administered the letterman award program, and designed the 1981 national championship ring.

In July of 1982, Gough began a series of rapid steps upward in athletic administration when he was named assistant executive secretary of IPTAY. Among Gough's responsibilities were assistance in the total fund-raising efforts of IPTAY, supervision of sales of executive suites in Clemson's Memorial Stadium, serving as game manager for basketball games, and coordinating all tournaments hosted by Clemson.

After spending a little more than two years in this capacity, Gough moved into the position of assistant athletic director, where he was in charge of promotions and media relations. This November 1984 move led quickly to Gough's advancement in March of 1985 to his current position of associate athletic director.

The broad scope of public relations includes media relations, the athletic department's licensing program, the courtesy vehicle program, sales and supervision of the executive suites in the stadium, development of major corporate sponsors, administration of television and radio operations, the coordination of promotions and special events. Essentially, Gough is the salesman for the athletic department.

Gough, a graduate of Chester High School in Chester, SC, is married to the former Jane Price of Greenwood, SC.

Dick Ellis Assistant Athletic Director

Dick Ellis is his first year at Clemson, and is no stranger to winning football teams. As a coach and administrator he has been part of successful programs at Arkansas, Air Force and Texas A&M. Ellis came to Clemson from the University of Arkansas where he served as the recruiting coordinator and administrative assistant under Coach Ken Hatfield.

Prior to moving to Arkansas, Ellis spent 18 years at the United States Air Force Academy in Colorado where he served in various capacities as instructor, researcher and assistant coach in golf and football. In AFA football he served under coaches Ben Martin, Bill Parcels (now of the NY Giants), Ken Hatfield (1983 Coach of the Year), and Fisher DeBerry (1985 Coach of the Year).

With 14 years of football coaching experience he was a defensive backfield coach; Head Coach of the USAFA Preparatory School (Record: 9-1); Head Junior Varsity Coach (Record: 34-13-1); and special teams coach (producing three all-conference and two All-America players).

He coached Air Force teams that played in the Independence, Hall of Fame, Freedom, and Bluebonnet bowls, with the 1985 Falcons finishing with a 12-1 record and ranking 5th in the nation. In 1987 he became the Academy's Associate Director of Athletics and served in that position until moving to Arkansas and rejoining Ken Hatfield in 1989.

A 1968 graduate of the Air Force Academy, he earned varsity letters in football, track, and pistol (being selected as All-American in pistol in 1968).

In 1972-73 he served as an assistant football coach under Emery Ballard at Texas A&M while completing a MS degree. Ellis also holds a Ph.D. in education from the University of Denver. He retired from the Air Force with 21 years of service which included a tour of duty as a combat pilot in Vietnam.

Ellis is married to the former Cecelia Gulley of Albertville, AL and they have three children: Scott (19), Kent (15) and Chelsea (7).

Van Hilderbrand Assistant Athletic Director

Any Tiger fan who has ever needed tickets or parking for a Clemson athletic event will recognize the name of Van Hilderbrand. He has served the Clemson athletic department for 14 years and is in his sixth year as an assistant athletic director. He is in charge of the ticket office and supervises all parking administration.

Hilderbrand is certainly familiar with the athletic department. He started his association there as a student employee in the ticket office during his college career, 1970-74. In 1976 he filled the newly created position of assistant ticket manager, and in 1980 he was named Athletic Department Ticket Manager. In 1985 he was made an assistant athletic director.

Demand for tickets to Clemson athletic events is at an all-time high and it is Hilderbrand's responsibility to distribute the tickets to the thousands who attend the games. Hilderbrand and his staff sell twice as many football season tickets as any other school in the ACC and admitted the nation's third largest crowd for the 1987 football season, as a record 602,000 fans attended Tiger football games. Clemson outdrew all but two NFL teams that year. In 1989 Clemson averaged 78,817 fans per game, the seventh largest crowd in the nation.

In the 10 years since Hilderbrand took the job as ticket manager, he has distributed more season tickets than ever before for football and basketball. He has met the challenge by keeping up with the technology of the profession. Clemson has utilized a computerized ticket system since 1986. He also had the added challenge of handling requests for tickets with the 15,000-seat addition to Memorial Stadium in 1983.

Hilderbrand worked as athletic supervisor for the Greenwood Recreation Department for two years after graduation, and in 1976, he returned to Clemson.

Hilderbrand graduated from Clover (SC) High School in 1970, and earned his degree in parks and recreation administration from Clemson in 1974. The 38-year-old is married to the former Diane Harris of Clover and they have two children, Van Jr., who was born December 31, 1979, the day Clemson met Baylor in the Peach Bowl, and Lee Elizabeth, who was born October, 1985.

Fred Hoover Assistant Athletic Director & Head Athletic Trainer

Much of the credit for getting the Tigers on the field every Saturday afternoon should go to Fred Hoover, who has completed 31 years as head trainer for the Tigers. The 59-year-old Hoover is responsible for the prevention, treatment and rehabilitation of injuries to Clemson's athletes. In addition, Hoover, who was named assistant athletic director in the summer of 1983, is a consultant for purchasing athletic equipment, supervising the medical staff, making travel arrangements, supervising the athletic training room and directing the training table.

A native of Jacksonville, FL, Hoover graduated with a BS degree in physical education from Florida State in 1953. He served as trainer at his alma mater for two stints, 1952-53 and 1957-58, before coming to Clemson in 1959.

Professionally, "Doc" Hoover has held just about every administrative post with the National Athletic Trainers Association, including national president, and he is an affiliate member of the American Orthopedic Society for Sports Medicine.

In 1981, Hoover was enshrined in the Citizens Savings-Helms Athletic Foundation Hall of Fame for his work.

In the spring of 1982, he was named a consultant to the South Carolina Medical Association — Medical Aspects of Sports Committee. He is also chairman of the NATA National Symposium Committee and of the South Carolina Board of Certification for Athletic Trainers. Hoover is also a member of the Clemson Hall of Fame and is past president of the South Carolina Trainers Association.

In 1983, Hoover was the recipient of the Distinguished Service to Sports Medicine Award given by the American Orthopedic Society for Sports Medicine. In 1987, he was awarded the South Carolina Hall of Fame Distinguished Service to Sports Award. He has never missed a football game in his 31 years at Clemson.

Hoover is married to the former Elva Cook of Mt. Vernon, IL, and the Hoovers have two children, Catherine, a 1980 Clemson graduate who is married, and Bryan who attended Clemson. He has one grandchild, Andrew Cole.

Robert Ricketts Assistant Athletic Director

Keeping the expense accounts of such a vast operation as the Clemson athletic department in order is no easy task, but Assistant Athletic Director Robert Ricketts is well qualified for the job. Ricketts is in his fifth year in the department but he has already been elevated to assistant athletic director. He is in his 15th year with the university.

As assistant athletic director in charge of business operations, Ricketts handles all purchasing and expense accounts. This job is old hat to Ricketts as he spent nine years working for Clemson in auditing and accounting departments. During these nine years, one of his main duties was the audit for the athletic department. He worked in the University's financial management division in accounting control and payroll benefits between 1976 and 1977, then worked in the internal auditing division as an auditor between 1977 and 1980. In 1980 he was named an audit supervisor, a position he held until February of 1985. Thus, he has seen all sides of his job.

Richetts earned an associate of arts degree from Anderson College in 1969, and a business administration degree from Erskine College in 1971. He is also a 1967 graduate of T.L. Hanna High School in Anderson. After his graduation from Erskine, he entered merchandise management with the J.C. Penny Company of Greenville and Anderson. He worked for that company between 1972 and 1976, until he began his career with the University on May 28, 1976.

The native of Anderson has also completed the College Business Management Institute at the University of Kentucky and is a member of the Institute of Internal Auditors. Ricketts also has served as secretary of the Clemson Recreation Advisory Committee for six years.

Ricketts and his wife, Kathey, have two children, Chesley (11) and Lindsey (7). His wife is employed in the Payroll/Benefits Office at Clemson University.

Clyde Wrenn Recruiting Coordinator

Clyde Wrenn is now in his fifth year of his second tour of duty in the Clemson athletic department. Wrenn is one of the most experienced members of the Clemson staff, having been part of the Clemson football program from 1972 to 1977. Clemson has the fifth highest winning percentage in college football since 1986, the year Wrenn returned to Clemson.

Wrenn's position is a vital one to the football program as he specializes in supervising recruiting. A native of Chester, SC, he was a member of the Clemson football radio network team as a color analyst for the 1983, 1984 and 1985 football seasons. He was also a scout for the Denver Broncos during this time.

Coaching has also been a part of Wrenn's repertoire. He began his career at Southside High School in Florence as an assistant coach, and in five years the team posted a 40-16 mark. He also served as head baseball coach for three years and captured the state title in each season. The 46-year-old Wrenn moved to West Florence High School the next year as athletic director and head football coach. His two-year record on the gridiron was 14-5.

Wrenn earned 10 letters at Chester High School in football, basketball, and baseball and then played baseball two years at Spartanburg Junior College. He enrolled at N.C. State for his final two years of undergraduate work, and received his B.S. degree in recreation and park administration in 1965. Wrenn was awarded his M.S. degree in business administration from Western Carolina in 1969.

Wrenn and his wife Willa have two sons, Craig (19) and Cal (17).

Bill D'Andrea Director of Student Services

Bill D'Andrea is in his first year as Director of Student Services, his seventh year in the Clemson Athletic Department.

As the director, he is responsible for the Student-Athlete Assistance Program and the Student-Athlete Advisory Board, two essential programs that are a part of a student-athlete's life. They are designed to assist in athletic counseling. He also heads the summer job program, which helps student-athletes find summer employment.

D'Andrea is a key figure in student-athletes' future. He conducts exit interviews for athletes and heads the job placement program for graduating student-athletes. A native of Morgan, PA, he is also responsible for Clemson's Hall of Fame and the Tiger Lettermen Association. He also coordinates the sale of the football game programs and assists in the Capital Fundraising Campaign.

D'Andrea coached Clemson's offensive tackles from 1986-89 and had an All-ACC tackle in each of his last three years. He coached in two Gator Bowls and two Citrus Bowls. This was not his first stint at Clemson, however. D'Andrea was a graduate assistant coach for the Tigers for two years (1982-83). He left Clemson in 1983 to take the offensive line coaching position at Southern Mississippi where he coached the Golden Eagles for two seasons. D'Andrea has also coached at East Carolina, Virginia, and Catawba College.

At South Fayette (PA) High School, D'Andrea earned seven varsity letters in football, basketball, and soccer. He then moved on to Indiana State University where he earned three letters as a center on the gridiron. Ironically, he played for current Clemson offensive coordinator Larry Van Der Heyden at Indiana State.

The 39-year old D'Andrea earned a B.S. degree in criminology from Indiana State in 1973 and received a master's degree from East Carolina two years later. Currently, D'Andrea has completed course work at Clemson in Administration and will be certified in this program in December.

D'Andrea married the former Julie Lynn Honeycutt on June 28, 1986.

Bobby Douglas Equipment Manager

Many fans think their Tigers are one of the best dressed teams in the nation. If this is true, thanks should go to Equipment Manager Bobby Douglas. He takes great pride in the appearance of the Tigers on game days, and also strives to insure the players' safety by keeping the equipment in good working order. Douglas is also responsible for the associated athletic equipment for all 18 sports at Clemson.

Douglas took over his present position in July of 1982, when it was vacated by Len Gough, who was named assistant executive secretary of IPTAY. Douglas had served as the assistant equipment manager since 1978.

Packing and planning for extended road trips has become one of Douglas' specialties, as the Clemson football team has been to five straight bowls. In 1982 the team traveled to Tokyo, Japan for the Mirage Bowl, perhaps Douglas's greatest challenge. The Tiger basketball team is also a frequent traveler, journeying to Taiwan in November 1987 and making regular trips to Christmas tournaments.

Douglas, born on September 9, 1955, is a 1974 graduate of Toms River High School in New Jersey. He ran cross country, indoor and outdoor track and was a three-year letterman in each sport. He came to Clemson on a track scholarship and ran with the team his freshman year. He went into managing at Clemson as a student in his junior year. During his sophomore year he served as co-sports editor of The Tiger, the Clemson student newspaper.

The native of Montclair, NJ received his bachelor's degree in industrial education from Clemson in December of 1978 and became assistant equipment manager almost immediately. In August, 1989 he received a Master's in Guidance and Counseling. He married the former Ann Skelton of Clemson, SC, on June 28, 1986. The Douglas's are expecting their first child in October, 1990.

Tim Bourret Sports Information Director

Tim Bourret is in his second year as sports information director, but his 13th academic year at Clemson. He first came to Clemson as assistant SID under Bob Bradley in September of 1978 and was elevated to an associate SID position in July of 1980.

The 34-year-old Bourret has edited 62 award-winning brochures in his career, including 21 that have dealt with Clemson football. In 1988 the Tiger football brochure was voted second in the nation, while the 1988 Clemson football program series was voted third in the nation. Last year Clemson's postseason bowl guide was named best in the nation. Bourret has served as Clemson's publications director since 1979.

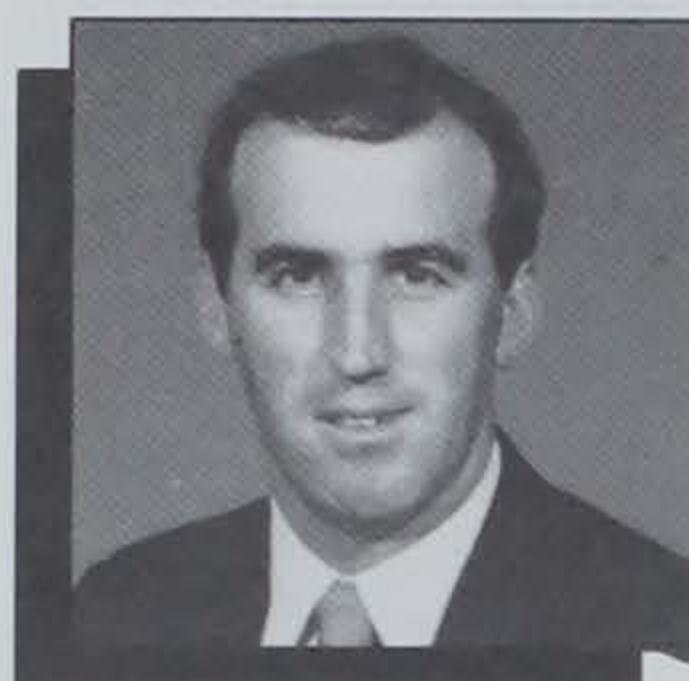

The Clemson SID also has considerable radio experience, play-by-play and color. He has been the color voice of Clemson basketball since the 1980-81 season and served in the same capacity for Clemson football between 1982 and 1988. He gave up his football radio work last year to supervise the Clemson pressbox. He was also the play-by-play voice of Clemson postseason baseball between 1980-89.

Bourret is a native of West Hartford, CT and a 1973 graduate of Northwest Catholic High School. He was an all-conference baseball player in high school and played in the 1973 American Legion World Series.

Following in his father's footsteps, Bourret earned his undergraduate degree from the University of Notre Dame in Business Administration in 1977. He also earned his master's degree in Communication Arts from Notre Dame in August of 1978. Between 1984-88 he served as national chairman of the CoSida publications contest committee.

Bourret worked as an undergraduate and graduate assistant under Roger Valdiserri in Notre Dame's office for three years, where he was assistant editor of Notre Dame's 1977 football programs. The program series won Best in the Nation that year. He also served as commissioner of the school's famed "Bookstore Basketball Tournament" for three years, including the year it was featured in Sports Illustrated.

John Seketa Sports Promotions Director

John Seketa arrived in Tigertown four years ago and it would take a book to summarize his varied activities. He has spent one night helping Central Spirit sew an 80-yard by 15-yard Tiger Paw Flag with fishing wire for Spirit Blitz, choreographed the festivities surrounding the 1987 Soccer National Championship game, conducted a halfcourt shooting contest for $20,000, and given away peanut butter and jelly sandwiches at volleyball matches.

In short, John can be seen at almost every athletic event trying to promote each of Clemson's 18 athletic teams. Not to be forgotten, John is also responsible for event management and the operation of all the electronic message boards, advisor to the cheerleaders and Rally Cats. He coordinates all game promotions at Clemson with emphasis on basketball, baseball, football and soccer.

In 1985 he staged a Make Believe T.V. Football Game with ESPN while promotions director at Eastern Illinois, an event that was sited in the New York Times.

Currently completing a Master's degree in Sports Management from Western Illinois University, John spent one year at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign as a graduate intern in the Sales, Promotions, and Summer Camps office.

Seketa is a March 1981 graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. After receiving his Bachelor's degree in Business Administration from SIU-E, Seketa worked as a computer operator for three years for the Shell Oil Company in Wood River, Illinois. He moved to Eastern Illinois in 1985 where he promoted all sports and athletes, including Portland Trailblazer All-Star center Kevin Duckworth. He then moved South to Clemson for the 1986-87 academic year.

IPTAY has realized an increase in contributions for 26 straight years.

In a year that saw many changes in the Clemson University Athletic Department, one thing remained a constant; the success of IPTAY. Despite the destruction and financial loss caused by Hurricane Hugo, as well as an increase in the minimum IPTAY donation from $30 to $100, faithful Clemson supporters were still able to make this another record-breaking year for IPTAY. As the nation's largest fundraising organization, IPTAY was able to raise $5.8 million towards its commitment to the student-athlete. Due in part to the efforts of the IPTAY staff, and the generosity and support of the Clemson community, Clemson was one of only two schools in the nation (the only other being Illinois) to have teams participate in a bowl game (1989 Mazda Gator Bowl), the NCAA Basketball Tournament (advanced to the Sweet Sixteen in the East Regional), and the NCAA Baseball Tournament (Central Region).

Clemson was the only school to gain at least one win in each of these post-season events. Clemson also produced 82 first-team All-ACC athletes, 20 All-Americans, captured three ACC Tournament Championships, and won two regular-season ACC Championships, including its first ever in men's basketball. Nine teams finished in the final Top 25 of their respective sports.

The success of the Clemson athletic program comes during a time when the integrity and accountability of the academic progress of student-athletes are receiving national attention. IPTAY has been a large part of this success by being committed to the student-athlete.

IPTAY is recognized as one of the oldest, largest and most successful athletic fundraising organizations in America. IPTAY was the first athletic fundraising organization in the country to top the two, three, four and five-million dollar marks in annual donations. The 1989-90 academic year marks the 26th consecutive year of increased contributions to the IPTAY scholarship fund.

In 1934 Dr. Rupert Fike founded IPTAY with a very simple purpose in mind. IPTAY provides funds for athletic scholarships. Clemson continues to be one of the few schools in the nation to award the maximum number of scholarships allowed by the NCAA for 18 men's and women's varsity sports. Since 1934 IPTAY has provided scholarships for over 5,000 student athletes, trainers, and managers. In recent years an average of 450 student-athletes per year have been recipients of scholarships funded by IPTAY. IPTAY currently has a reserve fund to cover the scholarship costs for the student-athletes presently attending Clemson on athletic scholarships and scholarships committed to incoming freshmen. Through IPTAY, student-athletes are given an opportunity to succeed athletically and academically.

IPTAY currently provides the funds for tutorial programs staffed by trained academic advisors assisted by graduate and undergraduate students. This support is intended to assure that all student-athletes are given the opportunity to earn their degree while participating in athletics.

IPTAY is currently playing an intricate role in the Campaign for Clemson, a long-range fundraising project of the University. IPTAY has been asked to raise 2.5 million of the University's overall goal of 62 million dollars for the construction and development of the Learning Center, a new academic building on East Campus. The funds for this project come via IPTAY donors and IPTAY has already raised over 1 million dollars for the project.

The Learning Center is presently on schedule to open in the spring of 1991 and its construction is well under way. The Learning Center is a 29,000 square-foot facility and it will house the tutoring and advising programs for student-athletes. The building will contain various sized study and tutoring rooms to be used for individual study as well as for small group instruction. Computer facilities, an office/reception area for the advising staff and an auditorium will also be contained in the center.

The generous support of over 18,200 loyal donors to IPTAY has allowed the organization to go beyond the funding of athletic scholarships by providing the financial basis for many of the unparalleled athletic facilities at Clemson.

Since 1978, IPTAY has provided the funding for $32 million of capital improvements in the area of athletics. These improvements include the expansion of the football stadium, the newly renovated baseball facility (Tiger Field), the indoor tennis facility, the soccer stadium, the new outdoor track, the weight room, the new golf practice area, a new cross country course, and the IPTAY/Ticket office facility.

IPTAY is also proud to provide funding for the Tiger Band. Each year IPTAY budgets financial support for travel, uniforms and equipment for this integral part of the Clemson athletic program.

While IPTAY is primarily concerned with athletic fundraising, the mission of Clemson University has not been overlooked. It was created to help meet the need for more academic scholarships for non-athletes who are highly qualified academically. This scholarship endowment is funded by certain company gifts which are made as a result of employee contributions to IPTAY. In addition, the athletic department has made generous contributions to the endowment from athletic revenues. The IPTAY Academic Fund is presently the largest scholarship endowment of any kind at Clemson, providing 1.38 million in funds, currently benefitting more than 50 students. IPTAY's support extends to all of the student body.

This year's IPTAY speaking circuit was highlighted by Clemson's new football coach, Ken Hatfield. A man of character and integrity, as well as a proven winner, Hatfield stressed the importance of IPTAY and its mission. Hatfield commented on his first impressions of IPTAY.

"The IPTAY organization and the people involved far surpassed the tremendous reputation that they had before I had arrived here. Allison Dalton and Bert Henderson and all of the rest who are involved, organize and coordinate the program as well as I have seen. Every local meeting was precisely managed." Hatfield continued, "I guess the thing that stuck out most though, was the atmosphere of love and support for Clemson exhibited by all of the people I met. I was able to meet over 9,000 people and their love and sincerity was overwhelming."

IPTAY donors are kept up-to-date with Clemson athletics through the Orange and White. This is an official IPTAY publication and distributed exclusively to IPTAY donors in appreciation of their support.

Clemson University will continue to be recognized and respected on the national level athletically and academically with the full support of IPTAY. IPTAY will continue to be successful because a loyal commitment to Clemson University is a way of life in the hearts of Clemson alumni and friends.

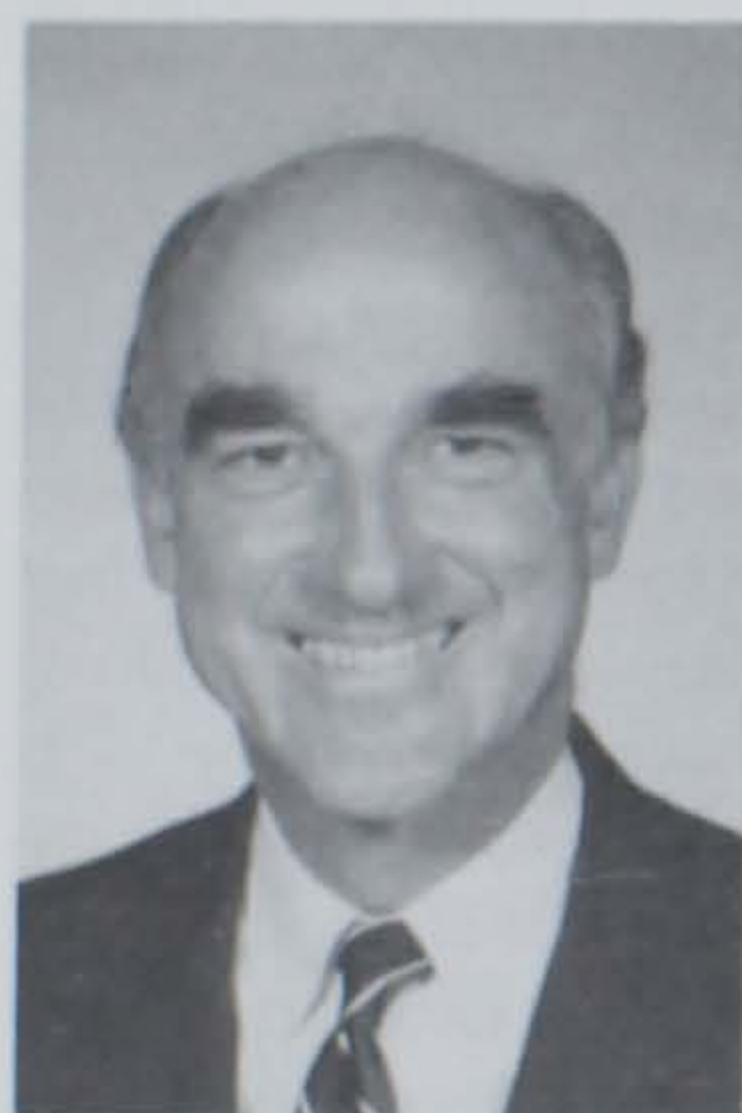

Allison Dalton is the executive director of America's number-one fund-raising organization.

IPTAY Administrators

IPTAY has been in existence since 1934 when members joined for $10 a year.

ALLISON DALTON Executive Secretary of IPTAY

Allison Dalton is in his fifth full academic year as the leader of America's number-one athletic scholarship fundraising organization, IPTAY. Since Dalton took over the position in March of 1985 he has continued to insure the financing of a quality education for nearly 400 student-athletes, trainers, and managers. Before Dalton took over the position he served as promotions director for four years and assistant athletic director for media relations and marketing for two years.

The well-rounded administrator raised money from an advertising standpoint at Clemson in his first six years for publications, scoreboard advertising and with the Clemson sports marketing program. Now he raises money for athletic scholarships and other areas for the athletic department. This year he helped continue IPTAY's consecutive year streak for increase in fund-raising, which now has reached 26 in a row.

During his tenure, Dalton was responsible for copyrighting the Tiger Paw and other Clemson logos, which has eliminated any unauthorized use of the symbols. He also supervised the highly successful direct-mail marketing program.

Dalton, who earned his bachelor's (1960) and master's (1964) from Clemson in industrial management, served as state campaign coordinator for U.S. Senator Strom Thurmond for a year prior to becoming manager of the Clemson House Hotel, a capacity he served in until coming to the athletic department in the fall of 1979.

After receiving his undergraduate degree, he served two years in the U.S. Army as assistant printing control officer at Fort Bliss, TX, and he was discharged as a first lieutenant. Following his study on his master's degree, Dalton was a management trainee and staff assistant for Karastan Mills for two years and was then in partnership with his brother in the furniture and carpet business.

Dalton is married to the former Carolyn Jones of Pickens, SC, and the Daltons are the parents of two Clemson graduates, Brett (24) and CeCe (22).

BERT HENDERSON Associate Executive Secretary of IPTAY

Bert Henderson, another athletic official with a diverse background, has been associated with Clemson University since he began work as a trainer with the athletic department in 1978. After leaving the athletic department for a year to work with the Clemson Alumni Association, Henderson returned to the Jervay Athletic Center as Clemson's associate executive secretary of IPTAY, in April of 1985.

He began full-time employment under Fred Hoover in 1980 and served as basketball trainer during the 1983-84 season. He served in that capacity until October of 1984. He handled all travel and a majority of administrative tasks for the Clemson basketball program.

His central duties as associate director of IPTAY concern the preparation of the Orange and White publication, which is the official publication of IPTAY, and evaluation of Life Memberships as well as Tiger Life donors for the future of IPTAY. He is also the advisor for the IPTAY Student Advisory Board, an on-campus student group which serves as a liaison between students and the athletic department. Henderson is also involved with the organization of Clemson club programs and other administrative duties of IPTAY.

Henderson is a 1978 graduate of Mars Hill College. He earned a master's degree from Clemson in 1980 in administration and supervision. He is married to the former Lee Ann Hudson, and the couple has two children, Amy Lee (9-23-86) and Kimberly Ann (6-13-89).

BOB MAHONY Associate Executive Secretary of IPTAY

Bob Mahony started with IPTAY as an associate executive secretary in February of 1989. He is a 1976 graduate of Clemson with a bachelor of science degree in building construction. He had been involved in commercial and residential construction in Columbia and the upstate since graduation.

In the summer of 1977 he began a career in construction with Bagnal Builders, a residential builder in Columbia. From 1981-1985 he was employed by McCrory Construction, also in Columbia, where he gained experience in commercial construction. Following a return to Bagnal Builders from 1985-1987, he moved to the upstate where he worked with Trehel Corp. of Clemson and Hudson Construction of Seneca.

Mahony lettered in baseball at Clemson from 1974-1976. He was a walk-on pitcher for Coach Bill Wilhelm's baseball team in 1974. He later earned a full scholarship and was co-captain of the 1976 team that participated in the College World Series in Omaha, Nebraska. That team also won the ACC regular season and tournament. Following his career at Clemson, Mahony spent a short time with the Baltimore Orioles organization. This past spring he provided color commentary on the Clemson baseball radio network.

His duties with IPTAY include the coordination of the IPTAY chairman and representative appointment and award program. He is also involved in coordinating IPTAY's involvement in the spring Clemson Club meetings.

Mahony is married to the former Robin Ann Lawrimore, a 1976 graduate of Clemson. The couple has two children, Robin Allison (9-1-80), and Marion Leigh (9-3-85). His two brothers, Glenn and David are also graduates of Clemson. His father earned his doctorate degree in 1987 from Clemson and his mother was Clemson's Mother-of-the-Year in 1981.

Bratton Fact: Graded at least 70 percent in each of his last three games after earning over 70% just once in the first nine games.

Best All-Around Game: Had six knockdowns and a 73 percent grade for 65 plays in the win at South Carolina in 1989.

Bowl Experience: Had four knockdowns and a 72 percent grade in the win over West Virginia in the 1989 Mazda Gator Bowl.

Fall 1990 Depth Chart Position: First-team offensive tackle.

1989 Honors: First-team Academic All-ACC

Years Lettered: 1988, 1989

Overview: Chosen to the Academic All-ACC team for the 1989 season, he is one of the top student-athletes on the Clemson team ... has been on the academic honor roll each of his years at Clemson and earned a 3.50 last spring in industrial engineering ... also had an excellent year on the gridiron in his first year as a full-time starter.

In 1989: In for 710 plays for the season, he saw his season-high in terms of action in the Duke and North Carolina contests ... he was in for 68 snaps in each of those games ... had 40 knockdown blocks for the season, including a high of six in the regular season finale at South Carolina ... had three or more KDs in eight games last season, he had five knockdowns versus Florida State and Virginia ... also had his highest coaches' grade of the season, 74 percent, in the win over UVA ... in for 45 snaps in the N.C. State victory, he was named the ESPN/Hartford Student-of-the-Game ... also had six knockdowns in that contest ... did well in his first career start, the season opener with Furman, as he was in for 63 plays and registered three KDs ... started every game but the Wake Forest contest, he saw his lowest action total versus the Deacons ... in for only 26 plays in that game, he still recorded two knockdown blocks ... strong athlete whose power clean (314 lbs) is tied for tops among offensive linemen and tied for second on the team ... his leg-sled mark (910 lbs) ties for fifth.

In 1988: Reserve left tackle, he played behind seniors Frank Deluliis and Ty Granger ... saw action in 44 plays from scrimmage, with a high of 16 plays in the season opener against Virginia Tech ... in for 10 plays against Duke, he also saw action in the Furman, Georgia Tech, Wake Forest, North Carolina and Maryland contests.

In 1987: Red-shirted the 1987 season ... missed most of spring practice with a knee injury.

In High School: Touted as the state's top offensive lineman by many ... consensus all-state choice ... USA Today and Sporting News honorable mention All-American ... offensive captain and a three-year starter for A.L. Curtis at Gaffney High ... earned three letters in football and one in wrestling for the Indians ... outstanding student with a 3.7 GPA, graduated fifth in a class of over 400 ... Max Emfinger rated him as the 17th best offensive guard in the South ... 1986 Shrine Bowl starter ... major reason for Gaffney's strong rushing attack that led them to two AAAA State Championships ... industrial engineering major ... born 10/1/69.

First-Team
All-ACC

Brewster Fact: Should become sixth player in Clemson history to reach the 300 mark in terms of career tackles.

Best All-Around Game: Had a Clemson team season best 19 tackles in 71 plays against Georgia Tech in 1989.

Bowl Experience: Has started each of the last three bowl games and has a chance to become first Clemson player to start four bowl games on defense. Has 25 career tackles in bowl play, six against Penn State as a freshman, nine against Oklahoma as a sophomore and 10 last year in the win over West Virginia in the 1989 Mazda Gator Bowl.

Highest Honor: First-team All-ACC in 1989 by both AP and UPI, and 1990 second-team preseason All-American by Don Heinrich College Football Magazine, and The Sporting News.

Fall 1990 Depth Chart Position: First-team inside linebacker.

Years Lettered: 1987, 1988, 1989

Overview: Quick inside linebacker who was an All-ACC choice for 1989 on both the AP/ACC Sportswriters and UPI ballots ... named fourth best inside linebacker in the nation in the 1990 Sporting News preseason book, he was also a first-team preseason all-conference pick by that magazine ... the leading tackler on the 1989 Clemson squad with 100 stops for the season, he has more career tackles than any other Tiger with 227 stops over the last three seasons ... his tackle total for 1989 was 23 better than any other Tiger ... ranks 12th in Clemson history in total tackles, he lacks only 12 tackles to equal All-Pro Michael Dean Perry's 239 career tackle total ... an honorable mention All-American by Football News and Sporting News in 1989 ... a first-team all-state choice ... has started 14 consecutive games at inside linebacker.

In 1989: Has started at inside linebacker in 26 of Clemson's last 28 games, he missed two starts but only one game with a knee injury in 1988 ... lightest starting inside linebacker at Clemson since 1973 when Frank Wise was a starter at 192 pounds ... led the Tigers in tackles four times in 1989, including 10 stops in the Gator Bowl win over West Virginia ... had eight first hits in that contest, he also had a tackle for loss and a quarterback pressure ... had a career-high 19 tackles against Georgia Tech, the highest total for a Tiger since 1985 ... had 11 first hits in that game ... also led the team in tackles in the Tigers' win at Florida State, tallying 12 stops in 58 plays, including a tackle for loss ... had 10 total tackles to lead the team defensively in the regular season finale at South Carolina, that total also included a stop for loss ... had the third highest pass broken up total on the team in 1989 with nine PBUs, that figure was first among non-secondary players ... had two deflections at Virginia Tech and another pair versus Duke ... outstanding in pass coverage, he picked off a pass versus N.C. State, setting the tempo for that 20-point Tiger win over the 12th-ranked Wolfpack ... has made at least five tackles in each of the last 15 games ... had nine stops in back-to-back games versus Maryland and Duke ... had six tackles, intercepted a pass which he returned for 13 yards, broke up another pass, and had a quarterback pressure in the Tigers victory over N.C. State ... had the Goody's Hit-of-the-Game versus Maryland and N.C. State ... tallied seven stops in only 30 plays at North Carolina ... had 24 tackles during spring drills, including two stops behind the line of scrimmage ... leads all inside linebackers in the bench press with a 380-lb. mark ... has a power ratio of 6.63, second among all linebackers ... has the best time for a Clemson linebacker ever in the 1½ run with a time of 9:22.

1988: Third leading tackler on the Clemson team with 89 stops, including 49 first hits ... also recovered three fumbles to tie for the team lead ... had a career high 16 stops at Virginia, one of four double figure tackle games he had that year ... also had 14 against South Carolina, 11 against Florida State and 10 at N.C. State ... had five or more tackles in every game he was healthy ... leading tackler for Clemson against Florida State, Virginia, N.C. State and South Carolina ... had his most famous play of the year at Georgia Tech when he broke the game open with a 68-yard interception return for a touchdown, the third longest interception return ever by a Clemson linebacker and the only INT return for a touchdown by a Tiger in 1988 ... also had five tackles and recovered a fumble in that game and was chosen ACC Defensive Lineman-of-the-Week ... had 14 stops in 48 plays against South Carolina and 16 stops in 53 plays at Virginia ... third leading tackler against Oklahoma with nine stops ... suffered sprained knee at Wake Forest on his eighth play of the game and was forced to sit out the North Carolina game ... came back at Maryland and had five stops in 27 plays ... showed he was totally healthy in the South Carolina game with 14 stops in 48 plays, then had the strong Citrus Bowl ... had 23 tackles in his last two games.

In 1987: As a first-year freshman, started each of the last four games ... one of only two first-year freshmen to start a game in 1987 ... consistent player over the four games he started, he had six tackles against North Carolina, five against Maryland, six vs. South Carolina, and six in the Citrus Bowl against Penn State ... averaged 34 plays and six tackles a game over the last four contests ... had one stop in the first game, then played only special teams for the next two games ... over the last eight games he averaged 26 plays per game and was in for 35 against Penn State ... in for the second most snaps among first-year freshmen behind John Johnson ... also second behind Johnson in tackles for a first-year freshman with 38 ... had five tackles in reserve role in the Duke game that brought attention to the coaches ... had good game against the Gamecocks with 70 percent grade and those six stops in 40 snaps ... had his only tackle for loss in his first college game, against Western Carolina.

In High School: Atlanta Journal all-state choice ... selected to play in the Georgia-Florida All-State game and the Georgia North-South game ... Street and Smith and Sporting News All-American honorable mention ... Most Valuable Defensive Player for Billy Henderson at Clarke Central High who went to AAAA finals his last three years, winning in 1985 ... 54-5 record in his four years with the Gladiators ... earned four letters, all in football ... cousin, Willie Bean, plays for Ole Miss ... member of US Army Reserve All-Star team ... Max Emfinger rated him third best in the South and 11th best in the Nation at the outside linebacker position ... member of Joe Terranova's Who's Who in high school football ... majoring in management ... born 10/11/69.

First-Team
All-ACC

Davis Fact: Has already had nine games in his career in which he has had at least two passes broken up.

Best All-Around Game: Had five tackles, a tackle for loss and four passes broken up in his first college start, against Duke in 1988.

Bowl Experience: Has started each of the last two Clemson bowl games. Had two tackles and two PBUs (including the last Oklahoma play of the game) against the Sooners in the 1989 Florida Citrus Bowl, and had four tackles in 39 plays against West Virginia in the 1989 Mazda Gator Bowl.

Fall 1990 Depth Chart Position: First-team cornerback

Years Lettered: 1988, 1989

Overview: One of the leaders of the Tiger secondary who had an outstanding sophomore season, winning first-team all-conference honors from UPI and earning a second-team slot on the AP/ACC Sportswriters list ... second on the team in passes broken up with 13, he was only one off the team lead and ranked fourth in the ACC ... already ranks eighth on the Clemson career list in that category after only two years ... should be a four-year starter for the Tigers, he started seven games as a first-year freshman alongside former Tiger All-American Donnell Woolford, who now plays for the Chicago Bears ... from the same hometown and high school that produced Clemson consensus All-American Terry Kinard, now with the Houston Oilers ... has 23 career PBUs, nine more than Donnell Woolford had after his sophomore season and 11 more than Kinard ... preseason first-team All-ACC according to the Sporting News.

In 1989: Ranked as the 13th best cornerback in the nation by the Sporting News heading into the season, he lived up to that billing ... had six straight games at mid-season in which he broke up at least one pass ... had five multiple PBU games between Sept. 23 and Oct. 28 ... started every game at cornerback ... had 55 tackles last season, the highest total among returning secondary players ... led the Tigers defensively in the win over N.C. State ... had 10 stops in that contest, including six first hits ... also intercepted a pass in that contest ... named the ACC's Defensive Back-of-the-Week for that performance ... graded out at 90 percent against Wake Forest, when he had five tackles, including a stop for loss, broke up two passes, and caused a fumble ... had his best single game PBU total of the season in the Duke contest when he broke up three Blue Devil passes ... against the Yellow Jackets of Georgia Tech, had six stops, two PBU's, and caused a fumble ... tied for sixth in the ACC in interceptions last season with three ... ran a 4.41 in the 40-yard dash on the indoor track last winter ... had two interceptions in the Orange and White game last spring.

In 1988: The first true freshman to start in the Clemson secondary since 1976 when Eddie Geathers started for the Tigers ... set a Clemson freshman record for passes broken up with 10 and he was second on the team overall to Woolford who had 15 ... named to the Sporting News Freshman All-America Honor Roll ... third leading freshman tackler on the team with 36 stops, including four behind the line of scrimmage ... had just three tackles over the first five games before becoming a mainstay in the Duke game ... played just 82 snaps from scrimmage over the first five games, then played 82 in the seventh game of the year at N.C. State ... had 66 snaps against Duke in his first career start ... had four passes broken up against Duke and also had five tackles, including a tackle for loss ... that was a freshman single game record and he actually had six in the game, but two were wiped out by a penalty on the opposition so the plays did not count ... named ACC Rookie-of-the-Week for the South Carolina game when he had five tackles and two PBUs and recovered a fumble ... ironically, the name of his high school team was the Gamecocks, the nickname of Clemson's in-state rival.

In High School: The Tigers' first commitment of the year ... played for Coach Tom Lewis' Sumter Gamecock team that won the Big 16

AAAA State Championship in 1987 ... played in the South Carolina North-South game in Myrtle Beach, where he had two interceptions and earned MVP honors ... majoring in industrial education ... born 3/20/70 in Brooklyn, NY.

Overview: A first-team academic All-ACC choice each of the past two seasons, he is one of the top student-athletes on the Clemson team ... the Tigers' starting tight end in 1989, he is known mainly for his blocking, as are most Clemson tight ends ... recipient of the Mazda Gator Bowl Academic Award ... had 12 receptions for 101 yards last season, more grabs than any other player returning in 1990 ... fourth leading receiver overall last season, only senior wide receivers Rodney Fletcher and Gary Cooper and fullback Wesley McFadden had more catches ... had more receptions in 1989 than any Tiger tight end in three years.

In 1989: Saw action for 572 snaps, 65 percent of the plays ... fourth on the team in knockdown blocks with 72 ... had his best game receiving in the Furman contest when he pulled down four receptions for 24 yards ... also recorded four knockdowns in that game ... had a 16-yard grab at Florida State and then did not catch a pass over the next three games, even though he did record 19 KDs for those contests ... graded out a season-high 90 percent in the Tigers' win over Virginia, he caught three passes for 26 yards and was credited with seven knockdowns ... one of those grabs was a key third-down catch in the fourth quarter ... had his best knockdown total of the season against the Wolfpack of N.C. State with nine ... also scored his first career touchdown in that game, a four-yard strike from Chris Morocco on the Tigers' last possession ... also tied for his season high in terms of action that day, he was in for 67 snaps ... also played 67 snaps in the loss to Duke ... recorded at least four knockdown blocks in every game last season and had 20 in the last three games of the season ... named ESPN Student-of-the-Game for the Florida State contest ... CBS/Toyota Leadership Award winner for the Virginia game ... hampered by a pulled hamstring last spring, he missed most of the first three weeks of spring drills ... had just three receptions for 21 yards in the three scrimmages he participated in ... leads Tiger tight ends in many strength and conditioning categories, including bench press (360 pounds), leg sled (800 pounds), power ratio (6.13), vertical jump (32½"), and sit-ups (80 per minute) ... boasts a cumulative grade point average of over 3.2 in industrial engineering.

In 1988: The youngest Tiger to be named to the 1988 All-ACC Academic squad, the other two, Mark Drag and Ty Granger, graduated in May, 1989 ... came to Clemson as an outside linebacker, he moved to tight end in the spring of 1988 ... saw action in every game of 1988 but did not have a reception ... saw his most extensive action at Virginia, he was in for 32 plays and registered four knockdown blocks ... had five KD's, his season high, in 25 plays the next week versus Duke ... in for 219 plays for the season and had 16 knockdowns ... named Most Improved tight end for the spring of 1989 ... his best game of the year may have been against Wake Forest, when he graded out at 85 percent after seeing action in 16 plays in Clemson's 38-21 victory over the Deacons.

In 1987: Winner of the Team Academic Achievement Award for the 87-88 academic year ... had a 3.46 GPA in each semester his first year at Clemson and was on the academic honor roll for the next two years ... his 3.46 during his first academic year was the best on the team ... played at outside linebacker in 1987 but was moved to tight end during the spring of 1988 ... sixth on the team in special teams tackles with eight ... follows in the footsteps of Steve Fuller

In 1986: Red-shirted in 1986, but worked at linebacker and defensive end.

In High School: Honorable mention All-South performer from Beaufort High School where he played for Mike Rentz ... served as defensive captain for the South Carolina Shrine Bowl ... selected Beaufort High's MVP and most valuable defensive player, Low Country Defensive Player-of-the-Year ... holds school record for most tackles (142) in a season ... won three letters in football, two in track and one in basketball ... earned all-conference honors in all three sports ... majoring in industrial engineering ... born 12/29/67 in Beaufort, SC.

All-ACC

Flesch Fact: Has accumulated 135 knockdown blocks in the 21 games he has started over his Clemson career.

Best All-Around Game: Had 11 knockdown blocks and a career high 83 percent grade against Virginia in a nationally televised game in 1989.

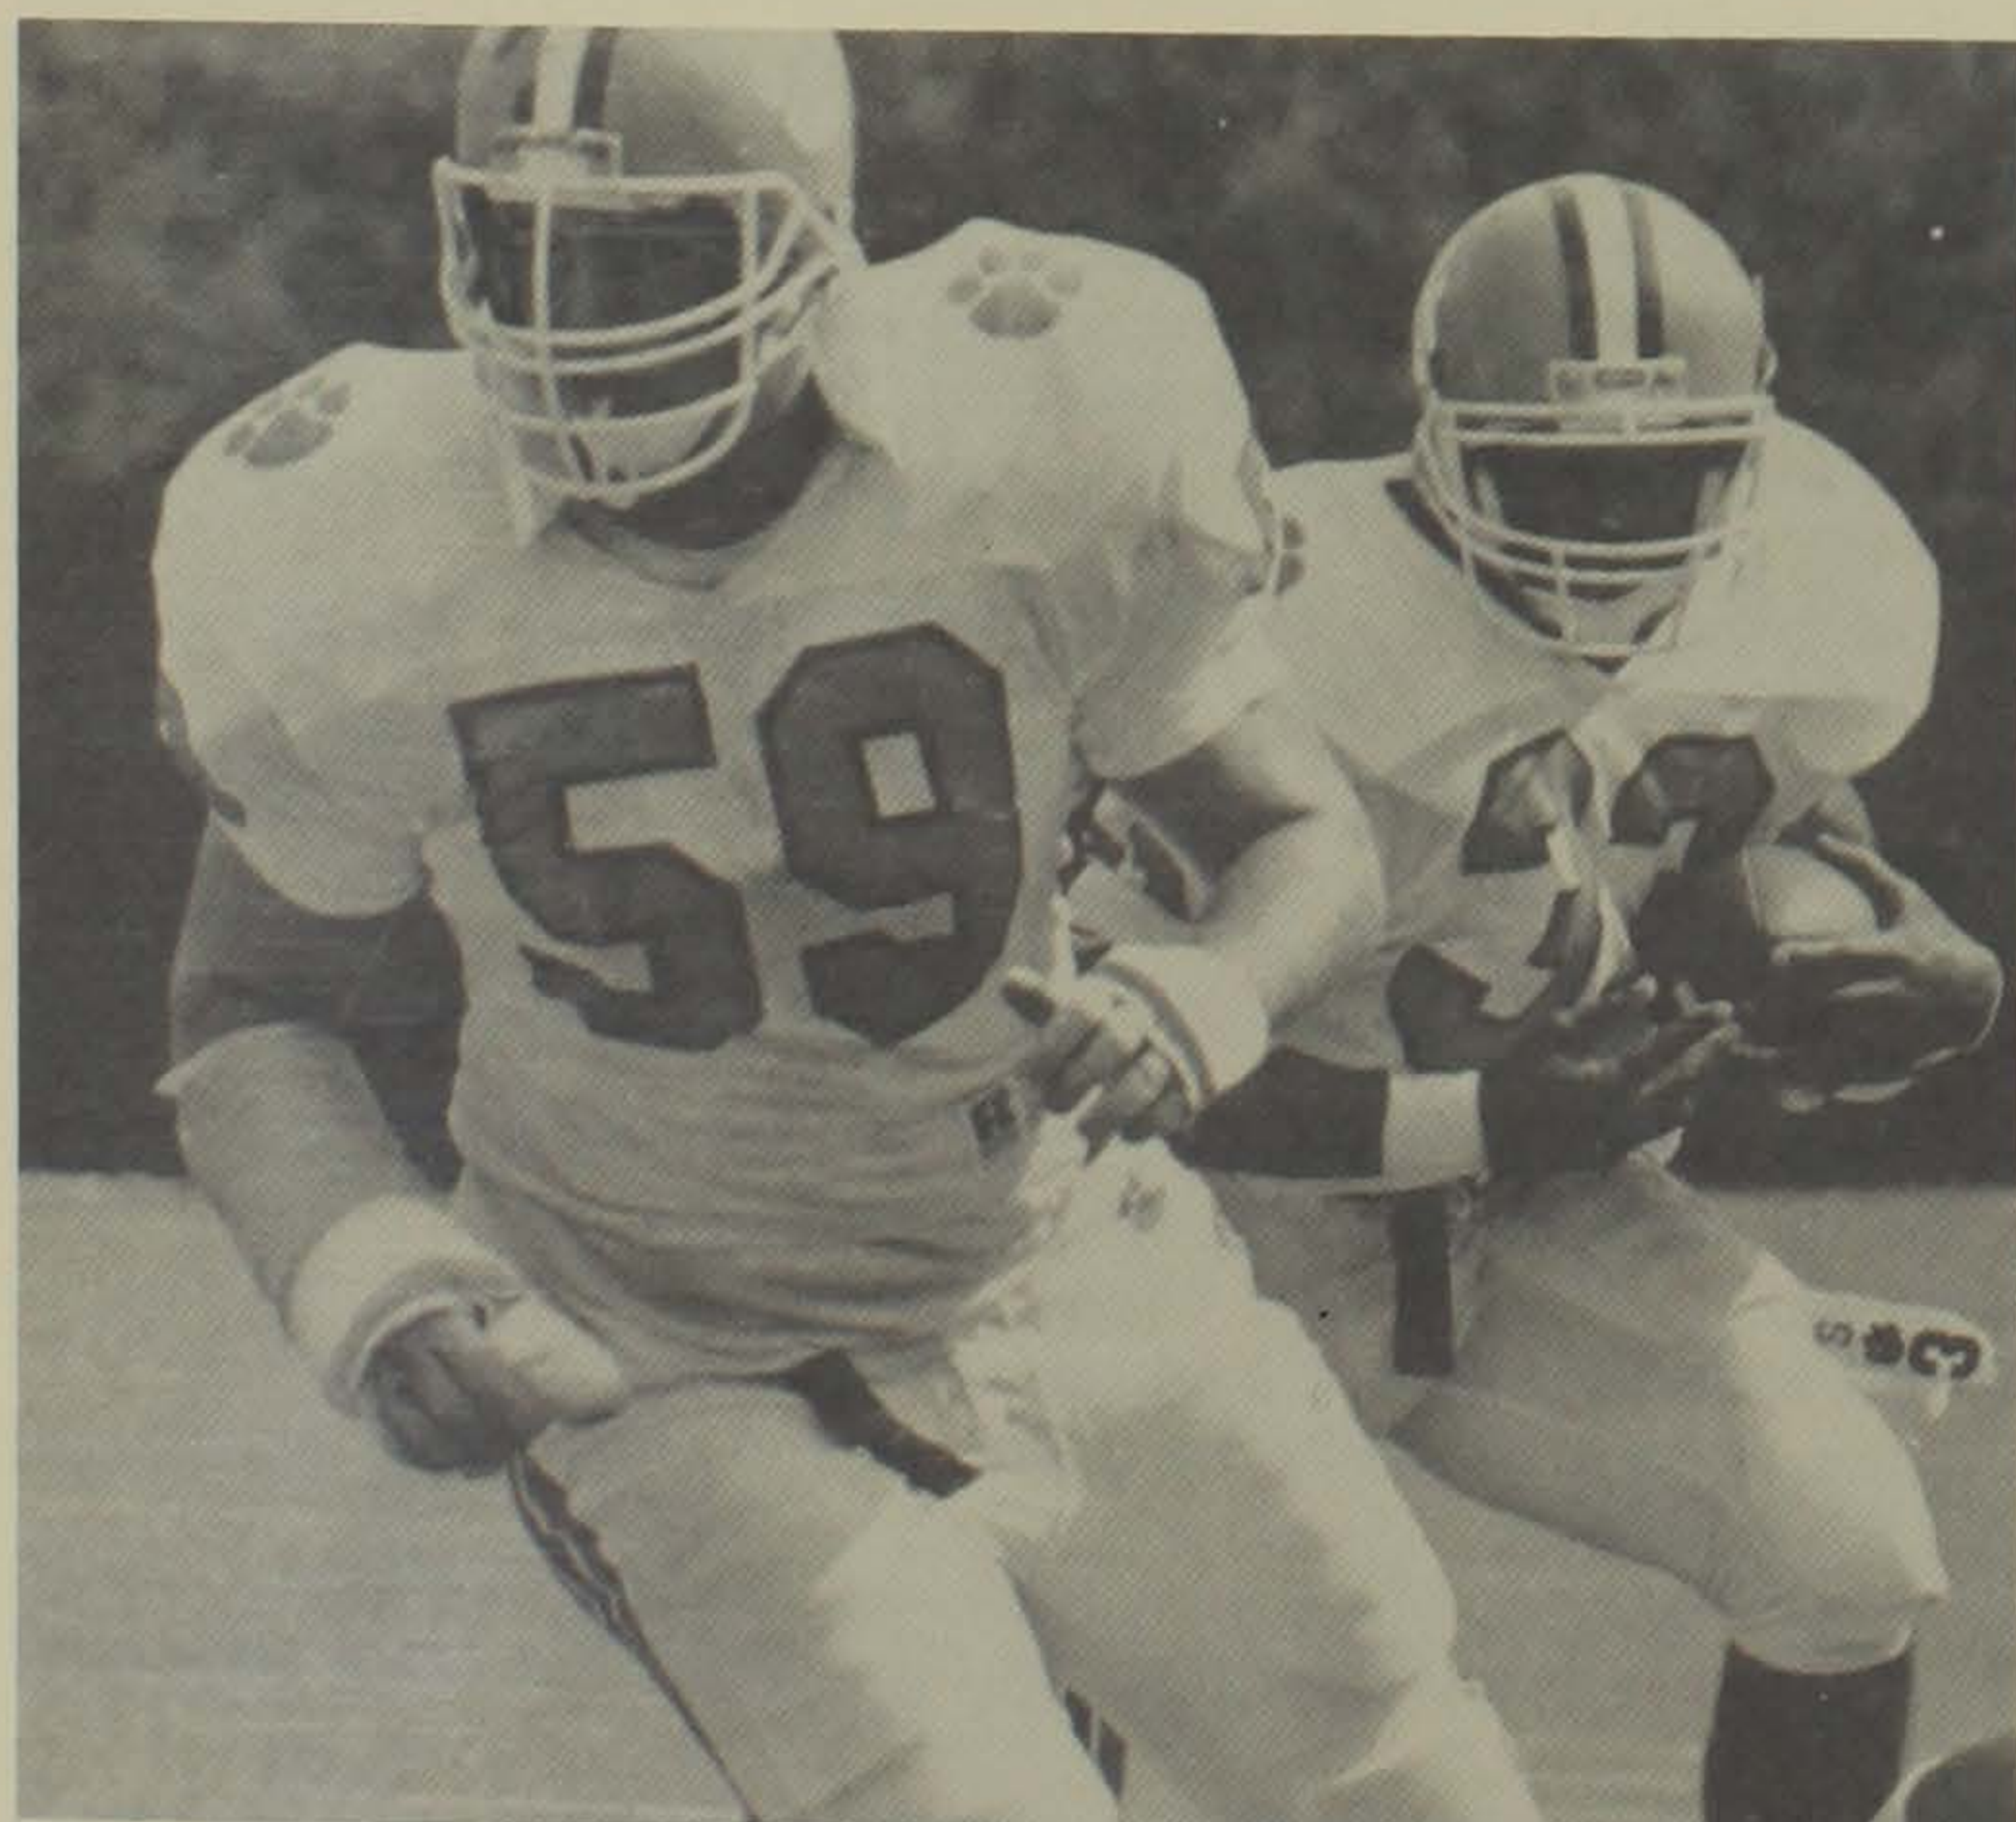

Bowl Experience: Has started each of the last two bowl games for the Tigers. Had five knockdowns and a 73 percent grade against Oklahoma in 1989 Florida Citrus Bowl and seven knockdowns with a 72 percent grade for 50 plays in the 1989 Mazda Gator Bowl.

Highest Honor: Second-team All-ACC by AP in 1989.

Years Lettered: 1988, 1989

Overview: A second-team all-conference performer at left guard according to AP ... second among offensive linemen in knockdown blocks last season with 85, just one shy of offensive line leader Eric Harmon ... teams with Harmon to give Clemson the best guard combination in the Atlantic Coast Conference, this will be the tandem's third season playing together ... in for 759 plays for the season ... he registered six or more knockdowns in nine games ... named second-team 1990 preseason all-conference by the Sporting News.

In 1989: Started the season off with six knockdowns in each of the first two games against Furman and Florida State ... had nine knockdowns in the Tigers' win over VPI ... had eight KDs versus Duke and Virginia and then registered a career high of 11 versus N.C. State ... had a season-high coaches grade versus the Cavaliers also, he received an 83 percent ... in for 78 plays in the UVA contest, that mark was a career high ... also had 11 knockdowns in the regular season finale with South Carolina, he graded out at 82 percent in that contest ... ended the season with seven KDs in the Gator Bowl win over West Virginia ... a major reason Clemson averaged 234.9 yards per game rushing last season ... one of the leaders on the offensive line last year as a sophomore ... underwent surgery on his wrist last winter ... outstanding work habits in the weight room have been a key to his success ... has improved his bench press by 100 pounds since coming to Clemson, he also increased his leg sled 120 pounds ... one of the fastest players on the offensive line, he also has a 29½-inch vertical jump and a 106-inch standing broad jump.

In 1988: One of two returning starters in the offensive line for Clemson last season ... injured a hand in the preseason and that limited his play at the beginning of the season ... Flesch and Eric Harmon are the only Tiger offensive linemen in the decade of the eighties to start over the course of their freshman season ... second-team preseason All-ACC by the Sporting News ... his 52 knockdown blocks were second highest ever by a Clemson freshman lineman, just one off of teammate Eric Harmon's total of 53 set in 1987 ... Harmon played 150 more snaps than Flesch did however in their comparative freshman seasons ... in for only 23 plays in his first three games and had just two knockdown blocks ... but got the starting nod at Georgia Tech and had a 63 percent grade with three knockdowns for his 59 total plays ... then had six knockdowns in his second start and graded 71 percent ... followed that with a season high 79 percent grade against Duke with seven knockdowns ... had a season best nine knockdown blocks against North Carolina ... also graded well in the ACC championship clincher when he had a 78 grade with six knockdowns against Maryland ... started the last nine games of the season and had an average grade of 70 for the season ... had at least five knockdown blocks in seven of his last eight games and had a grade of at least 73 percent in four of the last five contests ... had a solid Citrus Bowl with five knockdowns and a 73 percent grade against Oklahoma's big defensive line ... chosen to Sporting News Freshman Honor Roll in 1988.

In 1987: Sat out the season as a red-shirt offensive guard.

In High School: Chosen to the Georgia North-South All-Star game his senior year and was an honorable mention all-state choice ... a two-year starter on both sides of the ball at Morrow High School in Georgia ... majoring in management at Clemson ... born 2/21/69.

17 Chris Gardocki

PK-P • 6-2 • 193 • Junior
Stone Mountain, GA Redan

Third Team AP
All-American

Gardocki Fact: Just the second player in NCAA history to rank in the top 10 in the country in punting and field goals in the same season.

Best All-Around Game: Had three field goals and a 45.7 yard average on seven punts against N.C. State in 1989.

Bowl Experience: Has handled all punting and field goal attempts for Clemson in the last two bowl games. Has converted 4-5 field goals and has a 45-yard average in the two games combined. Averaged 44.3 punting against Oklahoma and 46.0 against West Virginia.

Highest Honor: Third-team All-American according to AP in 1989. First player in ACC history to make All-ACC as a punter and placekicker in the same season.

Fall 1990 Depth Chart Position: First-team punter and placekicker
Years Lettered: 1988, 1989

Overview: Third-team AP All-American as a placekicker ... UPI honorable mention All-American as a punter ... first-team All-ACC according to AP/ACC Sportswriter and UPI, the first player ever to be All-ACC as both punter and placekicker in the same season ... ranked sixth in the nation in field goals per game (1.82) during the regular season and first in the ACC ... also the ACC punting champion with 42.96 average, that mark was also 10th in the country for the regular season ... had 22 field goals for the season to rank second in Clemson history, just one shy of Obed Ariri's record of 23 ... his 42.96 punting average was sixth best for the course of the season ... on a career basis, he is first in field goals per game (1.71), third in total field goals (41) and seventh in scoring with 165 points ... he is also fourth in career kick-scoring and second in punting average (42.86) ... second only to Dale Hatcher of the Green Bay Packers in career punting, third in career field goals to Ariri and David Treadwell, an all-pro player who is now with the Denver Broncos ... set an ACC record for kick-scoring in a season with 107 points last season, breaking the mark of 97 set by North Carolina's Brooks Barwick in 1982 ... already in the top 12 in ACC history in career field goals ... number-two kicker in the nation according to the Sporting News preseason book ... also first-team preseason All-ACC according to that publication ... second-team preseason All-American by Don Heinrich Magazine, and Lindy's Football Annual.

In 1989: Had eight multiple field goal games last season and has 14 for his career, second in Clemson history ... has not built up his field goal stats with short kicks, 10 of his 22 made field goals last year were between 40 and 49 yards ... has never missed a PAT in his career, he is 42-42 including 41-41 in 1989 ... second in the ACC in scoring in 1989 with 98 points during the regular season, he won the field goal and punting titles ... had one streak of eight straight made field goals last year and another of six in a row ... a prime reason Clemson was 10th in the nation in net punting last season ... had nine games of a 40-yard average last year and 16 for his career ... also handled kickoffs almost half of 1989, he had nine touchbacks in 32 kickoffs ... had many fine all-around games, six times in 1989 he averaged over 40 yards a punt and had at least two field goals in the same game ... he has done that nine times in his career, more than anyone else in Clemson history ... had three field goals in the opener with Furman, and also had three vs. N.C. State and Wake Forest ... averaged 46.0 yards per punt on four attempts in the Gator Bowl matchup with West Virginia, he also connected on two FGs ... scored a season high 13 points against the Deacons of Wake Forest ... had seven straight multiple field goal games over two years ... had his best all-around game of 1989 against N.C. State when he booted three field goals and averaged 45.7 yards a punt, including a net of 42.0 ... had his best punting game against Furman with a 48-yard average, followed closely by the North Carolina contest when he posted a 47.8 average ... both those games were in the top 10 in Clemson history.

In 1988: Had the second best freshman punting average in Clemson history, second only to Dale Hatcher (43.4) who is now in the NFL ... Gardocki's 42.7 figure for 1988 was the sixth best average in Clemson history and his 19 field goals ranked second for a single season ... also set a Clemson record for field goal attempts in a season with 32, breaking Obed Ariri's record of 30 set in 1980 ... only Hatcher, David Sims and Banks McFadden have had a higher punting average over the course of the season ... Gardocki was second-team All-ACC by AP, but was honorable mention All-America punter by AP and UPI ... had a 52-yard field goal against North Carolina for his longest boot of the season and it tied a freshman record held by Donald Igwebuike ... finished the 1988 regular season second in the league in punting and tied for first in field goals per game ... did not have to punt against Maryland and North Carolina and that prohibited him from having a high enough attempt figure ... second on the Clemson team in scoring with 58 points, but that was the highest point total ever recorded by a Clemson freshman ... broke Obed Ariri's record of 53 set in 1977 ... named ACC Rookie-of-the-Week when he had 3-4 field goals against Furman ... had three field goals three times (Furman, North Carolina and South Carolina) ... had two field goals against Oklahoma and of course they turned out to be important in the 13-6 outcome ... was not the starting punter until the Florida State game, but was the starting field goal kicker from day one ... attempted one PAT and kicked off just once ... saved his best all-around game for the South Carolina Gamecocks when he averaged 47 yards on five boots and had three field goals ... had a 66-yard punt in the South Carolina game, the longest of the season ... his first punt in a Clemson uniform was a 48-yarder against Virginia Tech ... first Clemson punter since Dale Hatcher to average over 40 yards and just the second different punter to exceed a 40 yard average in the decade of the eighties.

In High School: USA Today 1st team All-American ... Parade All-American ... set the Georgia state record for the longest field goal with a 59-yarder ... made a 42-yard field goal in the Florida-Georgia High School All-Star game ... 13-23 in field goals as a senior including five over 50 yards and 12 over 40 yards ... hit 33 of his 54 career field goal attempts ... perfect on extra points (34-34) as a senior and 97-103 career extra-points ... also averaged 45.8 yards per punt as a senior and 43.2 yards for his career ... also played quarterback for coach Bill Cloer at Redan High ... was 40-87 passing for 751 yards and 12 touchdowns ... also ran for four TDs ... his overall play led Redan to a 12-2 record ... Superprep Magazine All-Dixie team ... Atlanta Constitution top college prospect team member and All-State ... Lindy's Magazine first-team All-South ... played defensive back as a sophomore and junior ... accounted for 173 of Redan's 283 points in 1987 ... DeKalb Touchdown Club Offensive Player-of-the-Year ... DeKalb Neighbor Player-of-the-Year ... National High School Coaches Athletic Association All-American ... fourth kicker in a row from Redan to kick in college including Chicago Bear Kevin Butler ... all-state soccer player who had 18 goals as a junior ... majoring in Parks, Recreation and Tourism Management ... born 2/7/70.

Hammond Fact: Second-team 1990 preseason All-American according to Don Heinrich's College Football Magazine

Best All-Around Game: Recorded a career high 11 tackles and a tackle for loss against Oklahoma in the 1989 Florida Citrus Bowl.

Bowl Experience: Started each of the last two bowl games and served as a reserve in the 1988 Florida Citrus Bowl against Penn State. Had 11 tackles as a starter against Oklahoma in 1989 Florida Citrus Bowl and five stops against West Virginia in 1989 Mazda Gator Bowl.

Highest Honor: Consensus first-team All-ACC for 1989.

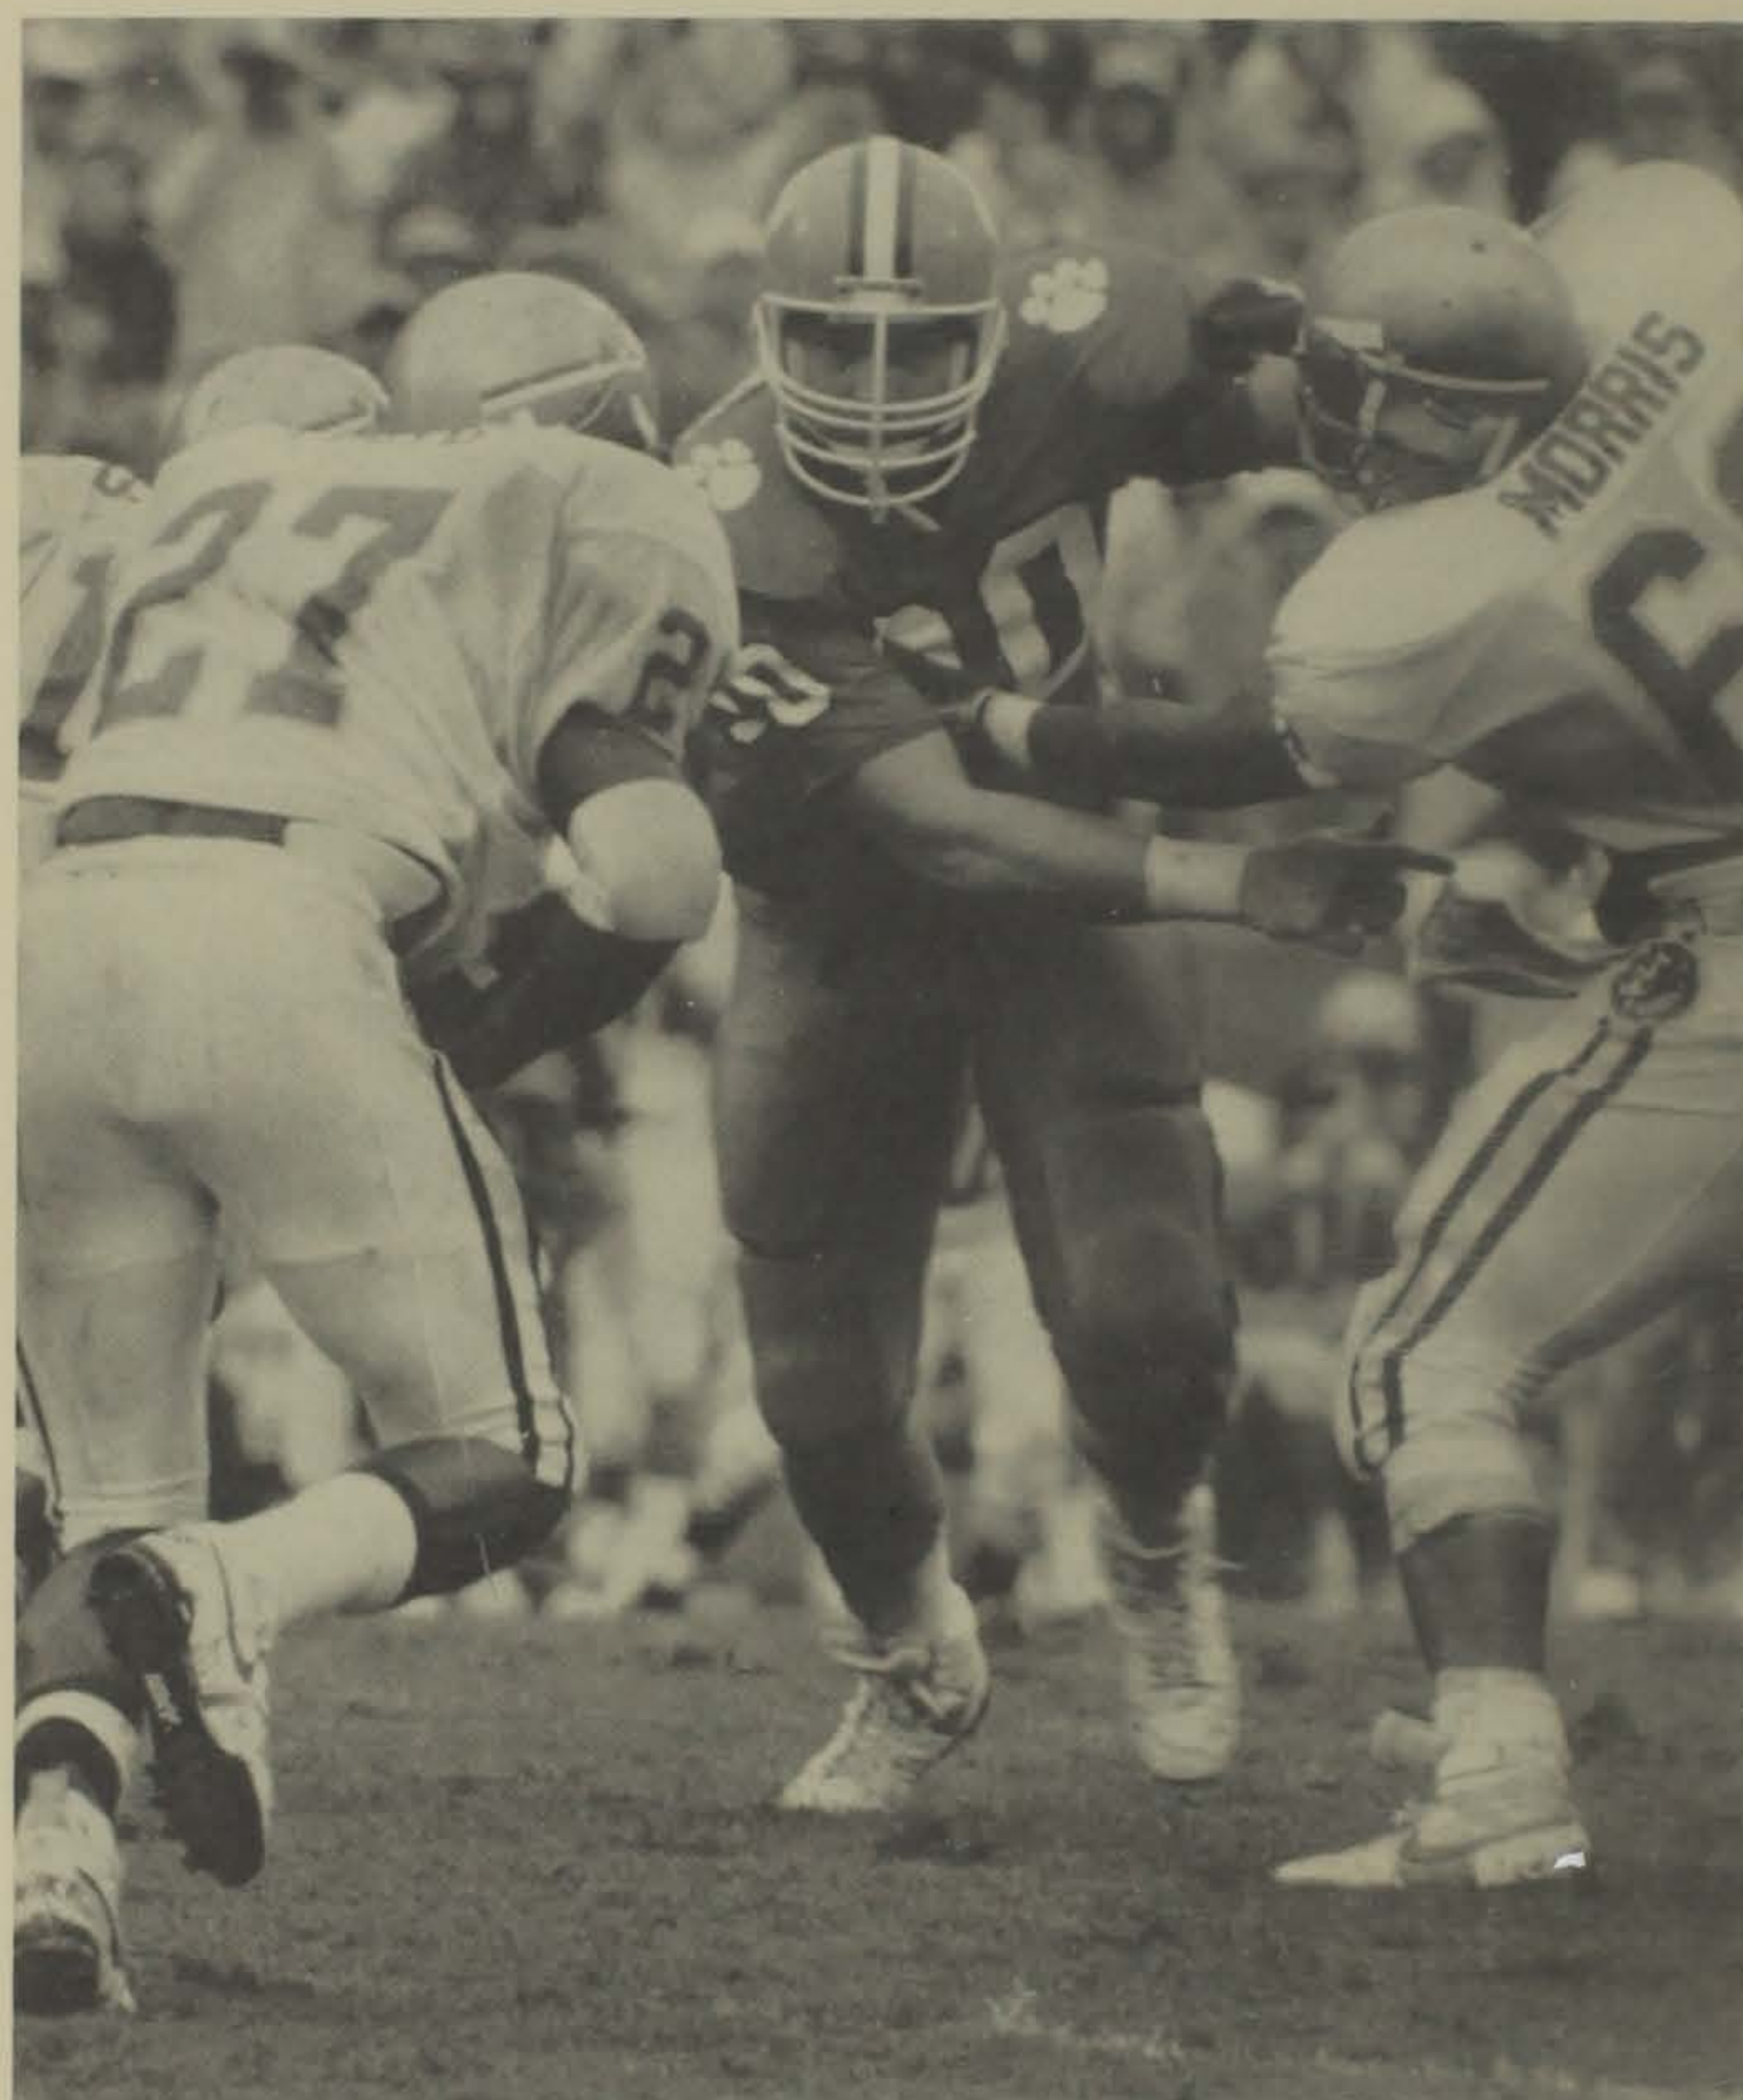

Fall 1990 Depth Chart Position: First-team defensive tackle

Years Lettered: 1987, 1988, 1989

Overview: A first-team all-conference choice by UPI and AP/ACC Sportswriters after an excellent junior season ... had 57 total tackles to his credit, that mark was second among interior linemen and was the seventh best on the team ... one of the main reasons Clemson was fifth in nation in scoring defense ... honorable mention All-American by Football News ... one of only two returning down linemen to have started a game for the Tigers ... had five tackles for loss for the 1989 season, costing Clemson opponents 21 yards ... tied for second on the squad in quarterback pressures, he had 13 ... the tallest defensive lineman in Clemson history at 6-7 ... has the strength to go along with his size, his bench press figure of 420-pounds ranks sixth on the 1990 squad ... has a 770-pound leg sled mark and power cleans 265-pounds ... agile for his stature, his 29½-inch vertical jump and 112-inch standing broad jump lead all interior linemen, as does his 10:22 clocking in the 1½ mile run ... tied for second on the team in flexibility, he can sit flat on the floor and reach 11 inches past his toes.

In 1989: Had his highest tackle total of the season in the Duke contest when he made 10 stops and had a quarterback pressure ... had perhaps his best all-around game in the Tigers' victory over South Carolina, when he made seven tackles, including a four-yard sack and one other six-yard tackle for loss, broke up a Gamecock pass, and had a quarterback pressure ... also had a good performance against the Wolfpack of N.C. State, when he had eight total tackles, including one for loss and pressured the State quarterback four times ... he was named the ACC Defensive Lineman-of-the-Week for that effort ... made five stops and pressured West Virginia's Major Harris three times in the Gator Bowl win ... had five or more tackles in eight games ... started all 12 games for the Tigers, he saw a career high in terms of action at Duke, when he was in for 63 plays ... had five tackles in only 26 plays in the season opener versus Furman.

In 1988: Started seven contests in 1988 after not starting any as a freshman ... in for 354 plays in 1988, the highest total among underclassmen defensive linemen ... had the best game of his career with 11 tackles against Oklahoma, the top figure by a Clemson defensive lineman and the second highest total on the Clemson team for that day ... had six more stops than any other Clemson defensive down lineman that day ... saw his most action of the season against the Sooners with 40 plays of action, he had six individual first hits and one tackle for loss ... had a season low 17 plays against North Carolina, but he had an interception in that contest ... will be remembered for his 29-yard interception return against the Tar Heels, the only interception for a Clemson down lineman in 1988 ... it set up Clemson's first score in a 37-14 victory ... it was the first interception by a Clemson down lineman since the 1987 Virginia Tech game when Michael Dean Perry had one and the first in Death Valley since 1985 ... had 49 tackles for the season, third best among defensive linemen ... took over at starting tackle slot at Georgia Tech and started seven of the last nine games ... had his only sacks against Virginia Tech and Virginia ... only Tiger to record at least one tackle for loss in each of the first five games ... had eight tackles for loss for the season, third best total on the team ... had five or more tackles in eight games with a regular season high of seven at Wake Forest ... did not finish the regular season strong with just four tackles over the last three regular season games, but came on like gangbusters in the bowl game.

In 1987: Reserve defensive tackle who played well in the first six games ... in for 60 plays over the first six games, then contracted a virus that kept him out of three straight games ... played, but did not register a tackle in the last two regular season games ... had his first career sack against Georgia Tech ... he also had a QB pressure and two tackles in that contest ... played 18 snaps against Georgia Tech for his longest playing stint of the season ... had his best day in terms of coaches grade against Duke when he graded out at 78 percent ... had two stops in the opener and one against Virginia ... also had a tackle and a quarterback pressure against Penn State in the Citrus Bowl ... suffered a fractured ankle during the spring of 1988 and missed two weeks of work, including the Spring Game.

In 1986: Sat out the season as a red-shirt.

In High School: A USA Today Top-25 pick from Dorman High School ... coached by Al Clark ... one of the Tigers' most decorated recruits for 1986 ... selected to numerous All-American and all-state teams, including Orlando Sentinel's Southeast Sweet-16, Bally All-American, the Sporting News Top 100 ... lettered a total of seven times as a prepster, three on the gridiron and four in basketball ... chosen captain of the football team as a senior and named MVP as well ... helped Dorman's basketball team to two straight Regional and Upper-State titles ... named MVP in basketball both as a junior and senior ... collected all-area honors in both football and basketball two consecutive seasons ... played in the Shrine Bowl football game, and the South Carolina high school basketball all-star game as a senior ... played with Notre Dame quarterback Tony Rice in the South Carolina high school all-star basketball game ... father played football for Wingate and brother played football at Newberry ... his father is a state highway patrolman and patrols traffic and the sidelines on game days at Clemson ... he has done so for over 20 years and he brought Vance to Tiger games as a youth ... majoring in industrial education ... born 12/4/67 in Spartanburg, SC.

All-ACC

Harmon Fact: Entering his senior year, Harmon has already started more games at OG than any other Clemson player in history.

Best All-Around Game: Had a career high 13 knockdown blocks and graded 74 percent against Virginia in 1989.

Bowl Experience: Has started each of the last three bowl games and can become first Clemson player to start in four bowl games on the offensive line. Has had 17 knockdown blocks in the three games combined and has played 145 snaps.

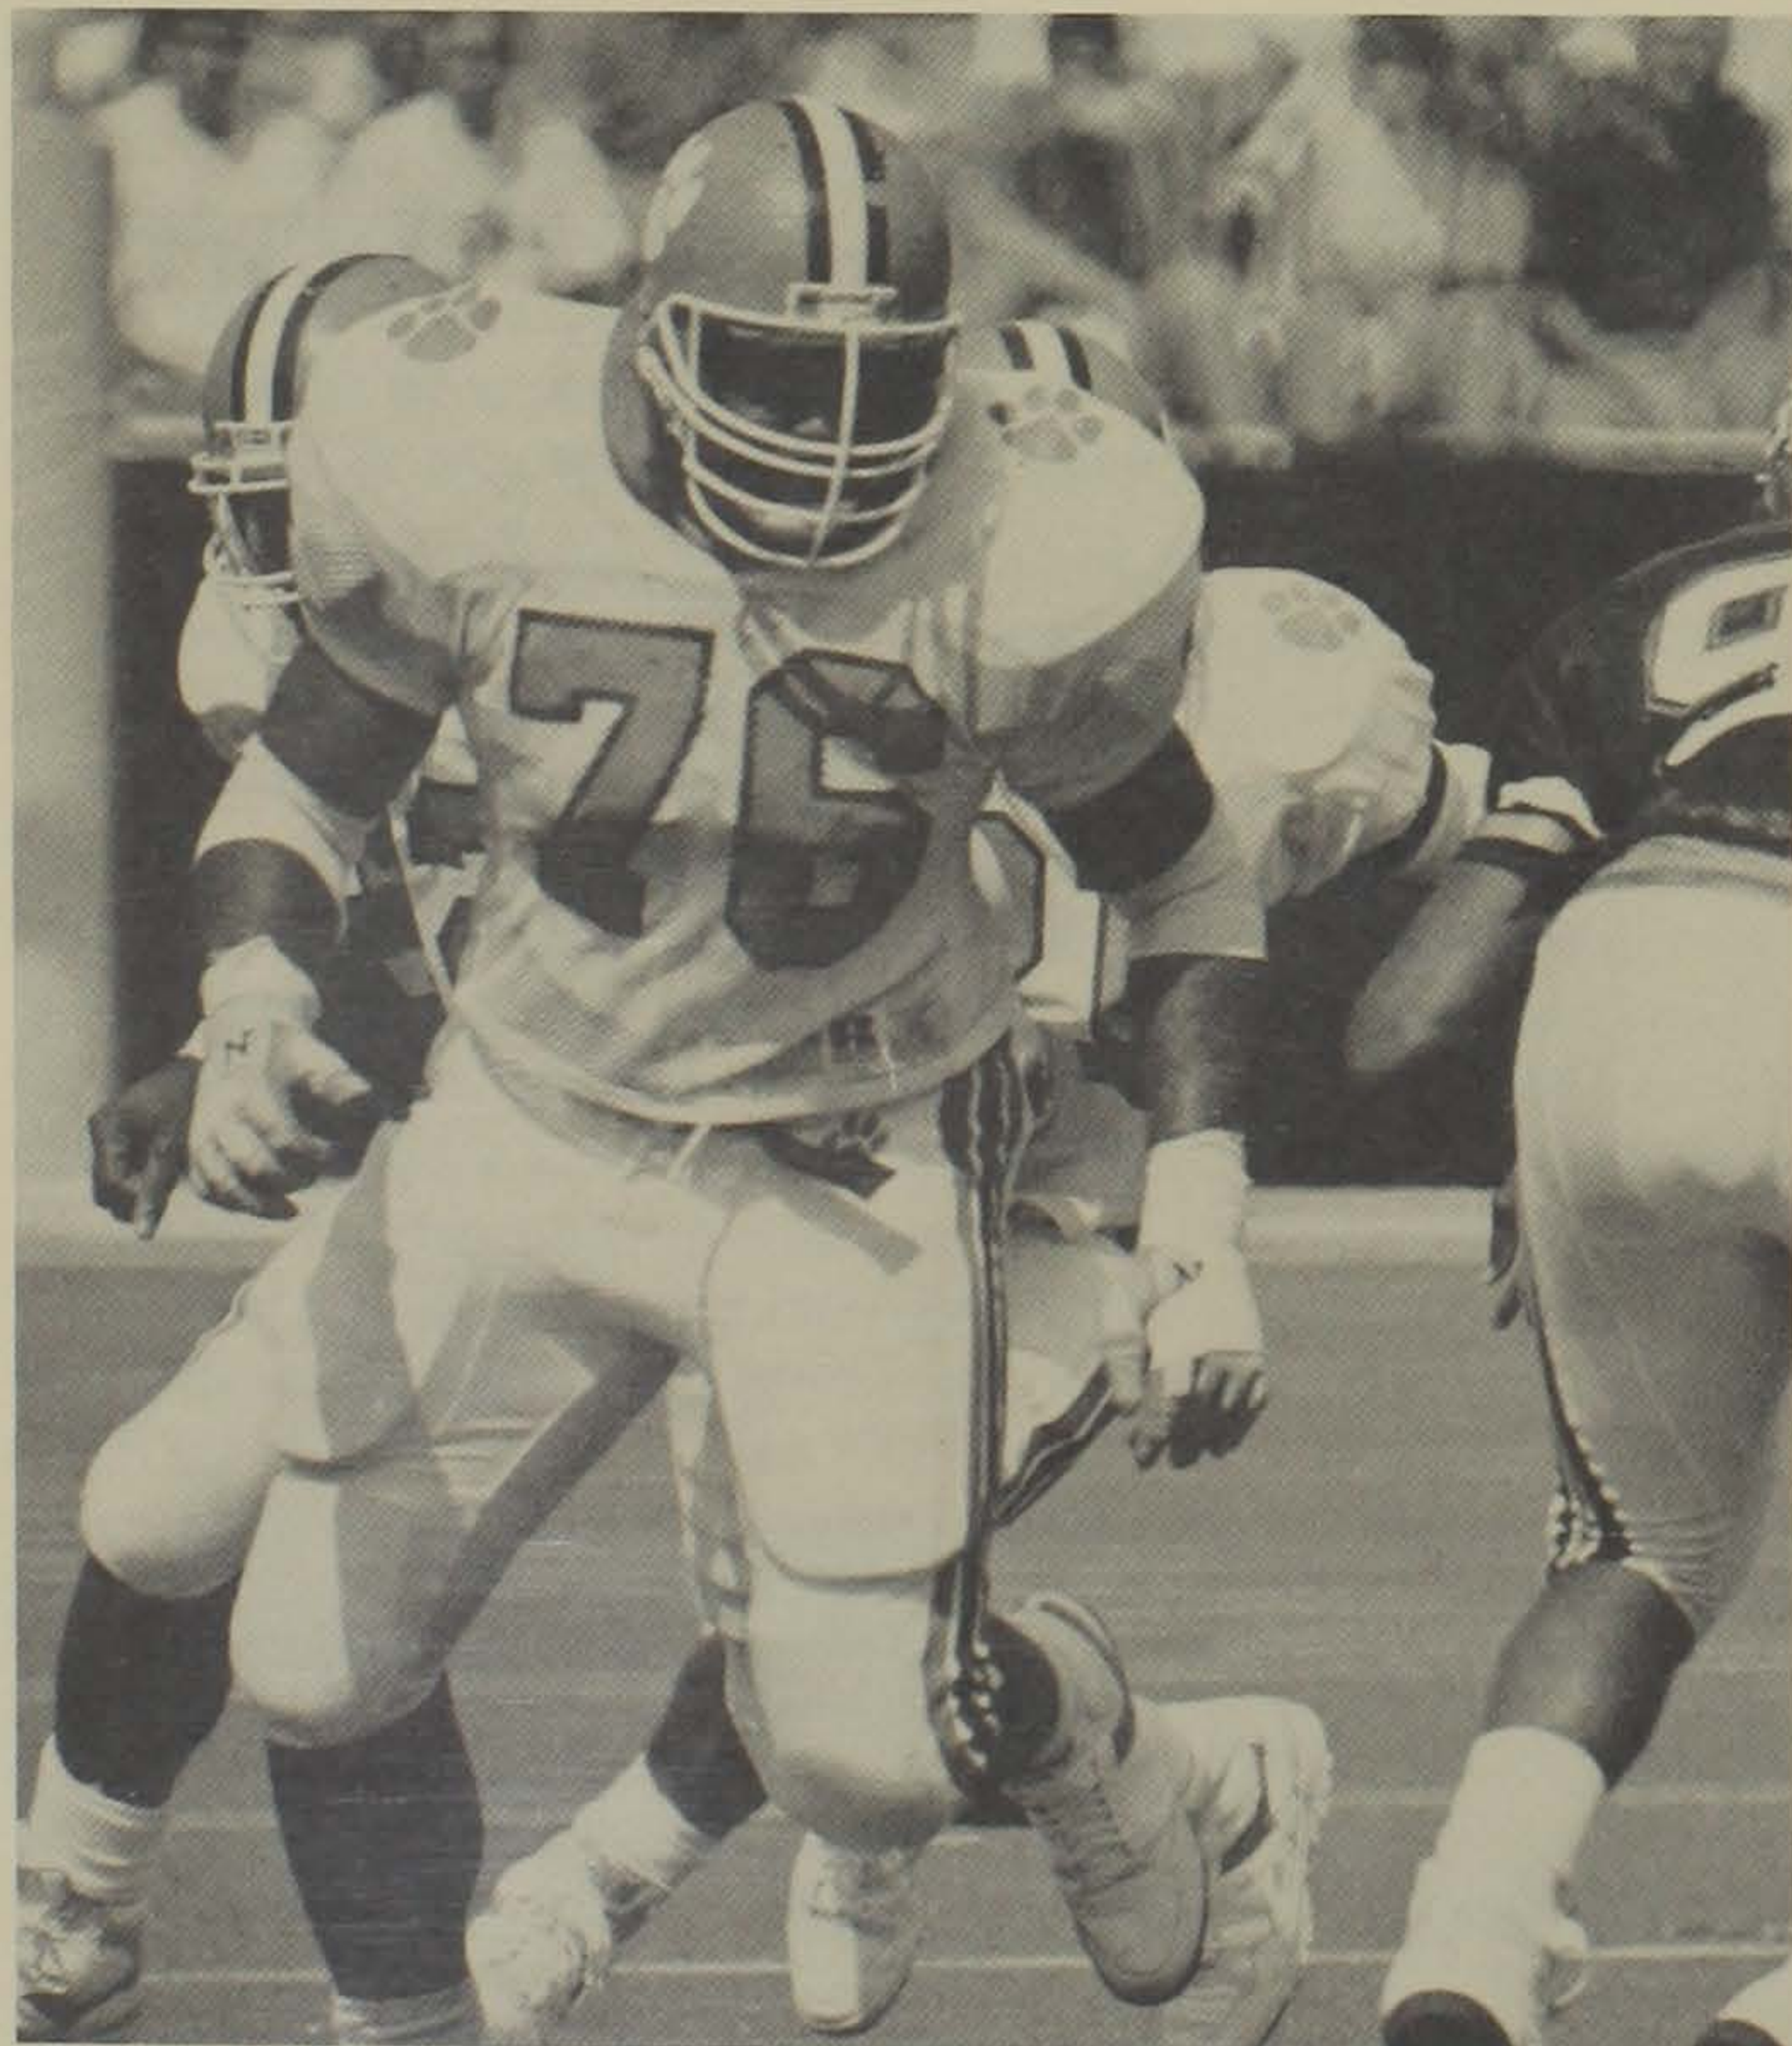

Highest Honor: 1989 preseason second-team All-American by Gameplan Magazine and first-team 1989 All-ACC by UPI.

Years Lettered: 1987, 1988, 1989

At Clemson: First-team All-ACC selection by UPI who has missed just one start in his career in 36 possible games, that was the Wake Forest game at Clemson last season ... missed the contest due to knee surgery ... had a knee problem all season and had arthroscopic surgery on Oct. 22 to remove floating foreign particles ... he was back in the starting lineup just 13 days after surgery ... had started 32 in a row prior to that game ... has more career knockdown blocks than any other active Clemson offensive lineman ... has 197 and is on track to set a Clemson record for an offensive lineman in 1990 ... John Phillips holds the all-time mark with 245 KDs ... Clemson has won 29 of the 35 games he has started over his career, so he is a proven winner ... veteran of 2095 plays in his career, more than any other returning senior ... a major reason Clemson was 16th in the nation in rushing offense last season and a big reason Clemson has been in the top 20 in the nation in rushing all three of his seasons at Clemson ... had 86 knockdown blocks, the high total among offensive linemen last season and the high total among returnees to the 1990 club ... honorable mention All-American by the Football News ... named first-team 1990 preseason All-ACC by the Sporting News preseason magazine.

In 1989: Led Clemson in knockdown blocks five times last season, more than any other Clemson player ... finished the regular season strong with an 83 percent grade against North Carolina and 82 percent at South Carolina ... had 26 knockdown blocks over the last three games ... led the team in KDs in three of the first four games, including 12 at Virginia Tech ... ACC Offensive Lineman-of-the-Week against Maryland when he graded 82 percent and had nine knockdowns ... had a career high 13 knockdowns and graded 74 percent in the win over Virginia when Clemson had over 200 yards rushing and passing ... injury slowed him against Georgia Tech and N.C. State, but he responded for the final three games of the season ... ended the 1989 season on a streak of grading in the 70s or better for six straight games, the longest streak of his career ... one of the strongest players on the Clemson team, his 460-pound bench press is best by a Tiger offensive player since 1985 and is second on the 1990 team ... his 900-pound leg sled mark is tied for fifth ... power cleans 285-pounds and has a 28-inch vertical jump ... leads the offensive line in sit-ups, he can do 75 in a one-minute period.

In 1988: Another in a growing line of offensive linemen who have come to Clemson from the Northeast ... only offensive lineman in Clemson history to start 24 games over his first two seasons ... has been in for at least 39 snaps in every regular season game and his career low was 29 in the Oklahoma game in the Citrus Bowl ... has averaged nearly 60 plays a game over his first three seasons with a high of 79 at N.C. State in 1988 ... an honorable mention All-American according to the Football News in 1988 when he had 58 knockdown blocks, the second highest total among returning players for 1989 ... had his best game of 1988 against Georgia Tech when he received a grade of 76 and registered a season high eight knockdown blocks ... also graded out at 76 percent in the ACC clinching win over Maryland ... had at least three knockdown blocks in every game and had at least five in six of the 12 games ... had excellent game against Wake Forest with a 72 grade and seven knockdowns, and he also had seven knockdowns against North Carolina ... in for 738 plays in 1988 and only seniors Jeff Bak and Rodney Williams saw more playing time ... had four grades in the 70s as a sophomore with the high being the 76 at Tech and the 76 at Maryland.

In 1987: First Clemson freshman offensive lineman to start every game since 1944 and just the second freshman regardless of position in the decade of the eighties to start every game ... Henry Walls is the only other Tiger in that time period to start every game as a freshman, the Tigers played just 11 games that year (1983) ... ninth on the team in total plays ... perhaps the most improved offensive lineman on the Clemson team over the course of the season ... had to beat out a returning starter who was a preseason All-ACC choice by many services, Pat Williams ... started every game at guard and he had an average of 59 plays of action ... in for 662 plays for the season ... started, played 51 snaps and had four knockdown blocks against Penn State in 1988 Citrus Bowl ... had a season high eight knockdown blocks vs. Wake Forest and had 53 for the year, a Clemson freshman record ... his endurance at the end of the UNC game was a prime reason Clemson had a seven-minute drive to the winning field goal ... in for at least 39 plays in every game and at least 40 plays against every ACC team.

In 1986: Red-shirt at offensive guard.

In High School: Named honorable mention All-American by The Sporting News ... played both offense and defense for Butch Gale at Woodrow Wilson High School ... a real force on defense as he made 103 total tackles and was credited with nine and one-half sacks his senior season ... named to The Philadelphia Inquirer's All-Area and All-South Jersey teams both his junior and senior prep seasons ... a two-sport star, he won seven varsity letters, four in football and three in track ... high school teammate of offensive tackle Kelvin Hankins ... majoring in industrial education ... born 3/3/67 in Marion, IN.

Overview: Senior leader of the outside linebacking corps named Best in the Nation by the 1990 Sporting News preseason book ... named first-team preseason All-ACC by that same publication ... another of the Tigers' quick, hard-hitting linebackers, his 1989 tackle total ranked third on the entire team in his first year as a full-time starter ... a second-team all-conference choice according to the AP/ACC Sportswriters ... has 33 quarterback pressures for his career, that total leads all active Tigers ... ninth in Clemson history in quarterback sacks with 10.5 ... had 68 total tackles for the season and tied for the second highest quarterback pressure figure on the team with 13 for the season.

In 1989: Opened the season in fine fashion, leading the team in tackles in the season opener with Furman ... had eight stops in that victory, including an 11-yard sack, an amazing total considering he was only in for 28 plays ... also had eight tackles in the victory over Maryland ... consistent performer who accumulated five or more tackles in 10 games last season ... helped lead the defense in the Tigers' victory over Florida State, he had seven tackles and three quarterback pressures in that important game ... had five tackles in the Virginia, Georgia Tech, South Carolina, and West Virginia contests, all five were first hits against the Gamecocks ... in the win over the Cavaliers of Virginia he also had three quarterback pressures ... in the Gator Bowl clash with West Virginia, he had three quarterback pressures, as well as five tackles and a two-yard sack ... had back-to-back six-tackle performances versus N.C. State and Wake Forest ... had his lowest tackle total of the season at North Carolina with three stops, he was in for only 25 plays in that contest ... saw his most action against Duke, he was in for 62 snaps ... quickest outside linebacker since Clemson coaches began keeping strength stats in 1985, he has run a 4.41 in the 40-yard dash on the indoor track ... smallest among the Tigers' top-four OLBs at 217 pounds, but he has the second best leg sled (735) in that group and is tied for the best power clean figure at 309-pounds ... that figure ranks in a tie second on the Tiger defense ... his 6.37 power ratio is second among OLBs and his 40-yard dash-time is first ... had 27 tackles in spring scrimmages, including three sacks for 25 yards.

In 1988: Had two strikingly similar seasons in his first two years at Clemson ... started off the season very well, then tapered off due to injury at midseason, and finished with consistency ... had a toe injury in 1987 and neck problem in 1988 ... played 388 snaps as a freshman and 384 as a sophomore ... had 52 tackles as a freshman and 50 as a sophomore ... picked up six tackles for loss as a freshman and seven as a sophomore ... had 11 quarterback pressures as a frosh and nine as a sophomore ... owned Virginia Tech in his first two years, he has had 17 tackles, including five total tackles for loss and 3.5 sacks ... went over the 100-tackle mark against Oklahoma in the Citrus Bowl ... only Jesse Hatcher had more quarterback pressure than Johnson's 1988 total (20) ... split time with Jesse Hatcher as a freshman and with Levon Kirkland as a sophomore ... had a fine 1989 spring, he was named most improved outside linebacker by the Clemson staff ... had 41 tackles in the spring of 1989, but 35 were first hits, evidence of his quickness and ability to read the play ... led the team in tackles for loss during the spring with 11 and had four quarterback sacks ... had at least one tackle in every game of his career except the Maryland game of 1988 when he was in for just three snaps due to a neck problem ... had his best game against Florida State on national TV when he registered a career high 10 tackles, including two for losses and one sack ... also had two quarterback pressures in his 55 plays of action and had the Goody's Headache Hit-of-the-Game ... had opened the year with eight tackles against Virginia Tech and had 23 tackles over the first three games of the season to rank tied for first on the team ... ended the year 10th on the club ... ACC Defensive Lineman-of-the-Week against Virginia Tech in the season opener ... plagued by an injured neck starting with the Georgia Tech game in Atlanta ... played just 22 snaps against Duke because of it and just three at Maryland.

In 1987: First-team Freshman All-American according to Sporting News ... also a mid-season Star of the Future pick by the Sporting News ... top freshman tackler on the team with 52, most tackles by a Clemson freshman since Raymond Chavous had 56 in 1984 ... third on the team in quarterback sacks with 4.5 ... also third in quarterback pressures with 11 ... had a consistent season that got off to a great start when he led Clemson in tackles in his second college game ... had nine tackles at Virginia Tech, including two tackles for loss and 1.5 sacks ... did not have over five tackles again, however, until the South Carolina game when he had seven, including a sack ... averaged 33 plays per game as a freshman ... had over 80 percent in terms of coaches grade in each of the first three games ... competed with the Clemson track team during the winter of 1988 ... letterwinner who competed in two meets, Feb. 13 Clemson Open and the ACC Championships ... ran 55 meters and 200 meters ... has career bests of 6.41 in the 55 meters and 22.31 in the 200 meters ... Clemson finished 17th at the NCAAs that year, so he lettered on two Top 20 teams that year.

In High School: The number-one defensive end in the nation according to Max Emfinger's National High School Football Recruiting Service ... USA Today first-team All-America pick ... consensus all-state choice ... Dixie Dozen choice by The Orlando Sentinel ... the top player in the state of Georgia according to USA Today ... Street and Smith honorable mention All-American ... Sporting News all-American ... Adidas All-American ... earned three letters in football and three in track ... recorded 104 tackles as a senior including 16 for losses and 66 solo ... also had eight quarterback sacks and four fumble recoveries despite opponents running away from him ... had 134 tackles as a junior ... picked up three letters in track and field ... threw shot put 53'4 1/2" and discus 153'2" ... ran the 100 in 10.0 and 440 in 55.6 ... member of school-record 440m relay team ... played high school football with quarterback DeChane Cameron and linebacker Kenzil Jackson ... played at LaGrange High School for Gary Guthrie ... majoring in industrial education ... born 5/8/68.

All-ACC

Kirkland Fact: Already seventh in Clemson history in career quarterback sacks, he is just halfway through his career.

Best All-Around Game: Had a career high 13 tackles, three tackles for loss, a sack and an interception at Maryland in 1988.

Bowl Experience: MVP of the 1989 Mazda Gator Bowl when he had nine tackles, a sack and three quarterback pressures on Major Harris. Had eight stops as a freshman against Oklahoma in the 1989 Florida Citrus Bowl.

Highest Honor: MVP of the 1989 Mazda Gator Bowl and first-team All-ACC by UPI.

Fall 1990 Depth Chart Position: First-team outside linebacker.

Years Lettered: 1988, 1989

Overview: The leader of Clemson's group of linebackers named "Best in the Nation" by the Sporting News preseason book ... that publication ranked him as the fifth best outside linebacker in the nation and a first-team all-conference choice ... named first-team All-ACC by UPI, he won second-team honors from AP/ACC Sportswriters ... MVP of the 1989 Mazda Gator Bowl, he had nine tackles, a five-yard sack, a pass broken up, a caused fumble, and pressured West Virginia's Major Harris three times ... second-leading tackler for the Tigers in 1989 with 77 stops to his credit ... tied for second on the team in tackles for loss with nine, he cost the opposition more yards than any other Tiger (70) ... also second on the team in sacks last season, he nailed the opponents' quarterbacks 6.5 times for a loss of 64 yards ... that negative yardage total was best on the team ... fourth in the ACC in sacks ... already seventh in Clemson history in quarterback sacks with 12 after only two years ... led the team in quarterback pressures with 16, he had at least one hurry in all but three games ... preseason ACC Defensive Player of the Year by 1990 Sporting News Yearbook.

In 1989: Led the team in tackles twice last season, versus Virginia Tech and North Carolina ... had six stops at VPI, including a tackle for loss ... also picked off a Hokie pass in that contest, returning it 47 yards for a touchdown ... he accomplished all of this in only 25 plays ... won ACC Defensive Lineman-of-the-Week honors for that performance ... also won ACC Defensive Back-of-the-Week honors for his efforts at North Carolina ... led the Tigers in tackles against the 'Heels with nine including two sacks for a loss of 21 yards and another five-yard tackle for loss ... also broke up two UNC passes, intercepted a pass, caused a fumble, and pressured the quarterback while once again seeing only 25 snaps ... in the Tigers' win over Florida State, nabbed the ballcarrier five times, including an 11-yard quarterback sack and had two quarterback pressures ... had three pressures in Clemson's victory over N.C. State to go with his eight tackles ... had five or more tackles in nine games last season, his high tackle total was nine versus Maryland, Georgia Tech, UNC, and West Virginia ... in for only 26 plays versus South Carolina, he had six tackles, including a six-yard sack ... had the Goody's Hit-of-the-Game six times last season ... tied for second on the squad in interceptions with three, that mark also tied for fifth in the ACC ... had 11 special teams tackles, that figure was the fourth best mark on the squad ... perhaps the strongest outside linebacker ever at Clemson, many of his strength stats are the best by a player at his position since the strength coaches began keeping stats in 1985 ... has a 6.62 power ratio (strength based on bodyweight), best by a Tiger OLB since 1985 ... his bench press (385-pounds) and leg sled (800-pounds), are also best during that time period for an outside linebacker ... named Lifter-of-the-Year for the 1989-90 academic year ... has a 33½" vertical jump.

In 1988: One of the big surprises of the Clemson defense as a red-shirt freshman as he finished fifth on the team in tackles with 71 ... the top special teams tackler on the club, he had 21 special teams tackles in 1988, seven more than anyone else accumulated ... named third best special teams tackler in the nation by the Sporting News preseason book ... named to Freshman Honor Roll by the Sporting News ... split time with John Johnson as a freshman ... his 71 tackles were most ever by a Clemson freshman outside linebacker, as was his sack total (5.5) ... had a fine spring in which he had 39 tackles, including 31 first hits and five tackles for loss ... second on the club in sacks with three for his six spring scrimmages ... consistent player who had at least two tackles in every game, but one contest stood out ... had 13 tackles, an interception return for 22 yards, three tackles for loss and a sack at Maryland in the game that clinched the ACC title ... second to senior All-ACC middle guard Mark Drag in tackles for loss with nine and he also was second in sacks with 5.5 ... led the team in negative sack yardage with 62 ... had another fine all-around game against Duke when he had six tackles, a sack for 11 yards, a PBU, and a caused fumble ... caused two fumbles for the year and recovered one against South Carolina ... had a fine Citrus Bowl with eight stops in 37 plays ... had great first game at Clemson with seven tackles, including a 14-yard sack, in just 18 plays against Virginia Tech ... had five or more tackles in eight games and had at least one tackle for loss in seven different games.

In 1987: Red-shirted 1987 as an outside linebacker ... gained considerable experience during the early spring ... had six tackles in one spring scrimmage and two tackles for loss in another ... suffered a wrist injury and was forced to sit out the Spring Game.

In High School: Extremely quick linebacker who ran the 40-yard dash in 4.5 seconds ... honorable mention all-state choice ... standout performer in the 1986 North-South All-Star game at Myrtle Beach ... played outside linebacker, tight end, returned punts, and returned kickoffs for Terry Styers ... played at Lamar High School ... majoring in sociology ... born 2/17/69.

Long Fact: Named the #1 offensive tackle in the nation by The Sporting News in its preseason issue for 1990.

Best All-Around Game: Had seven knockdown blocks and an 82 percent grade in head to head battle with Ray Agnew of N.C. State (#10 pick of 1990 NFL draft) in 1989.

Bowl Experience: Has played in each of the last two bowl games, started last year against West Virginia. Had team best nine knockdown blocks and graded 79 percent against the Mountaineers. Had two knockdowns in 30 plays against Oklahoma in 1989 Florida Citrus Bowl.

Highest Honor: First-team All-American according to The Sporting News in 1989 and also a third-team AP choice in 1989.

Fall 1990 Depth Chart Position: First-team offensive tackle.

Years Lettered: 1986, 1988, 1989

Overview: Lombardi and Outland Trophy candidate for 1990 ... first-team All-American according to the 1990 Sporting News, he was a third-team choice by Associated Press last year ... named number-one offensive tackle in the nation by the 1990 Sporting News preseason book ... also a preseason All-ACC first-teamer by that publication ... first-team All-ACC by AP/ACC Sportswriters and UPI in 1989 ... also named first-team all-state ... ACC Offensive Lineman-of-the-Week in three of the last four weeks of the 1989 regular season, an unprecedented feat for a Clemson offensive lineman ... set Clemson season record for knockdown blocks by a tackle with 69 ... graded at least 79 percent in each of the last eight games, another unprecedented feat for a tackle since Clemson began keeping offensive lineman stats in 1978 ... also 1990 preseason All-American by Athlon, Football Digest and Lindy's Football Annual.

In 1989: Came out of virtual obscurity to have an All-America season ... burst on the scene as Clemson's top offensive lineman when he graded 85 percent with 10 KDs against All-American Odell Haggins and Florida State in the second game of the season ... that was his career high in grade and knockdowns at the time and it was the most KDs for a Clemson offensive tackle since Clemson has kept the KD stat (1978) ... also had 10 knockdowns against South Carolina in 52 plays and registered nine in the Gator Bowl win over West Virginia

... had 69 knockdowns for the season ... achieved all of this while playing with a hernia problem ... ACC Offensive Player-of-the-Week more than any other ACC player in 1989 ... had a superb game against Ray Agnew and N.C. State with 82 percent grade and seven knockdown blocks ... Agnew was named ACC Defensive Player-of-the-Year by UPI in 1989 ... had a season best 88 percent grade in the win over South Carolina and was a major reason Clemson rushed for a season-high 355 yards against the Gamecocks ... his 69 knockdown blocks established a Clemson record for KDs in a season by a Tiger offensive tackle ... a major reason Clemson was 16th in the nation in rushing offense ... had at least five knockdown blocks in each of the last eight games and nine of 12 contests in 1989 ... graded in the 80s in nine of the 12 games ... one of the strongest players on the Clemson team, his 440-pound bench press mark ranks fifth among active Tigers ... power cleans 295 pounds, that mark is tied for eighth on the squad ... has the second-fastest 40-yard dash time among offensive linemen and the second-best vertical jump.

In 1988: Reserve right tackle behind All-ACC performer Jeff Nunamacher ... in for 344 plays for the season, he played in all 12 games and started against Virginia Tech ... had 17 total knockdown blocks for the season, with a career high of five against South Carolina ... graded out at 80 percent over the last two regular season games against Maryland and South Carolina ... he had four knockdowns against the Terrapins ... in for a career high 45 plays against Georgia Tech.

In 1987: Sat out the 1987 season due to academic difficulties ... second-team right tackle heading into fall workouts ... returned to Clemson for January 1988 and took part in spring practice.

In 1986: Started the Georgia game at offensive tackle ... saw his most action against Georgia Tech with 17 plays and a 69 percent grade ... also played against Citadel and Virginia ... in for 53 snaps for the year ... did not play over the last five regular season games ... backup to Ty Granger at left tackle most of the season ... had only two negative plays over the last three games he played ... one of only two first-year freshmen in the decade of the 1980s to start a Clemson game in the offensive line.

In High School: A starter on both offense and defense for Coach Lloyd Bohannon at Griffin High School ... voted most valuable blocker both his junior and senior seasons ... selected to play in the annual Florida-Georgia All-Star Classic ... played in Georgia's North-South All-Star game his last year ... from same hometown as former Tiger tailback Stacey Driver ... an uncle, Keith Lynch, started for West Georgia in 1981 and 1982 ... majoring in industrial education ... born 9/30/67 in Griffin, GA.

Academic
All-ACC

Nunn Fact: Had 13 stops against Duke in 1989, the second highest total by a Clemson defensive back in the last four years.

Best All-Around Game: Had 13 tackles, a tackle for loss and two PBUs at Duke in 1989.

Bowl Experience: Started against West Virginia in 1989 Mazda Gator Bowl and had seven tackles, third highest total on the team. A reserve against Oklahoma in the 1989 Florida Citrus Bowl and Penn State in the 1988 Florida Citrus Bowl.

Highest Honor: First-team Academic All-ACC in 1989.

Fall 1990 Depth Chart Position: First-team Rover

Years Lettered: 1987, 1988, 1989

Overview: Academic All-ACC choice in 1989 ... started at strong safety for the first seven games of 1989, sat out a game with an ankle injury, and came back as a free safety ... has also spent time at cornerback during his Clemson career ... had 50 tackles to his credit for the season, including three tackles for loss, costing the opposition 25 yards ... had a 17-yard sack in the Maryland contest ... only defensive back with a sack last season, he also led the secondary in tackles for loss.

In 1989: Listed as the Tigers' starting roverback heading into preseason workouts ... injured an ankle on the opening kickoff of the N.C. State game and did not see action from scrimmage ... slowed by that injury for the last three games of the regular season, he only had three tackles over those games ... came back strong versus West Virginia with seven tackles, the third-highest total for a Tiger defender in that victory and also recovered a Mountaineer fumble ... had 40 tackles before his injury and only 10 tackles after ... had the best game of his career in the Tigers' loss to Duke, he recorded 13 tackles to lead the team, including a six-yard tackle for loss ... also broke up two Blue Devil passes in that contest ... fourth on the Clemson team in passes broken up in 1989 with eight, he had four PBUs in the Virginia contest ... had nine tackles in the win over Florida State while playing in his home state ... also broke up a pass versus the Seminoles ... recorded seven tackles, including one for a loss in the season opener versus Furman, he also caused a fumble against the Paladins ... strong athlete who is among the leaders in the Clemson defensive secondary in several strength categories ... his 370-pound bench-press mark leads Tiger DBs ... his 270 power-clean mark is third ... has a 32-inch vertical jump and a 109½" broad jump ... has improved his bench-press by 60 pounds and his leg sled by 140 pounds (650) ... earned a 3.0 GPA in marketing for the spring semester and a 3.14 for the 89-90 academic year.

In 1988: Played in 11 games in 1988, he saw action from scrimmage in nine games ... started against Furman, played 29 plays and had a season high five tackles ... fourth on the team in special teams tackles with 12 ... had five stops in the season opener against Virginia Tech, he was in for just 14 snaps ... also had four tackles at Georgia Tech in a season high 41 plays from scrimmage ... had his only interception of the year against Duke and had his only pass deflection against the Demon Deacons of Wake Forest ... saw 22 plays of action as a reserve against North Carolina ... reliable member of all special teams, especially the kickoff return defensive team ... had a grade of 86 percent in the season opener for his best of the season ... played 157 snaps for the season, some were as a safety and some as a cornerback behind All-American and first-round NFL draft pick Donnell Woolford ... Tigers practiced for Oklahoma in his hometown between December 18 and 23 ... in for eight plays in the '89 Citrus Bowl, he had two tackles.

In 1987: The nickel back in the Clemson alignment ... saw action in the secondary in 10 of the 12 games, including each of the last nine outings ... in for a season high 21 plays against Georgia Tech and had four stops ... led the team in tackles against Maryland with six ... had eight special teams tackles to lead all freshmen, he worked his way up through that team to get a shot with the defense ... had 28 tackles overall, just five off the total by starter Richard Smith ... had five stops in the Citrus Bowl, he was in for just 16 snaps ... worked as a reserve corner and strong safety ... had three PBUs for the year, including a big one against Duke that saved a touchdown in a seven-point Tiger win ... caused a fumble and had a pass broken up in his very first game ... graded out at 100 percent in four games: Western Carolina, Georgia Tech, Wake Forest, and Virginia.

In High School: A three-year starter at Dunedin High School ... played for Ken Weir ... regarded by many as a contact player who is known for his hitting ... recorded 85 tackles and two interceptions his senior year despite teams running away from his cornerback position ... high school teammate of fellow Clemson defensive back Tyron Mouzon ... majoring in marketing ... born 8/26/69.

News ACC
Rookie-of-the-Year

O'Neal Fact: Set a Clemson single season interception record with eight thefts, breaking a record that stood for nearly 40 seasons.

Best All-Around Game: Recorded six tackles, two interceptions and two PBUs at Duke in 1989.

Bowl Experience: Had four tackles, a PBU and an interception against West Virginia in starting assignment in 1989 Mazda Gator Bowl.

Highest Honor: Named ACC Rookie-of-the-Year by The Sporting News for 1989 and All-ACC by AP.

Fall 1990 Depth Chart Position: First-team Safety

Years Lettered: 1989

Overview: Named ACC Newcomer-of-the-Year by the Sporting News ... named the top first-year freshman defensive back in the nation by that same publication ... freshman sensation who won first team All-ACC honors from AP/ACC Sportswriters ... first true freshman to win all-conference honors for the Tigers ... second in voting for ACC Rookie-of-the-Year by Sportswriters Association ... 1989 ACC leader in interceptions with eight, he also ranked second nationally among freshmen ... his eight thefts also set the Clemson single season record as Fred Knoebel had seven interceptions in 1951 ... he had the record-breaker against Major Harris ... only one ACC player (UVA's Keith McMeans in 1987) had more interceptions in a single season than O'Neal over the last 17 years in the ACC, McMeans had nine to lead the nation in 1987 ... tied for 10th in the nation in interceptions, the highest ranking for a Clemson player in that category since Johnny Rembert (now with the New England Patriots) had a number-eight ranking in 1982 ... only two other freshmen nationally in the decade of the eighties have had more interceptions.

In 1989: Had his first INT in the third game of the season, he then had seven in the next nine games ... started the last four games of the season for the Tigers at free safety, he saw considerable action in the early part of the season as the nickel back in the defensive alignment ... 10th leading tackler on the Tiger defense with 53 stops to his credit, only veterans James Lott and Dexter Davis had more tackles in the secondary ... broke up nine passes, tied for the third-best total on the team in that category ... in the Duke contest, picked off two Blue Devil passes, the first time a Tiger has had two thefts in a game since 1986 ... also had six tackles that day ... had his best tackle total of the season in Clemson's victory over ACC foe N.C. State ... had nine stops in that contest and picked off a pass, returning it nine yards ... won ACC Rookie-of-the-Week honors for that performance ... also saw his season-high in terms of action in that game, he was in for 68 snaps ... tied for the team lead in tackles versus Virginia with seven, one was a tackle for loss ... also had two passes broken up and an interception in that contest ... had his longest interception return at Virginia Tech, a 55-yarder ... had six or more tackles in five games last season, he had seven stops and a PBU in the Maryland contest to win ACC Rookie-of-the-Week honors ... tied for third on the team in the 40-yard dash, he ran a 4.33 on the indoor track this spring.

In High School: A second-team USA Today All-American ... Max Emfinger honored him in the fall by naming him a second-team All-American, first-team All-South, and called him the seventh best prospect in the South ... a Street & Smith honorable mention All-American ... a Lindy's All-Georgia, Georgia Blue Chip, and first-team All-South selection ... ranked as 21st best player in nation by Super-Prep ... Athlon's Atlantic Coast Blue Chipper ... the Atlanta Con- stitution named him the eighth best player in the state and a preseason Top 11 choice ... ran a 21.6 in the 200 and long jumped 22-1 in setting school records ... one of three 1989 Tiger recruits in Joe Terranova's top 25 defensive backs ... recorded 600 yards rushing on 60 carries and 63 tackles to go along with four interceptions as a senior ... averaged seven tackles a game ... also had 15 PBUs and three fumble recoveries that year ... recorded 10 interceptions as a sophomore ... earned three letters in track and in football ... led his high school to a 10-2 season in his junior year when they allowed only 35 points all year ... participated in the Georgia-Florida All-Star game and recorded five PBUs ... ran track and finished third in the state in the 200 meters ... attended Clarkston High School ... cousin of former Tiger defensive back Kevin Brady ... majoring in industrial management ... born 2/1/71.

MITCH BELTON

5-8, 182, *Senior, CB
Columbia, SC Richland NE HS

Belton Fact: Set a Clemson single-season record with three blocked punts in 1989.

Best All-Around Game: Had two special teams tackles and a Clemson record tying two blocked punts in one quarter against Maryland in 1989.

Bowl Experience: Played on special teams in 1989 Florida Citrus Bowl vs. Oklahoma and 1989 Mazda Gator Bowl against West Virginia. Had three tackles against West Virginia to tie his single-game high.

Fall 1990 Depth Chart Position: Third-team cornerback
Years Lettered: 1988, 1989

Overview: Walk-on who made his mark in the Clemson record books last season by setting the new single season record for blocked punts with three ... also tied a Clemson single game record with two blocked punts versus Maryland ... only player in Clemson history with two blocks in one quarter.

In 1989: Had his first career block in the season opener with Furman ... blocked the kick at the 25-yardline and knocked it into the end zone where Tony Mauney fell on it for a Tiger touchdown ... tied Wingo Avery's single game record when he blocked two punts in the win over Maryland ... the first came early in the second quarter when he knocked the ball from the 32 to the seven-yardline, setting up a Terry Allen touchdown that put the Tigers up, 17-7 ... blocked another Terp kick later in the second quarter ... saw action mainly on special teams, he led the team in special teams tackles with 15, nine of which were first hits ... had a career-high three tackles versus Furman, all were on special teams ... also had three stops in the Gator Bowl win over West Virginia ... saw action in all 12 games on special teams but saw just six snaps from scrimmage ... in for a season high 16 special teams plays against the Paladins, he was in for 16 snaps against Wake Forest also ... boasts incredible strength for his small stature, his pound-for-pound power ratio is the second best on the Clemson squad ... that mark is best ever by a defensive back ... had 11 tackles including a 10-yard sack in spring drills while also recovering a fumble ... a prime reason Clemson's special teams ranked second best in the nation in 1990 The Sporting News pre-season issue ... bench presses 335 pounds, a 75-pound improvement since 1987 ... quite an accomplishment considering he is only 182 pounds ... has upped his led-sled mark by 170 pounds, it now stands at 770 ... power cleans 275 pounds ... has a 29" vertical jump.

In 1988: A vital member of Clemson's special teams in 1988 ... saw action in all 12 games on special teams, he had five special teams tackles ... played cornerback against Virginia Tech in the opener for his first action in the secondary in his career ... severely burned an arm in high school when radiator cap in his car exploded ... ironically, he was on his way to a South Carolina football game ... sat out 1986 at Clemson ... had a fine spring 1989 workout, he had 22 tackles in six spring scrimmages ... 16 of those tackles were first hits ... also broke up a pass, blocked two kicks (foreshadowing of things to come) and had an interception which he returned for 20 yards during spring drills.

In High School: Played for Dean Fowble at Richland Northeast in Columbia, SC ... earned two letters in football and four in wrestling, which accounts for his strength ... played on a Richard NE team that won the conference championship ... majoring in management ... born 3/31/68 in Columbia, SC.

Beville Fact: A prime reason Chris Gardocki has booted 41 field goals in the last two years, a Clemson record for field goals over consecutive seasons.

Best All-Around Game: Had 13 flawless snaps against N.C. State in 1989, his high for snaps in a game in his career. Prime reason Chris Gardocki kicked three field goals and averaged 46 yards per punt that day.

Bowl Experience: Has handled all of Clemson's snaps in the 1989 Florida Citrus Bowl against Oklahoma and in 1989 Mazda Gator Bowl against West Virginia.

Fall 1990 Depth Chart Position: First-team Snapper.
Years Lettered: 1988, 1989

At Clemson: Has served as the Tigers' snapper for the past two years, he saw action for 93 special teams plays in 1989 ... snapper for All-ACC kicker Chris Gardocki on 29 field goal attempts and 48 punts ... that duo has worked together on 61 field goal attempts and 93 punts in the past two years ... has worked hard in the weight room since coming to Clemson, his 315-pound bench press is an 80-pound improvement ... has increased his leg-sled mark by 70 pounds, it now stands at 650 ... has a 30-inch vertical jump, that is a 5½" improvement since 1986.

In 1988: Saw action for 77 special team plays and 38 PATS ... had five special teams tackles for the season, four were first hits ... snapper for second-team All-ACC kicker Chris Gardocki on 32 field goal attempts and 45 punts.

In 1987: Third-team middle linebacker heading into the fall of 1987, he suffered a knee injury in August practice that sidelined him for most of the season ... moved to tight end during the fall and saw four plays of action from that position.

In 1986: Red-shirted the 1986 season as a linebacker, but he had a fine performance in the spring scrimmages ... did not play in the Spring Game due to a knee injury suffered in the last scrimmage ... had nine tackles in the March 27 scrimmage, second best total on the day and had two other scrimmages of five tackles.

In High School: All-state performer who played for Jim Simmons at Forest High School ... played quarterback during his first two years of high school ... started every game for four straight years ... led prep team with 135 tackles at linebacker his senior season ... chosen FHS's most valuable defensive player for 1985 ... also lettered in baseball ... majoring in management ... born 12/18/68 in St. Augustine, FL.

I'm as good as anyone else at: Playing the piano
When people first meet me they think: I'm devious and 26-years-old
When I'm feeling sorry for myself I: Go to my room and call someone I can confide in My advice to youngsters is: Leave all the drugs alone, get your education

Deaf Valley

Although Clemson Memorial Stadium has been known as Death Valley for quite some time, it might have gotten its reputation as "Deaf Valley" in 1980. At the Virginia Tech vs. Clemson game that season the Gobblers were making a run at the Tigers and had a second-and-goal at the Clemson one. Two plays later they were still at the one and on fourth-down Death Valley became Deaf Valley. Eight times VPI went to the line of scrimmage and eight times QB Steve Casey backed away from the center because of the crowd noise. After 16 minutes the Gobblers decided they were going to run a play, but they were called for illegal procedure. The five-yard penalty forced them to go for a field goal, which was converted. But, Clemson went on to a 13-10 win and the Clemson crowd went home feeling they had truly had an effect on the outcome of the game. The NCAA crowd noise rule was put on the books the next year.

Clemson Notes

Clemson's seniors need nine wins in 1990 to break their immediate predecessor's ACC record for wins by a class.

Seniors Chase Record

This year's seniors will be seeking to break a record of note held by its immediate predecessors. The 1990 Clemson seniors need just nine wins to become the winningest class in ACC history. The group has a 30-6 ledger heading into their senior seasons. The league record for wins in a four-year period is 38 held by the Clemson seniors of 1989, who finished with a 38-8-2 mark. They needed the 27-7 win over West Virginia to break the record of 37, held by the Clemson classes of 1984 and 1981 and the Maryland class of 1978.

The group has an 83.3 percent winning percentage and that ranks fifth in ACC history heading into this season. The Maryland classes of 1953 and 1954 hold the record with 86.3 percent off a 34-5-1 record. It would take a 12-0 record for Clemson's 1990 seniors to get that record. Also, a 7-0 league mark would tie the ACC record for league wins in a four-year period.

Belton Sets Record, Ties Another

Clemson walk-on defensive back Mitch Belton blocked two punts against Maryland in 1989, giving him three blocked punts for the season. He became the first Clemson player to block three punts in a season and the second to block two punts in one game. Belton, a native of Columbia, actually blocked two punts in the same quarter of the 31-7 Maryland win.

Wingo Avery blocked two punts against The Citadel in 1954 and that is the only other time an individual has blocked two punts in one game. The single season record for blocked punts was two, held by three players. Chuck Rose blocked two punts in 1980, the only time in the 1980s a player had two blocked punts in the same season prior to Belton's heroics. Avery had two in 1954 and Tom Salisbury had a pair for the 1944 club. Belton is a major reason Clemson's special teams are ranked second best in the nation by the Sporting News preseason book.

Tigers in the Pros

Clemson had 19 former players in the NFL and two more in the Canadian ranks last year. The contingent was led by David Treadwell of the Denver Broncos, Michael Dean Perry of the Cleveland Browns and Johnny Rembert of the New England Patriots, all of whom participated in the Pro Bowl in Honolulu.

Five former Tigers were rookies last year, including Treadwell and Donnell Woolford of the Chicago Bears, who were starters in their first seasons. Perry was in just his second season and was chosen to many All-Pro teams. The player with the most longevity is Jeff Bostic, who has completed 10 years with the Washington Redskins and is a veteran of 132 games. Terrence Flagler was a member of the Super Bowl Champion San Francisco 49ers and earned his second Super Bowl ring.

Preseason Ratings

Clemson is prominently mentioned in some of the early 1990 preseason publications. The Sporting News ranks the Tigers 10th as does the College & Pro Football Weekly and Don Heinrich's College Football Magazine. Clemson is 11th in the preseason poll by the Football Writers.

As far as individual mention, Stacy Long is a consensus preseason All-American. Don Heinrich calls Long the top offensive lineman in the nation and a top Outland Trophy candidate. The native of Griffin, GA is also rated as the top offensive tackle in the nation by The Sporting News.

The Sporting News lists Long (1st team), Chris Gardocki (2nd team), Doug Brewster (2nd team) and Levon Kirkland (3rd team) as preseason All-Americans. Don Heinrich lists Long as a first-team choice with Gardocki, Vance Hammond and Doug Brewster as preseason second-team selections.

The Sporting News also has chosen Kirkland as the preseason ACC Defensive Player-of-the-Year in the ACC, sees Rodney Blunt as the preseason Rookie-of-the-Year and Ashley Sheppard as the top Special Teams tackler. John Hadley's fine publication also cited Larry Van Der Heyden as the top offensive assistant coach in the league. Vandy is in his 12th season as offensive line coach and first as offensive coordinator for Clemson.

TSN also chose Clemson's linebackers as best in the nation, the Special Teams are ranked second in the country, and the offensive line seventh in the nation.

Clemson Among Nation's Elite in Decade of the Eighties

Clemson had the fifth best overall record in the nation based on winning percentage in the decade of the eighties. Clemson had an overall mark of 87-25-4 for the eighties, a .767 winning percentage. Only Nebraska, Miami, BYU and Oklahoma had better winning percentages. The Tigers also had the fifth best record in con-

Howard Inducted Into Hall of Fame

Former Clemson coach Frank Howard was inducted into the National College football Foundation Hall of Fame on December 5 during ceremonies at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York City. Howard is the third former Clemson coach to make the Hall. Jess Neely and John Heisman are the others. Banks McFadden is the only former Clemson player in the Hall of Fame.

Howard, who at 81-years-old still comes to an office at the Jervy Athletic Center every day, had a record of 165-118-12 during his 30 years as the head coach at Clemson. He served the Tigers as an assistant under Neely from 1931-39, then took the head coach position from 1940-69. He took Clemson to six bowl games and eight conference championships, six ACC and two Southern. No ACC coach has ever captured more conference titles than Howard and he won exactly 100 conference (ACC and SC) games in his career. Howard still is tied for first in ACC wins by an ACC coach (96) and won more league games than any other league coach (66).

Clemson Dominates All-ACC Teams

Clemson had 11 different players chosen to either the AP or UPI first-team All-ACC club. Clemson had six players earn seven spots on the AP or ACC Sportswriters team, while 10 Tigers earned 11 spots on the 27-man UPI (coaches) team.

Larry Van Der Heyden, Clemson's offensive coordinator, was chosen the ACC's Top Offensive Assistant Coach by the Sporting News.

Clemson Football by the Decade

Clemson just closed its most successful decade of football with a 87-25-4 record. That was the fifth best winning percentage in college football for the 1980s. The Tigers had a 76.7 percent winning percentage, its best ever. The previous best winning percentage for a decade by Clemson was a 65.8 mark in the 1950s. Clemson also went to six bowls in the 1980s, winning five of them, and captured five ACC titles. Clemson won 81.4 percent of its games at home, but they did not build up the percentage with a lot of home wins. Clemson won 71.1 percent of its road games.

Of the 11 players who earned first-team status, eight are returning, meaning Clemson should have a solid nucleus for 1990. No Clemson team has ever had eight returning all-conference players, but barring injury, Clemson should have that situation for 1990.

Leading the way were Chris Gardocki and Stacy Long. Gardocki was first-team All-ACC as both the punter and the placekicker. It is the first time in ACC history that a player has earned both kicking positions. Long was a first-team choice on both the AP and UPI, and was also a first-team All-American according to the Sporting News. Both Long and Gardocki were chosen third-team AP All-American. Here is a list of Clemson's 1989 All-ACC choices.

Clemson in Weekly Rankings

Clemson was ranked in the final Top 20 of every poll last year, the fourth straight season Clemson could make that statement. The Tigers were ranked in the Top 20 in all but three weekly polls. On October 17, 1989 Clemson dropped out of the AP Top 20 for the first time in 41 polls. Clemson came back to the Top 20 on November 7 and stayed there the rest of the season. Clemson has now been ranked in the top 20 in 48 of the last 51 AP Top 20s.

Kinard on USA Today All-Decade Team

Former Clemson defensive back Terry Kinard was chosen to the first-team all-Decade team for college football by USA Today in its December 29th issue. Kinard was joined in the secondary by Deion Sanders (Florida State, 1985-88), Bennie Blades (Miami, 1984-87) and Terry Hoage (Georgia, 1980-83).

Gardocki will be the all-purpose kicker of the 1990s in pro football according to Sports Illustrated.

Kinard is still the only unanimous All-American in Clemson history, he received the honor in 1982. He was a first-team AP All-American in both 1981 and 1982 and was named CBS National Defensive Player of the Year in 1982. He had 17 career interceptions and 294 tackles to go with 30 career passes broken up. Kinard just finished his seventh season with the New York Giants, and recently signed with the Houston Oilers.

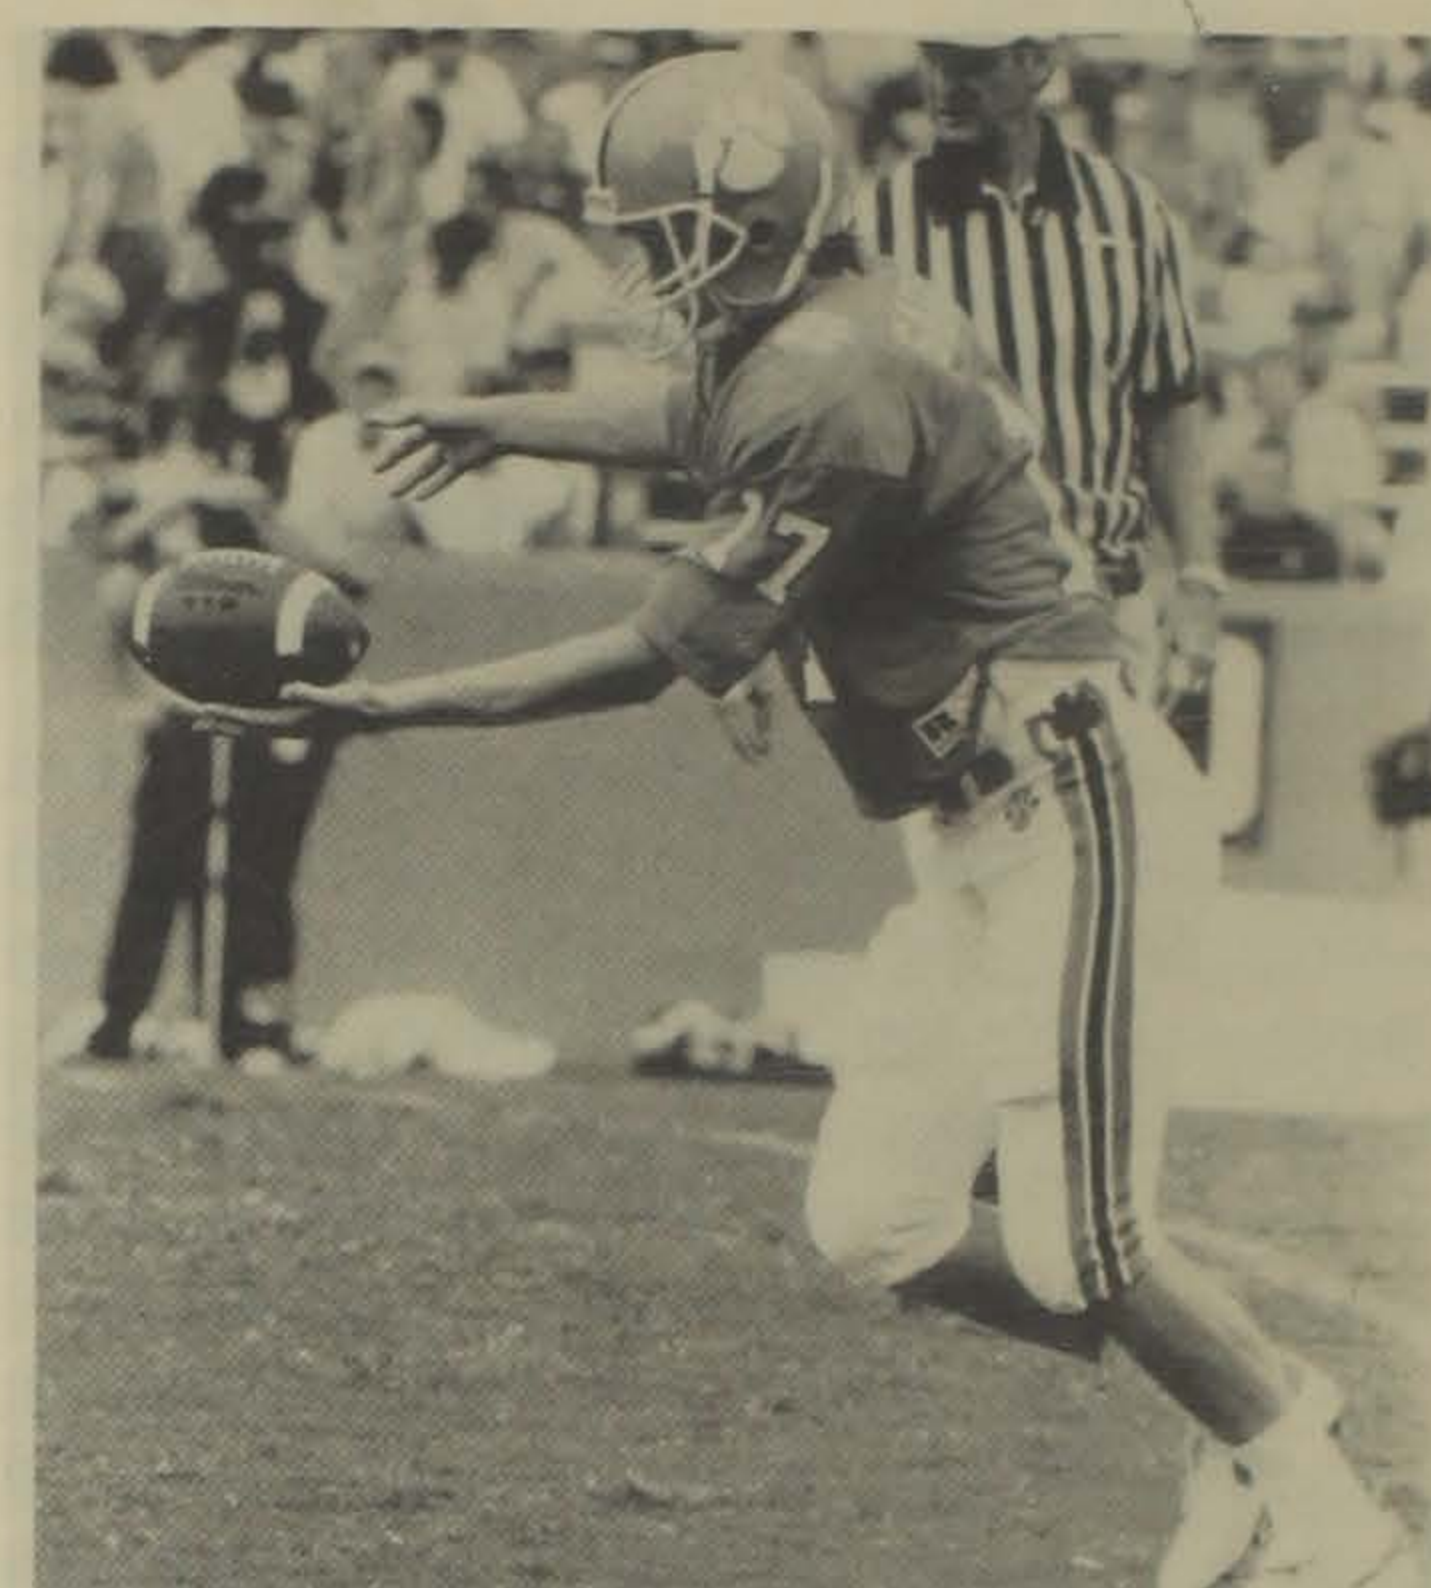

Clemson Back in Top 20

Clemson returned to the AP top 20 after the win at North Carolina last year with a number-17 ranking, up four spots from the poll prior to the North Carolina game of November 4. Clemson was ranked in the first seven AP polls last year, then dropped out of the top 25 with a loss to Georgia Tech on October 14. Clemson returned to a number-22 ranking after defeating 12th-ranked N.C. State and moved to 21 after beating Wake Forest. Clemson was 15th after the win at South Carolina and moved to 14th on November 27th when Texas A&M lost to Arkansas. The victory over West Virginia advanced Clemson to number-12, its preseason ranking. Clemson finished 11th in the final UPI poll, also the slot the UPI coaches had Clemson in the preseason poll.

Clemson was ranked in the Top 20 for 41 straight weeks over four seasons prior to its loss to Georgia Tech. That is the Clemson record for consecutive weeks ranked in the AP top 20. Thus, Clemson was ranked in the top 20 for 41 straight weeks, then dropped out for three weeks, and returned on November 7. The 1989 senior class was ranked in 52 polls over the last four years, a record for one class.

Gardocki in Top 10 Punting & Placekicking

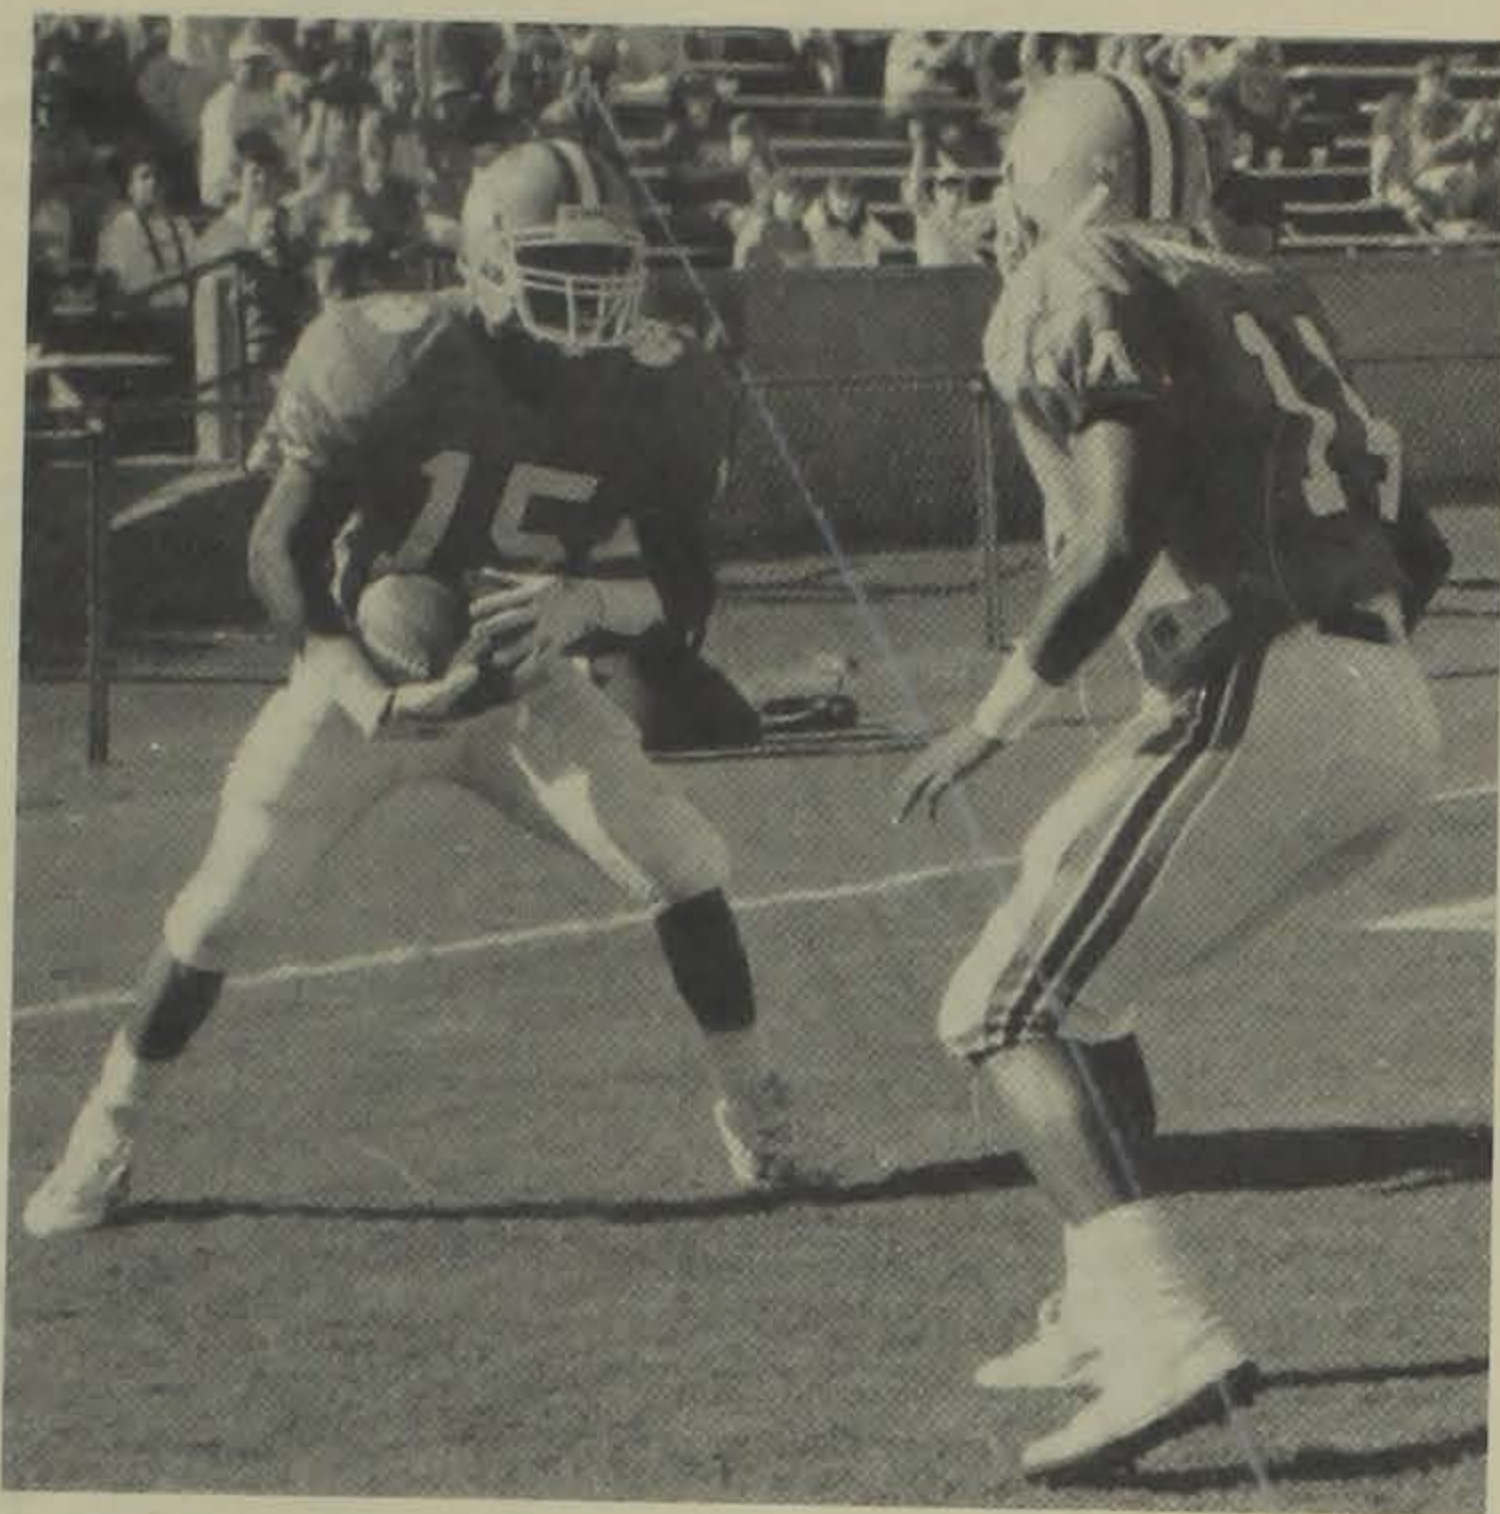

Clemson's Chris Gardocki became just the second player in NCAA history to rank in the top 10 in the nation in punting and placekicking in the same season. Gardocki tied for sixth in the nation in field goals per game with an average of 1.82 per game (20-26 in 11 regular season games) and was the 10th ranked punter with a 42.68 yard average.

The only previous NCAA division I player to rank in the top 10 in both categories is Steve Little of Arkansas. In 1977, Little ranked second in field goals (1.73 per game) and fourth in punting (44.3 average). The feat was almost accomplished in 1988 when California sophomore Robbie Keen finished third in field goals and 11th in punting.

Russell Exleben of Texas did it over a two-year period, as he finished first in the nation in punting in 1976 with a 46.6 yard average and he was fifth in field goals per game in 1977 with a 1.56 average.

When Clemson Defeated West Virginia ...

- It broke the ACC record for victories in a four-year period (38)
- It became the first ACC team to gain double figures in wins three years in a row.
- It became the first Clemson team to win four straight bowl games.
- It became the first Clemson team to finish in the Final AP Top 20 four straight years.
- It was Clemson's 18th win over a Top 20 team in the last 11 years.
- It gave Clemson seven straight wins over non-conference foes.

O'Neal had one of the top freshman seasons by a Division I defensive back in the decade of the eighties.

- It gave Clemson a 6-0 record in Florida Bowls in the last 12 years.
- It gave Clemson 87 wins in the decade of the eighties.
- It gave Clemson two bowl wins in the 1989 calendar year.
- It gave Clemson seven AP Top 20 seasons in the decade of the eighties.

Clemson on Five-Game Winning Streak

Clemson enters 1990 with a five-game winning streak with triumphs over N.C. State, Wake Forest, North Carolina, South Carolina and West Virginia to finish the season 10-2 for the third straight season.

Clemson was on a roll over the last five games with an average margin of victory of 32 points. Clemson outscored the opposition by 154-23 since the loss to Georgia Tech.

Clemson averaged 407 yards a game in total offense, while holding the opposition to 239. Clemson picked up 270.8 yards a game on the ground over the last five weeks, while limiting the opponents to 88.0 yards a game. Time of possession shows Clemson with 36:18 minutes a game to just 23:42 for the opposition. Here is a chart that summarizes Clemson's fine play the last five games.

Clemson 9-0 When Controlling the Clock

Clemson had a 9-0 record last year when the Tigers had at least 32 minutes in terms of time of possession. Clemson is a ball-control team and having possession of the ball is a key to a Tiger win. Clemson has won 11 games in a row when it has the ball for at least 32 minutes.

Clemson failed to have the ball more than 30 minutes just twice in 1989, at Florida State (when Clemson scored a pair of 73-yard touchdowns) and against Georgia Tech, in one of Clemson's two losses. For the year Clemson averaged over 34 minutes per game in terms of time of possession, the top figure in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Gardocki On an Elite List

In an October edition of Sports Illustrated, football guru Paul Zimmerman selected 23 players who he feels will be among the NFL elite by the mid-1990's. Clemson placekicker Chris Gardocki was selected to the list as the punter/kicker. Seven other college players and one high school player were selected to the team. Joining Gardocki on the team were Marc Spindler (DT, Pittsburgh), Percy Snow (MLB, Michigan State), Mark Carrier (FS, Southern California), Derek Brown (TE, Notre Dame), Ed King (G, Auburn), Bob Whitfield (C, Stanford) and Rodney Hampton (RB, Georgia). Also on the list was Andre Hastings (WR), a senior from Morrow High School in Georgia.

Long Leads Offensive Line

Clemson junior tackle Stacy Long was the mainstay of Clemson's offensive line last year. Considered the third or fourth best offensive lineman going into the season, Long was the more consistent and highest graded offensive lineman all season. The 1989 Sporting News All-American had seven grades over 80 and two more of 79 percent. He averaged six knockdown blocks per game and was in for at least 50 plays in every game. He played with a broken wrist and a hernia problem all season. Three times in the last four weeks of the regular season he was named ACC Offensive Lineman-of-the-Week.

Long first made an impact in the Florida State game when he had an 85 percent from his coaches and 10 knockdown blocks against the FSU defensive front, the same front that held Miami to 10 points. He graded at 82 percent in both the N.C. State and Wake Forest games and was at 88 percent for the South Carolina contest. He had seven knockdowns against N.C. State and Ray Agnew, and five against the Deacons. His performance against Agnew was especially noteworthy because the Wolfpack senior was named ACC Defensive Player-of-the-Year by a couple of services. He had 66 total knockdown blocks for the season and is a main reason Clemson was 16th in the country in rushing offense. On December 5th he was named a third-team AP All-American. His 69 knockdown blocks set a Tiger record for an offensive tackle.

Clemson with Five ACC Titles in Eighties

Clemson won five ACC championships in the decade of the eighties, a record for the Atlantic Coast Conference in a decade. Clemson also ranked second nationally in league championships won in the decade of the eighties. Only BYU, which won six outright WAC titles and tied for another, was the only school to accumulate more league titles than Clemson. Nebraska and Oklahoma both had four outright and one tied Big Eight crown, while Michigan had four Big Ten titles outright and also tied for another. Fresno State captured four league championships.

Most League Titles
in Decade of Eighties

School	League	Wins	Ties
BYU	WAC	6	1
Clemson	ACC	5	0
Nebraska	Big 8	4	1
Oklahoma	Big 8	4	1
Fresno St.	Big West	4	0
Michigan	Big 10	4	1
UCLA	Pac-10	3	1
Maryland	ACC	3	0
San Jose St.	Big West	3	0
Southern Cal	Pac-10	3	1
Texas A&M	SWC	3	0

O'Neal Led ACC in Interceptions

Clemson free safety Robert O'Neal, a first-year freshman in 1989, ranked second among the nation's freshmen in interceptions and was the ACC leader in 1989. O'Neal had eight thefts last season (including bowl game) to break the Clemson single season record. Fred Knoebel had seven interceptions in 1951 to stand as the previous recordholder. For his efforts last year O'Neal was named the nation's top first-year freshman DB by the Sporting News.

O'Neal ranked tied for 10th in the nation in interceptions, the highest ranking for a Clemson player in that category since Johnny Rembert (now with the New England Patriots) had a number-eight ranking in 1982. O'Neal was just the sixth freshman in the country over the decade of the eighties to record seven or more interceptions in a season.

Comparison of Freshman Seasons

Player	Year	GP-GS	Tac	PBU	Int.
Terry Kinard	1979	12-3	35	5	3-93
Delton Hall	1983	11-0	10	2	0-0
Donnell Woolford	1985	12-0	21	1	1-34
Robert O'Neal	1989	12-5	53	9	8-96

Kinard (Houston Oilers), Hall (Pittsburgh Steelers) and Woolford (Chicago Bears) are all currently in the NFL.

O'Neal's interception total was a standout figure for freshmen in any season. It was second best in the nation in 1989, but it was tied for the third best by a freshman in the decade of the eighties. Keith McMeans of Virginia had nine in 1987 and Tracy Saul of Texas Tech had eight last year, but those were the only two freshman interception totals better than O'Neal's in the decade.

Clemson Radio Network

Jim Phillips has never missed a regular season broadcast of Clemson football in 22 years.

The Clemson radio network is one of the largest in the country with upwards of 80 stations slated to carry Clemson football this season. It is regarded as one of the most innovative networks in the country and keeps Clemson fans informed virtually from 9:00 AM to 6:00 PM on gamedays with a tailgate show, pregame show and scoreboard show. The scoreboard show has become so popular that stations as far away as Hastings, Nebraska, have aired the program.

Jim Phillips and Mike Eppley will provide the commentary this season. Harold Vigodsky will serve as statistician, while Sack Bagley and Jeff Phillips will again return as spotters.

The man synonymous with Clemson football, Phillips, is one of the reasons for the show's popularity. Phillips is in his 23rd season broadcasting Clemson athletics on the radio, and he is one of the most respected play-by-play men in the nation. The native of Youngstown, OH has described 244 Clemson football games and 635 Clemson basketball games in his career. He is now the dean of all broadcasters in the ACC.

Phillips is sports director for WFBC radio in Greenville, SC and in addition to providing commentary on Clemson athletics, he is also the voice of the Greenville Braves of the AA Southern League. He describes all 140 games for the Atlanta Braves' number-two farm club, thus he is a very active man 12 months of the year.

He has long been regarded as one of the most reliable broadcasters in the business and he has proven it on many occasions. In the fall of 1982 he had a back injury that required disc surgery. The surgery took place just five days prior to the Western Carolina game, but he was on the scene at Clemson Memorial Stadium, as he broadcast the game standing up with a walker.

That same year Phillips saw his streak of consecutive basketball broadcasts snapped at an incredible 386. The streak was not snapped because of injury, however, it was stopped because he could not be in two places at the same time. The Clemson basketball team was in Alaska at the Great Alaskan Shootout and the Clemson football team was in Japan participating in the Mirage Bowl against Wake Forest trying to clinch an ACC championship. Phillips opted for the trip to the Orient and his basketball streak went by the boards.

Eppley joined the broadcast team two seasons ago. The native of Charlotte, NC is Clemson's number-three ranked passer in terms of efficiency rating and he guided Clemson to 21 victories as the starting quarterback between 1982 and 1984. He is also the school record holder for touchdown passes with 28. Eppley, who recently earned his MBA from the Clemson/Furman program, deals with strategical aspects of the game. Also a color analyst for many high school all-star games in North and South Carolina, Eppley is employed as a salesman for a heating and air conditioning firm in Charlotte, NC.

One of the most popular aspects of the Clemson network is the Tiger Tailgate show. Russ Cassell is the veteran host of the program, which begins three hours prior to gametime. The show features interviews with players and coaches, a look at college football and Clemson University in general, and highlights special activities taking place the day of the game. Cassell, program director and morning show host on WFBC-AM, is in his 10th year as host of the Tiger Tailgate show. Joey Erwin, former Clemson head cheerleader and now president of an advertising firm in Greenville, assists Cassell with the Tailgate Show. The program is heard home and away on many of the Clemson network stations.

As of July 8 there were 72 stations on the network, but more could be added by the first game with Long Beach State. That game will also be heard in California via the Clemson radio network on KNAC-FM in Redmon, CA.

All correspondence concerning network clearances, advertising, and format should be directed to Ken Rogers at Multimedia in Greenville. Rogers has been affiliated with the network since 1973 as producer/director. A native of Greenville, he has been in the television and radio field in this area since 1964. He is presently employed by WFBC radio and serves as operations manager and producer of the Clemson network. The flagship station for Clemson football again will be WFBC-FM (93.7) in Greenville. Multimedia owns the broadcast rights to Clemson football and basketball for the next two years.

1990 Spring Review

Arthur Bussie had three tackles for loss in the 1990 Spring Game and was named most improved outside linebacker.

The Tigers took the field for the first time under new head coach Ken Hatfield on March 3 as they opened spring practice under sunny blue skies. The team practiced for two weeks before taking a week off for spring break, and then worked for two more weeks until practice culminated in the annual Orange and White spring game.

The Orange and White game turned out to be one of the most exciting in recent years as the two teams combined for 29 points in the fourth quarter and the White team, led by quarterback DeChane Cameron, squeaked out a 21-15 victory over their teammates in orange.

Cameron finished the spring on a high note as he drove his team 81 yards for the winning touchdown on a drive that started with just over three minutes remaining in the game. The junior from LaGrange, GA, was the leading rusher for the day with 17 carries for 78 yards. He was also the leading passer, completing 10 of 21 attempts for 162 yards. The White team ended the day with 318 yards in total offense, while the Orange team gained only 143 total yards.

Orange quarterback Richard Moncrief, a red-shirt freshman from Montgomery, AL, played with a chipped bone in the thumb on his throwing hand and completed only one of eight attempts for a gain of nine yards for the afternoon.

Red-shirt freshman wide receiver Terry Smith was another bright spot in game as he gained 100 yards on five receptions to lead all Tigers. Smith, a Clemson native, had three receptions on the White team's go-ahead drive late in the game, picking up 72 yards. Tailback Rodney Blunt, a red-shirt freshman, led the Orange team in rushing with 62 yards on nine carries. Blunt also scored the Orange's only rushing touchdown, a 25-yarder.

Strong defenses for both teams were also big factors in the contest. Junior cornerback Dexter Davis had two interceptions for the White team. Linebacker Chuck O'Brien blocked a Chuck Lynch punt for the Orange team and Jerome Henderson picked it up and ran 18 yards for a touchdown.

Red-shirt freshman outside linebacker Arthur Bussie was the most dominating player defensively, as he had six tackles, including two sacks and another tackle for loss to lead the Orange team. Levon Kirkland and Kenzil Jackson had six stops apiece for the Orange, while defensive back Butch Fewster was the leading tackler on the White squad with five.

Over 100 players saw action in the contest, as Hatfield played every Tiger who was healthy. Fifteen players carried the ball, while six players caught a pass. Four different quarterbacks saw action as Mike Watkins and Justin Bode both played. QBs Jim McLees and Garth Fennegan did not play due to injuries.

Six punters saw action, but All-America candidate Chris Gardocki had the best performance in that category with four punts for 190 yards and a 47.5 yard average. The junior also had a 64-yard punt.

No individual player posted sensational statistics during spring scrimmages as Tiger coaches gave all of the players on the team a chance to see action. Over 120 players participated in spring drills.

DeChane Cameron was the only quarterback candidate who managed to get through the spring without an injury. Cameron, a red-shirt junior, led the team in passing with a 32-76 performance for a gain of 385 yards in the seven spring scrimmages. Despite chipping the bone in his left hand, Moncrief was 11 for 40 for a pick up of 87 yards while Jim McLees was 11-33 for 74 yards and also missed a portion of spring drills due to an ankle injury. Red-shirt freshman Garth Fennegan separated his shoulder early in the spring and missed the rest of the workouts.

Red-shirt freshman Rodney Blunt emerged as the top running back with 100 carries for a total of 309 yards in the Tigers' seven scrimmages. Howard Hall was the leader at fullback with 30 carries for 128 yards. Hall missed a portion of spring drills with a shoulder injury while projected starter Tony Kennedy missed the majority of the spring after undergoing bunion surgery on both feet.

ACC/FCSA Bowl Agreement — 1990

In August, 1988, the Florida Citrus Sports Association (FCSA) and the Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC) came to terms on a four year Agreement regarding the participation of the ACC Football Conference Champion in the Florida Citrus Bowl.

The Agreement contemplates the selection by the FCSA of the ACC Champion in the first and third years thereof (1988 and 1990) and that FCSA will have an option to select the ACC Champion in the second and fourth years thereof (1989 and 1991). Within the Agreement several options available to the ACC and FCSA provide for potential "national championship" games that, if adopted by other Bowls and Conferences, would counter arguments in favor of a national championship playoff.

For the first year of the Agreement (1988), wherein the FCSA was obligated to select the ACC Champion, the FCSA extended a bid to Clemson, the ACC Champion for 1988, to play Oklahoma in the January 2, 1989 Citrus Bowl game which followed the 1988 season; Clemson defeated Oklahoma 13-6.

In 1989 Virginia was invited under the FCSA's option to invite the league champion. Duke and Virginia tied for the title, but Virginia was the higher ranked team.

For the remainder of the term of the Agreement, the Agreement works like this:

A. The FCSA has the option to invite the ACC Champion in 1991 or it may pass and invite any two teams it wishes.

B. The FCSA, subject to the National Championship Exclusion, has the obligation to select the ACC Champion for the year 1990.

C. All options pondered in the Agreement must be exercised by the 2nd Tuesday in November based upon national rankings in the UPI Coaches Poll.

D. If either the FCSA or the ACC has the opportunity to host or play in a "National Championship Game", under provisions outlined below, then either party may invoke the National Championship Exclusion clause of the Agreement and be free of obligations that year as referenced in Paragraphs A and B above:

1. If the ACC Champion is ranked No. 1 in the country during the term of the Agreement, the ACC Champion must play in the Florida Citrus Bowl in any year of the Agreement in which the Champion is invited, provided the bowl has a payoff "competitive" with the following New Year's Day games in which the ACC Champion could participate: the Cotton Bowl, the Sugar Bowl and the Orange Bowl.

2. If the ACC Champion is not selected by the FCSA on or before the second Tuesday of November, then the ACC Champion may participate in any other Bowl game.

3. If the No. 1 team in the country is from the Southeastern Conference, the Southwest Conference or the Big 8 Conference, and the ACC Champion has been selected by the FCSA to participate in or is obligated to participate in the Citrus Bowl, then the ACC Champion can opt to play in the Cotton, Sugar or Orange Bowl, but only if the ACC Champion is ranked No. 2, 3 or 4 in the UPI Coaches Poll as of the second Tuesday in November.

4. If the ACC Champion exercises the option in paragraph 3, above, then the ACC may not invoke such National Championship Exclusion for consecutive years. Accordingly, in the event that the ACC does invoke its National Championship Exclusion for any year during the term hereof, the FCSA shall have the right to select the ACC Champion to participate as a contestant in the two following Citrus Bowl Games and the ACC Champion can not opt out under its National Championship Exclusion.

The Tiger defense held Furman to just three first downs, fewest by a Tiger opponent in 32 seasons.

Clemson's defense was ranked in the top 25 in the nation in all four major categories in 1989 and everyone got a preview of coming events in the season opener against Furman. The Tigers held the defending NCAA Division I-AA champions to just 58 yards in total offense and just three first downs. The 58 yards in total offense by Furman gave Clemson the best single game total defense figure in the nation over the first six weeks of the season.

Furman's first down total was the lowest by a Clemson opponent since Presbyterian had just three in a 1957 game with the Tigers. It also marked the best total defense effort by a Danny Ford coached team and it tied for the best pass defense by a Ford coached team. The Paladins, who went on to win their last 10 regular season games after the loss to Clemson, had just 27 yards passing.

Overall, it was Clemson's best total defense effort since the 1963 Virginia game when the Cavs had just 41 yards in total offense. Furman had scored in 76 straight games prior to the Clemson game and it was Clemson's first shutout since the 1987 Western Carolina contest. Furman was held without a first down and to just eight yards in total offense in the second half, they had the ball in Clemson territory just once all day, and that was after a Clemson fumble. Their deepest penetration was the Clemson 25.

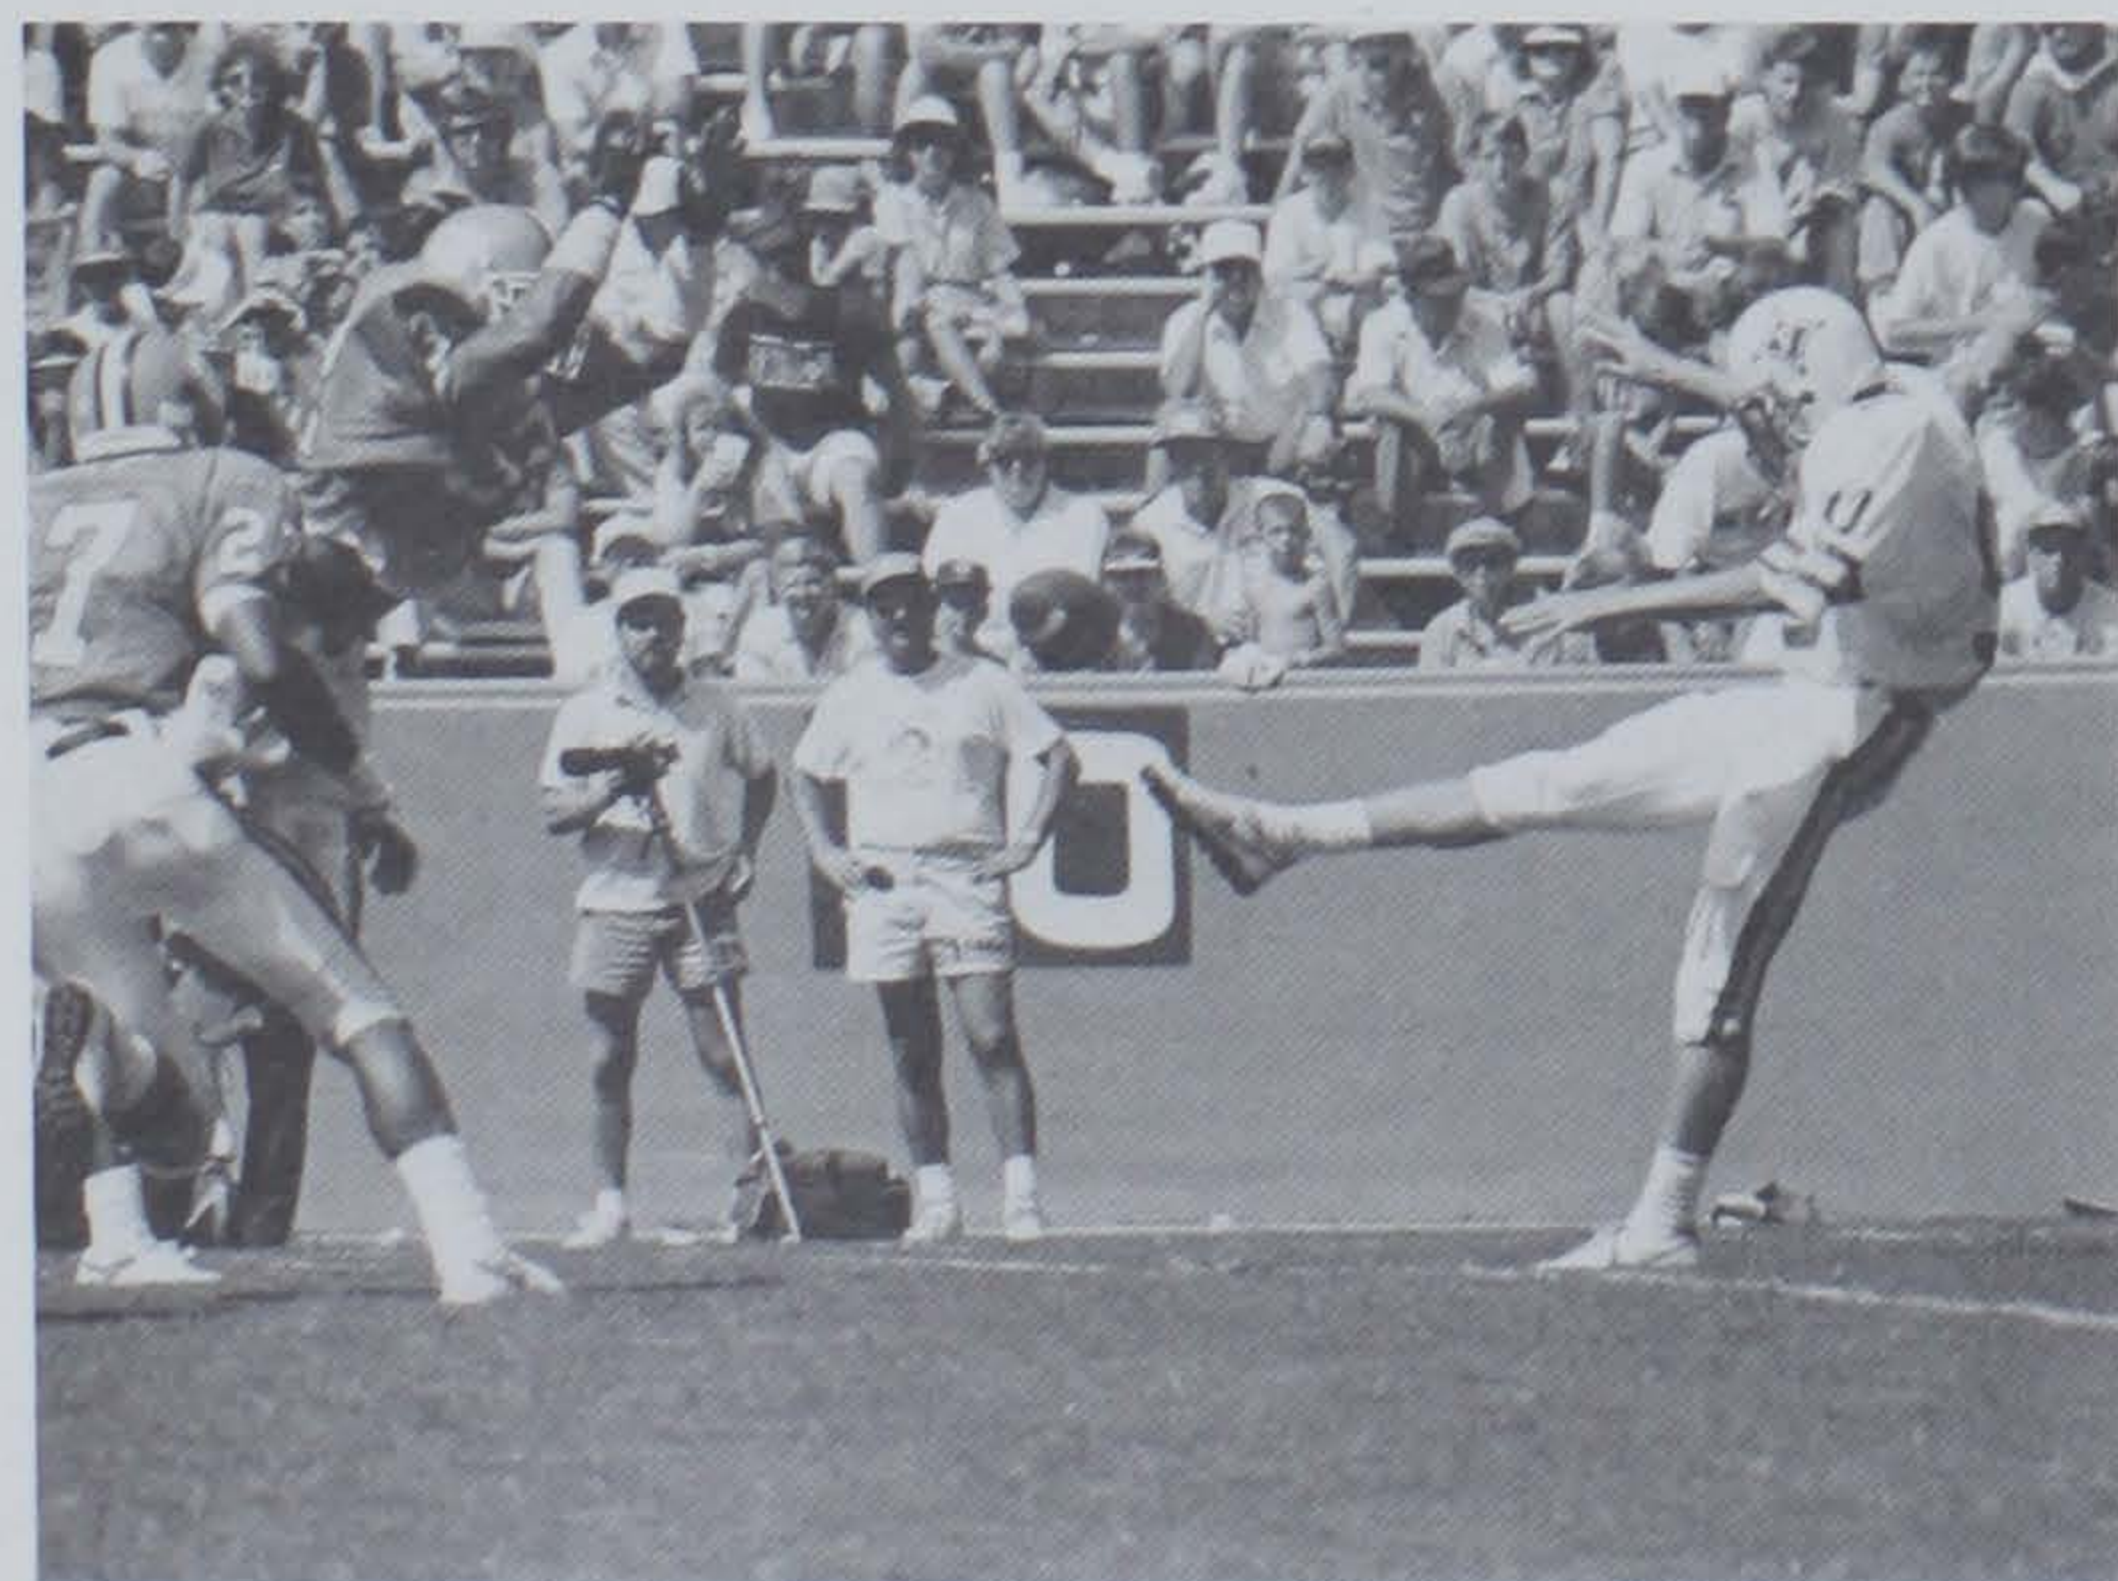

John Johnson led the balanced defense for Clemson with eight tackles, while Arlington Nunn had seven. Twenty-four different Tigers had at least one tackle and 65 different players took part in the action.

Offensively, Clemson completed 14-20 for 166 yards and had more yards passing than rushing for just the 17th game in the Ford era. It was just the ninth time in the Danny Ford era that Clemson had completed 70 percent of its passes in a game. Chris Morocco earned his second career start and hit 8-14 passes, but DeChane Cameron came off the bench to hit 6-6 for 67 yards. Cameron became just the second Clemson quarterback in history to have a perfect game, given a minimum of five attempts.

Stacy Fields caught four passes at the tight end slot, the most by a Clemson tight end in four years. Chris Gardocki had three field goals and averaged 48 yards a punt as he got his All-America season off to a good start. He made his first three field goal attempts of the season without a tee, including two from over 40 yards out.

Clemson hands Florida State its last loss of the season behind Allen's three touchdowns and 130 yards rushing.

Two of the top six winningest programs in the nation over the last four years met in Tallahassee, FL in week two. Clemson entered the game with a 29-6-2 record over the last four years for a .811 percentage, while Florida State was 29-7-1 for a .797 percentage. Clemson ranked fifth and Florida State sixth in terms of winning percentage for that period of time. It also marked the dual of two of the winningest active coaches in college football. Danny Ford was fourth entering the game with a .754 winning percentage, while Seminole Coach Bobby Bowden was eighth at .720.

Clemson exploded offensively in the first half and took a 21-0 lead in front of a stunned Florida State crowd. Terry Allen scored on a pair of one-yard runs on Clemson's first possession of the first and second periods. Wayne Simmons came through with a 73-yard interception return for touchdown, the second longest interception return in Clemson history by a linebacker. Jimmy Quarles had a 90-yarder against Rice in 1951.

After a Florida State touchdown, Terry Allen showed his improved speed and went 73 yards for a score just 1:16 before halftime to give Clemson a 28-7 lead near intermission. Allen had 130 yards rushing and three touchdowns for the evening. It was the first time Florida State had given up 28 points in a half since the 1985 Florida game and, in general, Clemson surprised the nation via ESPN with a victory that would look better and better as the season progressed. Clemson entered the game ranked 10th in the nation, but was an underdog against 16th rated FSU.

Chris Gardocki put the game out of reach with a pair of field goals in the fourth quarter as Clemson controlled the clock much of the second half behind the ball handling expertise and passing proficiency of Chris Morocco. The native of Athens, GA hit 8-9 passes for the evening for 134 yards, including 4-92 to Rodney Fletcher. He was a reason Clemson did not turn the ball over against Florida State for the second straight year. It was the 16th turnoverless game in Danny Ford's 119-game career, but the seventh in the last 15 contests.

Clemson averaged 7.1 yards a play for the night, just the sixth time a Danny Ford coached Clemson team had reached the 7.0 yards play figure. Stacy Long was a key for Clemson as he had his first great game in an All-America junior season with an 85 percent grade and a 10-knockdown block performance against Odell Haggins and the FSU front four.

Defensively, Doug Brewster was the top tackler with 12 stops, but a pair of Clearwater, FL natives also made great contributions in their home state. Arlington Nunn had nine stops, while Vince Taylor contributed eight. Simmons had a sack to go with his 73-yard interception return. The Clemson defense held Florida State to 106 yards rushing. FSU scored a touchdown with just five seconds left to bring the margin to 11 points.

The victory over the 16th ranked Seminoles gave Danny Ford a 6-0 record in the state of Florida, including 5-0 in bowl games. It broke a 10-game Florida State home winning streak and dropped Florida State to a 48-10-1 home record over the last 10 seasons.

Clemson scores two touchdowns in last 34 seconds of third period to defeat Hokies.

Defense was once again the name of the game for Clemson as the opponent's offense failed to score a touchdown for the second time in three weeks. Wesley McFadden and Terry Allen led Clemson to its third straight victory of the season and its 12th win in the last 13 outings against Virginia Tech.

McFadden had rushed for 226 yards as a sophomore tailback two years ago at Blacksburg and he continued his fine play in games at Lane Stadium. He led Clemson in rushing on this evening with 93 yards in 20 attempts. Allen had the best all-around game with 74 yards rushing and one touchdown on 17 attempts, but he also threw his first career completion, a 66-yard strike (with a man in his face) for a touchdown to Gary Cooper with 34 seconds left in the third period.

There were actually three touchdowns in the last 34 seconds of the third period, then there was no scoring in the fourth quarter. After Marcus Mickel returned the ensuing kickoff for a 90-yard touchdown, Levon Kirkland soon intercepted a VPI pass and return it 47 yards for a TD. It marked the third interception return for touchdown by a Clemson linebacker in the last 12 games. Danny Ford had had just two interceptions for touchdown by Tiger linebackers in his first 108 games as head coach.

The offensive line had a lot going for it as Clemson gained its third straight win of the season. Guards Eric Harmon and Jeb Flesch, and center Hank Phillips combined for 29 knockdown blocks against the team that defeated West Virginia 12-10 earlier this season. All three of those players set or tied their career high for knockdowns in the game. Harmon had 12 KDs and he had never even been in double figures before. Flesch had nine and Phillips eight.

Gary Cooper caught all of Clemson's three completions for 88 yards and a touchdown. He moved into 13th place on Clemson's career reception yardage list. Cooper was a key to a Clemson offense that increased its streak of handling the ball without a turnover to 169 plays. The Tigers increased their record to 57-3-2 in games in which they commit fewer turnovers than the opposition.

Defensively, Clemson received interceptions from Robert O'Neal, Levon Kirkland and Eric Geter for 132 total return yards. Kirkland had a team best seven tackles, while Kenzil Jackson added six.

Belton blocks two punts in second period to key Clemson defense.

The two teams that had combined for the last eight ACC championships met at Clemson on September 23. The luster was taken off the game when Hurricane Hugo hit earlier in the week. There were about 4,000 no-shows for the game, but those who made the trip to Clemson were vocal. Fans raised over $50,000 with their contributions throughout the day.

Chris Gardocki booted a 47-yard field goal in the first period, but Ricky Johnson and Maryland came back with a two-yard TD run, giving Maryland a 7-3 lead. It marked the first time all season that Clemson trailed at any time. Clemson responded with four straight TDs, all by running backs. Wesley McFadden scored a pair in the same game for the first time since early 1987 and he finished with 48 yards on the day. McFadden also led Clemson receivers with three for 34 yards.

The Tigers had their best rushing day of the season to date with 243 yards, as Terry Allen led the way with 97 yards in 22 attempts and he also caught a 16-yard pass.

The contest figured to be a defensive battle as both teams entered the game ranked in the top 15 in the nation in scoring defense. Clemson did not disappoint its coaches, but Maryland probably let its mentors down. Vince Taylor was the leader of the Clemson defense with 11 tackles, which tied his career high.

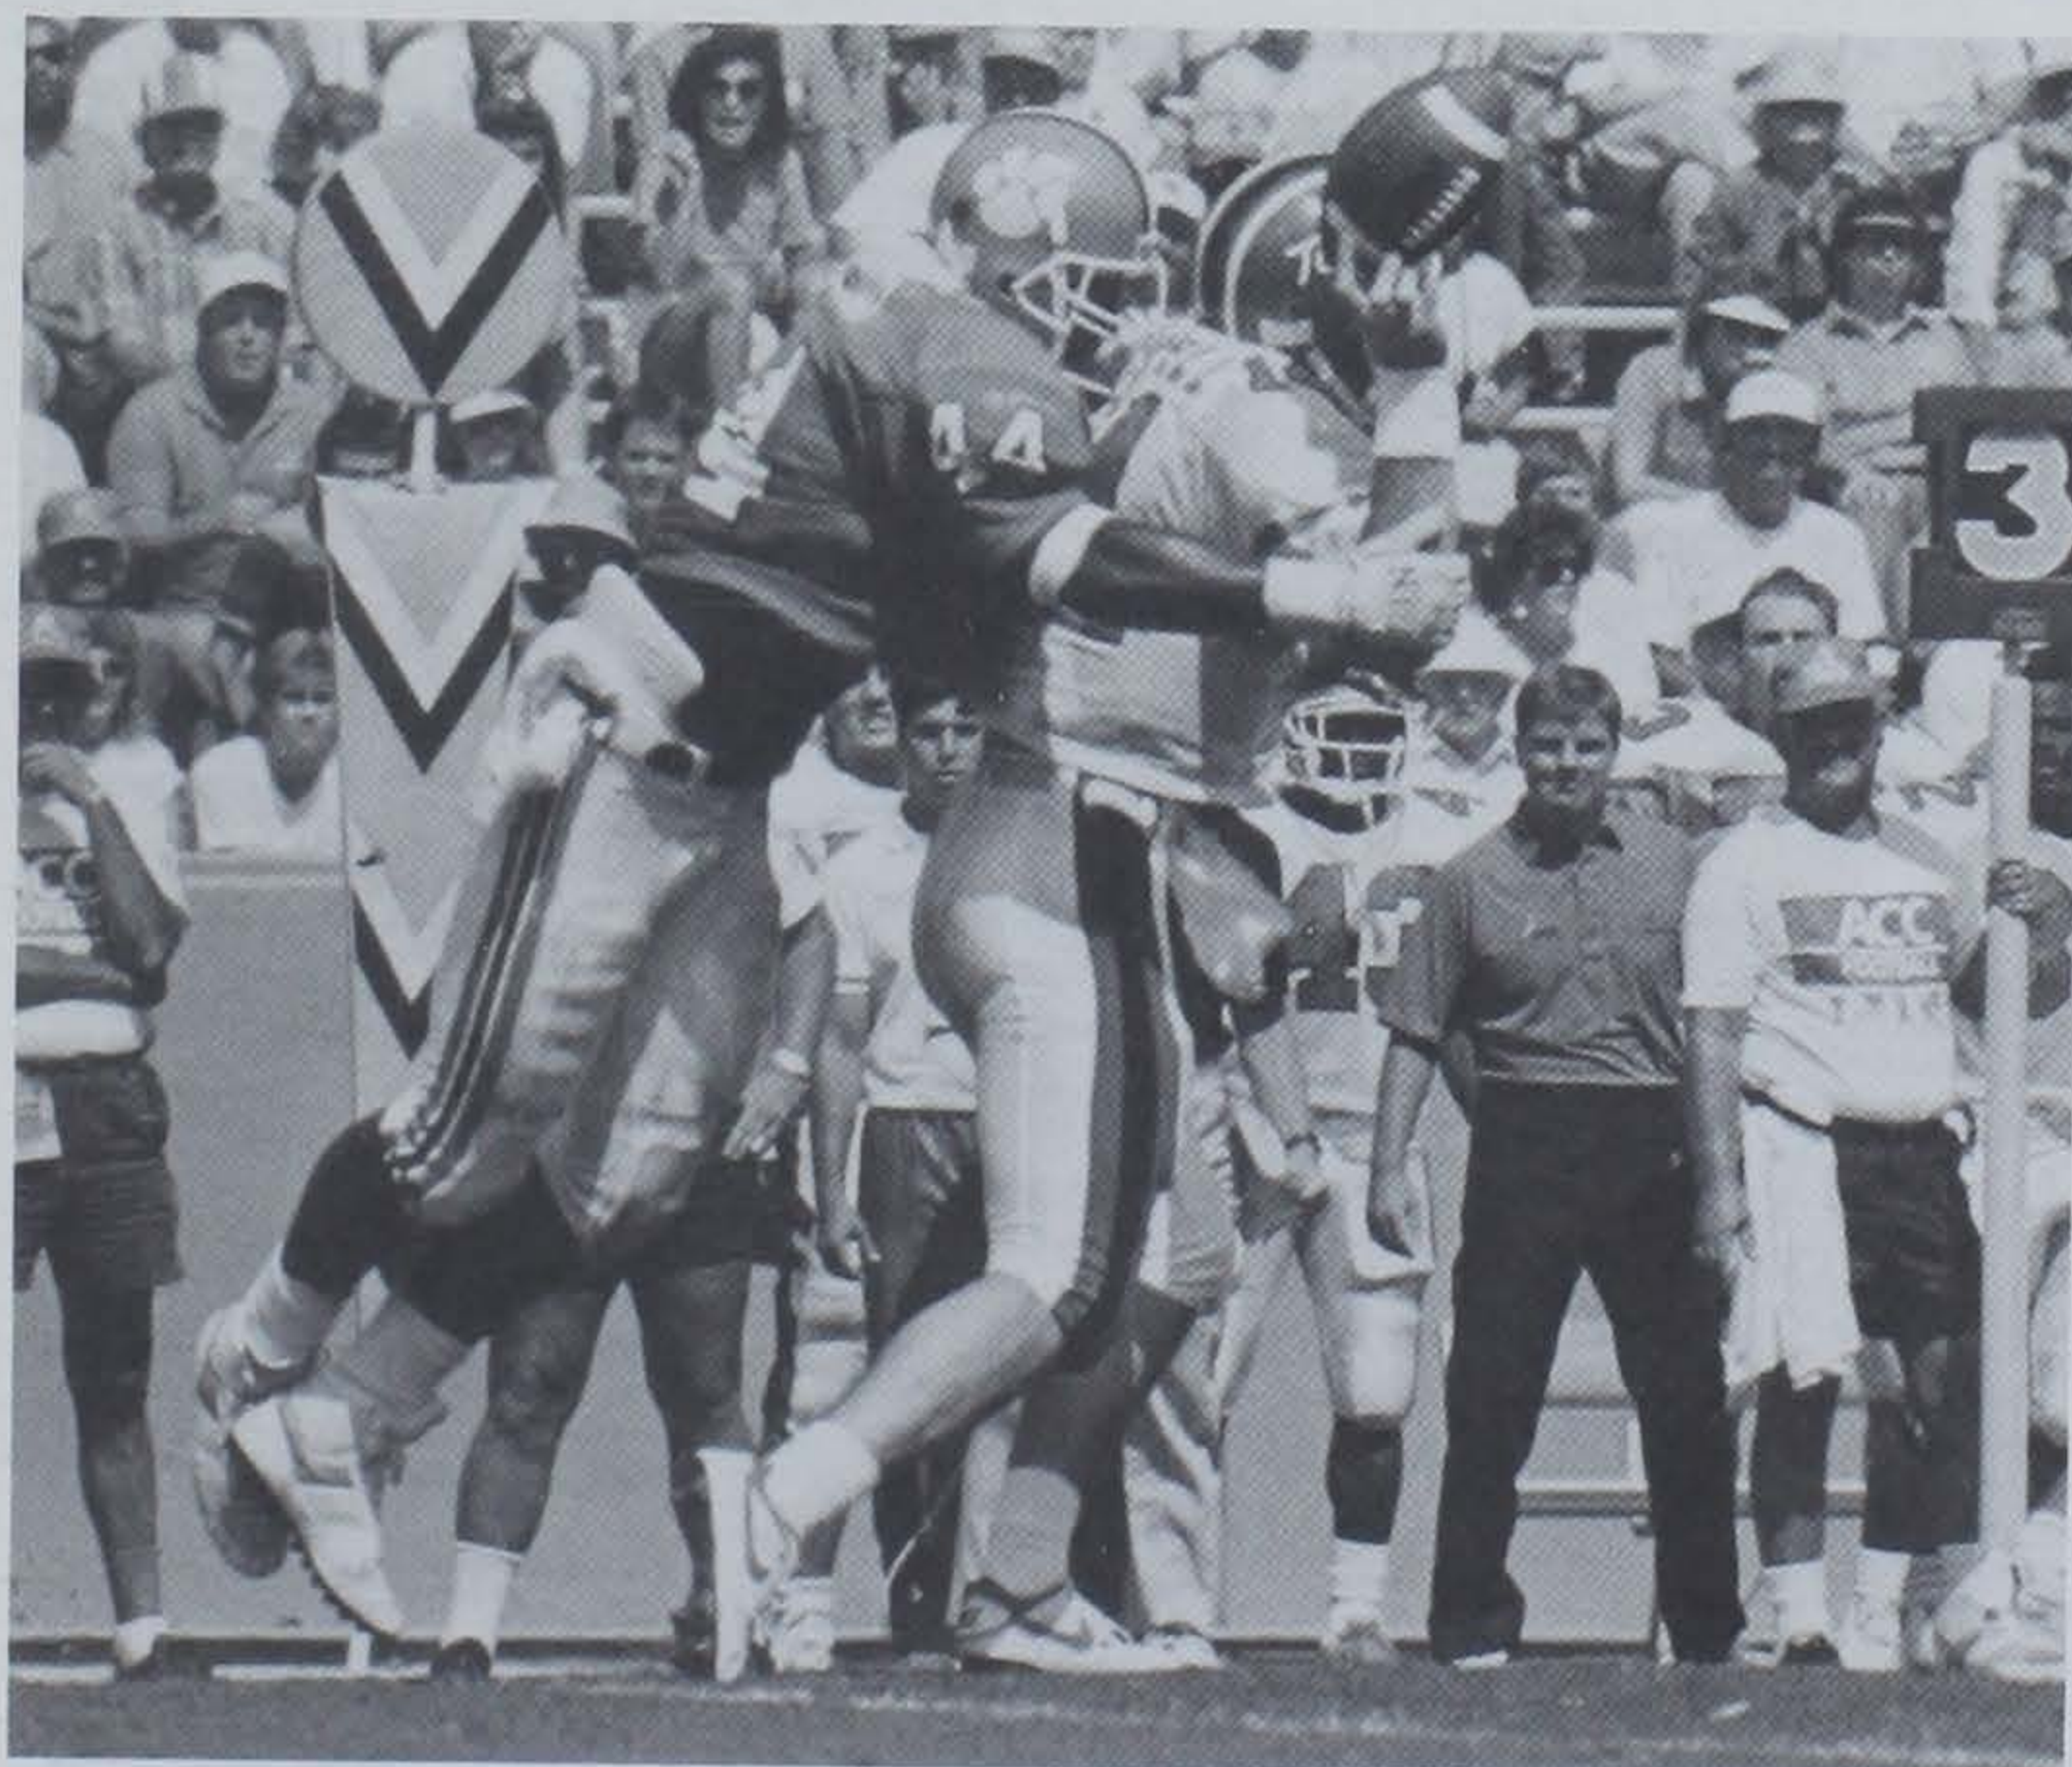

Walk-on Mitch Belton provided one of the big plays of the game with a blocked punt in the second period that led to a Tiger TD. He later blocked another punt in the same period and thus became the first Clemson player to block two punts in the same quarter. It gave him three blocked punts for the season, a school record.

Levon Kirkland and Doug Brewster were also outstanding with nine tackles apiece, but another walk-on also provided a spark defensively. Sophomore middle guard Rob Bodine had a season high eight tackles to help Clemson hold Maryland to just 205 yards in total offense, including just a 9-26 passing day.

The victory gave Clemson a perfect 4-0 mark, just the fourth time in the last 41 years that Clemson had gotten off to a 4-0 start.

Duke wipes out 14-point Clemson halftime lead and gains first win over Tigers in nine years.

Clemson entered the Duke game seventh in the nation in the AP. The Tigers were 4-0 going against a 1-3 Duke team that had not beaten Clemson since 1980. But Danny Ford warned the media of Duke's ability to move the ball on Clemson over the last 10 years. Clemson had never held Duke under 243 yards passing in the last 11 years and they had a combined 64 percent completion mark against his teams.

The warning seemed frivolous when Clemson scored two touchdowns on Terry Allen runs in the first half and held a 14-0 lead. Allen would end the day with 32 rushes for 143 yards, his season high. Clemson averaged over five yards a play this day as Chris Morocco also picked up 43 yards in seven attempts on the ground.

Clemson had many opportunities to put the game away as it intercepted Duke signal caller Billy Ray five times on the day, but fumbled the ensuing return twice. Robert O'Neal led the secondary with two interceptions, which tied for an ACC single game high this season.

Duke came back in the third period with a pair of touchdowns, one on a five-yard run by Randy Cuthbert. The sophomore running back gained 55 yards on just 10 attempts for the day, but it was the start of a 1,000-yard season for the surprise of the year in the ACC. He had played only sparingly prior to the Clemson game, but the Tiger contest lifted him and the Duke team to stardom.

Duke scored with 3:18 go to in the fourth period to take the 21-17 lead. Clemson drove into Duke territory on its final drive, but could not get deep enough to gain victory and Duke had one of its greatest victories of the eighties. It propelled the Blue Devils to an eventual tie for the ACC championship and it was the start of Duke's eight-game winning streak.

Wesley McFadden was a bright spot for Clemson this day as the senior fullback had a Clemson single game record 19 knockdown blocks. It is a statistic that has been kept since 1978 and documents McFadden's all-round abilities.

Morocco has career day in leading Clemson to 29th straight win over the Cavaliers.

CBS television came to Clemson for the fourth straight year when it showed the Virginia game on a national basis. They saw a much improved Clemson team defeat the Cavaliers for the 29th straight time, the longest active streak by one team over another in the NCAA today.

Virginia, which went on to tie Duke for the ACC title, was forced to play without star quarterback Shawn Moore, who was out with an injury, and without freshman running back sensation Terry Kirby. Matt Blundin, also a starter on the Virginia Cavalier basketball team, got his first college quarterback start in Death Valley on national TV.

Chris Morocco hit 14-21 passes for 210 yards and a pair of TDs to lead the Clemson offense to its top day of the season, 474 yards of total offense. Morocco found Gary Cooper for TDs on two occasions, the last a 43-yard bomb in the fourth period that put the game out of reach. Morocco had an efficiency rating of 182.13 for the game, the fourth best single game passing efficiency in the Ford era.

Joe Henderson was also a star for Clemson this day. Terry Allen was injured in the second quarter, an injury that would make him a part time player the rest of the season. Henderson stepped in and gained 105 yards on 16 attempts, the third best rushing game of his career. He scored on a 45-yard run to give Clemson the lead for good in the second period.

The offensive line was outstanding this day and was a key to Clemson getting over 200 yards passing and rushing in the same game for just the seventh time in Clemson history. Eric Harmon, Wesley McFadden, Hank Phillips and Jeb Flesch were all in double figures in terms of knockdown blocks.

Robert O'Neal was a star for Clemson defensively as the first-year freshman led Clemson in tackles with seven and he also had an interception. It was his fourth interception of the season and it broke Terry Kinard's single season Clemson freshman record.

Georgia Tech superb in every phase of game in handing Clemson first Homecoming loss in 19 years.

Clemson appeared to be back on the beam after defeating a 5-1 Virginia team on national television. Clemson entered the Georgia Tech game as the 15th-ranked team in the nation. On top of that it was homecoming at Clemson and the Tigers had not lost on Homecoming since 1970.

The two teams played a field goal battle in the first quarter. Chris Gardocki, who was in the middle of an All-America season, booted field goals from 33 and 49 yards out. Georgia Tech's Scott Sisson countered with three first-half field goals. But, the second quarter and thus the game belonged to Georgia Tech, who entered the game with just one victory, but went on to a 7-4 season.

Shawn Jones and Jerry Mays did in the Tigers. Mays, an All-ACC running back, caught at three-yard TD pass in the second period from Jones to give Tech a 13-6 lead. Just nine minutes later Mays scored again on an eight-yard run. After another field goal it was 23-6 at the half. And 81-yard TD pass from Jones to Bobby Rodriguez gave Georgia Tech a 30-6 lead in front of the stunned Clemson crowd.

Jones, the ACC Rookie of the Year, passed for a career high 223 yards and hit 15-25 as he ran the Tech option with aplomb. Mays ended the day with 97 yards in 25 attempts, the most yards against Clemson rushing in a single game in 1989. He also caught eight of Jones's 15 completions for 57 yards and in general earned the respect of the Clemson coaches and many Tiger fans on this day.

DeChane Cameron came off the bench to connect on 15-23 for 195 yards, but he took Clemson to just one touchdown in his half of work. Rodney Fletcher caught six passes for 81 yards, the most receptions in a game for a Tiger all year.

Doug Brewster was a heavy hitter on defense with a Clemson season high 19 tackles, while Levon Kirkland had nine and Vince Taylor eight. But, it was not enough for Clemson and their seniors. The senior class had a chance to sweep teams from the state of Georgia, which had not been done by a Clemson class since 1915. The streak is still alive.

The loss dropped Clemson out of the AP top 20 for the first time in 41 polls dating back to November of 1986.

Gardocki's kicking, Long's blocking lead Clemson to 20-point win over 12th-ranked Wolfpack.

After the loss to Georgia Tech, Danny Ford met with each of his seniors on an individual basis. The results of those meetings led to a "let's just go out and have fun" attitude. At his weekly press conference prior to the meeting with 12th ranked N.C. State Ford stated that his team no longer had any pressure on it. The goal of a fourth straight and record setting ACC title was by the boards.

The new attitude is what the doctor ordered as Clemson proceeded to win its last four games by a score of 154-23. The streak started with a 30-10 victory over N.C. State, a team that had beaten Clemson each of the last three years, Clemson's only ACC loss each season.

Clemson scored on its second and third possessions of the first quarter to take a quick 14-0 lead. Wesley McFadden scored on a nine-yard run and Joe Henderson scored on an 11-yard scamper. A Chris Gardocki field goal gave Clemson a 17-0 halftime lead, the first time a Danny Ford coached Clemson team had shut out N.C. State in the first half.

Clemson held N.C. State to just 67 yards rushing and intercepted Shane Montgomery three times. Dexter Davis led the defense with a career high 10 tackles and also had an interception as he earned ACC Player of the Week honors. Ashley Sheppard was a demon on the special teams with five tackles, a Clemson single game record for special teams tackles.

Stacy Long led the Clemson offense from his tackle position. He graded out at 82 percent with seven knockdown blocks in a head-to-head battle with defensive tackle Ray Agnew, the ACC's defensive Player of the Year in 1989. Gardocki also proved to be an important weapon with three field goals and seven punts for a 46-yard average.

The victory moved Clemson to 6-2 overall and it marked the 17th time Danny Ford had beaten an AP Top 20 team in his 11-year career. It marked the fifth time in the last three years Ford had beaten a coach ranked among the top 10 winningest active coaches.

Clemson scores on first seven possessions in recording 13th straight win over Wake Forest.

Clemson had not lost to Wake Forest at Death Valley since John F. Kennedy was president (1961). Clemson did not figure to end the streak on the day the athletic department honored the 1939 team for the 50th anniversary of its Cotton Bowl win over Boston College.

Clemson had let down against two other teams coming into the Tiger contest with only one win. Wake Forest entered the contest with just one win, but they left Clemson with the same victory total. Clemson scored 34 first-half points to put the game out of reach early and allow Danny Ford to play a season high 78 players. Clemson scored on its first seven possessions, the longest streak of consecutive scoring drives since the 1984 Duke game when Clemson scored on its first nine scoring drives.

Terry Allen returned to action for the first time in a couple of weeks and scored Clemson's first touchdown on a two-yard run on Clemson's first possession. Allen reinjured his left knee and left the contest after the touchdown.

Wesley McFadden and many other seniors playing in their final game took up the slack. McFadden led the team in rushing with 52 yards as it was a balanced attack for the Tigers. Clemson had over 200 yards rushing and passing for the second time this season and the eighth time under Danny Ford. It was also just the 18th time Clemson had more yards rushing than passing.

Many seniors had standout final home games, including Chris Morocco who hit 9-14-171 and a pair of touchdowns. He connected on a 41-yarder to Joe Henderson in the first half, and also hit Gary Cooper from 18 yards out. Chris Gardocki also kicked three field goals in a game for the fourth time this season on the way to an All-ACC season in both punting and placekicking.

Ed McDaniel was finally healthy for the first time all year after suffering from a pinched nerve in his shoulder. He led Clemson with eight tackles. Robert O'Neal had his sixth interception of the season and held the ACC lead in that category, a lead he never relinquished. James Lott also had a solid day and had his best punt return effort of the season with 89 yards, including 50 on one play.

Scoring by Quarters

Wake Forest	0	3	0	7	—	10
Clemson	17	17	3	7	—	44

McDaniel led Clemson in tackles with eight thanks to his abandoned style.

Joe Henderson gains career high 163 yards, defense holds Tar Heels to -6 yards rushing in fourth straight win over UNC.

Danny Ford enjoys the first Saturday in November for some reason. Perhaps Halloween puts him in a good frame of mind. No matter what the reason, a 35-3 conquest of North Carolina in Chapel Hill gave him an 11-0 record in games played the Saturday after Halloween.

Ford won for the fifth time in six tries in Kenan Stadium. Once again Clemson did it with all phases of the game. The Tigers picked up a season high tying 474 yards in total offense, held North Carolina to -6 yards rushing and averaged 45.2 yards a punt, including a net figure of 44.8.

North Carolina's -6 yards rushing was the lowest total for a Clemson opponent since Kentucky had just -14 in 1982, and it was the sixth best single game rushing defense figure in Clemson history. As a team, Clemson recorded a season high six sacks, including two by freshman Chester McGlockton, who tied for the ACC lead in 1989. McGlockton was named ACC Rookie of the Week.

Levon Kirkland was outstanding with two sacks, three total tackles for loss, two passes broken up, a caused fumble and an interception. And, he did it in just 30 defensive snaps. He was named ACC Player of the Week for his efforts.

The offensive line was also outstanding as Clemson gained 332 yards rushing in 70 attempts. Jeb Flesch and Stacy Long led that unit with seven knockdown blocks apiece. Joe Henderson was the prime benefactor with a career high 163 yards rushing and three touchdowns. Reggie Lawrence added a career high 43 yards in 11 rushes. Twelve different backs carried the ball for Clemson and 74 players got into the game for Clemson, who had fun for the third week in a row.

The Clemson passing game was effective as Chris Morocco hit 6-12 pases for 118 yards. Rodney Fletcher and Gary Cooper combined for seven receptions for 130 yards, as Clemson earned its fourth straight win over the Tar Heels. The victory moved Clemson back into the Top 20 of the AP poll.

Kennedy-Hall score three touchdowns, defense registers shutout in landmark margin of victory.

A national TV audience (ESPN) tuned in to view one of the great rivalries in the college football. However, Clemson's offensive and defensive proficiencies caused many fans around the country to change channels as the Tigers routed South Carolina, 45-0. It was the second largest margin of victory for Clemson over South Carolina in the 87-game history of the series, its greatest margin of victory since 1900. It was also the first time Clemson had shut out South Carolina since 1959.

Terry Allen scored on runs of 12 and one yard in the first quarter. Clemson drove 79 yards the first time it had the ball, controlling the clock for 6:11 and 13 plays. Allen had a terrific first half as the red-shirt junior benefitted from the open week after the North Carolina game. He tallied 97 yards in just 14 attempts in the first half.

Other offensive players took up where he left off. Joe Henderson had 88 yards rushing, while Tony Kennedy, subbing for injured starting fullback Wesley McFadden, added 67 yards in nine attempts in his first career start. He had just 61 yards in the first 10 games put together. Junior Hall had 31 yards rushing as the reserve fullback. Allen gained some of his real estate at the position so the fullback slot actually gained over 120 yards rushing on the night, a season high.

Clemson gained a season high 355 yards rushing, while the Tigers passed just nine times, but completed eight for 111 yards. Rodney Fletcher caught his first career TD pass and had three receptions for 63 yards, while Morocco hit 5-5 in his final regular season game.

Defensively, Clemson held South Carolina to a season low 155 yards total offense, including just 36 yards passing. Clemson had four sacks defensively and intercepted three passes. Clemson shut out the Gamecocks while scoring its top point total of the season. It moved Clemson into fifth place on the national scoring defense charts after the game.

The victory gave the senior class 37 victories in the last four years, tying the ACC record for wins.

This is Clemson Tiger Football

Clemson Memorial Stadium

The playing surface at Memorial Stadium was named Frank Howard Field in 1974.

Just before Jess Neely left for Rice University, he gave Clemson a message. "Don't ever let them talk you into building a big stadium," he said. "Put about 10,000 seats behind the Y.M.C.A. That's all you'll ever need."

Instead of following Coach Neely's advice, however, Clemson officials decided to build the new stadium in a valley on the western part of campus. The place would take some clearing—there were many trees, but luckily there were no hedges.

The crews went to work: clearing, cutting, pouring, and forming. Finally, on September 19, 1942, Clemson Memorial Stadium opened with the Tiger football team thrashing Presbyterian College, 32-13. Those 20,000 seats installed for Opening Day would soon grow; and grow and grow.

When the original part of the stadium was built in the early 40's, much of the work was done by scholarship athletes, including many football players. The first staking out of the stadium was done by two members of the football team, A.N. Cameron and Hugh Webb. Webb returned to Clemson years later to be an architecture professor, and Cameron moved on to be a civil engineer in Louisiana.

The building of the stadium did not proceed without a few problems. One day during the clearing of the land, one young football player proudly announced he was not allergic to poison oak. He then commenced to attack the poison oak with a swing blade, throwing the plants to and fro. The next day, however, the boy was swollen twice his size and had to be put in the hospital.

There are many other stories about the building of the stadium including one stating that Frank Howard put a chew of tobacco in each corner of the stadium as the concrete was being poured. The story claims the tobacco is still there.

Howard says that the seeding of the grass caused a few problems. "About 40 people and I laid the sod on the field," he says. "After three weeks, on July 15, we had only gotten halfway through. I told them that it had taken us three weeks to get that far, and I would give them three more weeks' pay for however long it took. I also told them we would have 50 gallons of ice cream when we got through.

"After that it took them three days to do the rest of the field. Then we sat down in the middle of the field and ate up that whole 50 gallons."

Howard says that on the day of the first game in the stadium, "the gates were hung at 1:00 and we played at 2:00." But that would be all of the construction for a while. Then in 1958, 18,000 sideline seats were added and, in 1960, a total of 5,658 West end zone seats were added in response to increasing attendance. With the large end zone "Green Grass" section, this expansion increased capacity to about 53,000.

Later, upper decks were added to each side of the stadium as crowds swelled—the first one in 1978 and the second in 1983. This increased capacity to approximately 80,000 which makes it one of the 10 largest on-campus stadiums in the country.

The effect spiraling inflation has had in this century can be dramatically seen in the differences in stadium construction. The original part of the stadium was built at a cost of $125,000 or $6.25 a seat. The newest upper deck was finished in 1983 at a cost of $13.5 million, or $866 a seat.

Through the years Memorial Stadium has become known as "Death Valley." It was tagged this by the late Presbyterian coach, Lonnie McMillian. After bringing his P.C. teams to Clemson for years and getting whipped, Mc-

Millian said the place was like Death Valley. A few years later, the name stuck.

On November 16, 1974 the playing surface was named Frank Howard Field for the legendary coach because of his long service and dedication to the University.

Athletic Director Bobby Robinson says that Memorial Stadium has many features which make it a top facility. "One thing that makes it so good is the number of sideline seats," he says. "We don't think there is a bad seat in the house.

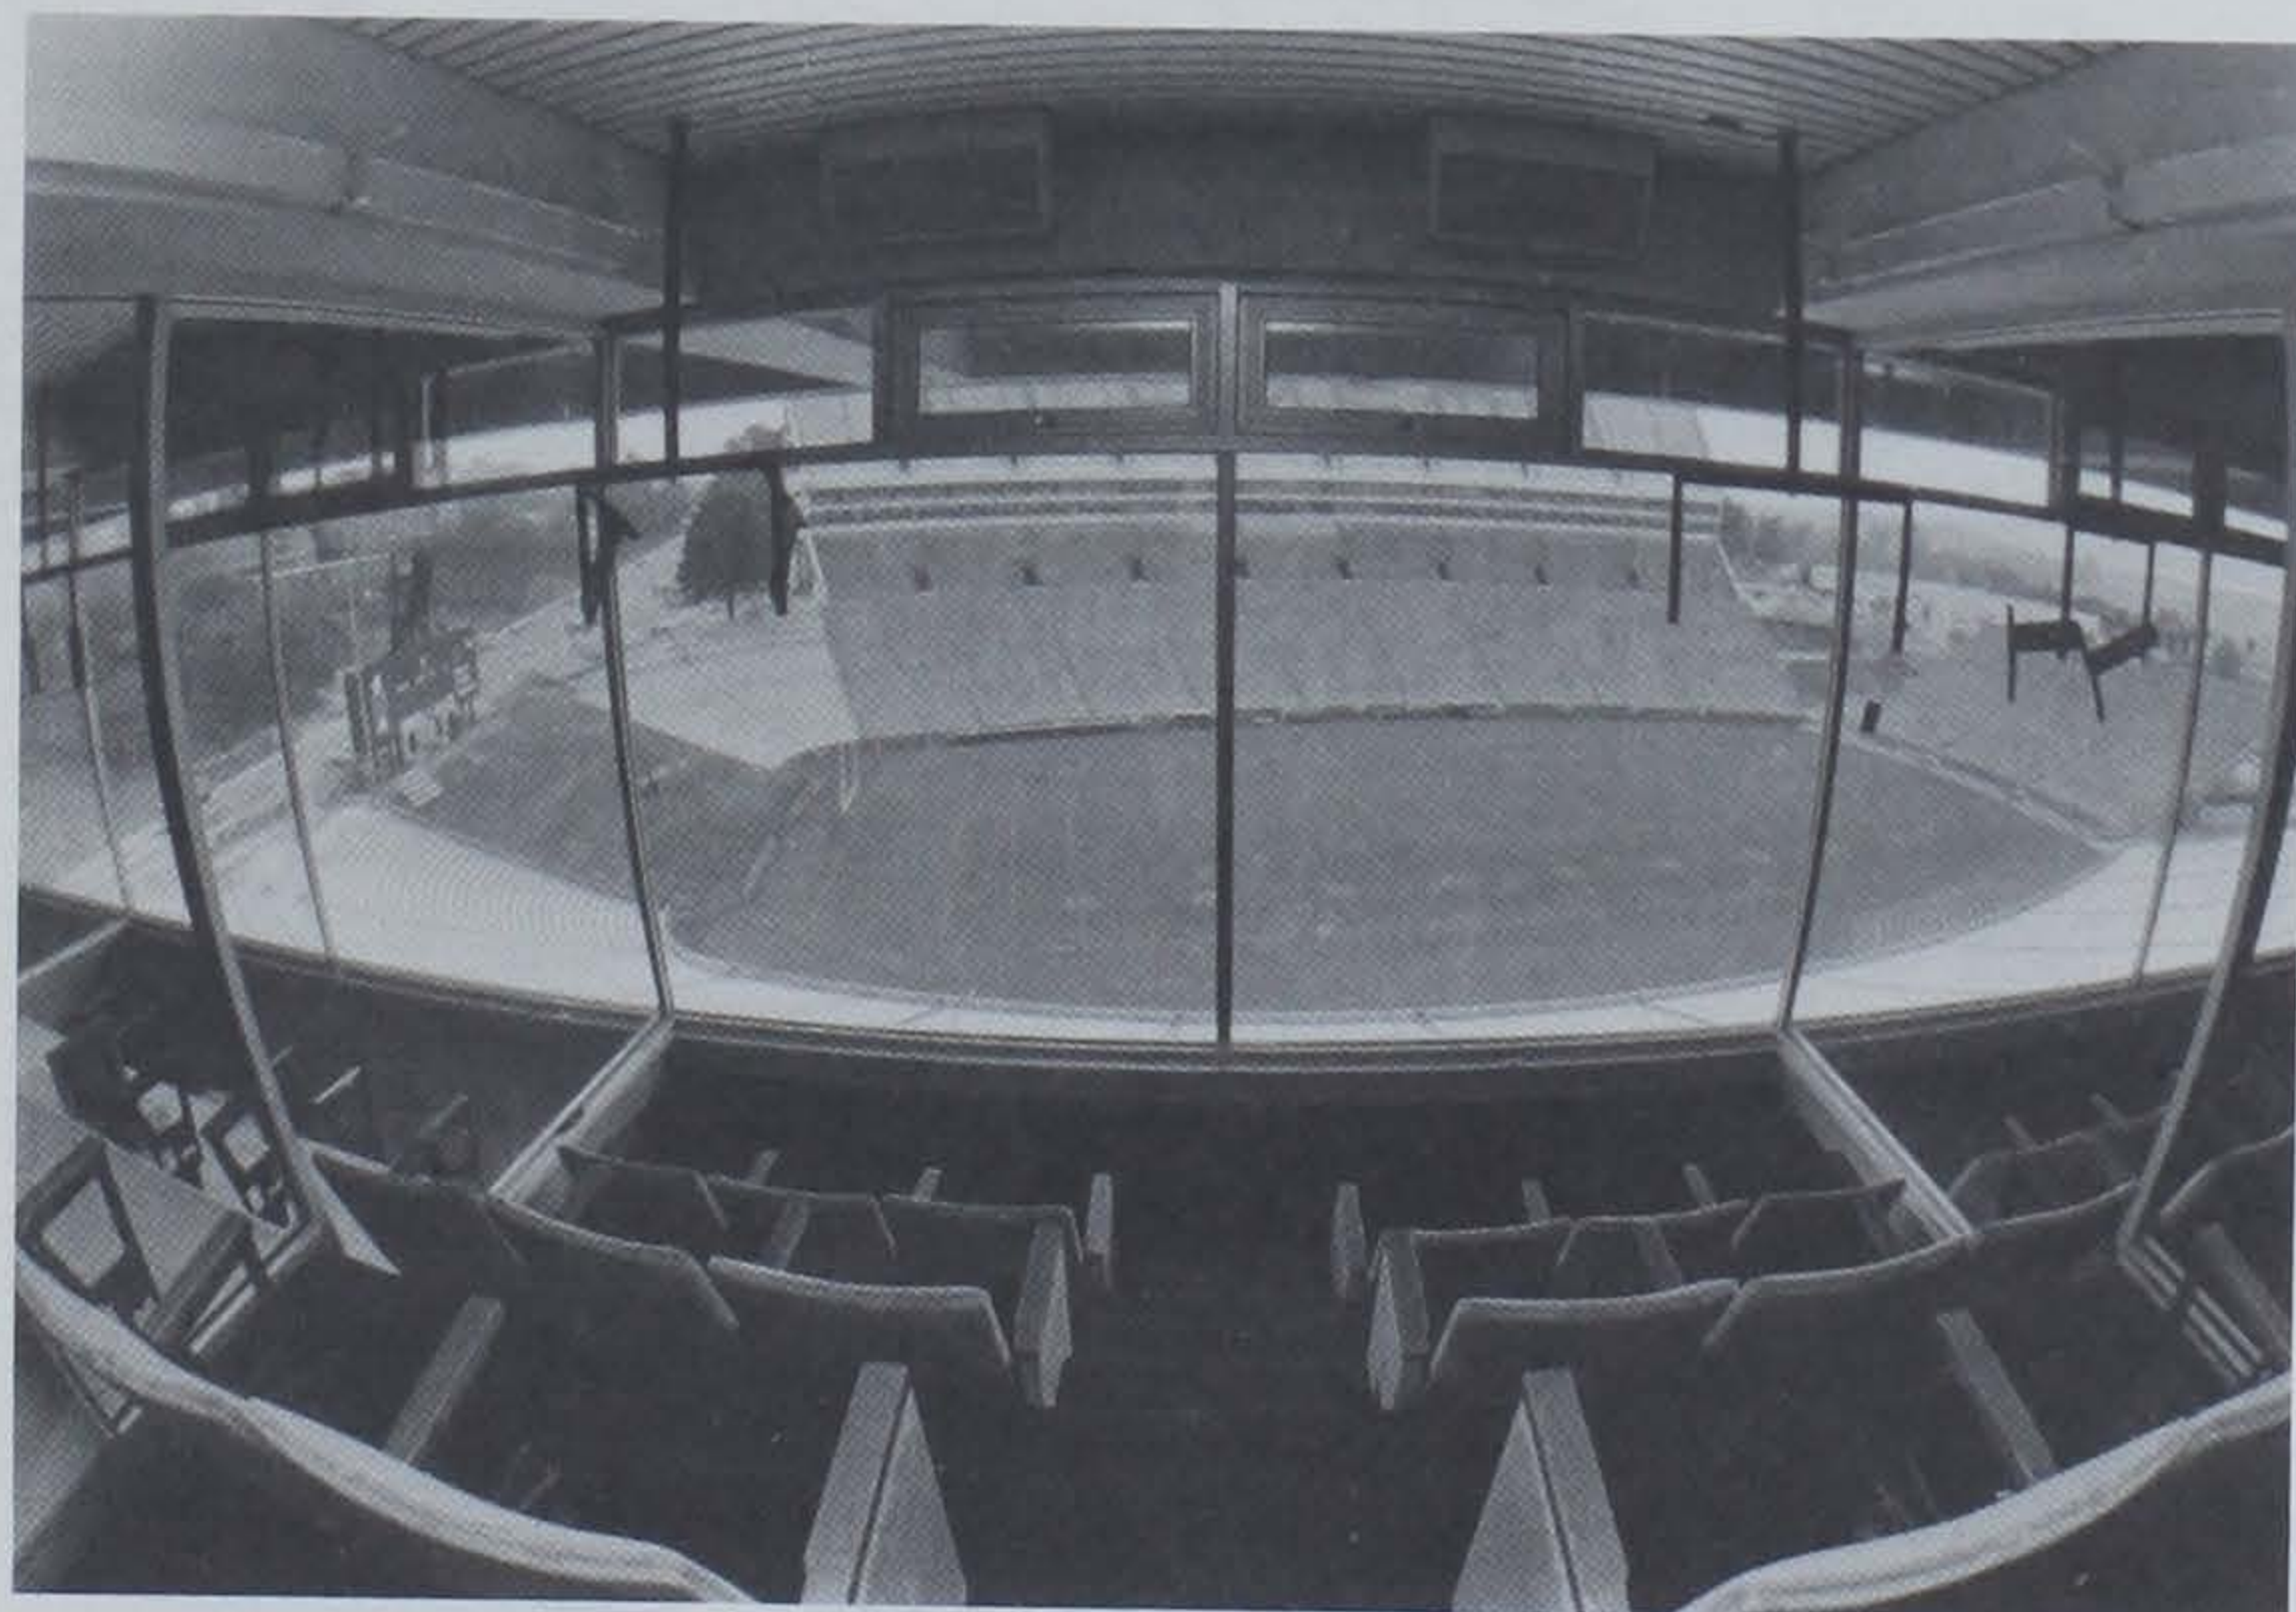

"We also have outstanding dressing rooms, press facilities, and ample parking nearby. A unique feature of the stadium is the number of private boxes."

Rick Brewer, an official in the University athletic ticket office says that despite the stadium's large size, there are still season ticket problems. "When the second upper deck was built, we thought it would take care of everything," he said. "To our dismay, it hasn't. We've filled the upper decks and have moved season ticket holders into the end zone, which are not permanent seats."

Despite the apparent ticket crunch, Robinson says there are no immediate plans to further expand the stadium. "Before we expand we'll have to show over an extended length of time—like five to seven years—that we can sell out what we have now," he said. "We don't want supply to greatly exceed demand. Even though it's hard to get tickets now, we still get people in our stadium. The ticket means more if it's harder to get."

But, if Memorial Stadium is expanded again and capacity is pushed closer to 100,000, there will be room for the construction over the west stands, enclosing that end like a horseshoe.

Luckily, the stadium wasn't built behind the Y.

Clemson Memorial Stadium has over 100 luxury boxes, more than any other on-campus facility in the nation. Clemson's message board keeps fans up to date with other scores and stats, and also projects player's pictures after an outstanding play.

Clemson Strength Training

Clemson has had a strength All-American seven years in a row.

The first glimpse Tiger faithful will have of their favorite team in 1990 will take place as the team gathers at the top of the hill on September 1. But, before the Tigers are ready to take that 25 second run down the hill into awesome Death Valley this autumn, they must first spend hours on the practice field and even more hours in the Clemson strength training facility, a place just as impressive in its own right as Death Valley.

Hard work and constant improvements by Head Strength Coach Gary Wade and his staff of five assistants have placed the Tiger weight room high on the list of Clemson's inspiring facilities. Several renovations over the last decade have made the facility one of the best of its kind across the nation, on the collegiate and professional levels. The area is used by athletes from all of Clemson's 18 varsity sports for year-round strength and conditioning programs.

In no sport is the importance of strength training more evident than in football. It is no accident that the Tigers have posted a 44-14-2 record, won three ACC Championships, had nine first or second team Americans, and 32 first-team all-conference players since Wade joined the Clemson staff in 1985. The Tigers have also won four consecutive bowl games during that time, and the average lifts in 1990 are well-ahead of the top lifts of five years ago.

As the success of the overall athletic program has grown, Gary Wade and the Clemson athletic administration have felt the need to grow along with it. A recent renovation increased the size of the facility from an already impressive 8,600 square feet to an astounding 11,000 square feet. The facility now boasts two full lines of Nautilus machines and over 12 tons of weights.

"With the number of machines and free weights that we have now, an athlete should never have to wait at a particular station for the athlete in front of him to finish," says Wade. "It also makes it possible for athletes from several different sports to work out in the facility at the same time."

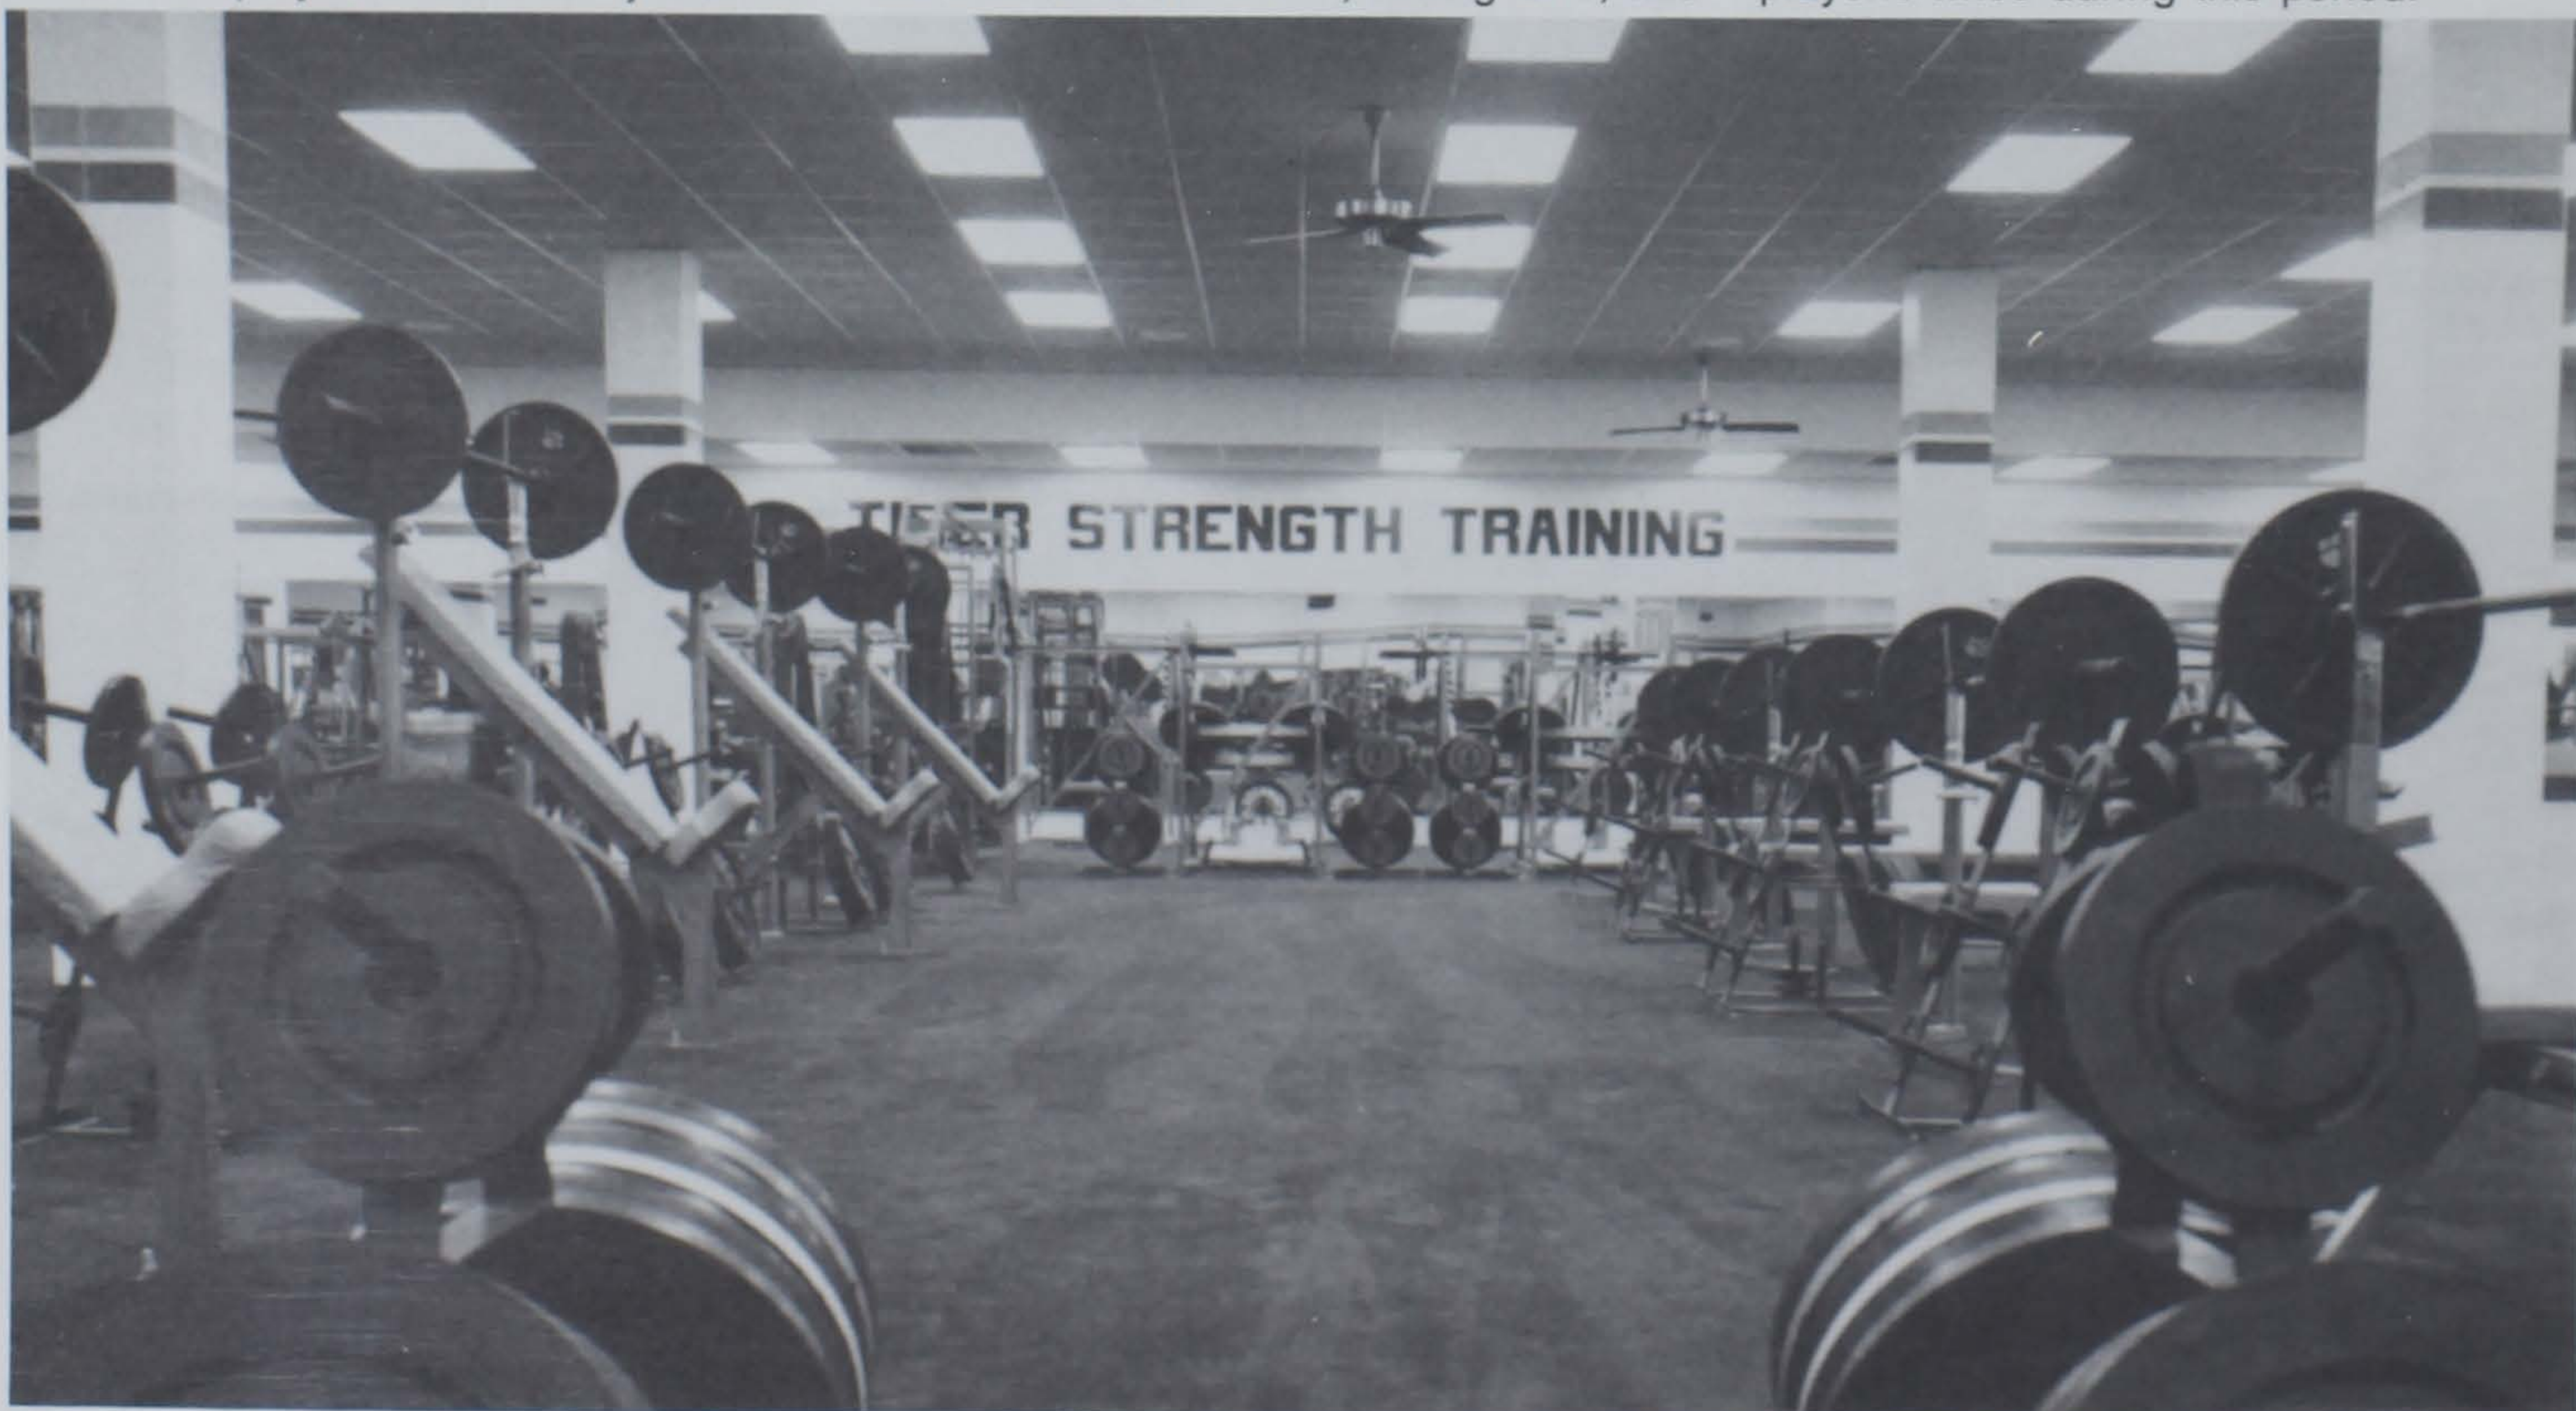

In the middle of winter when the grass on Frank Howard field has turned brown and the Tiger paws have faded in the cold, the Tiger strength training facility is a place of constant action. When an athlete enters the etched glass doors, he or she is greeted by plush, wall-to-wall carpeting, walls lined with mirrors, ceiling fans, and music from a 20-speaker sound system — a worthy backdrop for over $500,000 worth of state-of-the-art equipment.

"It is important for our athletes to be able to work out in a pleasant, enjoyable atmosphere. It makes the weight room more functional because if the athletes enjoy what they are doing, they will continue to improve. I think our facility has one of the best, if not the best, atmospheres in the country and that helps our athletes' performance."

Wade joined the Clemson coaching staff in 1985 and has directed four major refurbishings of the weight facility. His reputation in the field of strength training was already well-established when he became a Tiger and has grown with continued success at Clemson. Wade acquired his knowledge of the profession working as an undergraduate and graduate student at the University of Nebraska.

After leaving Nebraska, he spent five years as head strength coach of the Detroit Lions. During his time with that organization, the club finished second in the Central Division three times and won the NFC Central in 1983. The Lions also reached the playoffs twice during this period.

The Clemson Strength Facility is one of the most spacious facilities in the nation. Now 11,000 square feet, it features over 12 tons of equipment.

John Phillips was an All-American on the field and his hard work in the strength training facility was a contributing factor.

Wade and his five assistants, Jay Akamine, Scott Bennett, Joel St. Cyr, Tommy Steele, and Jeff Taylor, personally supervise the individual weight programs of hundreds of athletes. The strength training staff spends long hours working around the various schedules of each sport and even takes the facility on the road, when the Tigers play in a bowl game. For the past three seasons, Wade and his assistants have set up a temporary weight room at the Tigers' hotel headquarters.

This fall, the operation of the strength training facility will be enhanced by the addition of a new computerized program. Tiger strength coaches will be able to enter all the current strength data on an athlete, and the computer will generate a 10-week conditioning program that will help that athlete reach optimum results.

Several Tigers have already reached those optimum results, as six members of the Clemson football team have been named to the All-American strength team in the last six years. This honor is a means of nationally recognizing athletes who have greatly improved their on-field performance through strength and conditioning. Clemson's all-time leading rusher, Kenny Flowers, won the honor in 1984, while Jim Riggs, an All-ACC tight end who played in the Super Bowl with the Cincinnati Bengals in 1989, was a choice for the squad in 1985.

Three-time academic All-ACC offensive tackle Ty Granger was a 1986 Strength All-American, while tight end Danny Pearman, a former walk-on player, was honored for 1987. In 1988, All-America cornerback Donnell Woolford added a Strength All-America certificate to his resume before being drafted in the first round of the NFL draft by the Chicago Bears.

Linebacker Vince Taylor is the Tigers' newest addition to the strength All-American team. Taylor finished his career last season and his five years of hard work in the weight room paid off with the honor. "Vince is an example of a player who benefitted from a great high school weight program and continued his work habits in college," says Wade. "He came in extremely strong out of high school with a 350-pound bench press and a 309-pound power clean, which is a tremendous mark for a high school kid. By the time he left, he was bench pressing 455 pounds and power-cleaning 353-pounds, which ties for the second best ever by one of our players. He is a great example of how an athlete can gain size through strength training as his weight went from 205 to 235. In spite of that weight gain, his speed also increased through conditioning, from 4.84 to 4.73 (in the 40)."

Another honor that Clemson players can win through hard work in the weight room is that of Lifter-of-the-Year. This honor is unique in that the recipient is voted on by his teammates. Outside linebacker Levon Kirkland was the choice of the 1989 squad.

"Levon has always been a dedicated athlete, on the field and in his off the field conditioning," says Wade. "He needed to get bigger after coming in at 204 as a freshman and he has now increased his weight to 230. He bench pressed 250-pounds when he first came to Clemson and after two years of intense training, he can bench close to 400 pounds and can power clean 300 pounds."

Football workouts are designed to help the Tigers in every aspect of the game and are different for every position. Flexibility and quickness are emphasized in addition to strength, as is stamina. The goal of the strength training staff is to have every player able to perform at peak efficiency for four quarters in 11, or hopefully 12, games.

The amount of weights an athlete is able to lift is not the most important part of strength training, which is why Wade and his staff emphasize the power ratio. This statistic takes the sum of an athlete's bench press, power clean and leg sled and divides it by his bodyweight. This figure gives a more accurate idea of pound-for-pound strength. Seven current Tigers currently have power ratios of over 7.00, a phenomenal figure according to Wade.

The strength training facility and staff is just another evidence of Clemson's commitment to excellence in all areas of athletic competition and training. Gary Wade and his staff strive to make the facility a place where the athletes desire to condition is enhanced by the results that are evident on the playing field.

Gary Wade Strength Coach

Gary Wade, the Tiger strength coach, brings a wide range of experience into the Clemson weight room. This experience comes in handy as Wade, who is in his seventh full season with the Clemson program, is in charge of the strength training for the athletes in all 18 sports at Clemson.

Wade served as an assistant strength coach at Nebraska for three years as an undergraduate and graduate student. He earned his undergraduate degree in education in 1978 and worked on his master's in exercise physiology.

In 1980 he became the Detroit Lions' first strength and conditioning coach. The 34-year-old received much credit for the Lions' immediate improvement as Head Coach Monte Clark took pride in Wade's work and the results on the field.

During his five years with the Lions the club finished second three times in the Central Division and won the NFC Central in 1983. The Lions made the playoffs twice during this time period.

In his five seasons at Clemson the teams' overall strength figures have grown significantly. He has had a National Strength and Conditioning Association All-American in each of his first six years, Kenny Flowers in 1984, Jim Riggs in 1985, Ty Granger in 1986, Danny Pearman in 1987, Donnell Woolford in 1988, and Vince Taylor for the 1989 season.

Wade, who was born in Nebraska City, NE, earned 10 letters in high school at Weeping Water High. He was all-conference in football for three seasons and was second-team all-state his senior year.

Clemson Traditions

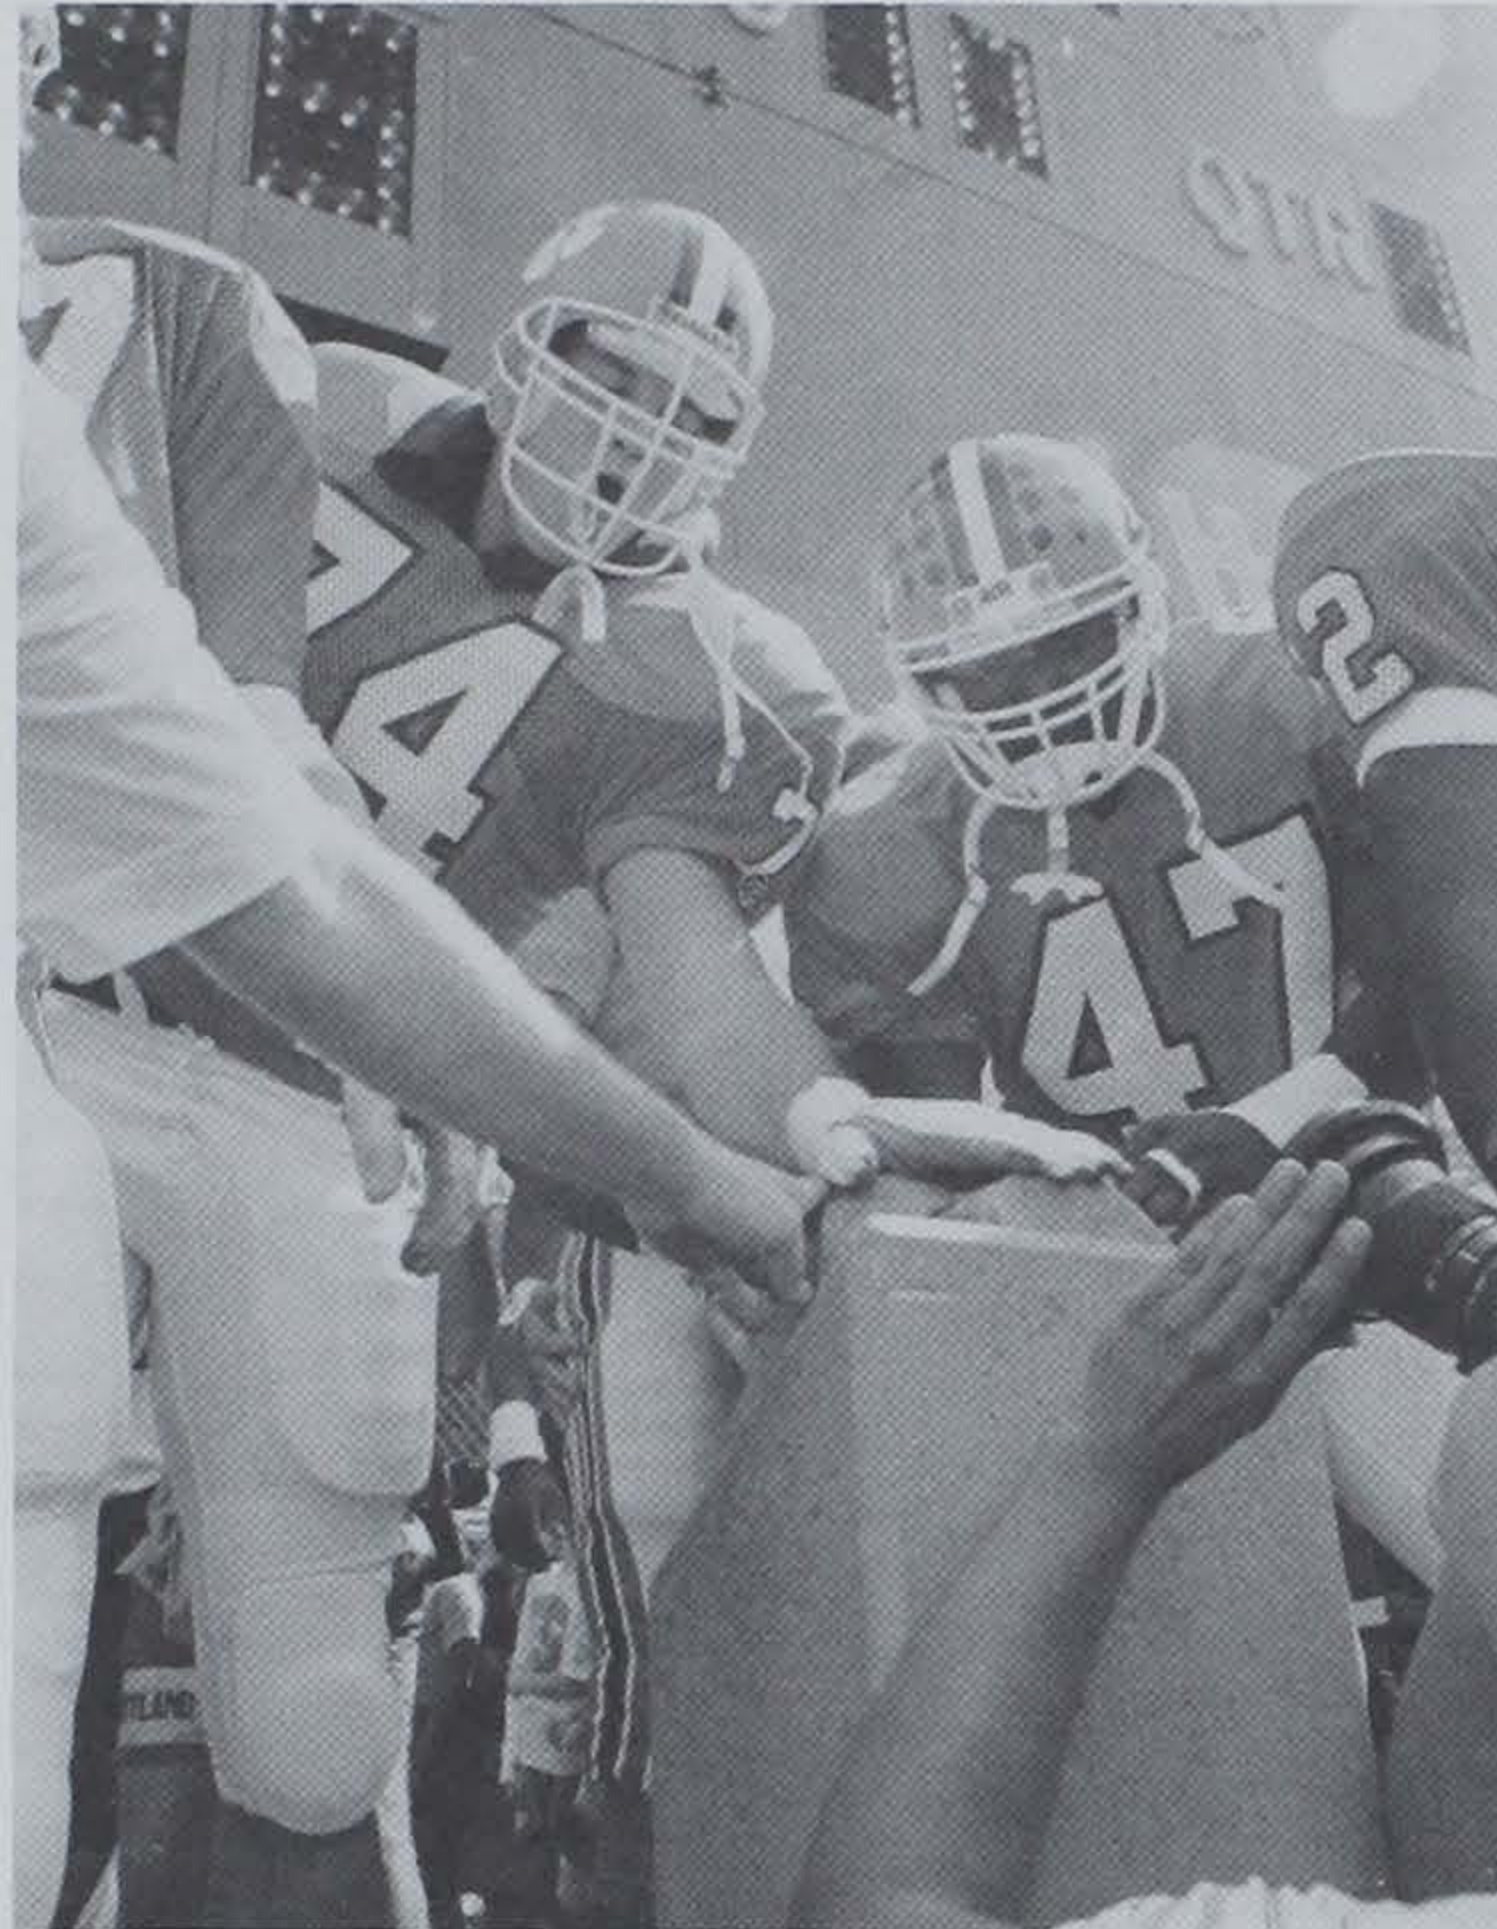

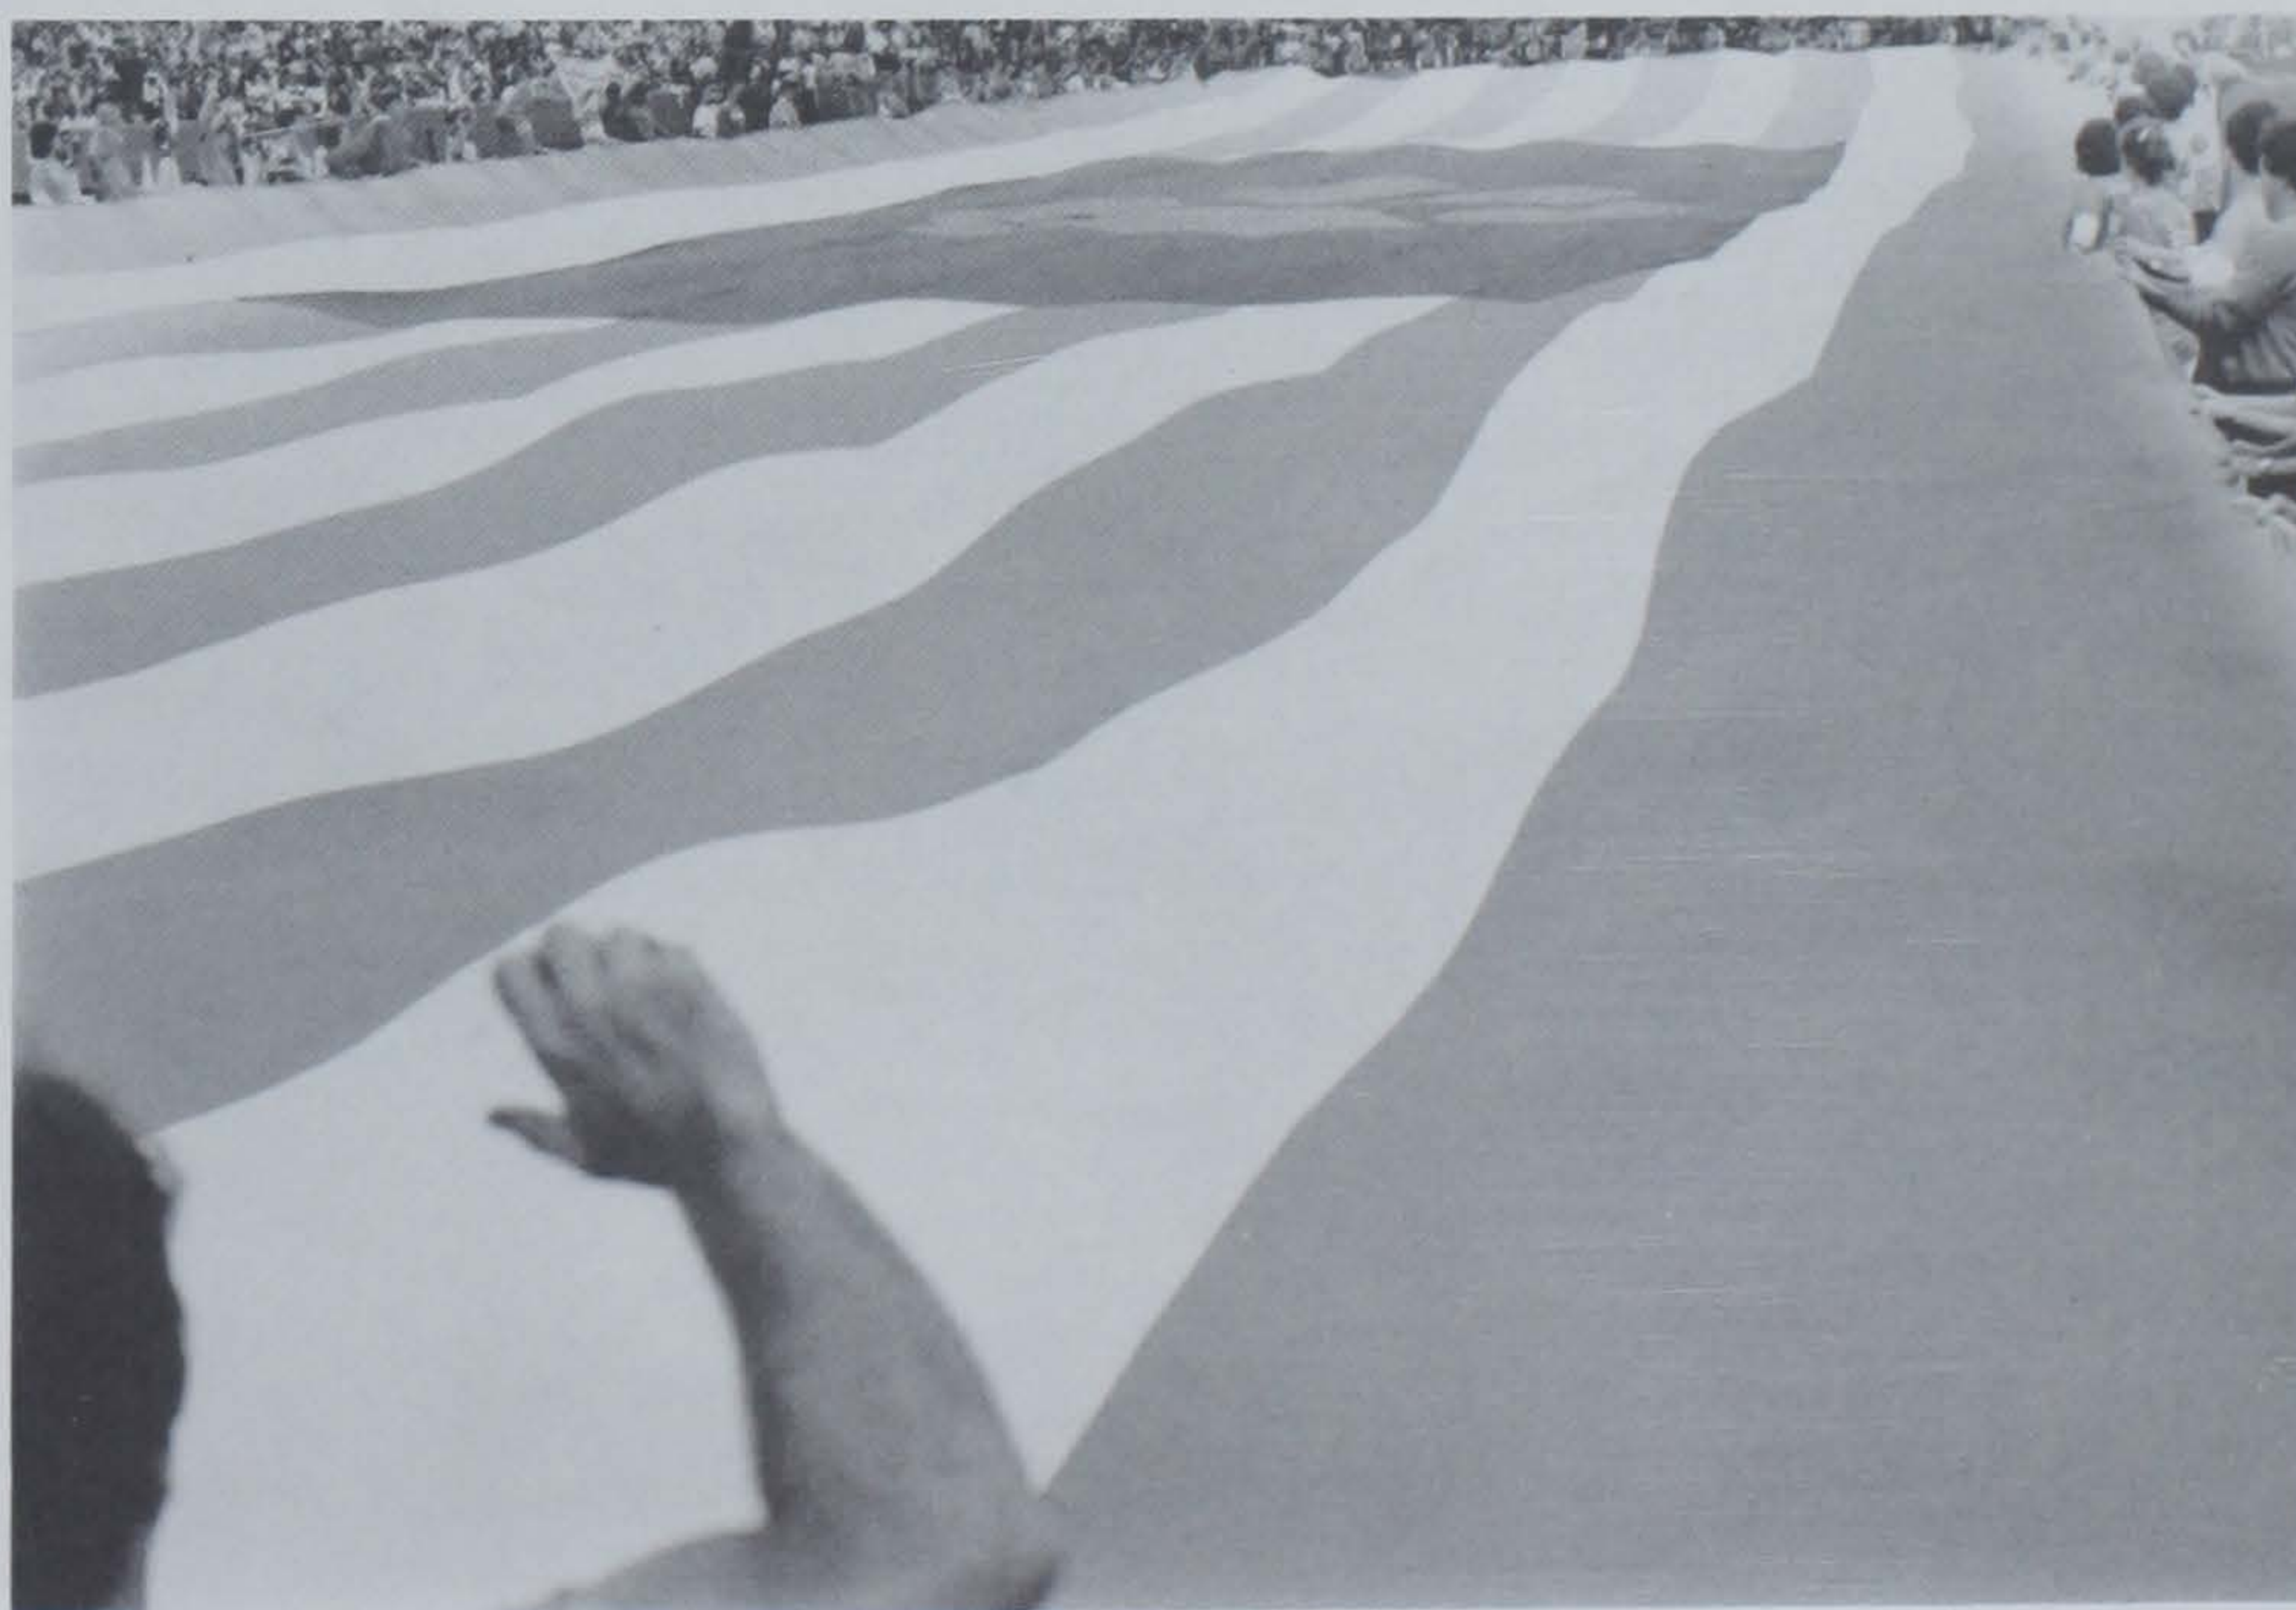

This year's Spirit Blitz spectacular is scheduled for October 6 when Georgia travels to Death Valley.

Clemson Football Is ...

Running down the hill (the most exciting 25 seconds in college football) ... the Tiger Tailgate Show ... the Tiger band ... Spirit Blitz weekend with 370,000 balloons, or an 80-yard flag ... painting Tiger Paws everywhere, even the highway ... Homecoming floats, Tigerama, Homecoming Queens and fireworks ... cheerleaders ... The Clemson Tiger mascot and his pushups ... Bonfires and pep rallies ... a family affair for people of all ages ... Howard's Rock ... famous Clemson fans ... sky-divers who deliver the game ball ... what college football is all about.

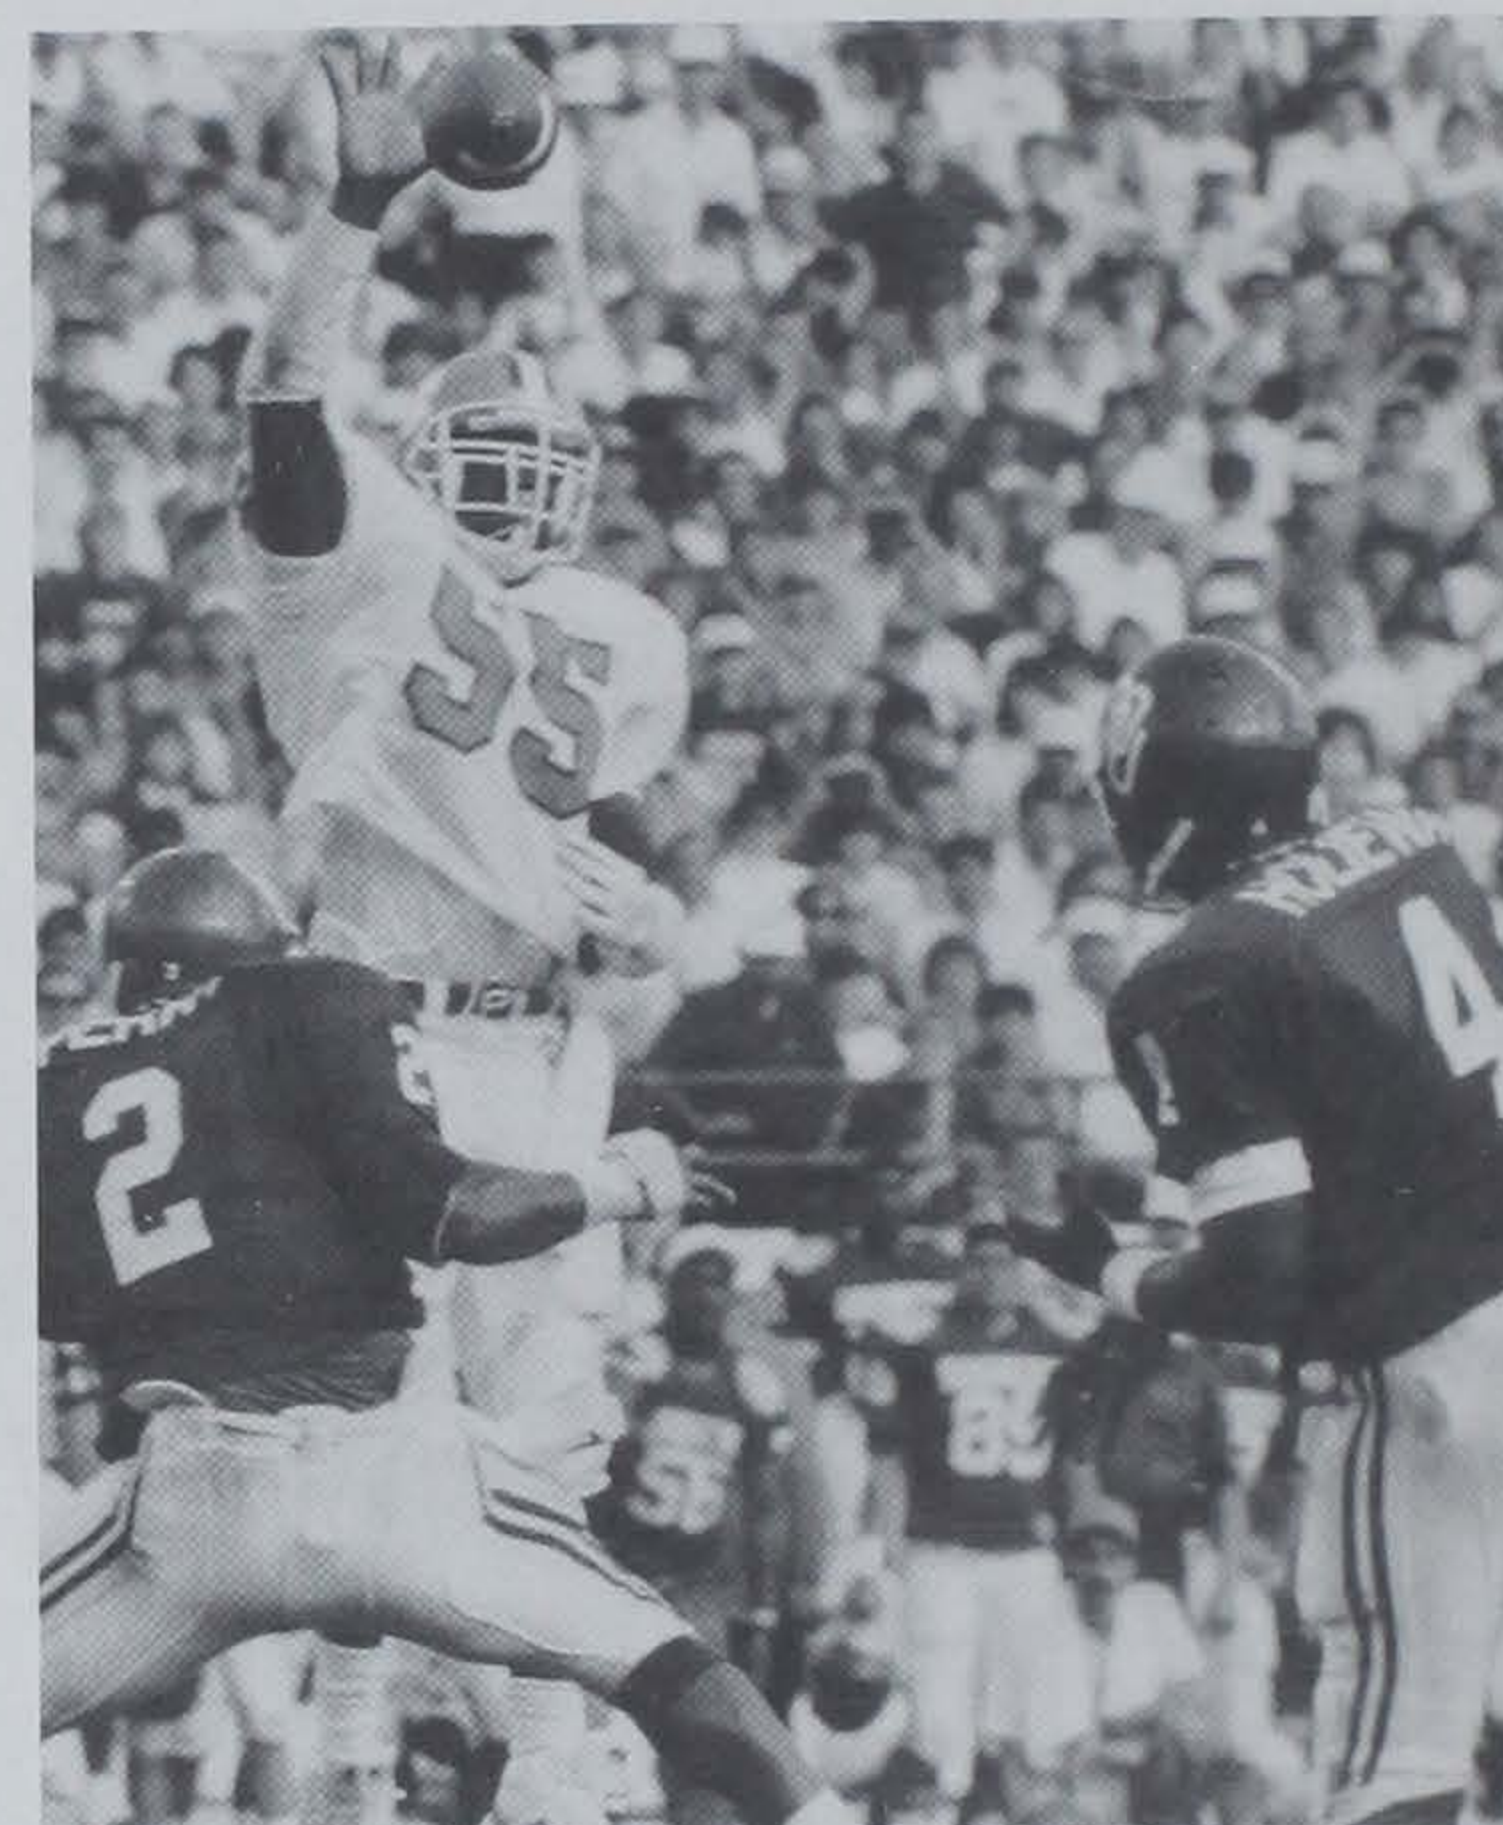

Landmark Victories

Clemson had a 5-1 bowl record in the decade of the eighties.

William Perry helped stop Herschel Walker in 1981 on the way to Clemson's 1981 national title. It was Georgia's only regular season loss in the Walker era.

Jesse Hatcher batted down this pass on the way to Clemson's 1989 Florida Citrus Bowl win over Oklahoma.

Dan Benish (#71) and William Devane (#94) celebrate a tackle for loss on Nebraska's Roger Craig in the 1982 Orange Bowl. Clemson gained victory by a 22-15 count to register its national championship. Clemson beat three Top 10 teams that year and had five players chosen first or second-team All-American.

Rodney Williams threw for 214 yards in the 1988 Citrus Bowl win over Penn State.

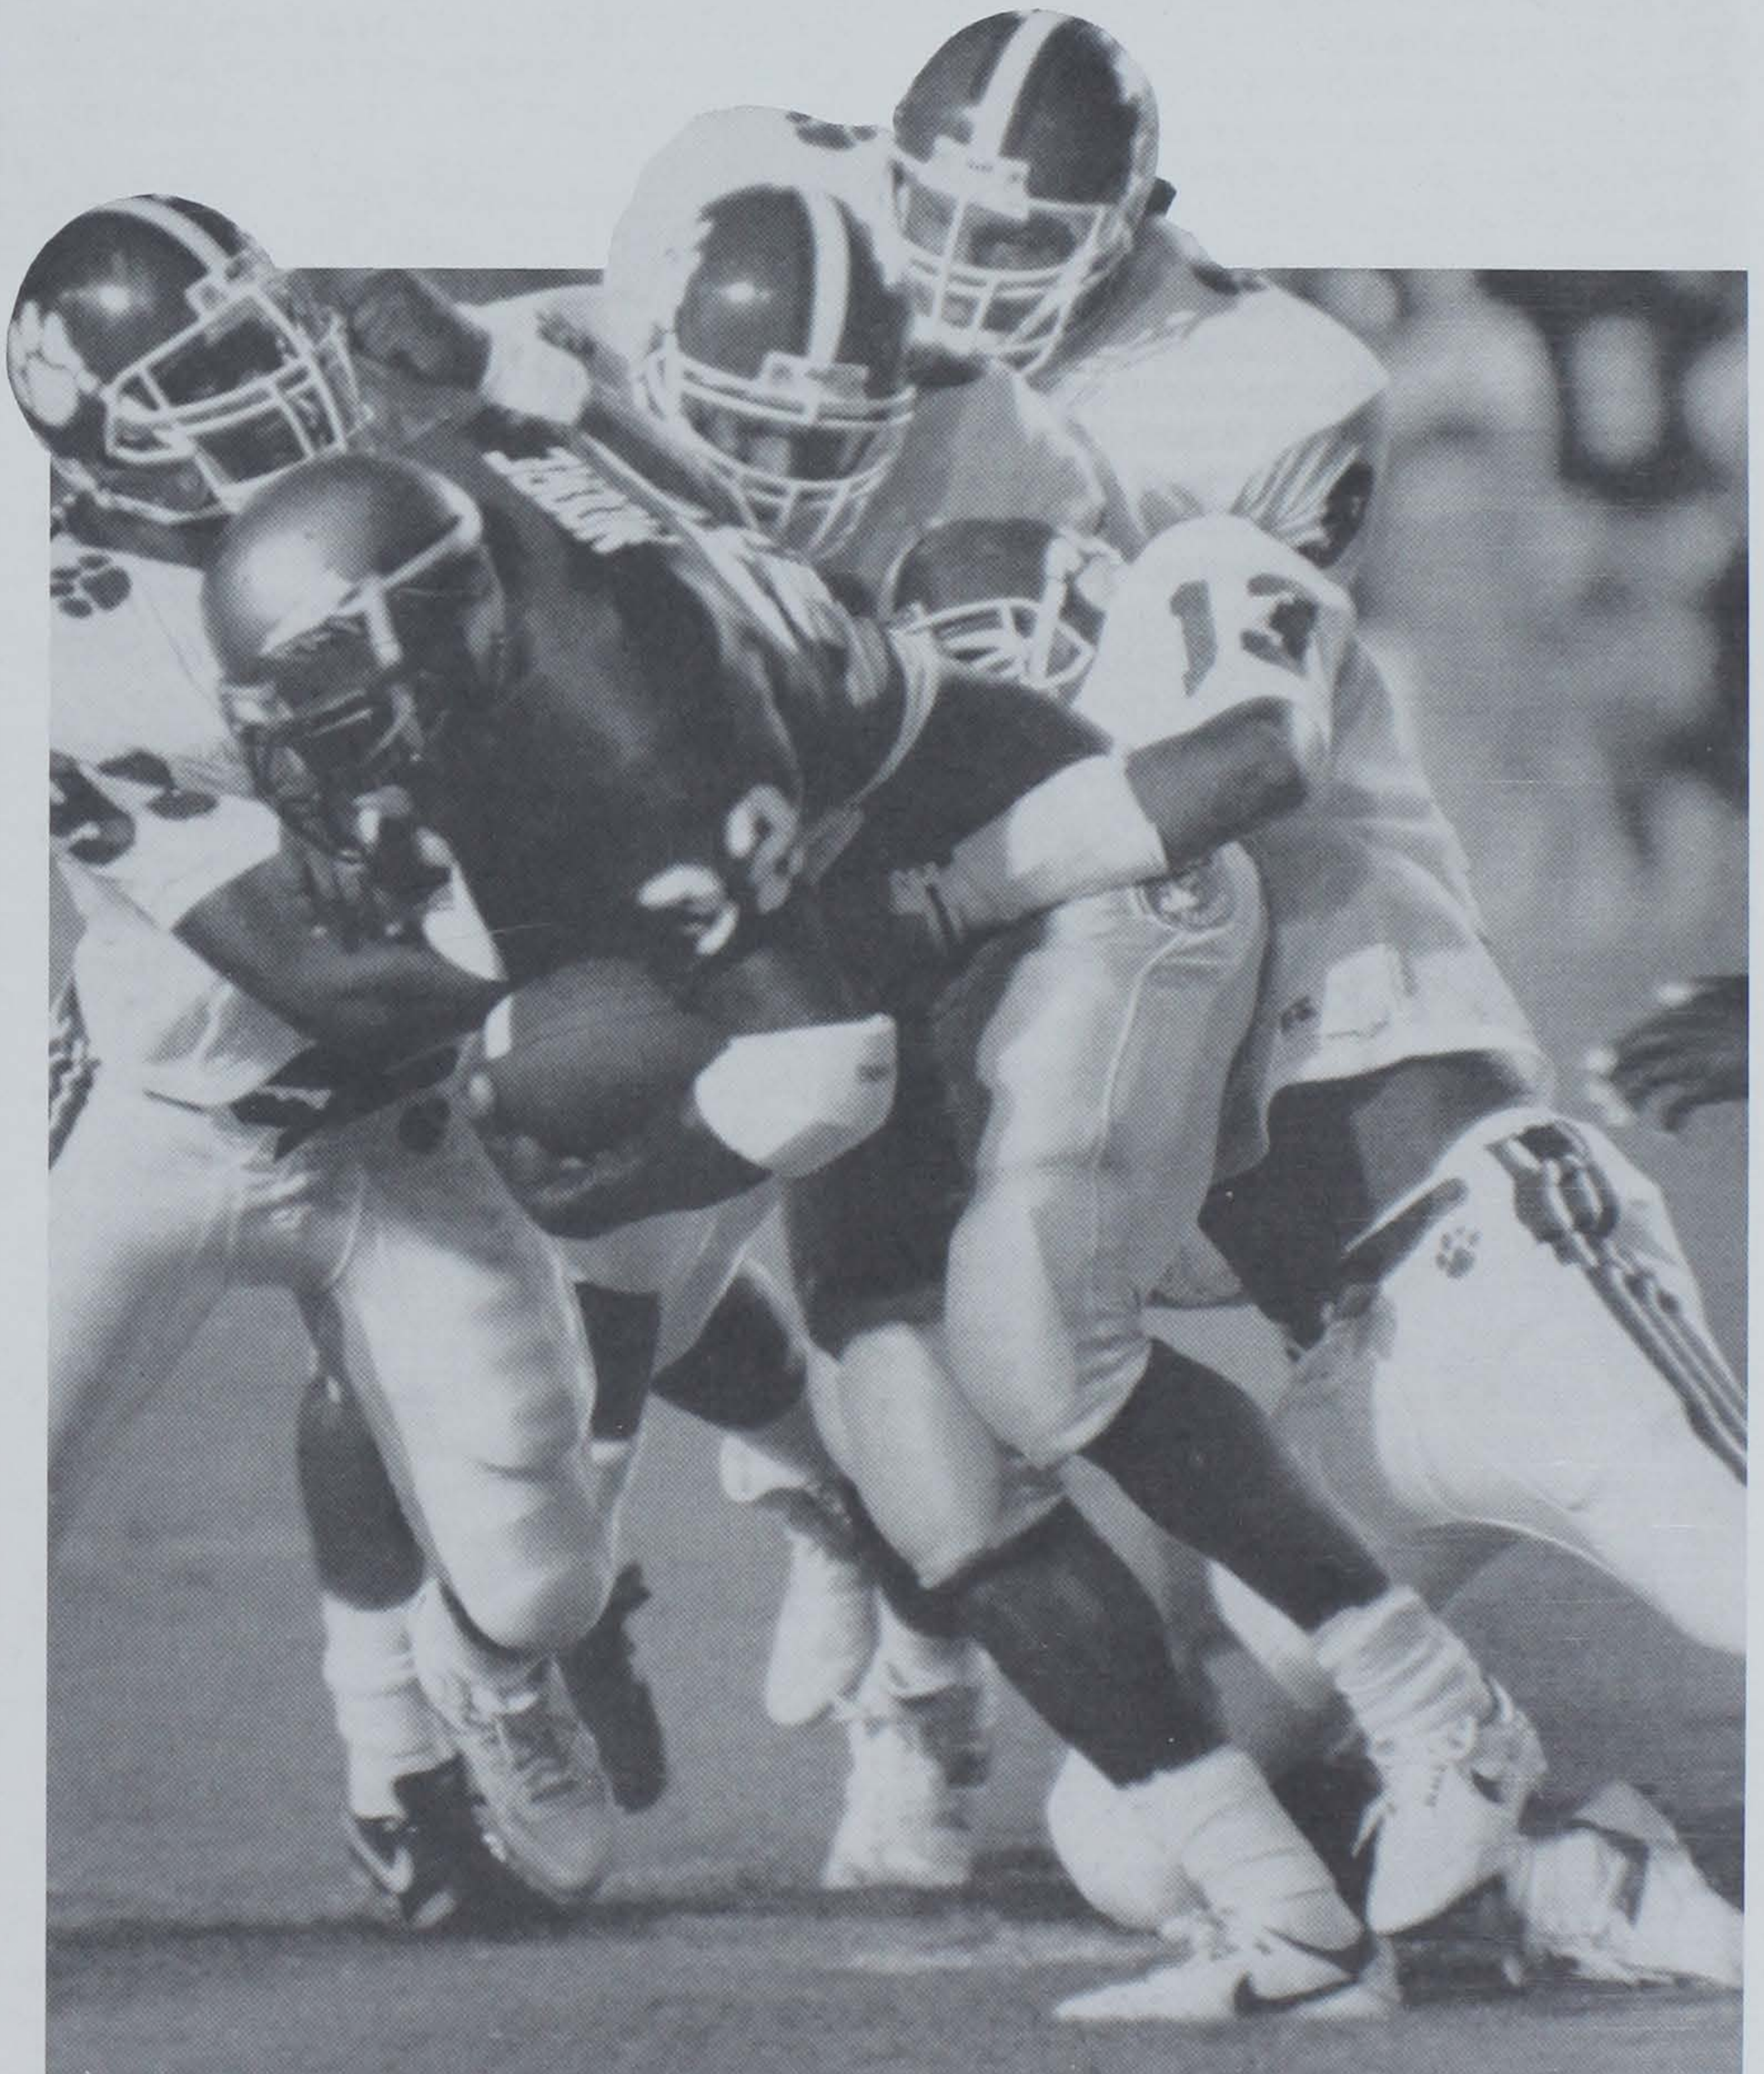

Levon Kirkland and Chester McGlockton celebrate one of four sacks on West Virginia's Major Harris during 1989 Gator Bowl win.

Bubba Brown stopped Art Schlichter cold on this play in Clemson's 1978 Gator Bowl win over Ohio State. Brown had 22 tackles in the 17-15 Tiger win.

Steve Durham stopped Pete Holohan at Notre Dame in Clemson's 16-10 win in South Bend in 1979. It was just the third time in 40 years that Notre Dame's seniors were beaten in their final home game.

A swarming Clemson defense held Florida State in check during Clemson's 11-point win in Tallahassee in 1989. Clemson was the last team to beat FSU last year and the Seminoles went on to a #3 final AP ranking.

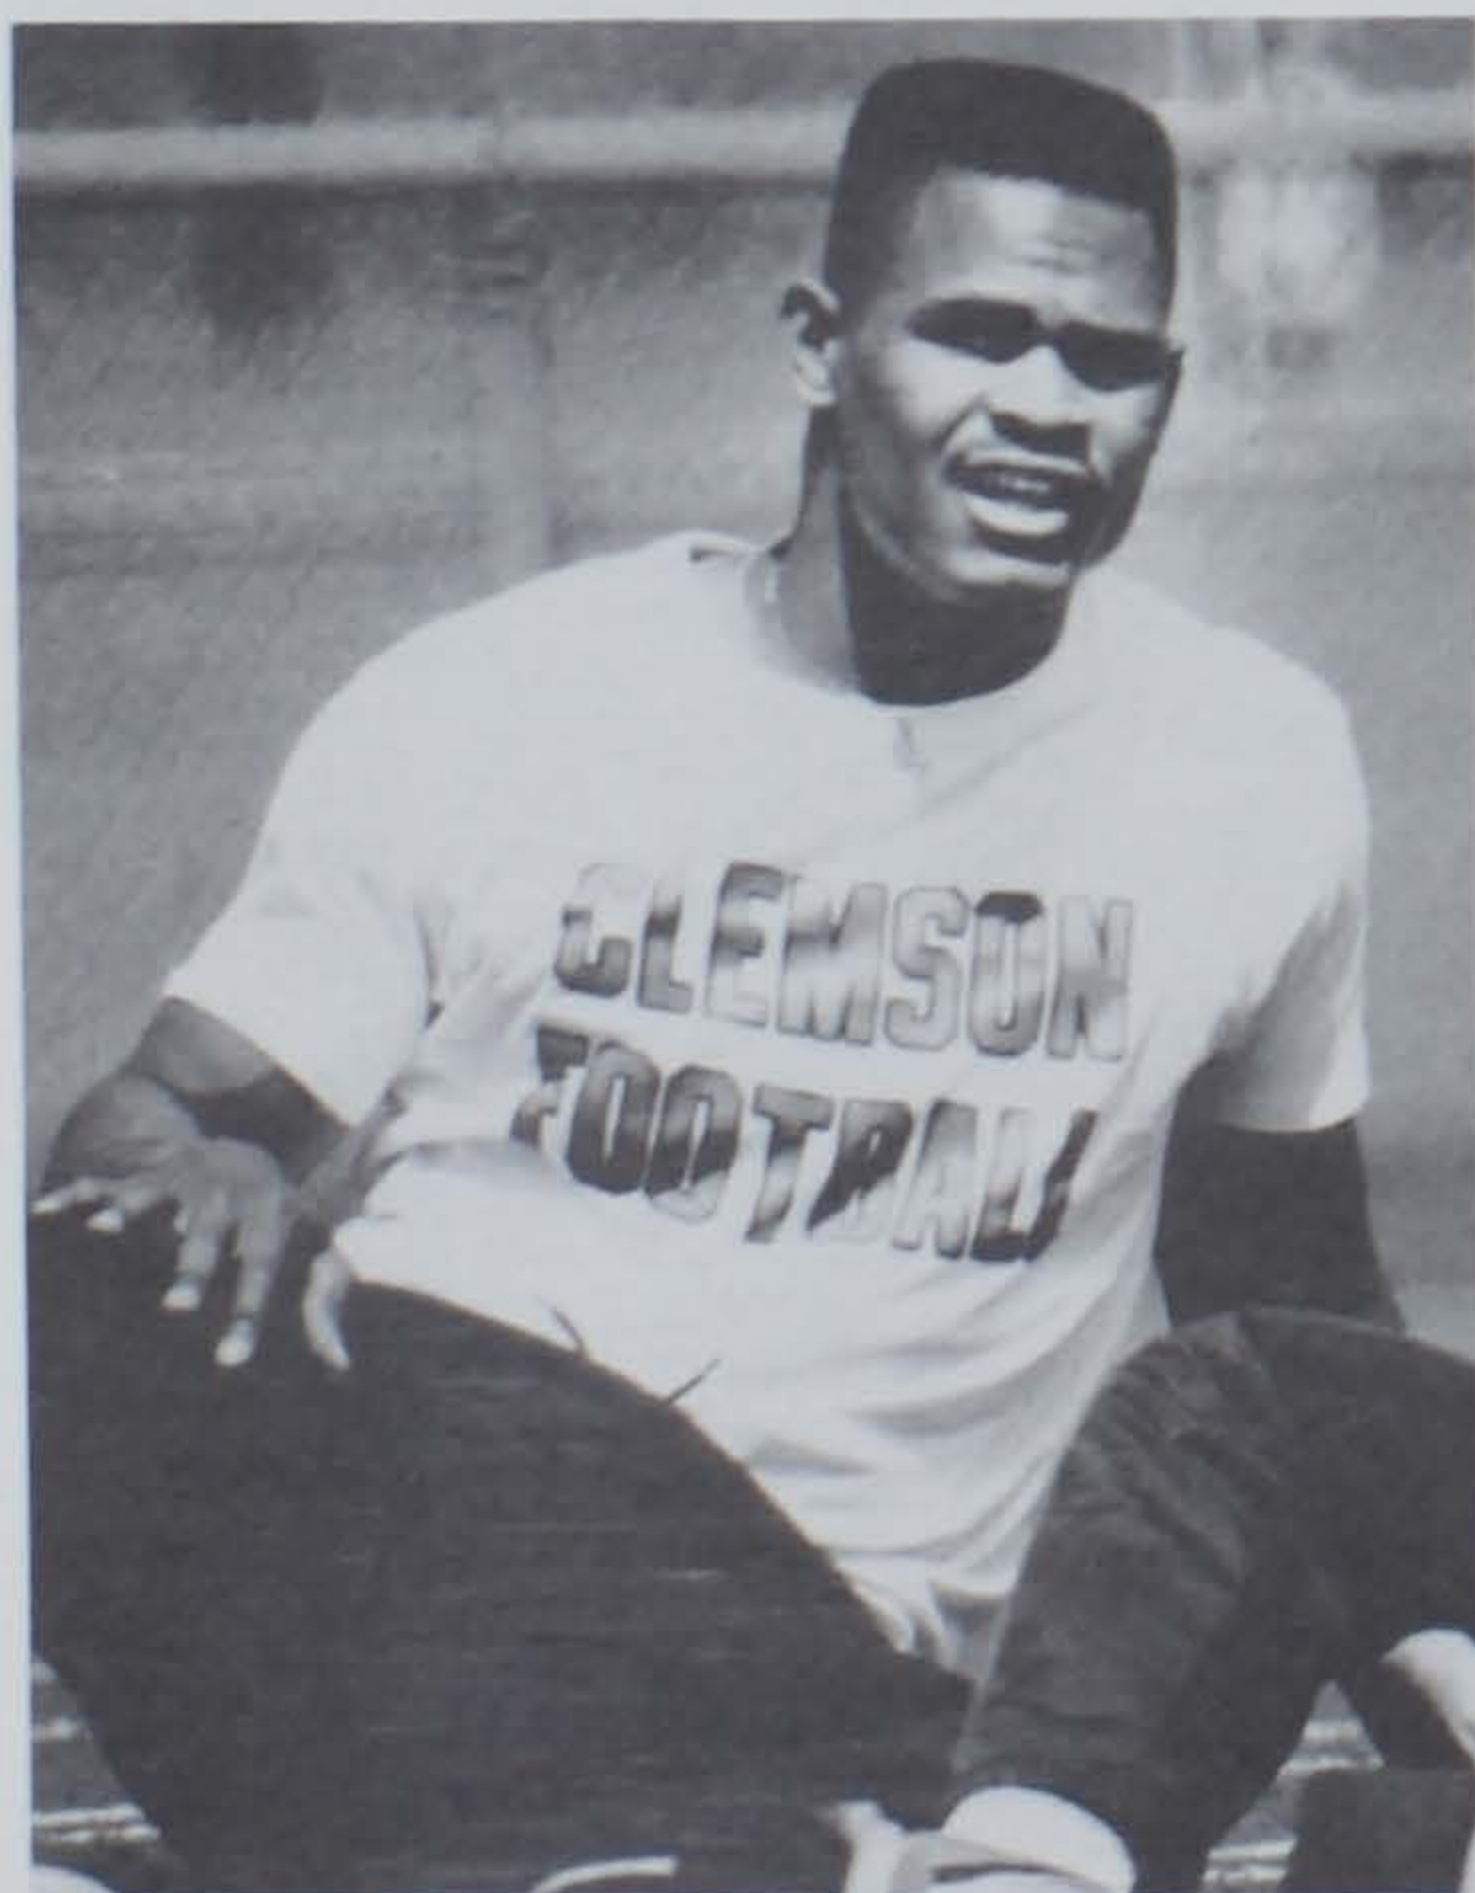

Clemson Sports Program 1989-90

Clemson had nine of its 18 athletic teams finish in the Top 25 in the nation in 1989-90.

Overall Notes

- Clemson was the only school in the nation that won a bowl game, an NCAA tournament basketball game and an NCAA tournament baseball game in the 1989-90 year. It marked the second straight year Clemson had pulled off this triple. Clemson and Illinois were the only schools in the nation to participate in all three of those postseason events.
- Both of Clemson's basketball teams advanced to the Sweet 16 of their respective NCAA tournaments. Clemson was one of three programs to have both basketball teams in the Sweet 16 (Arkansas and Texas were the others). Both basketball teams boasted the ACC Coach-of-the-Year as Cliff Ellis and Jim Davis captured the award.
- Clemson had two ACC MVPs in spring sports as Brian Kowitz won the honor in baseball, while James Trapp was the MVP of the outdoor track season. A third Clemson athlete won ACC MVP honors when Philip Greyling was named MVP of the indoor ACC meet.
- Bob Pollock joined both basketball coaches in winning ACC Coach-of-the-Year honors. He was the Coach-of-the-Year in both indoor and outdoor track.
- Former head football coach Frank Howard was inducted in the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame during ceremonies in New York City in December. He became the third former Clemson coach inducted into the Hall of Fame.
- James Trapp might have been the most versatile athlete at Clemson in 1989-90. He served as a reserve on Clemson's 12th ranked football team that had a 10-2 record. In track he was an All-American in both indoor and outdoor competition and set a Clemson record in the 100-meters with a time of 10.12.

James Trapp was a reserve on Clemson's 10-2 football team and an All-American and ACC champion in track.

- Nine of Clemson's 18 sports finished in the Top 25 in the nation and three others were ranked in the Top 25 at one time or another.
- Sixty-nine Clemson student-athletes were named to the ACC Academic honor roll (over 3.0 GPA). Golfer Oswald Drawdy was on the list for the fourth straight year and was chosen to the National Golf Coaches Academic All-America team for the third straight year.

Fall Sports

Football (10-2, 12th ranked)

- Clemson finished with a 10-2 record and a #12 final ranking by AP. The Tigers were ranked in the final top 20 by every poll, the fourth year in a row Clemson finished in the top 20 and won a bowl game. Clemson and Florida State are the only schools in the country that can make this claim.
- Clemson defeated West Virginia 27-7 in the Mazda Gator Bowl. Levon Kirkland, outside linebacker, was named MVP as Clemson's defense stymied Heisman candidate Major Harris, holding him to just 119 yards passing.
- Four starters were named to the All-ACC Academic team, the highest total in Clemson history as far as starting players is concerned.
- A Clemson record 11 players were named first-team All-ACC by AP or UPI and two were named All-Americans (Stacy Long and Chris Gardocki.)
- Gardocki became just the second player in NCAA history to rank in the top 10 in the nation in punting and placekicking in the same season and he was the first ACC player to be named all-conference as both the punter and placekicker in the same season.
- Among Clemson's victories were a 34-23 win at Florida State and a 30-10 win over N.C. State. Clemson was the last team to beat the Seminoles, who went on to a #3 final national ranking. N.C. State had a 6-0 record and #12 ranking coming into the game with Clemson.
- Clemson led the ACC in 14 different statistical categories, set a school record for completion percentage and finished fifth in the nation in rushing, scoring and total defense.

Soccer (13-6-1)

- Pearse Tormey was named All-American and was a first-team All-ACC selection. He led the team in scoring with 15 goals from his striker position. He also led the team in assists with eight and was second in the ACC in goal scoring and total points.
- Team won the Umbro Tournament with victories over SMU and Yale by identical 2-1 scores. SMU was ranked 16th in the nation coming into the match. Clemson also downed Duke 3-1 and the Blue Devils were ranked 10th coming into the match.
- Coach I.M. Ibrahim increased his career win total to 316. He is now 316-74-22 in 23 years at Clemson, the winningest coach in ACC history and fifth winningest in NCAA history.

Volleyball (30-7)

- Clemson had an 81.1 winning percentage this year, the best in the sport's history. It also was the fewest losses in a season in Clemson volleyball history. It also marked the fourth straight year that the women's volleyball team had won at least 20 matches.
- Linda White became Clemson's winningest coach in volleyball and now has a record of 93-56.
- Wendy Anderson was named second-team All-ACC. She became Clemson's career leader in kills and block assists.
- The team had four ACC wins, most in Clemson history and the team finished in a tie for second in the regular season of the ACC race, highest team finish ever.

Men's Cross Country (Ranked 21st)

- Team ranked second in the ACC and fifth in the District III competition.
- Five runners were first-team All-ACC, more All-ACC performers in a single season than any other campaign in Clemson history. The five All-ACC performers were Larry Clark, Dov Kremer, Rim Cox, Philip Greyling and Geoff Moore.
- Larry Clark won the individual championship of the Florida State Invitational and was Clemson's top performer in five of the six meets.
- Clemson has now finished first or second in the ACC in men's cross country eight of the last 10 years.

Women's Cross Country (Ranked 7th)

- Finished seventh at the NCAA championships in Annapolis, MD.
- Anne Evans was Clemson's top finisher as she was 19th best in the nation. She earned All-America honors for this performance.
- On the conference level, Clemson finished second as Anne Evans and Michelle Scholtz were All-ACC performers and Evans was seventh in the district to earn All-District honors.
- Anne Evans was Clemson's top finisher in all seven Clemson meets. She was individual champion at the Florida State Invitational and the Clemson Invitational.
- This was the eighth time in the last nine years that Clemson finished in the top 20 at the NCAA women's cross country meet.

Winter Sports

Men's Basketball (26-9, 17th ranked, ACC Regular season Champs)

- Won the school's first ACC regular season championship with a 10-4 conference mark. The Tigers finished with a 26-9 overall record, an all-time Clemson record for victories in a season.
- Clemson advanced to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA tournament for just the second time in the school's history.
- Clemson clinched the ACC title with a thrilling 97-94 victory over Duke in Littlejohn Coliseum in a contest televised on ESPN. It was the highest rated ACC game on ESPN all year.

Clemson University

Clemson's 16,072 students travel to Clemson from 49 different states and 71 foreign countries.

Nestled in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains and caressed by the shores of the beautiful Lake Hartwell, Clemson University may provide its students with one of the most picturesque campuses in the south. History and tradition combine with excitement and modern facilities to make the Clemson experience one that most alumni treasure throughout their lives.

Clemson is located on the land that was once the plantation home of vice president John C. Calhoun and his son-in-law, Thomas Green Clemson. The university began with 814 acres of land which Thomas Clemson willed to the state of South Carolina to be used to establish Clemson Agricultural College of South Carolina.

Now the main campus has grown to one that consists of 1,400 acres, with more than 20,000 acres of university farms and woodlands devoted to research in forestry, agriculture and agricultural engineering. It is a progressive campus with 77 percent of its 71 main campus buildings the result of construction since 1950. Fort Hill, the home of Calhoun and Clemson, still stands in its quiet beauty as an historic centerpiece for the university campus, yet it is surrounded by over $539 million worth of academic and administrative buildings; student, staff and faculty housing; athletic and service facilities; and equipment.

It is this unique blend of history and modernization that makes Clemson special in athletics as well. Bowman Field, which still rolls its lush, green carpet in front of the clocktower of Tillman Hall, was once the site of Clemson football, baseball and even basketball games before the turn of the century.

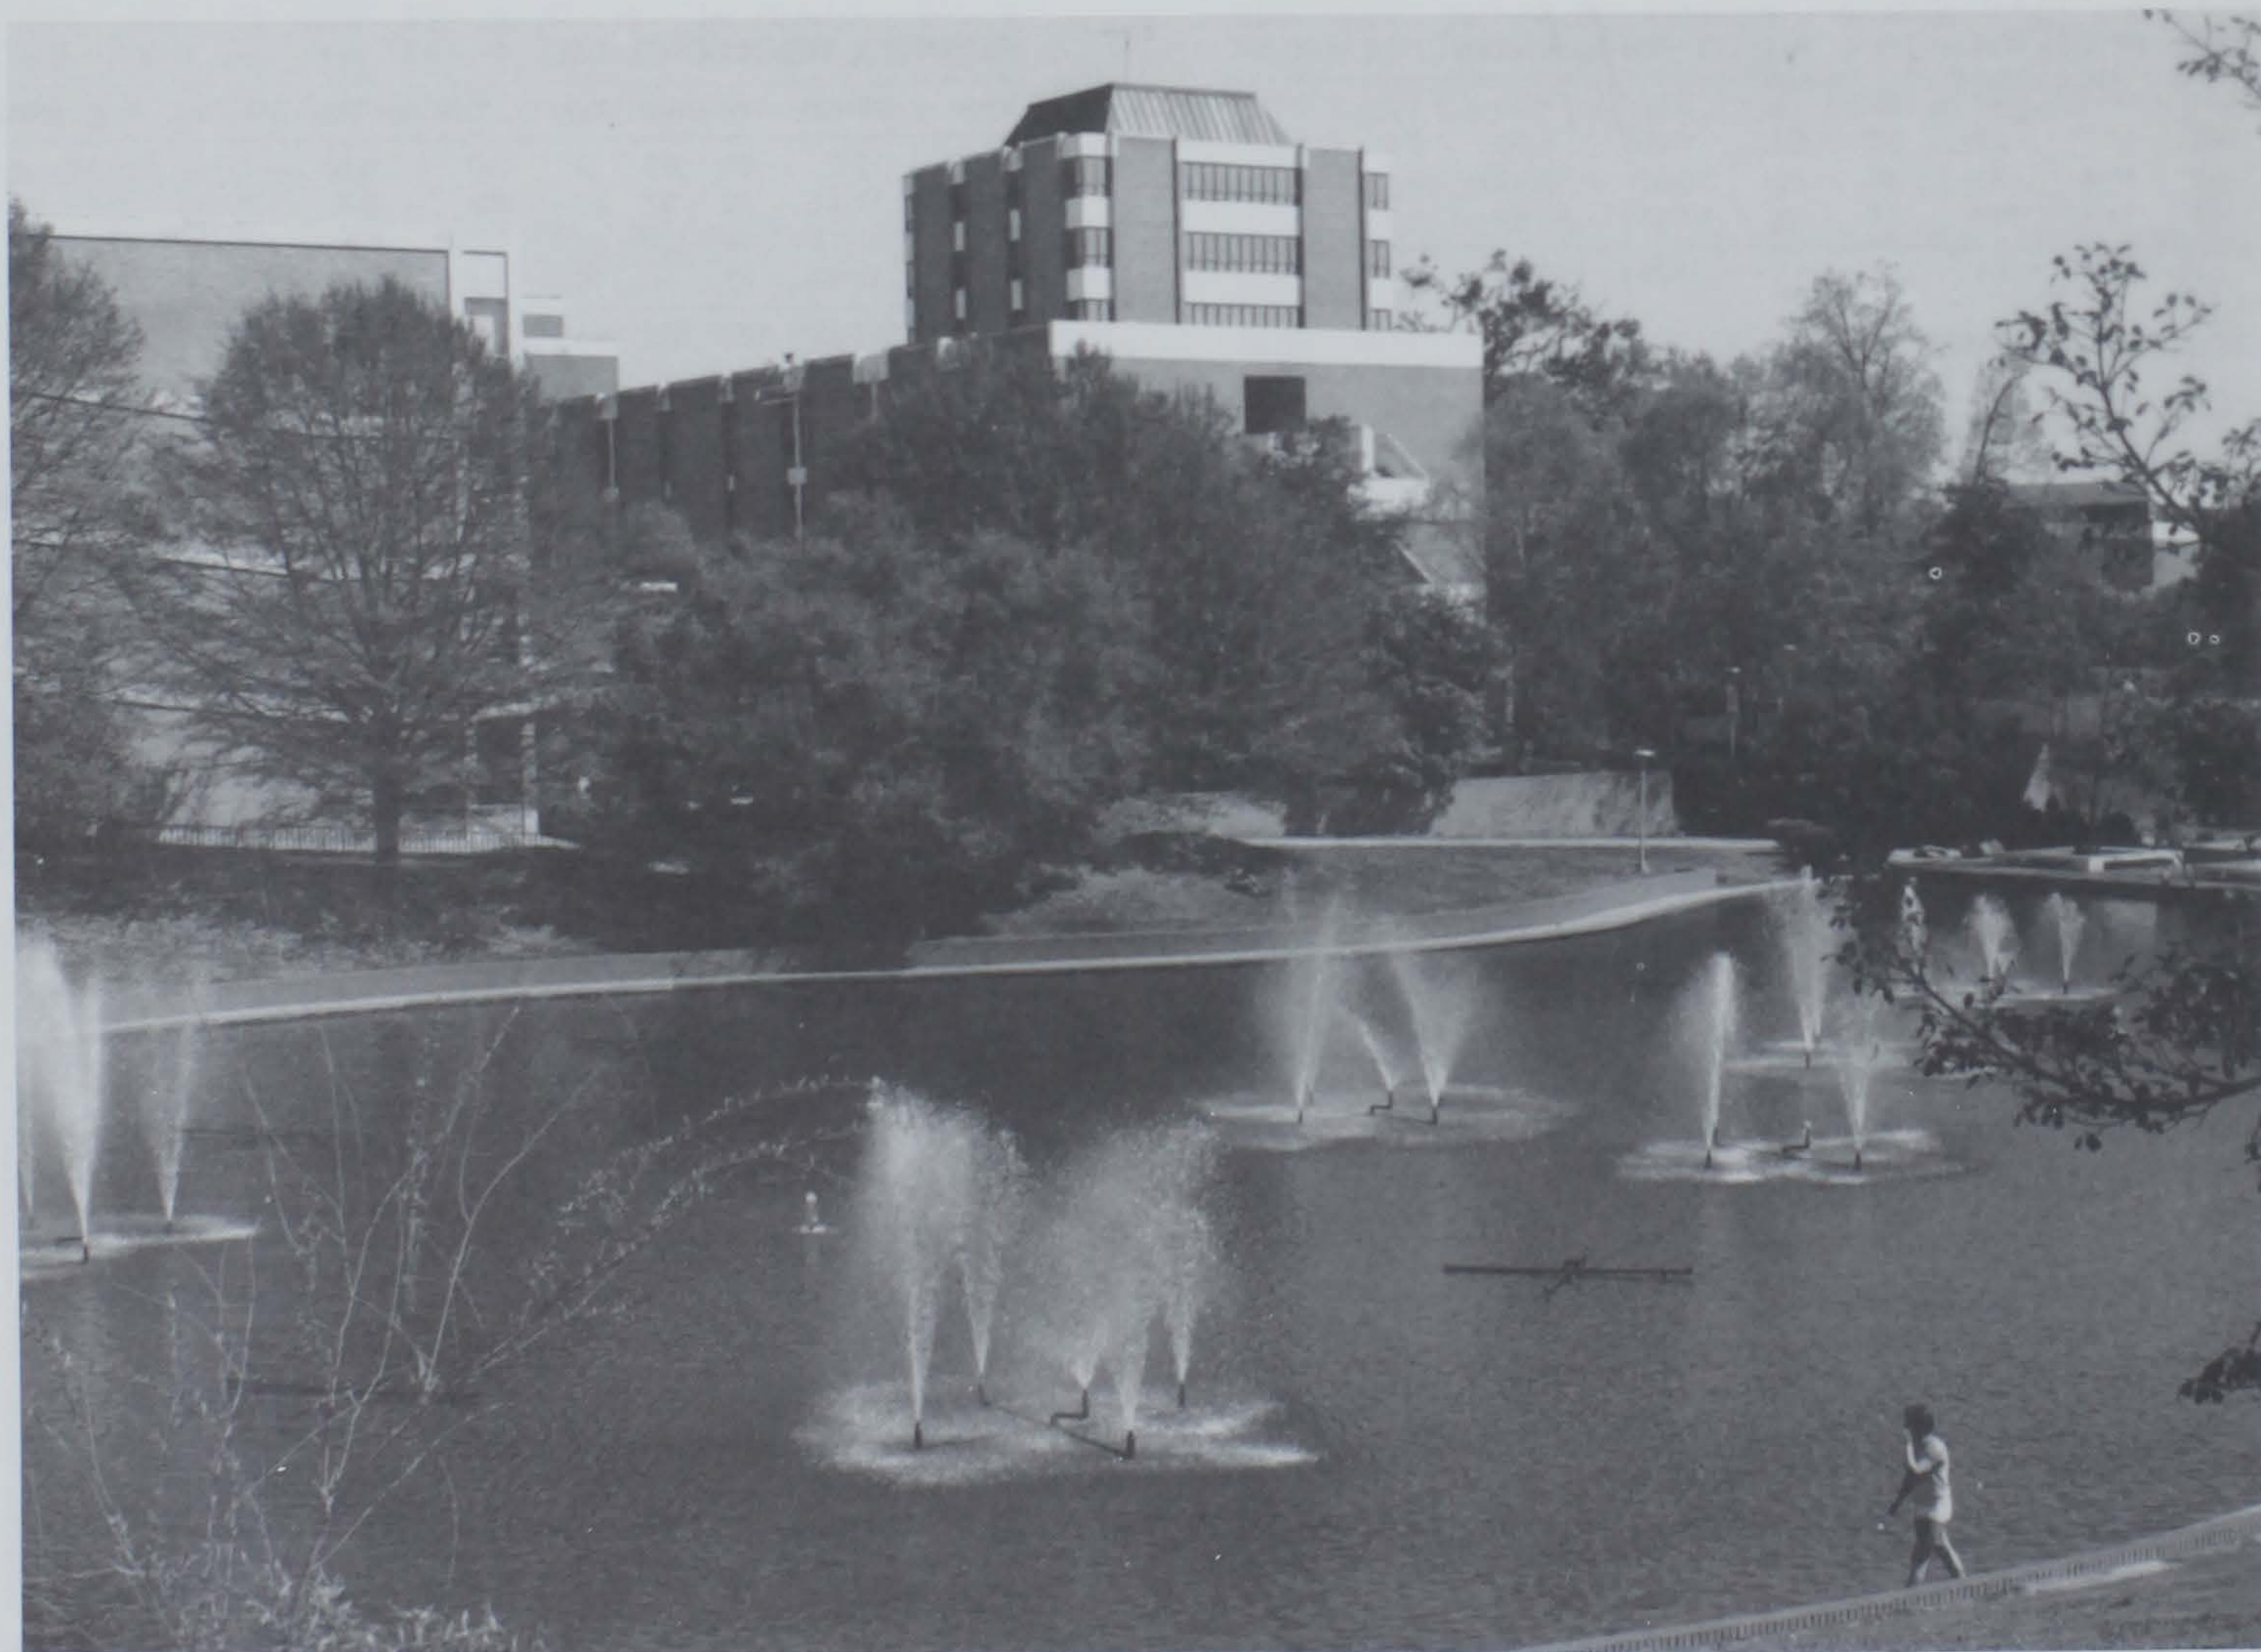

A few hundred yards further down the road is Riggs Field, where the football squad played for many years. That field is now the home of a modern soccer field and stadium that was the site of Clemson's 1987 National Championship game. And of course, the shadow of the vast Memorial Stadium rises in the background as a fitting backdrop to Clemson's other athletic facilities.

The tiny town of Clemson becomes one of the largest cities in the state of South Carolina on autumn Saturdays as more than 80,000 fans come to see the Tigers play football. But the friendly residents of Clemson and the surrounding towns welcome the visitors home each year with a true dose of southern hospitality.

And, when one wants to leave Clemson, they don't have far to go to find whatever they are looking for. Professional sports are only a couple of hours away in Atlanta and Charlotte as Clemson residents have only a short drive to enjoy major league baseball, NFL football, or their choice of NBA basketball teams.

For sun and fun, it is an easy interstate drive to the coast of South Carolina, to Hilton Head Island, Myrtle Beach, or even historic Charleston. Water skiing and all kinds of water sports are right at the campus' back door, as a 926-mile shoreline borders the edge of campus. And for those who enjoy cooler climates, the mountains of North Carolina are only an hour's drive away. Countless resorts and some of the finest ski slopes in the east are close enough to make a day's outing.

The Robert Muldrow Cooper Library, the university's main library, stands in front of a beautiful reflection pond and the historical amphitheater. This facility houses over 1,500,000 volumes and volume equivalencies. Outstanding collections of journals, books and primary research materials have been developed in many areas. The library also is the home of the Clemson University archives, once again combining tradition with best of modernization.

Clemson University employs approximately 3,747 people on a full-time basis. Of these, approximately 1,148 hold academic rank. Nine colleges within the university offer 68 undergraduate degree programs. The University also offers the master's degree in 58 areas and the doctoral degree in 32 areas. More than 54,000 bachelor's degrees, 426 associate's degrees, 12,000 master's degrees and 1,000 doctoral degrees have been awarded since Clemson graduated its first class of seniors in 1896.

The 16,072 Clemson students who were enrolled for the fall semester of 1989 came from all 46 South Carolina counties, 49 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and 71 foreign countries (645 students). South Carolina residents compose 53 percent (8,529) of Clemson's enrollment, and out-of-state residents account for 25 percent (4,034).

Most on-campus undergraduate students choose programs in Commerce and Industry as their major course of study. In the fall of 1989, a total of 3,860 were enrolled in that college, followed by 3,672 in the College of Engineering; 1,672 in the College of Liberal Arts; 2,617 in Education; 1,676 in Sciences; 726 in Architecture; 794 in Agricultural Sciences; 509 in Forest and Recreational Resources; and 380 in Nursing.

HISTORY

Clemson University is nearing the end of its centennial celebration of 100 years of education and public service, all thanks to a series of events set in motion by its founder Thomas Green Clemson. Clemson's death on April 6, 1888, marked the start of a new era in higher education. His passing set the stage for the founding of a "People's university" that opened the doors of higher education to all South Carolinians, rich and poor alike.

Mr. Clemson, son-in-law of famous South Carolinian John C. Calhoun, was a prominent scientist who was especially interested in scientific agriculture. He had a lifelong interest in farming and agriculture and served as the country's superintendent of agricultural affairs (predecessor to the present secretary of agriculture position.) He also actively promoted the establishment and endowment of the Maryland Agricultural College (now the University of Maryland) in the 1850s.

He once wrote, "The only hope we have for

TILLMAN HALL

COOPER LIBRARY

the advancement of agriculture (in the United States) is through the sciences, and yet there is not one single institution on this continent where a proper scientific education can be obtained."

Mr. Clemson provided in his will for the Fort Hill plantation and a considerable sum from his personal assets to be used to establish an educational institution of the kind he envisioned. He left a cash endowment of about $80,000 and his Fort Hill estate of 814 acres to the state of South Carolina for the establishment of the school.

The S.C. General Assembly then adopted legislation establishing Clemson Agricultural College, with its trustees becoming custodians of Morrill Act and Hatch Act funds made available for agricultural education and research purposes by federal legislation. In November 1889, Governor Richardson signed the bill accepting the bequest.

UNIVERSITY GOVERNANCE

The University is governed by a board of 13 trustees, including six elected by the S.C. Legislature and seven self-perpetuating life members, in accordance with the will of Thomas Green Clemson. The board is primarily responsible for setting policy and approving budgets and expenditures. The University's day-to-day operations are administered by its president; its vice presidents for academic affairs, administration, advancement services, agriculture and natural resources, business and finance, research and student affairs, and the president's executive staff.

Other Facts

—The average SAT score of Clemson freshmen last fall (1,025) was the highest of any public school or college in South Carolina. That's 187 points above the state score and 122 points above the national average.

—More than 34 percent of the entering freshmen class of 1989 graduated in the top 10 percent of their high school classes while 58 percent graduated in the top fifth of their class.

—Clemson is one of the most popular schools in the Southeast. In 1989, the University received 8,325 applications for approximately 2,900 openings in the freshman class.

—With its largest-ever research contract, Clemson has established a model apparel plant to demonstrate state-of-the-art technology in the manufacture of men's military short-sleeve and civilian, long-sleeve dress shirts. The contract, from the U.S. Defense Logistics Agency, also includes short-term research projects which could bring the total contract value to $10 million. The apparel industry has enthusiastically supported the project.

—Clemson's growing reputation as a leading research university in the Southeast, the nation and in some areas worldwide, is attributable to its outstanding faculty. Total expenditures for research and sponsored programs increased from $33.8 million in 1986 to $66,278,522 in 1989.

—About 75 percent of Clemson's 1,182 faculty members have Ph.D.'s. The faculty has published more than 350 books and has written more than 20,000 papers, addresses and articles.

—Clemson's Electron Microscope Facility is one of the best in the South and one of the most versatile anywhere. This equipment, combined with dedicated research computers and lasers, gives Clemson a world-class facility for microelectronics research.

—Clemson is very strong in the engineering and mathematical sciences and has a business school that is growing by leaps and bounds. The University's nine colleges are Commerce and Industry (with the largest undergraduate enrollment), Engineering, Agricultural Sciences, Architecture, Education, Forest and Recreation Resources, Liberal Arts, Nursing and Sciences.

Academic Advising

Clemson has had 17 academic All-ACC selections the last five years, more than in any five-year period in Clemson history.

Although a Tiger student-athlete spends a great deal of time in practice or in competition, athletics is only a small portion of his life at Clemson University. Like any student, Tiger athletes have to concentrate on their performance in the classroom in order to reach their academic goals, just as they train to fulfill their athletic goals.

To respond to these needs, Clemson University employs a dedicated athletic-academic advising staff that has continuously improved the role of academics in an athlete's life at Clemson over the past 10 years. This staff is made up of four full-time employees and two graduate assistants who are in charge of coordinating the curriculum of Clemson's athletes. The program operates within the academic structure of the university and with the deans of each college. The office is not a part of the athletic department, even though it is funded by IPTAY. Instead, it operates under the Dean of Admissions and Registration.

Each athlete's relationship with the athletic-academic advising staff begins when he visits Clemson as a recruit. A member of the staff meets with the recruit and explains the program. If a recruit knows what curriculum he plans to pursue, a faculty member from that college meets with and counsels him on his choice. If a recruit is undecided about a choice of major, the academic advising staff meets with him and helps him decide which courses available will best suit his needs.

Tutors work with student athletes through the latest computer equipment.

Once a recruit becomes a student-athlete at Clemson, he enters a continuous tutoring and advising program that does not end until he walks across the stage with his diploma. The advising staff aids in registration and arranging block schedules for athletes to help them accommodate their busy schedules. This program also involves a required study hall for all first-year freshmen and for all other student-athletes with less than a 2.0 cumulative grade-point average.

Study Hall is held five nights a week for two hours each night during the spring and fall semester and both summer sessions. Any Clemson athlete, trainer, manager and even cheerleaders are eligible to use the tutoring services, not only freshmen and those under an academic border. More than 80 tutors are employed by the athletic-academic advising staff, and usually 50 or more are available to aid athletes each night. Tutors are generally graduate students or local teachers, who tutor in a field they are pursuing as a career or for a post-graduate degree. During the fall and spring semesters, 200 or more athletes seek tutorial help each night.

The advising program has grown by leaps and bounds during the eighties and is definitely on its way to becoming one of the premier programs in the nation. Since 1981, the program has grown from a one-man show to one that boasts a staff of four full-time employees and two graduate assistants. Joe White, the program's advisor for football, came to Clemson in January of 1981 from Virginia Tech, where he had served as academic advisor and recruiting coordinator.

Ian Davidson joined the program in the early eighties and now supervises the academic progress of athletes in 17 sports. Because of the number of players, walk-on and scholarship athletes on Clemson's football roster, White and two graduate assistants, Tom Sigler and Jon Dever, devote their time solely to football.

Former women's basketball coach Annie Tribble and former cross country runner Laurie Haughey have also joined the staff in full-time positions. Tribble's area of emphasis is with the men's and women's basketball programs.

This work has paid off as Clemson has had 17 selections to the Academic All-ACC football team in the last five years.

A Clemson record four starters off of the 1989 football squad were so honored. Tight end Stacy Fields, offensive tackle Bruce Bratton, strong safety Arlington Nunn, and fullback Wesley McFadden gave the Tigers the most selections since 1985 when five Clemson players were chosen. However, just two of the five players were starters on the field that year.

It was Fields' second year on the team. The junior tight end who is the Tigers' leading receiver returning in 1990, had a 3.23 GPA in engineering for the fall semester. Bratton started 11 of 12 games in 1989 at offensive tackle and was a key reason Clemson ranked 16th in the nation in rushing. The native of Gaffney, SC had a 3.5 GPA in engineering in the fall, the highest GPA among the starters on the Clemson football team.

Wesley McFadden, who graduated in May with a B.S. in marketing, earned a 3.00 during the fall. McFadden was third on the Clemson team in rushing and receiving in 1989 and was a permanent team captain. Arlington Nunn was the only representative of the Tiger defense on the squad after earning a 3.14 in marketing for the first semester of 1989-90.

Improvements in Clemson's athletic-academic advising staff will continue well into the nineties. "As the university has grown, it has been harder and harder for us to find empty classrooms to use at night for tutoring," says White. "This problem and the emphasis we at Clemson place on academics has created the need for an athletic-academic advising facility."

Construction is almost halfway completed on a facility that may turn out to be the largest of its kind in the nation. Ground was broken last winter on the program's new facility, a two-story structure with 29,000 square feet of room devoted entirely to the athletic-academic advising program. The building is located on east campus, across from Schilleter Dining Hall and within a stone's throw of the football dormitory. It is scheduled to be completed and ready for use in early 1991.

The $2.5 million facility will house an auditorium large enough to seat 176 people. This auditorium will be used for guest speakers and perhaps for football squad meetings, as it will be large enough to seat the entire football team and coaching staff. It will be available for use by any department in the university when it is not being used by the athletic-academic staff. The building will also contain a reception area, offices for White and his staff, a conference room, 10 monitored study hall rooms and one larger room for football study hall. Twenty-five tutoring rooms to be used by all sports will make up the second floor of the building.

Two large computer rooms will also be available in the new facility, one will contain basic word processors for athletes to use in typing papers and for pre-registration. The other computer room will be for activities required for computer science, engineering, management, or any other courses requiring computer work. Space will also be available to athletes who need a quiet place to study during the day.

As Clemson's football program continues to get better and better on the field, Joe White and his staff will continue to strive for improvement in the classroom. With a professional well-qualified athletic-academic advising staff, one of the best facilities in the nation, and an outstanding group of student-athletes, the nineties promise to be even better than the eighties for the overall Clemson football program.

History of Clemson Football

Clemson has won more ACC championships than any other institution.

Sept. 30, 1896 —A small crowd gathered in one of the barrack's rooms and discussed the advisability of organizing a football association and to devise some means of getting a coach. The organization known as the Clemson College Football Association was perfected and the following officers elected: President F.G. Tompkins, Secretary and Treasurer C.W. Gentry, Manager T.R. Vogel, Temporary Captain R.G. Hamilton. A committee of three was appointed to consult professor Riggs as to management of a football team and to ask his aid as coach.

October 5, 1896 —Practice began on the Clemson College campus on a 50x200 foot field in front of the college.

October 28, 1896 —Clemson played its first intercollegiate football game, defeating Furman, 14-6, at Greenville, SC. This was the first time that many of the Clemson players had seen a full sized football gridiron. Charlie Gentry scored Clemson's first touchdown.

November 10, 1897 —Clemson defeated South Carolina for the first time and won the school's second state championship.

October 20, 1898 —The Tigers played their first home game against Bingham. Clemson won 55-0, as W.C. Forsythe kicked every point after touchdown (11). R.T.V. Bowman, the man for whom the field at Clemson is named, was an assistant coach at that time with Clemson and helped referee the game.

November 10, 1899 —The football association stood on a very weak financial basis. The organization could not even afford to hire a coach. W.M. Riggs agreed to coach the Tigers for free.

November 18, 1899 —Clemson defeated N.C. State, 24-0. The game was called early because many of the State men were injured and they requested that the game be called.

December 8, 1899 —John Heisman was hired as head coach.

October 22, 1900 —The Tigers defeated Wofford, 21-0. Actually, Clemson scored many more points, but a pre-game agreement between the teams stated that every point Clemson scored after the first four touchdowns would not count.

November 29, 1900 —Clemson's 35-0 win over Alabama allowed Heisman's team to finish the season undefeated with a 6-0 record. This was Clemson's first undefeated team and was the only team to win all of the games in a season until the 1948 squad went 11-0.

October 5, 1901 —Clemson opened the season with a 122-0 win over Guilford. The Tigers averaged 30 yards per play and a touchdown every minute and 26 seconds. The first half lasted 20 minutes, while the second half lasted only 10 minutes. Legend has it that every man on the Clemson team scored a touchdown in this game.

October 30, 1902 —Col. Charles S. Roller Jr., who was football coach of Furman was the only referee for the Clemson-USC game. Bronco Armstrong, a famous Yale player and official, was to be the umpire but was in a railroad wreck on the way down and it was impossible for him to get to the game in time. Not a single penalty was called in the game. A riot between Clemson and USC fans broke out the night after the game. Officials at both colleges called off the football series between the two schools. Clemson and USC did not meet again in football until 1909.

November 27, 1902 —Clemson played in the snow for the first time in a game against Tennessee. The Tigers won the game, 11-0, and claimed the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association crown.

October 17, 1903 —Clemson defeated Georgia Tech, 73-0. Clemson rushed the ball 35 times for 450 yards, while Tech ran the ball 25 times and collected 18 yards.

November 26, 1903 —One day after Tech's deadline for its offer had expired, Heisman wired Georgia Tech's president Lyman Hall, that he would accept the institute's offer of $2,250 per year plus 30 percent of net receipts to coach its athletic teams.

November 11, 1905 —The Clemson-Auburn game was called on account of darkness. Clemson won, 6-0.

November 29, 1906 —Clemson's first forward pass occurred in a 10-0 win over Georgia Tech. Powell Lykes dropped back to kick, but instead made a "pretty" forward pass of 30 yards to George Warren.

November 4-9, 1907 —Clemson played three games within a week's time. Clemson lost to Auburn 12-0 on November 4, and lost to Georgia in Augusta, GA on November 7. The Tigers barely made it back in time to play Davidson at Clemson on November 9, and lost 10-6.

April 1, 1908 —Tiger football hopes of the 1908 season were shattered on this day by not what happened in spring practice, but what 300 students did as a college prank on April Fool's Day. The cadets were expelled for removing a Civil War cannon from the town square of Pendleton, four miles down the road from campus, bringing the cannon back to Clemson. Many of the football stars, as well as many future star players, were among those who were expelled.

October 13, 1917 —Clemson downed Furman 38-0, as the Tigers' Stumpy Banks scored five touchdowns.

Oct. 4, 1926 —Bud Saunders, Clemson head football coach, resigned in the middle of the season. Cul Richards and Frank Padgett were put in charge of the squad.

The 1898 Tigers won the school's first state championship.

Clemson football on Riggs Field (current soccer stadium) circa 1920.

October 15, 1926 —Bob Williams was named advisory coach.

December 27, 1926 —Josh Cody was named head football coach at Clemson.

September 19, 1928 —Clemson began this season with new uniforms. The Tigers wore a brilliant orange jersey for the first time, with black composition cloth strips on the front with purple numbers.

September 20, 1929 —Clemson announced the completion of its first press box which will accommodate about 30 writers. The glass enclosed box was completed with heaters and electric fans for ventilation.

October 17, 1930 —Maxcey Welch scored five touchdowns (all rushing) in Clemson's 75-0 win over Newberry.

March 13, 1930 —Josh Cody signed a three-year contract to stay at Clemson.

January 17, 1931 —Jess Neely was named head football coach at Clemson.

October 14, 1933 —Clemson played at George Washington in a 0-0 tie. This was the first time Clemson had ever played under the lights. Fans witnessed the game on a grid graph in Tillman Hall at the Clemson chapel. A grid graph was an electrical machine that was marked off like a football field. Lights were so arranged on the graph that every possible play was flashed on the board. The lineups of both teams were written on the sides and the man carrying the ball on each play had a light flashed by his name. Another light representing the runner moved along the board in the same direction and for the same distance as the runner.

August 20, 1934 —IPTAY was founded.

November 19, 1935 —First night time practice.

Two powerful floodlights were installed on one of Clemson's practice fields enabling the Tigers to get in more practice time.

September 23, 1939 —Banks McFadden, ran 90 yards for a touchdown in Clemson's 18-0 win over Presbyterian.

November 13, 1939 —Clemson was ranked in the Associated Press poll for the first time. Clemson claimed the number-16 spot in the poll.

December 8, 1939 —Clemson accepted a bid to play in the Cotton Bowl.

January 1, 1940 —In Clemson's first bowl appearance, it defeated Boston College 6-3. Charlie Timmons scored the game's lone touchdown from two yards out.

January 10, 1940 —Jess Neely resigned as athletic director and football coach to accept the head football coaching job at Rice University. Neely inherited a $47,000 deficit when he arrived in 1931 and earned Clemson $100,000 during his tenure and left Clemson with $57,000 in the treasury. His overall record at Clemson was 43-35-7.

January 11, 1940 —Frank Howard was named head football coach.

May 30, 1940 —Banks McFadden was named Nation's Most Versatile Athlete.

July 25, 1940 —Banks McFadden accepted a bid to play in the College All-Star game against the Green Bay Packers on August 29.

September 1, 1940 —Banks McFadden signed a one-year contract to play with the Brooklyn Dodgers professional football team.

September 2, 1940 —Frank Howard opened his first fall practice.

September 21, 1940 —In Frank Howard's first game as head coach, Clemson scored on the first play as George Floyd reversed around left end and raced across untouched for a Clemson touchdown.

November 23, 1940 —Clemson won the Southern Conference football title with a 13-7 victory over Furman.

October 6, 1941 —Work began on Memorial Stadium. The work of cleaning, digging and leveling the site as well as cutting large trees and clearing underbrush was supervised by Frank Howard. A pipe was also installed for drainage under the field.

October 12, 1941 —Clemson defeated Boston College at Fenway Park.

November 15, 1941 —Clemson defeated Wake Forest, 29-0, in the last game at Riggs Field.

September 19, 1942 —Clemson ran down the hill for the first time. Butch Butler gained 192 yards, as the Tigers opened the new stadium in front of 5,500 with a 32-13 win over P.C. High school students were admitted for 25 cents while servicemen were allowed in for 50 cents.

October 22, 1942 —Clemson defeated South Carolina, 18-6. Autographed balls were auctioned off at the game. For a minimum of $1,000, a fan could bid on one of the balls. The fan's money would then be used to buy war bonds.

October 19, 1944 —First rain at a Clemson-USC game since 1896.

September 22, 1945 —Fourteen Clemson backs netted 516 yards in a 76-0 win over P.C. Bobby Gage led the Tigers with 144 yards.

September 23, 1947 —Clemson flew to Boston College on an Eastern Airline DC-4. This marked the first time that a state football team had flown to a football game.

November 8, 1947 —Clemson began a 15-game winning streak, the longest in school history, with a win over Furman, 35-7.

November 22, 1947 —Bobby Gage ran for 141 yards and passed for 233 as he led Clemson to a 34-18 win over Auburn. Gage threw four touchdown passes and had 374 yards total offense to his credit, both still Clemson records.

September 25, 1948 —Clemson defeated P.C. 53-0 in the first night game at Clemson.

November 27, 1948 —Clemson accepted bid to play in the Gator Bowl.

January 1, 1949 —The Tigers won the Gator Bowl by a 24-23 score over Missouri. Jack Miller's 32-yard field goal in the fourth quarter proved to be the winning margin.

November 28, 1950 —Clemson accepted a bid to play in the Orange Bowl.

January 1, 1951 —Clemson appeared in the Orange Bowl for the first time and squeaked out a 15-14 win over Miami. Sterling Smith's tackle of Frank Smith in the end zone gave Clemson a safety with under six minutes left in the game and gave the Tigers the victory.

November 27, 1951 —Clemson accepted a bid to play in the Gator Bowl.

May 8, 1953 —Clemson joined the Atlantic Coast Conference.

June 22, 1956 —Joel Wells was the cover boy of the 1956 Official NCAA Football Guide. The Guide is compiled by the NCAA and contains data on all major college teams in the nation.

November 16, 1956 —Vice President Richard Nixon was in attendance at the Clemson-Miami football game on this date. Surrounded by security from various agencies, a loud explosion sounded and alarmed the body guard along with the Vice President. To everyone's relief, it was discovered that it was just the cannon fired off by a Clemson cheerleader when Clemson kicked off. The eighth-ranked Hurricanes defeated the Tigers 21-0 in the game played at Miami, FL.

December 1, 1956 —Clemson clinched an Orange Bowl Berth with a 28-7 win over Furman at Clemson.

March 25, 1957 —It was announced today that Clemson and South Carolina would play at Clemson on November 12, 1960 ending the 61-year-old state classic Big Thursday.

September 20, 1958 —Clemson ran down the hill on a rug for the first time. The rug was officially given to Clemson on this date before the Clemson-Virginia game by W.W. Pate, Sr., president of Wunda Weave Company. It measured 104 feet long and was 13 feet wide. Also at this game Clemson's recent expansion of Memorial Stadium was used for the first time. Memorial stadium was expanded from 20,000 to 38,000 seats.

September 27, 1958 —Clemson defeated North Carolina 26-21 as Frank Howard picked up his 100th collegiate coaching win. Also the score board at the east of the stadium that is still in use today was used for the first time. The scoreboard had an added feature, as the Tiger above the scoreboard still wags his tail after each Clemson touchdown.

October 6, 1958 —Clemson was ranked eighth in the country, the highest ranking in Clemson history.

November 19, 1958 —Clemson defeated N.C. State 13-6 and won its second ACC title in three years.

November 29, 1958 —Clemson accepted a Sugar Bowl bid to face the number-one team in the nation, LSU.

December 24, 1958 —It was announced that Clemson would take the rug the Tigers use to run down the hill with them to the Sugar Bowl. The rug weighed 527 pounds.

December 27, 1958 —Clemson announced it would wear navy blue jerseys with wide numerals front and back. Orange helmets with a white stripe from back to front in the center would also be in order to give a contrasting color for the nationwide television coverage of the game.

January 1, 1959 —Number-one ranked LSU defeated Clemson 7-0 in the Sugar Bowl.

October 22, 1959 —Clemson won the last Big Thursday game by defeating South Carolina, 27-0. Clemson fans tore down the steel goal posts which were set in concrete.

November 21, 1959 —Clemson defeated Wake

Forest 33-31 for Clemson's second ACC title in a row.

November 28, 1959 —Clemson defeated Furman 56-3 and accepted a bid to the first Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston, Texas on December 19 against TCU.

December 19, 1959 —Clemson defeated TCU in the Bluebonnet Bowl 23-7.

October 1, 1960 —The west stands were used for the first time, as Clemson defeated Virginia Tech, 13-7.

October 8, 1960 —Clemson defeated Virginia 21-7 and used special pants for the rain in this game. After the contest Clemson sent the pants to Greenville and allowed Furman to use the pants for a game that night against William and Mary. Furman Head Coach Bob King said, "after those big Clemson boys got out of them some of our guys had a hard time making them stay up and we had to tape the legs of the pants for several players. The pants beat two teams from Virginia on the same day.

November 12, 1960 —Clemson defeated South Carolina 12-2 in the first ever appearance for South Carolina at Clemson.

November 11, 1961 —A team resembling Clemson entered the field prior to the meeting with South Carolina. They did a few serious calisthenics and then started dancing to band music. The team was actually members of the Sigma Nu Fraternity of South Carolina. Clemson students entered the field and worked some of the imposters over. Finally state police brought order to the field.

October 13, 1962 —Hal Davis raced 98 yards with a kickoff return for a touchdown, the last time a Tiger has returned a kickoff for a score for 25 years.

October 12, 1963 —Clemson and Georgia tied 7-7. The main item was the strange weather. A hail storm hit at 2:50 p.m. and caused temperatures to plummet from 84 degrees to 57 degrees in 45 minutes. Almost an inch of hail poured in a 20-minute period and the game was delayed. Clemson blocked two field goal attempts to preserve the tie.

November 23, 1963 —The South Carolina-Clemson game was postponed due to the death of President Kennedy.

November 29, 1963 —Clemson defeated South Carolina on Thanksgiving Day, 24-20.

September 24, 1966 —First game in which Howard's Rock was present at Death Valley. Clemson downed Virginia 40-35.

November 12, 1966 —Frank Howard won his 150th game and clinched at least a tie for the ACC title with a 14-10 win over Maryland.

November 26, 1967 —Clemson downed South Carolina to win the ACC, 35-10.

September 23, 1967 —Clemson started the tradition of touching Howard's Rock.

November 18, 1967 —Clemson painted its shoes orange for the N.C. State game and the Tigers upset the 10th-ranked Wolfpack, 14-6. Clemson at least clinched a tie for the ACC championship. The Tigers had to get the orange paint from eight stores in the area. N.C. State's defense had worn white shoes all season and that was the reason for the ploy.

November 25, 1967 —Clemson beat South Carolina 23-12 to claim the ACC Championship. Buddy Gore broke the ACC single season rushing record with 1,045 yards.

September 28, 1968 —Richie Luzzi returned a missed Georgia field goal try 108 yards (100 officially) for a Clemson touchdown, the longest play in Clemson history.

October 25, 1969 —Danny Ford was one of the Alabama captains for the Clemson-Alabama game at Clemson. Bob Hope was in town for a homecoming show that night. Bear Bryant's team defeated Clemson, 38-13.

November 1, 1969 —Frank Howard won his last game as a Clemson coach in Death Valley with a 40-0 win over Maryland.

December 10, 1969 —Coach Frank Howard resigned from football coaching duties, but remained in the capacity of athletic director.

December 17, 1970 —Hootie Ingram was named head football coach.

July 21, 1970 —Clemson announced the use of a new logo — THE TIGER PAW. With the aid of Henderson Advertising Agency, the Tiger paw became the new trademark of Clemson athletics.

December 5, 1972 —Hootie Ingram resigned as Clemson football coach, and Red Parker was named as his replacement.

January 2, 1989 — Clemson became the first ACC team to defeat Oklahoma in a 13-6 Florida Citrus Bowl victory. Clemson held the Oklahoma Offense without a touchdown for just the second time in the decade of the eighties. Clemson closed the season with a #9 ranking and became the only school in the nation to win a conference title, a Bowl game and rank in the Final Top 20 for three straight years.

September 9, 1989 — Clemson earned a landmark victory at Florida State, 34-23. The Tigers jumped out to a 21-0 lead behind a 73-yard interception return by Wayne Simmons and a 73-yard touchdown run by Terry Allen. The victory moved Clemson to number-seven in the AP poll and it was the last loss of the season for Florida State, who eventually ended the season ranked third in the nation.

November 18, 1989 — Clemson slaughtered South Carolina 45-0, the largest margin of victory for Clemson in the series in 89 years. Clemson outgained the Gamecocks 466-155 and picked up 355 yards rushing. Clemson's fifth ranked defense forced five turnovers.

December 30, 1989 — The Tigers defeated West Virginia 27-7 in the Gator Bowl. It was Clemson's fourth straight bowl victory and the fourth straight year Clemson concluded the season ranked in the national top 20. The Tigers held West Virginia to just 119 yards passing and forced Heisman Trophy runner up Major Harris into three fumbles. The win gave Clemson 38 wins in a four-year period, an all-time ACC record.

January 18, 1990 — Danny Ford resigned as head coach after 11 full seasons as head coach. He finished his career tied for first in ACC history in career victories with 96 and he was second in winning percentage. He had a 96-29-4 overall record and 76 percent winning mark. He was the third winningest active coach at the time of his resignation.

January 21, 1990 — Ken Hatfield became Clemson's 22nd head coach. Hatfield had been the head coach at Arkansas since 1984 and took his alma mater to bowl games each of his six seasons.

Clemson Coaches

WALTER RIGGS, 1896, 1899

Walter Riggs could easily be called the father of Clemson Football. He coached the football program at Clemson, not only because he had football experience, but he was also one of only two people on the Clemson campus to have ever seen a football when the sport started in 1896. (The other person was Frank Thompkins who played in the backfield on Clemson's first team in 1896).

On September 30, 1896, a small crowd gathered in one of the barrack's rooms and the group discussed the feasibility of organizing a football association. A committee of three was appointed to consult Professor Riggs as to management of a football team and to ask his aid as coach.

When the Tigers traveled to Furman for their first game on October 28, 1896, it was the first time that many of the players had ever seen a full-size regulation football field.

Riggs stepped down as football coach after the first season because the player wanted him to devote all of his time to being a professor in the engineering department.

Clemson athletics and Riggs however could not be split. Although not given the title, Riggs also was the equivalent of an athletic director, managing money and making contracts with other teams.

Riggs could easily be called a loyal man, as he answered the need of the Clemson football team in 1899. The Clemson Athletic Association was low on money and could not afford to hire a coach. So Riggs once again answered the call of the school and became the coach of the 1899 team for free.

Riggs originally came to Clemson from Auburn. He graduated with top honors in 1892 with a B.S. degree in electrical and mechanical engineering. At Auburn, he was captain and catcher of the baseball team as well as the manager and left end of the football team. He also served as class president and was the director of the Glee Club.

Upon his graduation at Auburn, he was assistant to the president of the college until 1896, then he made his trek to Clemson.

Riggs later became president of Clemson on March 7, 1911 and in 1915, a new football stadium with other athletic facilities was named in his honor as Riggs Field. It is currently the home of the soccer team. In two years of coaching, Riggs guided the Tigers to a career record of 6-3 overall.

W. M. WILLIAMS, 1897

Clemson's second coach, W.M. Williams, was a native of West Point, GA. He played at Auburn on the teams of '94, '95, and '96, under the coaching of John Heisman. He was considered the best blocking halfback in the south.

Williams led Clemson to the state championship and to a 2-2 season. During his time as coach, Clemson played two games in a matter of three days. Clemson was victorious over the Charlotte Y on October 23, but lost to North Carolina 28-0, on October 25.

JOHN PENTON, 1898

The Tigers' third coach, J.A. Penton of Alabama, was captain and starting guard on the University of Virginia teams of '93, '94, and '95. Penton also played fullback at Auburn in '97 under Heisman's coaching. Under Penton, Clemson played its first home game against Bingham. Clemson won 55-0, as W.C. Forsythe kicked every point after touchdown (11). In his only season at Clemson, Penton guided Clemson to a 3-1 record and the state championship.

JOHN HEISMAN, 1900-1903

Probably one of the most famous football coaches in America, John Heisman, coached at Clemson from 1900 to 1903. Heisman turned Clemson from virtually an unknown college to a southern powerhouse at the turn of the century.

Heisman attended Brown University, taking the two-year law course offered at that time, and was a center on the football team. In the fall of 1889, he transferred to the University of Pennsylvania. He lettered in football at both schools and graduated from Pennsylvania in 1893.

In the spring of 1894, Walter Riggs was a graduate manager for the football team at Auburn. It fell on his shoulders to find a coach for the season of 1895. Riggs wrote to Carl Williams, the Pennsylvania captain of 1894, asking him to suggest a suitable coach. He replied recommending J.W. Heisman, an ex-Penn player, and his coach at Oberlin.

After several weeks, Riggs finally found Heisman in Texas, who engaged in raising tomatoes. Having sunk about all of his capital into the tomato venture, he was glad to go back to his old love and he readily went to coach at Auburn for $500.00 a year.

His coaching career began at Oberlin in 1892 and lasted 36 years. It included positions at Akron, Auburn, Clemson, Georgia Tech, Penn, Washington and Jefferson, and Rice University. He had an overall career record of 185 wins, 70 losses, and 17 ties.

John Heisman invented the hidden ball trick, the handoff, the double lateral, and the "flea flicker." He pioneered the forward pass, arguing that it would scatter the mob. Coach Heisman also originated the center snap and the word hike (Previously the center used to roll the ball on the ground to the quarterback).

Heisman guided Clemson to its first "bowl game" in 1903. Clemson and Cumberland met on November 26, for the championship of the South. Cumberland who had earlier defeated Auburn, Alabama, and Vanderbilt, was considered to be champion of the southern states of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, and Kentucky. The game was played on a neutral site, Montgomery, AL. Cumberland and Clemson fought to a 11-11 tie. After the news got back to Clemson that the game ended in a tie, the students and the local townspeople built a bonfire and paraded around the campus.

Overall, Heisman took Clemson to a 19-3-2 record in his four seasons at Clemson. His .833 winning percentage is still the best in Clemson history. He was also the Clemson baseball coach in 1901-1904.

SHACK SHEALY, 1904

Shack Shealy holds the distinction of being the only Clemson player to have coached his alma mater. Shealy lettered at Clemson in 1896, 97, 98, and 99 and later played two years at Iowa State. Shealy was a four-year starter playing right guard, end, and in his senior year, he played in the backfield. Shealy only coached Clemson one year in 1904, and guided the Tigers to a 3-3-1 record overall, which included wins over Alabama, Georgia, and Tennessee.

ED COCHEMS, 1905

Ed Cochems lettered at the University of Wisconsin in 1899, 1900, and 1901. Cochems was described as a great halfback or end on the strong Wisconsin teams at the turn of the century, including the undefeated team of 1901. During his playing career he had a 100-yard kickoff return in a 35-0 win over Chicago in 1901, and had four touchdowns in a game against Notre Dame in 1900. After his playing days, he immediately went into coaching. He was the head coach of North Dakota in 1902 and 1903 and briefly an assistant with former teammate, Art Curtis at Wisconsin in 1904.

Cochems led Clemson to a 3-2-1 record overall, including wins over Georgia, Alabama, and Auburn. After his Clemson career, he was head coach and athletic director at St. Louis University in 1906. The forward pass was legalized in 1906. Cochems did something with the pass at once in his first year at St. Louis, while other coaches stuck with the running game. He taught his players not to throw the ball end over end but instead like a projectile — a spiral. He called this new weapon a projectile pass.

In 1906, St. Louis went undefeated rolling up 407 points while allowing its opponents only 11. Historians credit Cochems as being the first coach to use and perfect the first legal pass in a game. The first studied refinements in throwing the ball, which led to the spiral, occurred in 1906 under Cochems. Brad Robinson of St. Louis University threw the first forward pass to

BOB WILLIAMS, 1906, 1909, 1913-1915

Bob Williams is probably the only coach in the country to have coached football at two schools that are involved in rivalry. Williams coached football at both Clemson and South Carolina. Before coming to Clemson he coached at Davidson in 1905. He coached at South Carolina for two years and guided the Gamecocks to a 6-1 record in 1902 and a 8-2 slate in 1903.

During his South Carolina career, he administered the most unexpected defeat of Clemson, as he beat a heavily favored John Heisman team, 12-6 in 1902.

Williams served the Tigers as head coach a total of three terms 1906, 1909, and 1913-15. Between the years of 1915 until 1926, Williams practiced law in Roanoke and was the city's mayor.

One of the highlights of his Clemson career included leading the 1906 Tigers to an undefeated season (4-0-3), which included wins over Georgia, Auburn, Tennessee, and Heisman-coached Georgia Tech.

FRANK SHAUGHNESSY, 1907

Frank Shaughnessy is known for his ability as an administrator in sports as he served many positions, from a professional hockey coach to the commissioner of the International Baseball (Triple A) League.

A graduate in law at Notre Dame, he was captain of the baseball and football teams his junior and senior seasons. After his graduation in 1905, he coached baseball at Notre Dame. The summer before coming to Clemson he played for Ottawa of the Eastern League. That summer, he played left field and had a .352 batting average. He also played with Washington and the Philadelphia A's.

At Clemson he coached the baseball teams in 1907 and 1908, and was head football mentor in 1907.

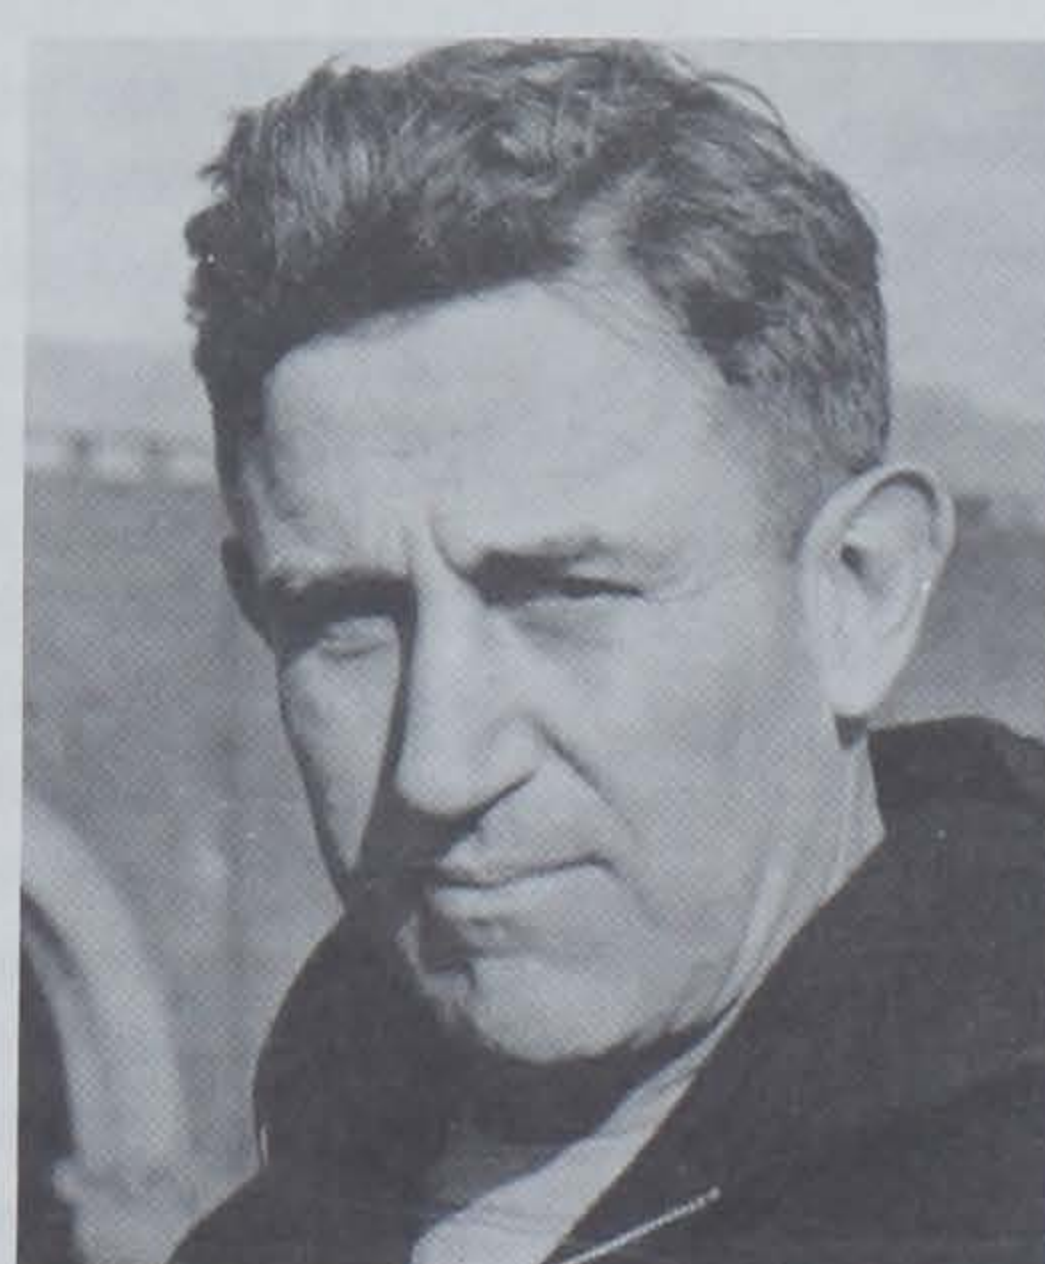

During his lifetime, Shaughnessy made his name in baseball, but he took part in many other sports. Besides being a sports legend at Notre Dame, he managed the Ottawa Senators of a professional hockey league and coached football teams at Clemson, Washington and Lee and McGill University. He retired as the president of the International Baseball League.

During his football playing days, in a game against Kansas, Shaughnessy raced 107 yards for the only Irish touchdown as Kansas won 24-5. Football fields were 110 yards back then and touchdowns were five points. This is still a Notre Dame record.

JOHN STONE, 1908

John Stone is one of three coaches to have graduated from Vanderbilt and later become a Clemson head football coach. At Vanderbilt, he was a member of the All-Southern Football team for four seasons. He was a big man for his time, standing 6'2". Clemson was 1-6 in 1908, but the Tigers lost many of their star players and substitutes from 1907 due to a college prank which saw as many as 306 students expelled from school.

FRANK DOBSON, 1910-12

Frank Dobson was a professional baseball player before coming to Clemson as he was the property of the Pittsburgh Nationals. Walter Riggs, President of the Clemson Athletic Association, thought it was unfair to keep shuffling coaches year after year. Riggs offered Dobson a three-year contract, which was the first contract offered and signed by a Clemson coach.

At Clemson, he coached football, basketball and baseball. He was Clemson's first basketball coach, leading Clemson to its only undefeated season in history in the inaugural season 1911-12, (4-0). In 1912-13, Clemson finished the basketball season with a 9-5 record. He was head baseball coach in 1911-1913.

WAYNE HART, 1916

Wayne Hart coached Clemson in 1916 and led Clemson to a 3-6 finish. Under Hart, the Tigers defeated state rivals Furman and South Carolina.

Hart played three years at tackle for Georgetown. He also played one year at George Washington. He was a member of the All-South Atlantic team for four years. He was also an assistant coach at Georgetown. In 1913, he coached the Washington Vigilants, a professional football team, and did not lose a game. The last two seasons before arriving at Clemson, he coached various sports at Technical High School in Washington, D.C.

EDWARD DONAHUE, 1917-20

Edward Donahue had to be one of the most organized men in the country. During the 1918-19 school year, Donahue was head coach of four Clemson sports: football, basketball, baseball, and track. During his four-year career at Clemson, he was head football coach for four seasons, head basketball and baseball coach for two seasons, and head track coach for one season.

Edward Donahue was an outstanding athlete at Washington and Lee as he played in the backfield on the football team and played catcher on the baseball team. Upon graduation, Donahue was an assistant coach in football and was the head coach in baseball and basketball.

E. J. STEWART, 1921-22

E.J. Stewart was head football coach for two years at Clemson, 1921-22. However he coached more than one sport during his stay at Tiger-town. In the spring of 1921, Stewart coached the baseball and track teams while conducting spring football practice. In the fall, Stewart's team went 1-6-2, but improved to a 5-4 slate in 1922. He went on to coach the track teams in 1922 and 1923.

Stewart played football, baseball, basketball and track at Western Reserve University. Upon his graduation, he played, organized and served as head coach of the Massion, Ohio professional football team.

He also coached at Nebraska and the University of Texas. At Nebraska, he led the Cornhuskers to a combined record of 11-4 in 1916-1917. They also won the Missouri Valley Conference title both seasons. After leaving the University of Nebraska, he entered the automobile business as President and Treasurer of the Stewart Motor Co. Because of the economic conditions at the time, he decided to go back into coaching.

BUD SAUNDERS, 1923-26

Bud Saunders graduated from Missouri in 1911, with a bachelors degree in Law. At Missouri, he played football and basketball. He wanted to play two other sports, but a conference rule at the time forbid an athlete to participate in more than two sports.

Saunders was football coach at Knox College before coming to Clemson. In football, Saunders coached for four seasons, 1923-1926. He also coached the basketball teams in 1924 and 1925. His best season in football came in 1923, as he led the Tigers to a 5-2-1 slate.

JOSH CODY, 1927-1930

Josh Cody, fondly known as "big man," will always be a favorite to Clemson fans. Cody, a big man in stature, 6-2, 220 pounds, led Clemson to victories over South Carolina for four straight years. He is the only coach in Clemson history who has been around more than one year who never lost a football game to South Carolina. He also defeated Furman three straight years. Cody had a 13-0-1 record in home games and had a 72 percent winning mark overall, fourth best in Clemson history.

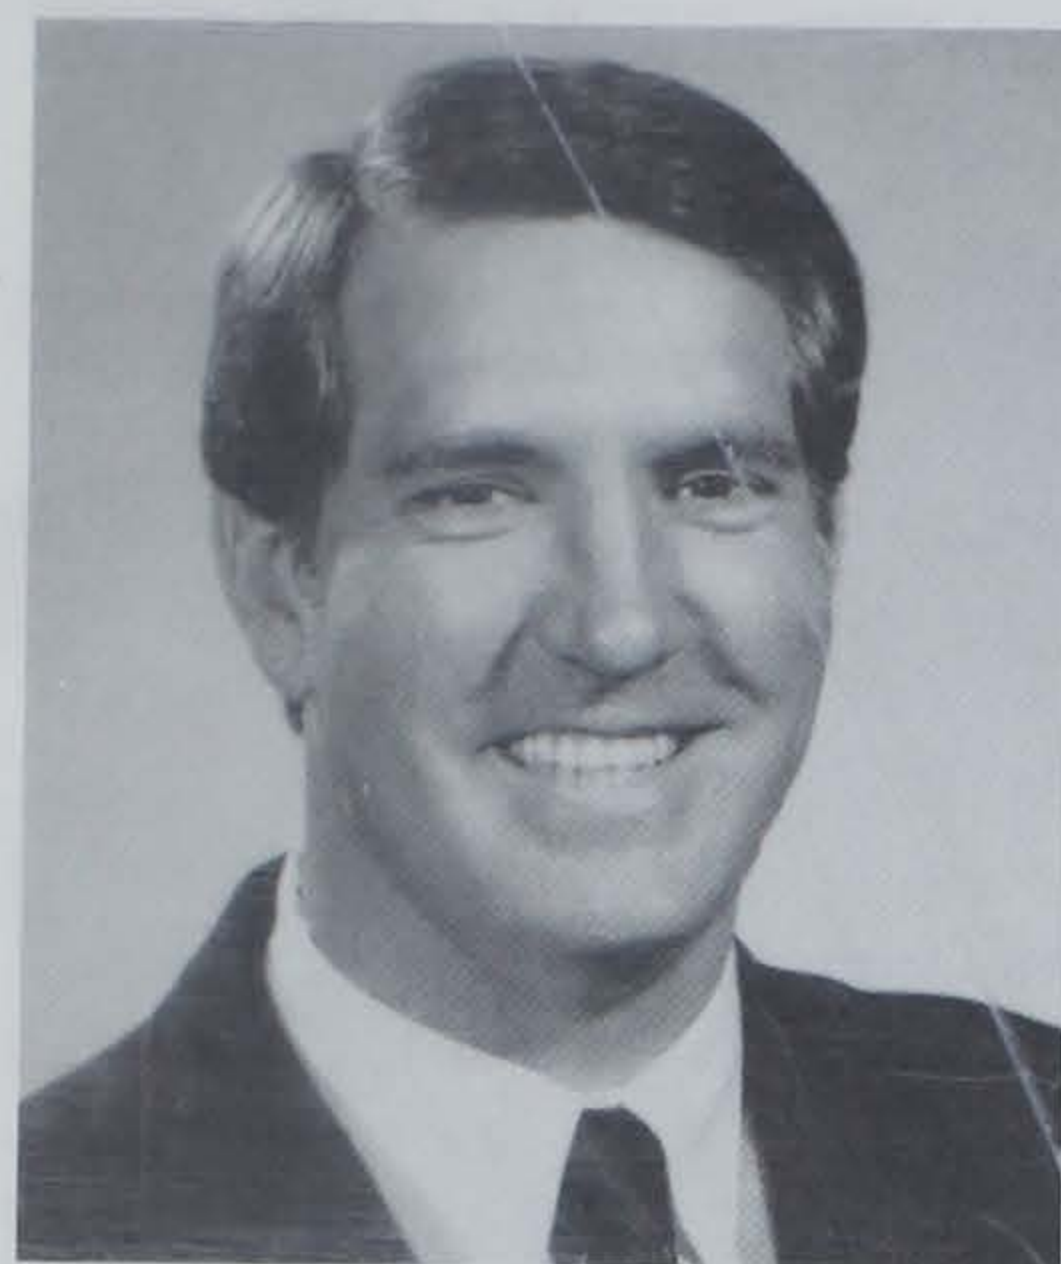

After a 5-3-1 start in 1927, Cody guided Clemson to two 8-3 seasons in 1928 and 1929. On May 6, 1929, to show appreciation to Cody, he was presented with a new buick by the alumni, student body and faculty. This presentation took place in front of Tillman Hall.

In his final season, 1930, the Tigers finished with an 8-2 record.

Cody also coached basketball at Clemson for five years and guided Clemson to a 16-9 slate in 1930. During the 1928-30 seasons, Cody guided Clemson to a 22-4 mark at home.

JESS NEELY, 1931-39

Clemson played in its first bowl game under Jess Neely in the 1940 Cotton Bowl. The Tigers, unknown at the time, became a household word after beating heavily-favored Boston College 6-3 in the Cotton Bowl Classic. Neely came to Clemson in 1931, after having served coaching stints at Alabama and Princeton. The birth of IPTAY in 1934 and Neely's recruitment of Banks McFadden brought Clemson to another level of competition. In 1938, Neely had Clemson at second place in the Southern Conference with a 7-1-1 record. In 1939, Banks McFadden became Clemson's first All-American, and the team had its first final AP Top 20 Ranking (12th). The season concluded with a trip to Dallas for the Cotton Bowl. Neely left Clemson that Spring and moved on to Rice, where he took that Houston-based school to new heights. Neely is a member of the College Football Hall of Fame.

Danny Ford

FRANK HOWARD, 1940-69

Frank Howard succeeded Jess Neely in 1940 when Neely moved on to Rice. Howard got the job when he seconded his own nomination during a meeting of the president and the athletic council. Howard signed a one-year contract, then lost the document, and never had another in his 30 years as head coach.

Howard graduated from Alabama in 1931 where he was a football star lineman. He played in the 1930 Rose Bowl, then started his coaching career under Neely at Clemson in 1931, and was a part of a rebirth of Clemson football in the late 1930s. He was an assistant coach on Clemson's 1939 team that posted a 9-1 mark and beat Boston College 6-3 in the Tigers' first bowl game.

In 1940, he began his head coaching career with a bang as he won the Southern Conference championship, the first of eight conference titles Howard won in his coaching career.

Howard had his most successful season in 1948 when he took Clemson to an 11-0 record, the Tigers' first perfect season since 1900. The campaign included a Southern Conference championship, a Gator Bowl win over Missouri and a number-11 final ranking. He nearly duplicated the feat in 1950 when he guided Clemson to a number-10 AP final ranking, a 9-0-1 finish and a 15-14 win over Miami (FL) in the Orange Bowl.

When he retired in 1969, Howard was the fifth winningest coach in the nation with 165 victories. He had 96 wins as an ACC coach, tying the ACC record for coaching victories, and he captured six (five outright and one co-championship) ACC titles, more than any other coach. His team's appeared in six bowl games, 63 of his players were drafted by the NFL and 37 played in the league.

Howard, a native of Barlow Bend, AL, had six Top 20 seasons, won eight conference titles (two Southern and six ACC), won an even 100 conference games and was a two-time ACC Coach-of-the-Year. He coached 25 academic All-ACC selections and five Academic All-Americans. Eleven of his players were chosen on-the-field All-Americans.

HOOTIE INGRAM, 1970-1972

Hootie Ingram will be best remembered as the coach that made the Tiger Paw famous. Before his first year as head coach in the summer of 1970, Clemson introduced the Tiger Paw as the official logo of Clemson University's Athletic teams.

Ingram was a graduate from the University of Alabama in 1955. He also received his masters in school administration from Alabama and is now athletic director at Alabama.

The native of Tuscaloosa, AL was an All-Southeastern Conference defensive back for the Crimson Tide his senior year.

Ingram had his best year at Clemson during the 1971 campaign with a 5-6 overall record. He also finished second in the ACC with a 4-2 league mark in 1971.

RED PARKER, 1973-1976

Red Parker coached at Clemson for four years. He had his finest season in 1974. His 1974 team lived up to the theme "Excitement Galore, Clemson Football '74." They finished the season with a 7-4 record, which included an undefeated home record (6-0), and wins over Georgia, Georgia Tech and South Carolina.

Before arriving at Clemson, Red Parker spent seven years at the Citadel from 1966 through 1972. During this time, he guided the Bulldogs to a fine 8-3 finish in 1971.

Parker earned a BA degree in Physical Education from Arkansas A&M in 1953. Prior to his graduation, he received three letters each in the sports of football, basketball and track, as a running back-defensive back, second baseman-shortstop, and sprinter, respectively.

CHARLEY PELL, 1977-78

Charley Pell authored College football's Cinderella story in 1977.

The Albertville, AL product took a Clemson team that was 3-6-2 in 1976, and led the '77 Tigers to a sparkling 8-2-1 regular season mark and a berth in the Gator Bowl. It was Clemson's first final Top 20 season since 1959, and only his first year as head coach of Clemson.

He was a near unanimous choice as ACC Coach-of-the-Year. A two-way starter and three-year letterwinner at Alabama, Pell was a member of the Crimson Tide's 1961 National Championship team and played in the Orange, Sugar and Bluebonnet Bowls during his Alabama career.

He came to Clemson in 1976 and served as assistant head coach and defensive coordinator that year.

DANNY FORD, 1979-89

Danny Ford had an auspicious beginning to his head coaching career. He gained a 17-15 win over Ohio State in the 1978 Gator Bowl in a game shown on national television. The 30-year-old coach, youngest in Division I at the time, also defeated a college football legend in a contest that truly put Clemson football on the map as he beat Woody Hayes in the latter's last game. Ford had taken over the coaching reigns on December 10, 1978 when Charley Pell resigned to become head coach at Florida.

Ford kept things going in 1979 with wins over Georgia and Notre Dame and another trip to a bowl, this time the Peach Bowl. In 1981 he helped Clemson reach the summit of college football by winning the National Championship. His Tigers downed three top 10 teams during the course of the 12-0 season that concluded with a 22-15 victory over Nebraska in the Orange

MORE THAN A FOOTBALL COACH

The following is a list of Clemson football coaches that were head coaches of other sports during the same academic year.

Bowl. Ford was named National Coach-of-the-Year.

The victories continued in 1982 and 1983 as Clemson had consecutive 9-1-1 seasons. The Tigers finished in the top 12 in both seasons, and thus had a 30-2-2 record over a three-year period, best in the nation.

After extending a streak for consecutive winning regular seasons to nine straight years in 1985, he led Clemson to another top 20 finish and ACC title in 1986. Clemson won three straight titles under his guidance between 1986 and 1988. In 1989 Clemson registered a 10-2 season and top 12 national ranking, the fourth straight season Clemson finished in the final AP top 20. He closed his career with a 27-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl, his sixth bowl win in eight tries and his fourth in succession. Clemson and Florida State were the only teams in the nation to win four straight bowl games between 1986 and 1989.

Ford was the third winningest active coach on a percentage basis at the end of the 1989 season. He finished with a 96-29-4 career ledger at Clemson and remains the only coach in ACC history with over a 70 percent winning mark (min. 4 years). He finished with a 76 percent winning percentage and five ACC titles, second only to Frank Howard's six crowns.

The 1969 Alabama graduate is still the youngest coach to win the national title, as he was just 33-years-old when the Tigers shocked the college football world in 1981. He coached 71 first-team All-ACC selections and 26 All-Americans. Thirty-eight of his former Tigers were drafted by the NFL, and he earned 18 wins over Associated Press top 20 teams during his career, more than any other ACC coach. Additionally, eight of his former players won Super Bowl Championship rings. At one stretch his teams were ranked in the AP top 20 for 41 consecutive polls, a Clemson record.

Ford was an All-SEC selection and was also an All-SEC Academic choice at Alabama. He attended Alabama initially on a basketball/football scholarship but played only football after his freshman year. He played in three bowl games for Alabama.

The Legendary Frank Howard

Howard coached eight conference championship teams at Clemson, two Southern and six ACC.

An era ended at Clemson University June 30, 1974, when Frank Howard officially retired from the payroll. But instead of crawling back in his shell as some do at this stage, Howard sluffed off the retirement bit and still comes to his office regularly in the Jervy Athletic Center answering a pretty good stack of mail which arrives daily, or accepting another speaking engagement, or lining up some advertisers for the Kickoff Publishing Company.

Howard retired from coaching December 10, 1969, after 39 years on the Clemson coaching staff, 30 of which were as head coach. He was also athletic director during this time and he kept this position until February 4, 1971, when he was named assistant to the vice president at the university, the post he held when the mandatory retirement age of 65 rolled around.

Shortly after his retirement the Clemson Board of Trustees named the playing surface of Memorial Stadium as "Frank Howard Field" in honor of his long service to the university. It was only the third time that a building or installation had been named by the trustees for a living person.

In the last decade Howard has been inducted into the South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame and the Clemson Hall of Fame (charter member in both), as well as the Helms Athletic Hall of Fame and the State of Alabama Hall of Fame. On December 5, 1989 he joined an elite group in the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame. The ceremonies took place in the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City. He joined former Clemson mentors John Heisman and Jess Neely.

Howard was honored again in December, 1981, when he was inducted into the Orange Bowl Hall of Honor, along with former Alabama coach, Paul "Bear" Bryant, and Tommy McDonald, former Oklahoma star. In the summer of 1990 he was inducted into the Gator Bowl Hall of Fame.

Howard stepped onto the rolling hills of Clemson in 1931 fresh from the varsity football ranks at the University of Alabama where he was a first stringer on Wallace Wade's 1930 team which drubbed Washington State, 24-0 in the 1931 Rose Bowl. Howard was known as the "Little Giant" of the Tide's "Herd of Red Elephants."

The bald veteran came to his first coaching post under Jess Neely as a line tutor. "At least that was my title," Howard recalls. "Actually, I also coached track, was ticket manager, recruited players and had charge of football equipment. In my spare time I cut grass, lined tennis courts and operated the canteen while the regular man was out to lunch."

Howard was not only track coach from 1931-39, but served as baseball coach in 1943 and his 12-3 record that year is still the best percentage for a season in Clemson history.

Howard held the line coaching post until Neely went to Rice University as head coach in 1940. When the Clemson Athletic Council met to name a successor to Neely, Prof. Sam Rhodes, a council member, nominated Howard to be the new head coach. Howard, standing in the back of the room listening to the discussion, said: "I second the nomination." He got the job and never left. Altogether, he served Clemson 43 years.

When he retired as head coach following the 1969 season, he was the nation's dean of coaches, having been a head football coach at a major institution longer than anyone else in the United States. When he retired, he was one of five active coaches with 150 or more victories.

While line coach in 1939, the Tigers' record (8-1) was good enough to merit a trip to Dallas where Clemson met undefeated Boston College under the late Frank Leahy in the 1940 Cotton Bowl. The 1948 mark of 10-0 carried Clemson to the 1949 Gator Bowl and two years later, a 9-0-1 record sent the Tigers to Miami's Orange Bowl (1950). The Country Gentlemen were champions on their first three bowl ventures. Boston College fell, 6-3, Missouri was nipped in the Gator, 24-23 (Howard says this is the best football game he ever witnessed), and Miami felt the Tiger claws, 15-14. The total point spread in these three bowl wins was five points.

The Gator Bowl beckoned the Tigers again in January, 1952, and by being conference champions in 1956, Clemson played in the '57 Orange Bowl classic again. Miami downed Clemson, 14-0 in the second Gator trip and Colorado led Clemson, 20-0, then trailed 21-20, before finally defeating the Tigers, 27-21, in the second Orange Bowl. The Tigers then played in the 1959 Sugar Bowl and held No. 1-ranked Louisiana State to a standstill before losing, 7-0.

The invitation to play in the first annual Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston in December, 1959, was the eighth bowl that Howard had been a part of either as a player, assistant coach or head coach. It was the seventh bowl trip for a Clemson team and the sixth in 12 years. Howard says that Clemson's 23-7 triumph over Texas Christian in the Bluebonnet was the best performance he had ever witnessed by a Clemson team.

The Tigers' victory over TCU was their fourth

Howard won 165 games as a head coach at Clemson, still a Tiger record by far.

Howard playfully scolds Bear Bryant for beating his Tigers in 1966.

success in seven post-season appearances. In all seven Clemson was the established underdog.

Howard served on the coaching staff of the Blue-Gray game in Montgomery, Ala., in 1941, 1952, 1959, and 1966; was on the East staff of the annual East-West Game in San Francisco, Calif., in December, 1960, and again in December, 1962; and was named coach of the South squad in Miami's 1961 and 1969 North-South game. He coached in the 1970 Hula Bowl, which was his ninth post-season all-star game.

While still in active coaching Howard served as one of the important rules committee members for a period of three years.

A single wing expert for 22 seasons (including nine as line coach), Howard changed to the T-formation and its many variations in 1953. Still another major change in the offense was installed in 1965 with the 'I' and pro-type set. In his 13 seasons as head coach using the single wing, Clemson won 69, lost 47 and tied 7. In 12 years of 'I' teams, the Tigers won 71, lost 47 and tied 4. While using the 'I' in his last five years of coaching, Clemson recorded a 25-24-1 record.

In his 30 years of coaching Howard won 165, lost 118 and tied 12.

In addition to heading up the Clemson football program, Howard also had the job of directing Clemson's entire athletic program, and at the same time, raising all the required scholarship funds. The athletic department was always on a sound financial footing under the guidance of Howard.

The year 1958 was a red letter one for Howard. During the halftime of the Spring Game, Howard, his staff and secretaries were given an appreciation day. Howard received a 1958 car while other staff members were presented gifts. That summer Howard and three members of his staff were given a trip to Europe by the Department of Defense to conduct clinics for the Armed Forces in Germany.

Then came the football season and the Tigers presented Howard an 8-2 seasons which led to the Sugar Bowl invitation. One of these 1958 wins was the 100th of Howard's coaching career. That came against the late Jim Tatum of North Carolina, a coach whom Howard had never beaten. And the Tigers had to come from behind

Howard was named Southern Conference coach-of-the-year in 1948. In 1959 he was named Atlantic Coast Conference coach-of-the-year and was accorded the honor again in 1966. His teams won ACC championships five times (1956-58-59-66-67) in the first 15 years of the conference. The Tigers were co-champions in 1965.

Howard was born at Barlow Bend, Ala., (three wagon greasins' from Mobile), March 25, 1909. He spent his early days on the farm playing mostly cow pasture baseball because there were not enough boys around the community to form a football team. Howard says he left Barlow Bend walking barefoot on a barbed wire fence with a wildcat under each arm.

He graduated from Murphy High School in Mobile where he played football, baseball and basketball and served as president of both the junior and senior classes.

After finishing at Murphy, Howard entered the University of Alabama on an academic scholarship provided by the Birmingham News in the fall of 1927, and the 185 pounder played reserve guard his sophomore year. During his junior year he started every game but two, as an ankle injury sidelined him for the two games he missed. Again his senior year he was a regular.

Howard was not the straight man in this routine with Bob Hope at a Clemson homecoming in 1978.

at Alabama, was member of Blue Key and president of the "A" Club.

After coming to Clemson he married the former Anna Tribble of Anderson, S.C., August 23, 1933. They are the parents of a daughter Alice (Mrs. Bobby McClure of St. Paul's, N.C.) and a son, Jimmy. The Howards also have three grandchildren.

Jimmy followed in his dad's footsteps as a football player, only at a different position. The son was regular fullback on the local high school (Daniel) team for three years and was a halfback-fullback for three years on the Clemson varsity. Jimmy gained over 1,400 yards his senior year in high school and scored over 100 points. He graduated from Clemson in June, 1964 with honors, and earned his masters degree in horticulture from Clemson in 1967. Today he is district entomologist with the Plant Pest Regulatory Service at Clemson.

For over three decades Howard has been in great demand both as a banquet speaker and a clinic lecturer. Few states have escaped his homespun oratory, which has brought the house down on many occasions.

Since his retirement, Howard has become active in other endeavors. He has served as state chairman of the South Carolina Heart Fund annual drive, has been roasted several times on behalf of the Multiple Sclerosis Society, and is active in selling the Kickoff Publication out of Knoxville, TN.

Howard still has his hands in football as he serves as the chief recruiter for the Gray squad in the annual Blue-Gray game in Montgomery, AL., The Blue squad recruiter is Don Faurot, who opposed Howard in the 1949 Gator Bowl.

Howard has also been inducted into the Helms Foundation Hall of Fame in San Francisco, CA., is an honorary member of the National Athletic Trainers Association, and is a member of the Hall of Fame of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics.

Clemson University has also honored Howard once more with the presentation of the Clemson Medallion, which is the highest public honor bestowed by the university to a living person who exemplifies the dedication and foresight of its founders.

Clemson defense holds Leahy's Eagles to 4-23 passing in first Tiger bowl game.

Joe Blalock
All-American End, 1939

George Fritts
3-Time All-Southern

Jess Neely's last Clemson team won eight games in the regular season and had come within a blocked extra point of escaping the regular season without a loss. The 8-1 Tigers were rewarded with an invitation to play Boston College in the fourth Cotton Bowl, but Clemson first had to get permission from the Southern Conference, which they immediately granted. The 1939 season not only resulted in Clemson's first bowl appearance, but also the Tigers' first All-American, Banks McFadden.

On the last play of the first quarter, Bru Trexler punted to BC's Charlie O'Rourke, who fielded the punt on the Clemson 40 and returned it to the 13. Two running plays lost 10 yards, but on third down Frank Davis gained six. Alex Lukachik then kicked a 34-yard field goal to put the Eagles up 3-0.

Clemson's scoring drive began when McFadden returned an Eagle punt to the 33. Charlie Timmons rushed for 15 yards in two plays, and two plays after that, McFadden hit Wister Jackson with a 16-yard pass to the Eagle 20. Timmons ran the final 20 yards in three carries, but Bryant missed the extra point.

A 51-yard punt by McFadden started Boston College at its 20. The Eagles fumbled on first down and Clemson's George Fritts recovered at the 24. The Tigers could do nothing with the gift, however, as Joe Blalock fumbled after a short pass.

The game turned into a defensive struggle in the second half, although Boston College did penetrate deep into Clemson territory on two occasions. The Eagles took the opening kickoff to the Clemson 19, but a holding penalty and an incomplete pass ended the threat and BC was forced to punt.

Late in the game, the Eagles drove to the Clemson 11, but Bryant and McFadden broke up two passes and Clemson took over on downs.

McFadden effectively bottled up the Eagles other than those drives with his punting. His 45-yard average on nine kicks, including two boots for 51 and 55 yards in the second half, prevented Boston College from getting good field position, and the Clemson defense made the 6-3 score stand.

1949 Gator Bowl

Clemson 24, Missouri 23

Both teams gain 298 yards total offense, but Miller's field goal gives Tigers perfect season.

Clemson opened the 1948 season with a 53-0 shutout of Presbyterian in the Tigers' first-ever night home game and they closed the regular season with a 20-0 blanking of The Citadel in the first game played at the Bulldogs' Johnson Hagood Stadium. In between, the Tigers shut out three more opponents and beat five others on the way to a 10-0 record, a ninth-place ranking in the polls, and an invitation to play Missouri in the fourth Gator Bowl.

Clemson kicked off, but three plays later Missouri fumbled and Clemson's Bob Martin recovered at the 19. A pass interference call gave the Tigers the ball at the one, and Fred Cone scored from there. Jack Miller added the point after and Clemson led 7-0.

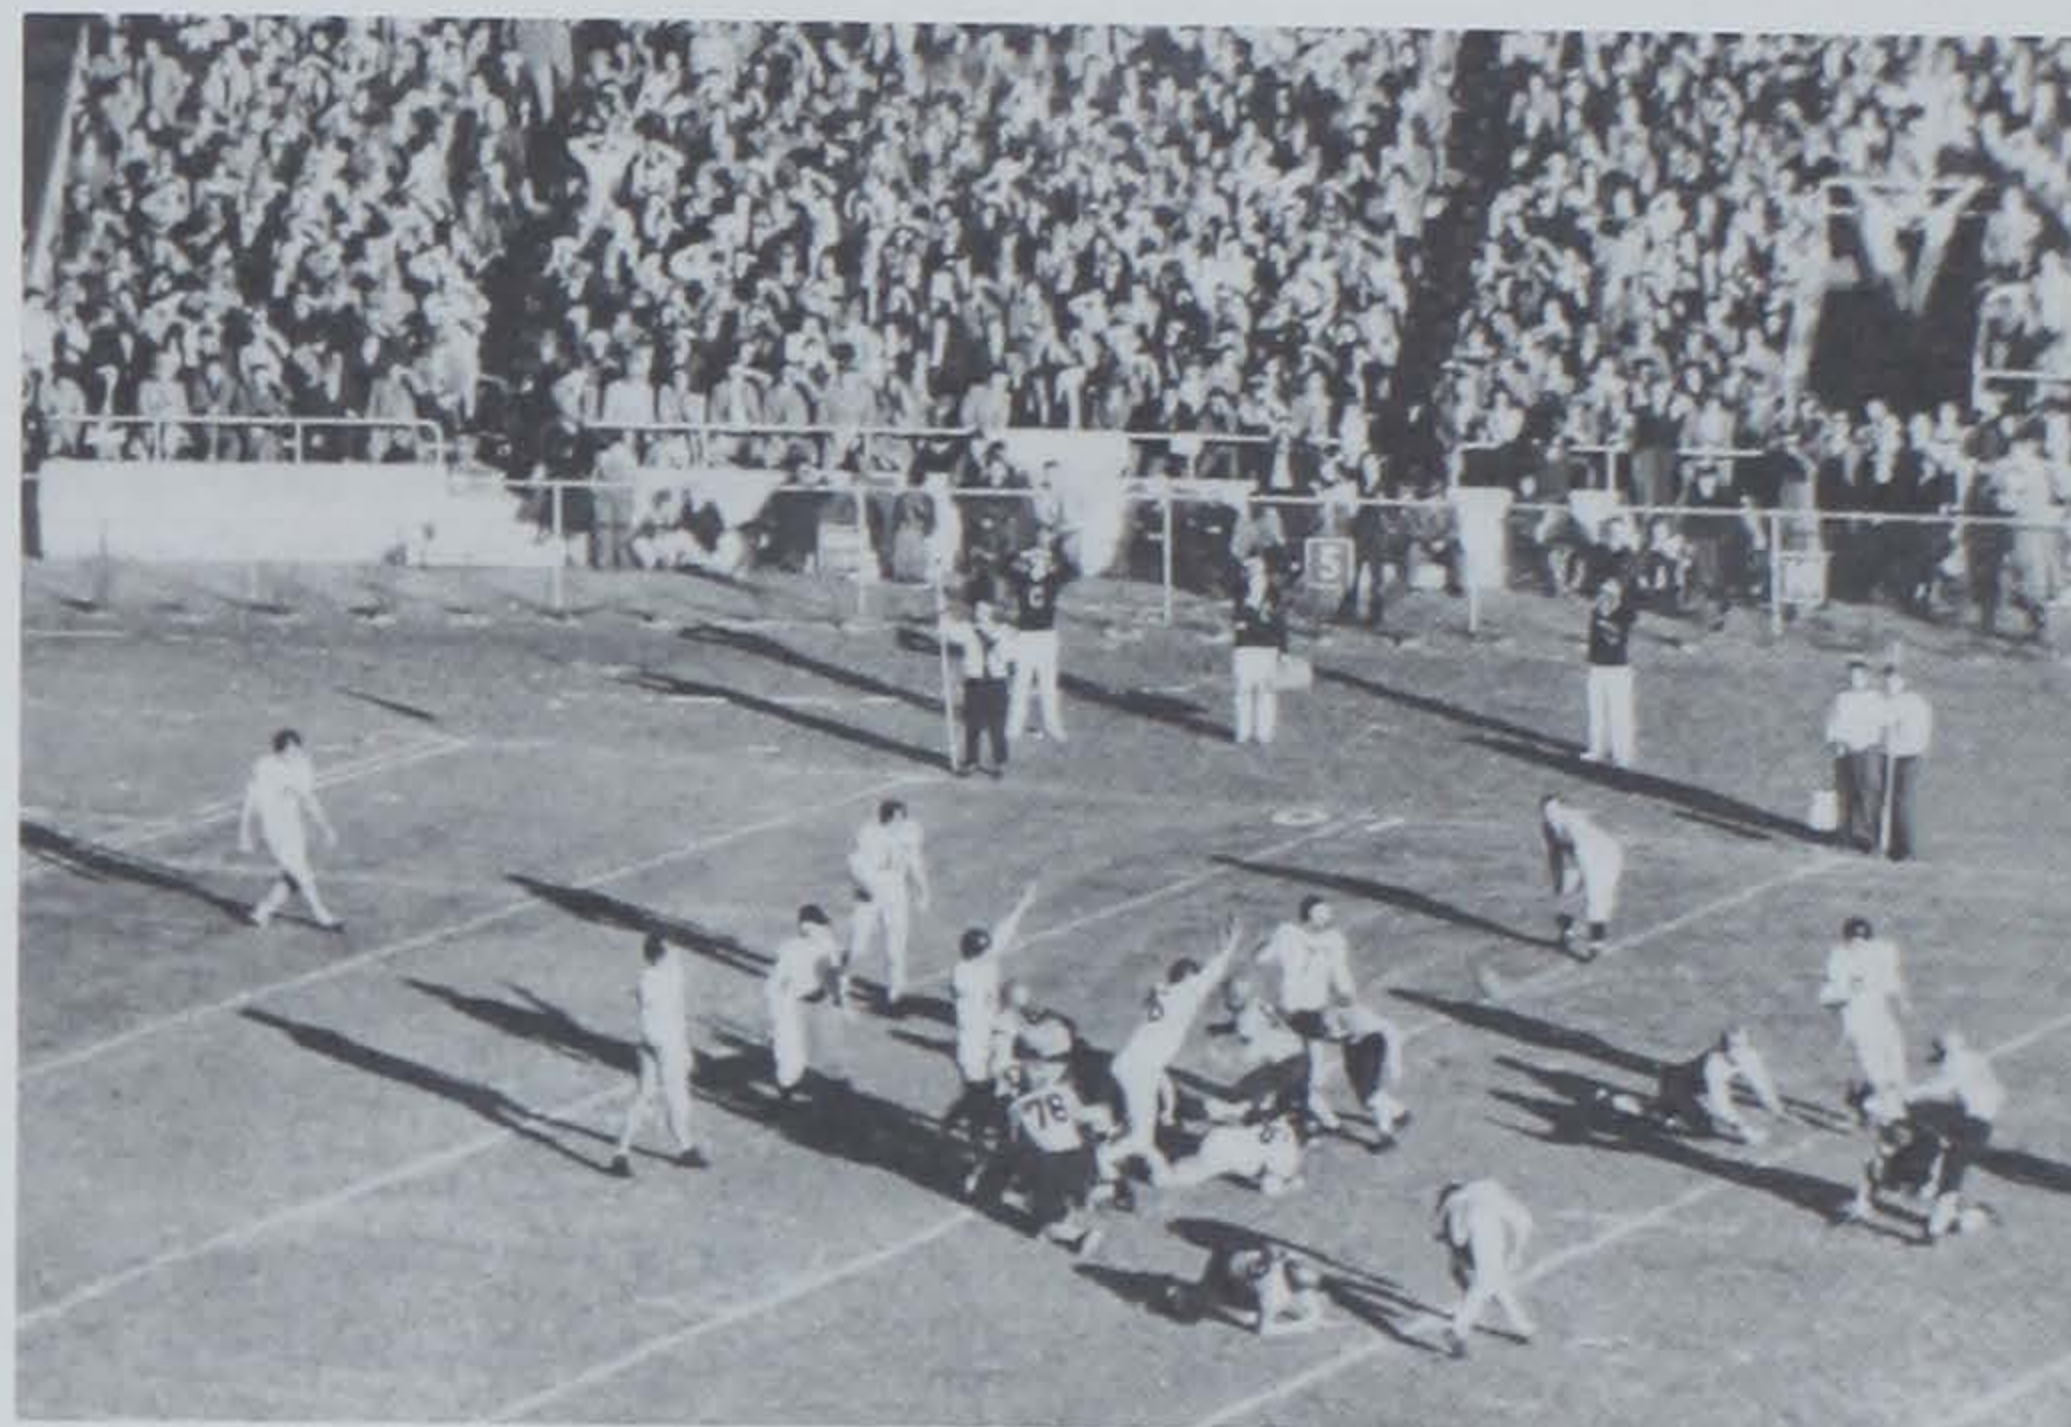

Ray Mathews recovered a Missouri fumble later in the quarter to give Clemson the ball at its 35. Mathews took the next play for 26 yards and five plays later Bobby Gage passed to Martin for 19 more. Cone scored for the second time from the one, and Miller's conversion gave the Southern Conference champs a 14-0 lead.

After a kickoff, Missouri launched an 80-yard drive to score its first touchdown. Harold Entsminger capped the 13-play march with a quarterback sneak from the two. Robertson Dawson added the seventh point.

Gage was intercepted on the next Clemson drive and Wilbur Volz returned the theft to the Missouri 46. Missouri kept the ball on the ground and Entsminger carried over from the one for the score. Dawson added his second point after and the game was tied at 14.

Clemson took the second-half kickoff and used up six minutes of clock on the way to its third touchdown. Gage ran and passed for 19 yards on two separate plays and the Tigers scored on a flea-flicker pass from Cone to Gage to John Poulos in the end zone. Miller completed the 80-yard drive with his third PAT.

A Missouri punt rolled dead at the Clemson one, and after an incomplete pass, Gage threw a pass that hit the ground in the end zone and was ruled a safety. Clemson's lead was then cut to 21-16.

Jack Miller won the 1949 Gator Bowl with this 32-yard field goal, his only field goal of the 1948 season.

Clemson then launched a 11-play surge to the Missouri 12. With fourth-and-10, Miller kicked a 32-yard field goal that would prove to be the winning points.

Dave Ashley returned the kickoff to the Missouri 40, and seven plays later, halfback Richard Braznell passed to Kenneth Bounds for a 20-yard touchdown. Dawson added the point to bring Missouri within one point with five minutes left. Clemson took the kickoff and ran out the clock to preserve the win.

1951 Orange Bowl

Clemson 15, Miami (FL) 14

Wade's interception and Smith's safety lead fourth quarter defense in second straight one-point bowl win.

Clemson's bid for a repeat of the 1948 perfect season ended when the Tigers had to rely on the toe of Charlie Radcliff to tie South Carolina after three season-opening shut-outs. Clemson regrouped, however, with a 13-12 win at Wake Forest and then won the remaining four games by convincing margins. The Tigers' 8-0-1 mark and second-place finish in the Southern Conference earned them a bid to play Miami, who was also undefeated at 9-0-1, in the 17th Orange Bowl.

After a scoreless first quarter, Clemson got on track with a 45-yard pass from Billy Hair to Bob Hudson that put the Tigers at the Miami one. Fred Cone capped the 76-yard drive on third down with a sweep for the score and Radcliff tacked on the extra point.

Clemson mounted a six-play, 70-yard drive in the third quarter for its second touchdown. Hair threw a 31-yard pass to Ray Mathews, who, as the papers said, "made a circus catch with two men on his back" to move the Tigers to the Miami 28. Hair tossed a pass to Glenn Smith at the Miami seven and Smith scrambled in for the score. Radcliff's extra point try was blocked.

Miami caught fire two minutes later than Jack Delbello intercepted a pass in the Clemson end zone and returned it to the 40 and then a 10-yard penalty was assessed the Tigers for unnecessary roughness. On the next play, Frank Smith ran a reverse for 45 yards to move to the Clemson five. Harry Mallios took a pitch, from quarterback Bob Schneidenbach, in for the score and Gordon Watson added the conversion.

Miami went 95 yards in five plays for its second score. Ed Lutes caught a pass at midfield and rambled down to the Clemson 17 before he was stopped. On fourth down, Jack Hackett threw to Frank Smith for the score and Watson's point put Miami in the lead for the first time at 14-13.

Mallios' 80-yard punt return was called back and two clipping infractions and one unnecessary roughness penalty put Miami in a deep hole with six minutes left in the game. Frank Smith took a pitch-out from Hackett, but before Smith could get out of the end zone, Sterling Smith, a second-team defensive guard for Clemson, tripped him up for a safety, and Clemson led 15-14. J.D. Wade ended the last Miami threat with an interception, and Clemson ran out the clock for the win.

Sterling Smith's timely tackle of Miami's Frank Smith saved the day for Clemson as the Tigers won a bowl game for the third straight time.

1952 Gator Bowl

Miami (FL) 14, Clemson 0

Clemson defense holds Miami to just 174 yards, yet Hurricanes hand Tigers first bowl loss in battle of Top 20 teams.

Clemson won the first three games of the 1951 season as well as the last four. In between, however, the Tigers dropped games to Pacific and South Carolina on the road. The Gator Bowl Committee invited Clemson with its 7-2 record to play Miami (FL) in a rematch of the 1951 Orange Bowl, but the Southern Conference had decided to ban its teams from any bowl competition that season. Clemson and Maryland accepted bowl bids anyway, and were prohibited from playing any other conference team except each other the next year.

The Tigers opened the game with a bang as Billy Hair took Elmer Tremont's kickoff and returned it 72 yards to the Miami 26, but Clemson could only make six yards in four downs and the Tigers turned the ball over.

After an exchange of punts, Miami mounted an 82-yard drive to score the game's first touchdown. The drive was highlighted by quarterback Jack Hackett's only two passes of the game — a 15-yarder to Frank McDonald and a 40-yard throw to Ed Lutes. Two plays later, fullback Harry Mallios took the pitch and ran 11 yards for the score. Tremont added the extra point and Miami led 7-0.

Miami defensive back Jim Dooley intercepted the first of four passes to kill the Clemson drive at the Miami 15. Clemson got the ball back after a punt, but on fourth down, defensive end Leo Martin blocked Hair's punt at the Clemson 32. Mallios converted twice on fourth down to keep the drive going and he scored from two yards out. Tremont converted again and Miami had all the points it needed.

The Clemson defense turned stingy in the second half, as the Tigers did not allow Miami to penetrate their 35 and the Hurricane did not gain another first down. The Clemson offense moved well, but a fumble at the Miami 18 and three Dooley interceptions inside the 20 kept Clemson off the scoreboard as Miami handed the Tigers their first bowl loss in four tries.

Colorado 27, Clemson 21

Wells' 125-yard rushing performance and 20-point comeback wasted in loss to Buffalos.

Clemson claimed its first Atlantic Coast Conference championship in 1956 on the strength of a 4-0-1 league mark. The Tigers were 7-1-2 overall and were a surprise choice to participate in the 22nd Orange Bowl, as only three weeks before their selection, the Tigers had been shut out by Miami, 21-0, in the same stadium. Colorado, which was 7-2-1 and the Big-Seven runnerup, was chosen as Clemson's opponent.

After a scoreless first quarter, Colorado got on track with a seven-play, 75-yard drive. The Buffaloes' catalyst was a 26-yard run by Bob Stransky that moved the ball to the Clemson 23. Four plays later, John "The Beast" Bayuk scored from the two. Ellwin Indorf added the point after.

Stransky intercepted an errant Charlie Bussey pass at the Clemson 46 and returned it to the 10 to spark Colorado's second score. Boyd Dowler, who later started with the Packers, scored from six yards out two plays later. Howard Cook added the conversion and Colorado led 14-0.

Colorado's Frank Clarke partially blocked Horace Turbeville's punt on the next Clemson drive and the Buffaloes recovered on the Clemson 26. Cook then went wide right and scored on the next play, but he missed the extra point.

Clemson came out of the locker room and marched 69 yards in 15 plays to score on Joel Wells' three-yard run. Bussey's extra point try was good.

After a Colorado punt, Clemson moved to the 29 on Bob Spooner's two runs. Three plays later, Wells ran 58 yards on a counter trap off the belly series for the Tigers' second score. Bussey's point after made the score 20-14 Colorado.

Clemson recovered the onside kick, but the Tigers were forced to punt four plays later. Colorado then fumbled at its 11 and Tommy Sease recovered for the Tigers at the 10. Spooner, who had been the workhorse on the first scoring drive, carried the ball over from the one, and with Bussey's third extra point, Clemson led for the first time at 21-20, with 11:22 to go.

Although leading, Bussey attempted a second onside kick. Colorado recovered and marched 53 yards in eight plays to go ahead for good on Bayuk's one-yard plunge. Indorf kicked the extra point and the Buffaloes led 27-21. The two teams traded turnovers, and Colorado ran out the clock.

Frank Howard's threatened resignation during intermission inspired Clemson's comeback in the second half.

"I told them I was going to resign if they didn't play better in the second half. I told them I didn't want to be associated with any team that played like they did in the first half."

When Howard met Dal Ward, Colorado's Head Coach, at midfield, Ward asked him what was the matter with his team, Frank replied "I just don't know."

Later Howard explained that the Tigers just refused to block in the first half, but in the second half they got down to business. He had words of praise for John Bayuk, Colorado's big fullback, and said he was as good as any fullback that Clemson had faced all year.

Summing it up, Howard said "I'm glad we gave them a good game down here, after all we had to take."

1959 Sugar Bowl

LSU 7, Clemson 0

Fourth down halfback option pass ruins Clemson upset bid of nation's number-one team.

South Carolina, who had been shut out by Clemson the previous two years, scored 20 second half points to take 26-6 win over Frank Howard's 1958 team. The only other blemish on the ACC Champions' 8-2 regular season record was a 13-0 loss at Georgia Tech. For their efforts, the Tigers were invited to play the nation's number-one team, Louisiana State, in the 25th Sugar Bowl.

LSU drove deep into Clemson territory three times in the first half, but two fumbles and a thwarted fake field goal killed the drives. Clemson could do no better, though, as none of its six drives went past midfield.

Clemson moved to the LSU 27 on its first drive of the second half, but a fumble gave the ball back to the other set of Tigers. On Clemson's next possession, however, LSU got the break it had been looking for. On fourth down, the ball slipped out of snapper Paul Snyder's hands and hit up-man Doug Cline in the leg and Duane Leopard recovered for LSU at the Clemson 11.

LSU picked up two yards on its first three tries, but on fourth down halfback Billy Cannon hit tight end Mickey Mangham in the corner of the end zone for the only score of the game. Cannon kicked the extra point and LSU led 7-0.

Clemson had one last chance late in the fourth quarter. The Tigers started at their 17 and 17 plays later were on the LSU 28, but Harvey White's fourth down pass to George Usry was incomplete. LSU took over on downs and ran out the clock.

In his usual relaxed way, Coach Frank Howard of Clemson said he was well pleased with his team.

Hell! I think we'd have beat them if that boy had held onto that little screen pass, Howard said. "I was going for those two points and beat them.

Other than not winning, he said, "I was pretty well pleased with my team."

Howard paid special tribute to Bo Strange.

"I didn't think we would hold them to one touchdown, but I didn't think they would shut us out, either."

"LSU has a good team, they rate the No. 1 spot in the nation.

"Cannon is quite a boy. Deserves his All-America rating."

"It was a wonderful victory. They're just as fine when you win 'em, 7-0 as 30-0. I'm very happy that we won," said LSU Coach Paul Dietzel.

"That was a perfect strike Cannon threw on that pass for the touchdown.

"Losing Rabb hurt us in this respect. He had been working with the White backfield all season, but Durel Matherne, our No. 2 quarterback, did a fine job, though, both on offense and defense.

"Clemson proved tougher than most people figured. But we knew we would have to play at our top peak to beat them. They were a good team."

1959 Bluebonnet Bowl

Clemson 23, TCU 7

Twenty-point fourth quarter, long score to Barnes lead Clemson to 300th Tiger victory in first Bluebonnet Bowl.

The 1959 season was one of firsts, lasts, and other milestones. Clemson won the last "Big Thursday" game with archrival South Carolina, 27-0, one of five opponents the Tigers would whitewash, the second-highest shutout total in a Clemson season. The 9-2 team was Clemson's third ACC Championship unit, and Frank Howard's last bowl team. After the season-ending win over Furman, Clemson was invited to play Texas Christian in the inaugural Bluebonnet Bowl, which would be the Tigers' second post-season appearance in the calendar year of 1959. The 23-7 win over the Horned Frogs was Clemson's 300th football victory.

Alternate quarterback Lowndes Shingler guided Clemson on a 12-play, 63-yard drive to the TCU five, but the Tigers stalled. Lon Armstrong hit on a 22-yard field goal as the second quarter started to put Clemson up 3-0.

Not to be outdone, TCU second-stringer Donald George moved his team on a 12-play, 63-yard drive to the Clemson end zone. The Horned Frogs scored the go-ahead touchdown on a 19-yard half-back pass from Jack Reding to Harry Moreland.

Neither team scored in the third quarter, but Clemson did drive to the TCU 29 midway through the period. Harvey White's fourth-down pass to George Usry was just one yard short of the needed first down and TCU took over.

Clemson got pass-happy in the final 15 minutes and scored two touchdowns to put the Tigers ahead. With a third-and-18 situation at the Clemson 32, White threw to end Gary Barnes who caught the ball at midfield and sprinted in for one score. After an interception, Shingler threw to Tommy King coming across the middle for a 23-yard touchdown, but Shingler's point after was wide and Clemson led 16-7.

Clemson returned to its running game for its final scoring drive late in the quarter. Shingler, Doug Daigneault, and Ron Scrudato moved the Tigers from their 37 to the TCU one and Scrudato ran off right tackle for the score. Armstrong's kick put the game out of TCU's reach and it capped a 20-point fourth quarter for the Tigers.

1977 Gator Bowl

Pittsburgh 34, Clemson 3

Cavanaugh has record performance in defending National Champs victory over rekindled Clemson program.

Clemson resurfaced in the national spotlight in 1977 after winning eight games and making its first bowl appearance in 18 years. First-year coach Charley Pell guided his team to a 7-6 win at Georgia, a near-upset of eventual National Champion Notre Dame at home, and had come within an extra point of claiming the ACC Championship. After Jerry Butler's twisting, diving catch in the end zone beat South Carolina, Clemson accepted the invitation to play defending National Champion Pittsburgh in the 33rd annual Gator Bowl.

Clemson won the opening coin toss, but that was to be the only thing the Tigers would win that night as the Matt Cavanaugh-led Panthers scored six of the 12 times they had the ball, set seven Gator Bowl records, and handed the Tigers one of their 25 worst defeats in history with a 34-3 score.

Cavanaugh threw four touchdown passes (three to fullback Elliott Walker), passed for a Clemson opponent record 387 yards and accounted for 402 yards in total offense. Pitt set a Gator Bowl team record for passing yards and first downs, while Cavanaugh set the individual mark for passing yardage. If that was not enough, the Pitt defense stymied the Clemson offense all night by keeping Steve Fuller & Company bottled up or causing turnovers when the Tigers' offense did get on track.

Pitt was leading 17-0 when the Tigers began their only scoring drive early in the second quarter. Fuller mixed passes to Anthony King and Butler with runs by Ken Callicutt to move to the Pitt 32. The drive bogged down and Obed Ariri hit on a 49-yard field goal which set the Gator Bowl record for distance.

Although the Tigers were out-classed by Pittsburgh, the 1977 appearance in the Gator Bowl was the start of a new era of football prowess for Clemson.

1978 Gator Bowl

Clemson 17, Ohio State 15

Ford opens career with victory over Woody Hayes in Ohio State mentor's final game.

The Clemson team of 1978 was notable for many reasons, and not the least of which was a 17-15 victory over Ohio State in the Gator Bowl. The '78 team won 11 games (eight by convincing margins), had the nation's longest winning streak after the bowl game, changed head coaches 19 days before the Gator Bowl, and ended the coaching career of Woody Hayes.

The first quarter of new Clemson coach Danny Ford's first game was scoreless, although Ohio State had been stopped at the Clemson one-yard line on a fourth down play.

The second quarter was unusual in that there were four possessions in the stanza and each team scored twice. Ohio State drove to the Clemson nine on the passing of Art Schlichter, but the Buckeyes had to settle for Bob Atha's 27-yard field goal.

Clemson quarterback Steve Fuller engineered an impressive 80-yard, 15-play drive after the kickoff. Staying mostly on the ground, Fuller, himself, ran around left end from four yards out to give Clemson the lead. Obed Ariri's point after made the score 7-3.

Schlichter duplicated Fuller's feat nine plays later, but Clemson right end Steve Gibbs blocked Vlade Janakiewski's extra point try, leaving Ohio State in the lead, 9-7.

Clemson got the ball back with 1:15 remaining in the quarter and Fuller passed his way to the Buckeye 30. With only five seconds left, Ariri hit a 47-yard field goal that gave the Tigers a 10-9 lead at halftime.

Clemson scored the only points of the third quarter as the running combination of Fuller, Marvin Sims, and Warren Ratchford ground out 83 yards in 18 plays. Cliff Austin went the final yard for the score, and Ariri's conversion gave Clemson a 17-9 cushion.

With 8:11 left in the game, Schlichter scored his second touchdown to bring Ohio State within two points. Jim Stuckey tackled Schlichter on a sweep to prevent the two-point play, and Clemson still led at 17-15.

Ohio State mounted one final drive. Faced with third-and-five at the Clemson 24, an interception by second-team middle guard Charlie Bauman (the only theft of his four-year career) killed the drive. Bauman was run out-of-bounds on the Ohio State sideline, and Buckeye coach Woody Hayes swung at the Clemson player. Consecutive unsportsmanlike conduct penalties gave Clemson excellent field position, and Fuller was able to run out the clock, giving Clemson its first win over a Big Ten team.

1979 Peach Bowl

Baylor 24, Clemson 18

Singletary stymies Clemson rushing attack in Baylor victory in Atlanta.

Clemson made its third consecutive bowl appearance in 1979 after an 8-3 season. The year included a 19-10 win over Gator Bowl-bound North Carolina and a dramatic, come-from-behind 16-10 victory at Notre Dame. The 1979 season was also Danny Ford's first full campaign as head coach.

The Tigers got on the board first with an eight-play, 66-yard drive highlighted by Billy Lott's 27-yard pass to Lester Brown. Brown scored two plays later on a one-yard dive over the middle and Obed Ariri's point after made the score 7-0 midway through the first period.

Baylor took the lead on two second-quarter touchdown passes from Mike Brannon to Bo Taylor and Robert Holt. Robert Bledsoe converted after both scores and the Southwest Conference representatives led 14-7 at intermission.

Clemson took the second half kickoff and a combination of runs by Lott, Brown, and Tracy Perry took the Tigers to the Baylor 22. The drive stalled there and Ariri's 40-yard field goal narrowed the margin to 14-10.

Quarterback Mickey Elam led Baylor on a 64-yard field goal drive after the kickoff, and he later threw a seven-yard touchdown to Raymond Cockrell to push the Bears' lead to 24-10.

Mike Singletary (now all-pro with the Chicago Bears), led the Baylor defense with 20 tackles. He was a major reason Clemson gained a season low 67 yards rushing in 51 attempts.

Andy Headen began Clemson's furious comeback with a blocked punt that was recovered by James Robinson at the Baylor one. Chuck McSwain scored with 20 seconds left in the game and Lott passed to Jeff McCall for the two-point conversion. Headen recovered the ensuing onside kick, and Lott completed a 30-yard pass to Perry Tuttle to move the Tigers to the Baylor 33. An interception killed the winning touchdown drive, however, and Baylor ran out the remaining seconds for the win.

Future pros Terry Kinard and Jeff Davis combine to stop a Baylor back late in the 1979 Peach Bowl.

1982 Orange Bowl

Clemson 22, Nebraska 15

Clemson claims first national title behind Igwebuike's three field goals, Jordan's 180 yards.

After 86 years of playing football, Clemson claimed its first National Championship with a 22-15 win over perennial Big Eight power Nebraska in the 48th Orange Bowl. After a 13-3 win over 1980 National Champion Georgia at home, the Tigers worked their way to the number-one ranking in both wire service polls by season's end. The win over the Cornhuskers gave Clemson the national title and its third perfect season in history.

Nebraska took the kickoff, but three plays later, Tiger middle guard William Devane recovered a Mark Mauer fumble at the Nebraska 33. Quarterback Homer Jordan drove Clemson to the Nebraska 27 before the drive stalled, and Donald Igwebuike drilled a 41-yard field goal to put the ACC Champions up, 3-0.

Nebraska came right back, however, as the Big Eight title holder drove 69 yards in eight plays to score on a 25-yard halfback pass from Mike Rozier to Anthony Steels. Kevin Seibel's extra point gave Nebraska the lead at 7-3 with 6:43 to go in the first quarter.

After an exchange of punts, the Clemson offense moved from the Nebraska 42 to the 21 to set up Igwebuike's second field goal. The 37-yard boot narrowed the score to 7-6.

A second-quarter Phil Bates fumble gave Clemson the ball at the Nebraska 27, and the running combination of Jordan, Kevin Mack, and Cliff Austin moved the ball to the Cornhusker two. Austin, who had been stuck in the hotel elevator for two hours earlier in the day, scampered in for the score that gave Clemson a lead it would not relinquish.

On its second possession of the second half, Clemson drove 75 yards in 12 plays to score its final touchdown of the night, a 13-yard pass from Jordan to All-America receiver Perry Tuttle in the corner of the end zone. For Tuttle, it was his eighth touchdown grab of the season, which set a school record. Bob Paulling's extra point put the Tigers ahead, 19-7.

After Billy Davis' 47-yard punt return, Jordan moved the Tigers to the Nebraska 20, where Igwebuike kicked a 36-yard field goal, his third of the evening, to put Clemson ahead 22-7 with two-and-a-half minutes left in the third stanza.

Nebraska was down but not out, though. After a near-interception by Jeff Davis, Mauer engineered an eight-play, 69-yard drive that was capped by a 26-yard run by Roger Craig. After a penalty, Craig ran in the two-point conversion from eight yards out to close the gap to 22-15 with nine minutes to play.

The Clemson defense shut down the Big Red on their final extended drive and the offense held on to the ball for nearly five-and-a-half minutes to run down the clock to six seconds. Andy Headen deflected Mauer's desperation pass to preserve the win and the championship for Clemson.

1985 Independence Bowl

Minnesota 20, Clemson 13

Late Gopher score downs Clemson, negates 148-yard rushing effort by Flowers.

Clemson met a Big 10 school for only the second time in history when it faced Minnesota in the Independence Bowl. It was an interesting matchup of teams that enjoyed moving the ball on the ground, as both clubs gained over 200 rushing yards in the contest. The team with the higher rushing total prevailed, a fact that was easily predictable, as the Gophers churned out 257 yards rushing in a 20-13 Minnesota win.

Clemson held a 13-10 lead heading into the fourth quarter, but for the fifth time in the last 13 games the Tigers could not hold the fourth-period lead. Valdez Baylor scored on a one-yard run with 4:56 left to give Minnesota a final ledger of 7-5. Clemson mounted a final drive in the last few minutes and advanced to the Minnesota 31, but a fourth-down pass for Ray Williams was overthrown.

Kenny Flowers had another outstanding day for the Tigers with a career high 148 yards, including a 32-yard run. It was his seventh one-hundred yard day of the year, his sixth century game in the last seven contests. Ray Williams caught five passes for 58 yards, while Terrance Roulhac had 63 yards in receptions and 90 yards in kickoff returns. Another wide receiver, Keith Jennings, scored Clemson's only touchdown when he caught a three-yard pass from Stacey Driver in the third period.

Henry Walls led Clemson defensively with 13 tackles, while A.J. Johnson was outstanding in the secondary with seven stops. Dwayne Meadows established a new career high with 13 stops from his defensive line position.

1986 Gator Bowl

Clemson 27, Stanford 21

Twenty-seven point first half, Williams's passing, just enough for Clemson in Tigers win over PAC-10 foe.

Christmas came two days late for the Tigers as they won their first bowl since the 1982 Orange Bowl. After a brilliant first half display of offense and defense, Clemson managed to hold off a second half Stanford rally and go on to defeat the 17th ranked Cardinal, 27-21. Before a Gator Bowl crowd of 80,104, the Tigers scored 27 unanswered points in the first half and appeared to be on the way to a rout. But the second half was a different ball game as Stanford came out strong and put up 21 unanswered points of its own.

Gator Bowl MVP Rodney Williams completed 8 of 11 passes in the first half for the Tigers, but it was his execution of the option that helped Clemson gain a 27-0 halftime lead. After punting on their first possession, the Tigers scored on their next five. With the score 17-0 in the second quarter, Reggie Harris knocked the ball loose on a Stanford kickoff return and the Tigers recovered on Stanford's 16-yard-line. Two plays later, Ray Williams took a reverse in for a 14 yard touchdown, his first of the season. David Treadwell added his longest field goal of the year on Clemson's next possession, putting the Tigers up 27-0 at the intermission.

But the Cardinal came back from halftime a different team. Kodak All-America tailback Brad Muster rushed for a touchdown and caught two scoring passes while the Clemson offense came to a standstill. With 1:43 left to play in the game, Clemson was forced to punt to the Cardinal with only a touchdown's lead. But the Tiger defense rose to the occasion, as Stanford gained only six yards on the next four downs. The offense fell on the ball to run the clock out and the Tigers emerged victorious.

Tailbacks Terrence Flagler and Kenny Flowers combined for 149 yards. Sophomore Ricardo Hooper led the receiving corps with two catches for 44 yards. Terrance Roulhac and Terrence Flagler each had three catches with 22 and 23 yards, respectively. Rodney Williams rushed 16 times for 18 yards and one touchdown.

Defensively, the Tigers were led by linebacker Henry Carter who recorded a career high 13 tackles. Gene Beasley added seven tackles and broke up two passes. The game also marked Michael Dean Perry's offensive debut, as he was put in as a blocking back on a goalline situation in the first half.

Rodney Williams was the MVP of Clemson's win over Stanford in the 1986 Gator Bowl.

1988 Florida Citrus Bowl

Clemson 35, Penn State 10

Clemson routs defending National Champs behind Johnson's three TDs, 499 yards of offense.

Everything went the Tigers way in sunny Florida as Clemson soundly defeated Joe Paterno's Penn State team, 35-10. Rodney Williams was selected the Citrus Bowl's Most-Valuable-Player as he led the Tigers in a brilliant air attack that took the Nittany Lions by complete surprise, and complemented it with a solid ground game.

The win was Danny Ford's fourth bowl victory in only nine seasons as Clemson's head coach. It also marked Rodney Williams second bowl victory in his three year playing career at Clemson and the second consecutive year that he was named the MVP of a postseason bowl. In 1986, Williams won the honor as the Tigers defeated Stanford in the Gator Bowl.

Williams, who was also named the Offensive Player-of-the-Game, completed 15 of 24 passes for 214 yards. His primary target was wide receiver Keith Jennings who hauled in seven passes for 110 yards, his best career performance. Gary Cooper also had four receptions for 56 yards against Penn State.

The Tigers rushed for 285 yards against Penn State. Terry Allen was the leading rusher with 105 yards and one touchdown. Fullback Tracy Johnson ran for 88 yards and three touchdowns. Joe Henderson added 54 yards and another touchdown.

Defensively, Clemson was led by cornerback James Lott's eight tackles. Safety Richard Smith also had seven tackles and one pass broken up. Strong safety Gene Beasley and linebacker Doug Brewster both had six tackles. Linebacker Dorian Mariable was selected the Citrus Bowl's Defensive Player-of-the-Game with his five tackles, including one for a loss. He also intercepted a pass in the endzone and returned it 46 yards in the third quarter.

1989 Florida Citrus Bowl

Clemson 13, Oklahoma 6

Hatcher, McDaniel, Hammond key defense that holds Sooners out of the endzone in ACC's first win ever over Oklahoma.

The Tigers rang in the New Year in fine fashion with a 13-6 victory over the Oklahoma Sooners, moving into the top-10 of the final AP poll for the first time since 1982 with a ninth-place ranking. The victory also gave Danny Ford a victory over the winningest active coach in Division I, Barry Switzer. Ford has now defeated the top-three winningest active coaches this decade with wins over Switzer, Tom Osborne of Nebraska and Joe Paterno of Penn State.

Although the Tigers faced a wishbone offense for the first time since Ford became head coach, the Clemson defense came through with flying colors, holding the Sooners to only 116 rushing yards, and zero touchdowns.

The first five series of the first quarter ended in punts for both teams. Late in the period, the Sooners drove down to the Clemson one-yardline, and the Tigers defense faced a first-and-goal situation. Outside linebacker Levon Kirkland stopped the ballcarrier for no gain on first down. On second down Jesse Hatcher sacked Holieway at the 19. After an incomplete pass, the Sooners were forced to settle on a field goal and moved up 3-0.

Doug Brewster intercepted a Holieway pass early in the second quarter to set up the Tigers' first score, a 20-yard boot by Chris Gardocki. With time running out in the first half, Gardocki put the Tigers up with another kick, this time a 46-yarder.

A Clemson fumble in the third quarter gave the Sooners the opportunity to take the lead, but the Clemson defense held and Lashar hit again from 30 yards. The Tigers responded on the next series, driving 80 yards in 15 plays for the game's only touchdown as Terry Allen scored on a four-yard run. Allen, the game's Most-Valuable-Player, rushed for 25 yards and caught two passes for 17 yards on the drive.

Defensive MVP Jesse Hatcher caused and recovered a fumble on the Sooners next drive, but the Sooners would have one more opportunity to score before the final horn sounded. After the Tigers punted, Oklahoma drove from its own 20 to the Clemson 14, as Holieway put the Tigers' secondary to the test by putting the ball in the air. On the last play of the game, freshman Dexter Davis knocked down a pass in the endzone to seal the Tigers' victory.

Terry Allen was named the Citrus Bowl MVP for his performance. Allen rushed for only 53 yards, his season low, but scored the game's only touchdown and caught four passes to lead all Clemson receivers. Bandit end Jesse Hatcher was named Defensive MVP for what was his best career performance as he racked up nine tackles, had two tackles for a loss of 33 yards, including an 18-yard sack, broke up two passes, caused and recovered a fumble, and had four quarterback pressures.

Clemson 27, West Virginia 7

Kirkland, Clemson defense force three Harris fumbles in romp of Mountaineers.

The Tigers closed out the 1989 season with a stylish victory over West Virginia and Heisman Trophy finalist Major Harris, as a dominant Clemson defense held the high-powered Mountaineer offense to only 237 yards in total offense. The win gave Clemson's senior class the ACC record for victories as they became the first class in conference history to record 38 wins and the first Clemson team ever to win four straight bowl games.

WVU quarterback Major Harris came into the game ranked eighth nationally in total offense and ninth in passing efficiency but the Clemson defense, led by outside linebacker Levon Kirkland, enabled the shifty Harris to gain only 17 yards on the ground and 119 yards in the air on an 11-21 passing effort. Kirkland was named MVP for his efforts, as he had nine tackles, a five-yard sack, caused a key fumble, broke up a Mountaineer pass, and recorded three quarterback pressures.

The fourth quarter was all Clemson, as the Tigers moved the ball 47 yards on the ground to set up a four-yard Joe Henderson touchdown. Vince Taylor recovered a second Harris fumble and after a Clemson punt, freshman defensive tackle Chester McGlockton, the ACC sack leader, knocked the ball loose from Harris once again and fell on it in the endzone for a Tiger touchdown, upping the score to 24-7 in favor of Clemson. As the final seconds ticked off the clock, DeChane Cameron came in at quarterback for the Tigers and hit Rodney Fletcher over the middle for a 34-yard gain to set up a 24-yard Gardocki field goal, putting the final score at 27-7.

Senior tailback Joe Henderson led the Tigers in rushing with 92 yards on 22 carries and one touchdown, while Chris Morocco, who was shaken up late in the game, gained 65 yards on 11 carries. Rodney Fletcher was the leading receiver as he pulled down three catches for 66 yards.

Chris Gardocki kept the Tigers in excellent field position as he posted a 46-yard average on four punts, including a long kick of 63 yards. Defensively, inside linebacker Doug Brewster led the team in tackles with 10, followed by Kirkland's nine and strong safety Arlington Nunn and inside linebacker Ed McDaniel, who had seven stops each.

The 1900 Clemson team went 6-0, the first unbeaten team in Clemson history. It was John Heisman's first Clemson team. It outscored the opposition 222-10. Heisman is at the far right on the third row.

Frank Dobson puts his 1911 team through a workout. Dobson, who was a pro baseball player before becoming Clemson's head football coach was the Clemson football, basketball and baseball coach for two years. He was also the first Clemson coach to sign a multi-year contract.

The 1930 Clemson team had an 8-2 record and completed a streak of three straight years of at least eight wins, the first streak of its kind in Clemson history.

Linebackers Chosen Nation's Best

The Sporting News 1990 preseason issue has chosen Clemson's linebacking corps as the best in the nation. The group includes All-ACC and Gator Bowl MVP Levon Kirkland, second-team All-ACC outside linebacker John Johnson and All-ACC inside linebacker Doug Brewster. Ed McDaniel, the top tackler on the 1988 Tigers, precocious outside linebacker Wayne Simmons, special teams demon Ashley Sheppard, and hard-hitting Kenzil Jackson are also mainstays of the second line of defense. Clemson's group beat out strong consideration from Nebraska, Colorado, Notre Dame and Texas A&M.
